MANY NEW FACES ON THE FACULTY

VACANT CHAIRS IN MANY DEPARTMENTS FINALLY FILLED.

CHEMISTRY FORCE IS INCREASED

Coach Lowman Gets Assistant—57 New Instructors Fill Vacancies.

There have been many changes among the faculty during the past summer. Because of the fact that 56 of the faculty have resigned it has been necessary for the board of control to hire many new professors. The new list numbers about sixty and there will be several more here in the course of a few days. Several the departments have been almost completely reorganized. The agricultural courses seem to have the greater percent of the new instructors.

A number of the courses have had their force increased by the addition of new assistants, and a number of the other departments are expecting to have additions before the first of the year.

A partial list of the new professors include:

MANY STUDENTS HUNT FOR WORK

UNUSUAL NUMBER DEPENDENT UPON THEIR OWN EFFORTS.

There were never so many men here trying to work their way through college. For the last two weeks they have been swarming into Manhattan and hunting for work. The bad crops and lack of work on the farm has given many of them their first chance to go away to school.

At the Y. M. there has been an employment bureau and nearly 200 have registered for work of all kinds. The majority of these men are new students, but many of the older students are finding that they must earn a part of their way this year. Many of the old students had their jobs as stewards clinched before they went home in the spring. Custodian Lewis will have work on the janitor force for about 40 men. Of course, the experienced men, who were on the force last year, will have the first chance at the jobs. Many of the new students are expecting to find work on the force this year. The force will be picked on Thursday at 3:30, and all men expecting to get work should be there on time.

NEW SYSTEM A BIG SUCCESS

REGISTRAR AND ASSISTANTS HANDLE THE STUDENTS RAPIDLY AND QUICKLY.

SECONDARY SCHOOL PROGRESSES

Course Reaches a Class of Students Not Touched by Any Other School.

The new registrar, Miss Jessie Machir, is installed upon the main floor of the Nichols Gymnasium. At noon Tuesday 400 had been registered and sent on to the assigners. Those enrolled were largely the old students.

The committee on advanced and entrance credits were located in the small rooms just off the main floor. Here the students were lined up by the dozen. The faculty committee upon credits was unable to handle all and so numbers were issued and directions were given to come back later.

The registration process was the quickest and easiest method ever used at K. S. A. C. After filling out the blanks, the assistants issued a number, collected the fee and the student was ready for his dean and assigner. This method did away with having to go to different buildings all over the campus. All of the committee were to be found in the gymnasium.

"The enrollment in the secondary school will be greater than the enrollment in the old subfreshman course," said Professor Kent, head of the secondary school. "It is surprising the number of students past 21 who cannot spend four years in a high school and then four more in a college, but who can take a three-year vocational course."

T. J. Harris made a trip to Minneapolis, Milwaukee and Chicago during the summer in the interests of the Royal Purple.

C. G. Hamilton, '14 and a member of last year's debating team left Saturday for Washburn where he will enter the law school.

L. N. Bushnell, Professor of Bacteriology, did special work in bacteriology at the University of Kansas this summer.

Rent that typewriter you want and keep neat typewritten notes. Phone 40.

SELECT Y. W. HEAD.

Miss Margaret Jones, '14, Elected to Fill Vacancy.

The Y. W. C. A. cabinet discussed plans and methods for conducting its work at the Y. W. C. A. rooms Sunday. Miss Margaret Jones has been chosen to fill the vacancy of president, caused by the death of Miss Manley.

The first meeting of the Y. W. C. A. will be on Friday evening, September 19. Keep this date open and watch for further announcements.

Leidigh Goes.
Assistant Professor A. H. Leidigh of the crops department left Friday for Texas. Prof. Leidigh will have charge of the experiment work at the Texas experiment station. He is receiving a $600 salary increase.

Chas. Holladay has returned from Battle Creek, Mich., where he spent his summer studying physical training.

BAND TO ATTEND AMERICAN ROXAL

DIRECTOR B. H. OZMENT TO TAKE COLLEGE BAND TO KANSAS CITY.

The band will have its first practice Friday. Director Ozment has made extensive plans for the work during the year. A large number of the men who were in the band last year will be back, and together with the new ones will enable the Aggies to have a band of at least 40 pieces. The men are expected to sign up for the whole year and to stay with the work. A series of concerts on the campus this fall will be played if the weather warms up.

Arrangements have been made for the band to spend three days at the American Royal Stock Show at Kansas City. At least 25 of the members will be taken on this trip.

The band expects to be in attendance at all of the "pop meetings" and to do all they can toward boosting college spirit this fall.

LaLawrence Fickel, S. A. E., has returned and will enter school this fall. He has been with the Westinghouse Electric Company at Pittsburgh during the summer.

Dr. C. M. Brink and family returned Monday from their summer home in the lake region of Wisconsin.

E. A. Vaughn, '12, has returned to work his masters degree in entomology this year.

GET ACQUAINTED AT Y. M. STAG

ANNUAL RECEPTION FOR THE NEW MEN THURSDAY NIGHT.

REFRESHMENTS, TALKS AND GAMES

President Waters, Coach Lowman and Students Will Make Short Talks—A Big Time.

The annual Y. M. C. A. reception for men will be given at the association building Thursday evening. It is hoped that every new student will be present and meet some of the older men. Each year the Y. M. Stag is one of the big events of the fall term. Last year 800 men ate several loads of watermelons and had a big time.

There will be speeches by President Waters, Coach Lowman, representatives from the various literary societies, and by some of the more prominent students.

A. H. Gilles will be in charge of the good time, and he always has something new to spring. There will be games of different kinds and some of the fellows will do stunts.

Secretary McLain wishes to meet all of the men and this will give him a chance. He wishes all of the men, old and new, to be present and help make it a big social success. This is an annual affair and gives the Y. M. workers an opportunity to meet many of the men whom they could not meet any other way.

Refreshments of some kind will be served. Some years it is watermelon and sometimes it is not, but it is always good.

James Bond, a member of last year's debating team has gone to Chicago to attend Northwestern University where he will specialize in corporation law.

Alfred Clapp returned Monday from Kansas City, where he engaged the Don Philipini band for the opening number of the lyceum course.

Brand new typewriters—all makes in stock, see us. Manhattan Typewriter Emporium, 411 Poyntz, opposite College Inn.

Pr of. V. O. Freeburg is a guest of Prof. Ostrum at the College Club. He was a classmate of Prof. Ostrum's for seven years.

FIRST CHAPEL SPEAKER.

Congressman Neeley Will Address First Student Assembly.

Congressman George A. Neeley will be the speaker at the first chapel Friday. Congressman Neeley has been much in the public eye the last session of congress because of his attacks upon Wall street and the stock exchange.

Miss Stella Manley.

The people of the college were much grieved to learn of the death of Miss Stella Manley, August 18, in St. Francis hospital, Topeka. Miss Manley was a member of the class of '14, and president of the Y. W. C. A. She has held many offices in the Ionian Literary Society during her three years in college.

Her death came as a result of contraction of typhoid following an operation. The funeral was held at her brother's home in Topeka, August 20.

Miss Manley probably was more widely known than any other girl in college. Her remarkable ability to remember faces and her unselfish interest in the welfare of her acquaintances won the friendship of many.

The story of her life is not a long one; it is not a pretentious one. It is a simple tale of unselfish devotion to high ideals, a bright, cheery tale full of smiles and laughter. Her optimism and undaunted spirit were a source of inspiration to those with whom she was associated. No student has shown greater executive ability than she. She was especially interested in Y. W. C. A. work, and the remarkable results her quiet, unceasing efforts brought will not be forgotten. Those who knew her are sorrowing as they realize that her smiles and cheery words are things of memory, yet they rejoice through their tears to have the memory of a life so sweet and strong. L.B.

NEW OVERSEERS FOR "LIBRARY LAB"

PLAN TO ESTABLISH A NEW LIBRARY IN THE AG BUILDING.

With the exception of three members the library force has been completely changed. The interior arrangements are all changed about so as to be handy. A large number of new books and bound periodicals have been added to the different collections. The reserve reference room has been taken across the hall and the west entrance has been closed.

The new members of the force are all experienced and well qualified for the positions. The Librarians and their duties are:

Edith Hague is a graduate of K. U. and comes from Chicago University. She will have charge of the current periodicals.

Etta V. Savage who will have charge of the stack room is a graduate of Missouri and has been for the last year in a Librarian school in New York City. Miss Savage will be assisted by Elsie Adams a K. S. A. C. graduate of last year.

Bertha Gerike will have charge of the new library which will be installed in the Ag building some time after Christmas. She is from the Congressional Library in Washington, D. C.

The new Ag library will be located in the Ag building and an attempt will be made to have one of the best libraries on agricultural subjects that is possible. All of the books on agriculture in the old library will be moved and the Ag students will not have to come to the other to study.

Just What a Typewriter Is.

A typewriter is one who typewrites on the typewriter, and the typewriter is a machine on which the typewriter who typewrites on the typewriter typewrites. Now, the typewriter who typewrites on the typewriter, typewrites on the typewriter until there is no more typewriting to be typewritten by the typewriter on the typewriter on which the typewriter who typewrites on the typewriter typewrites.

Ed Faulconer of Clay Center has returned to enter college. He was a member of the college band last year.

OUTLOOK FOR FOOTBALL POOR

COACHES FACE SERIOUS PROBLEM—OUTLOOK FOR WINNING TEAM DOUBTFUL.

MUST DEVELOPE THE BACKFIELD

Prather's Failure to Return a Serious Handicap—Sim's Place Will Be Hard to Fill.

Football prospects for the Aggies started Monday afternoon at the Athletic Field. Official practice cannot start until the school is in session, so Coach Lowman issued a call for all of the men to be here on time. Training schedules had been furnished the men during the summer and they are expected to return in good shape. Only 20 were out in suits the first night, but a large addition to the squad is expected by the time practice has been going a couple of days.

The first night's work was just to limber up the men. No rough work was allowed, and the time was spent in passing the ball, going down under the kicks and the linemen were coached the rudiments of blocking. There were as many bugs out for the practice as players.

The kicking for the first time was punk. Of course none of the men had done any before, and the coach was giving them all a chance. Coxen punted the best of the bunch, but his kicks were not extra. It will be one of the hard jobs this year to develop a kicker.

The team will be seriously hindered by the lack of an experienced quarterback, Gayle Sims, last year's quarter, having died during the summer. There are a number of candidates for the position, but none have had any experience on the varsity. Dresser, Denman, Enns and Wenn are all trying for the job. Wenn was a classy quarter on the freshman varsity two years ago. Dresser was a sub quarter on the varsity last year.

In the line, the coach lost Jake Holmes, Felps and Stahl. He will have a hard time to find men to take their places. The line appears to be the best part of the team. There are seven K men out for positions. In Marble, Coxen, Burkholder, Verhele, Cusick, Schafer, Moss and Captain Loomis, the coach will have one of the best lines in the Missouri Valley. Red Hopper, a scrapper from the team two years ago, is here and in about two weeks will give them all a run for their money. He is much heavier than two years ago. Root, a classy all round man, is also after an end job. There will be a grand fight for the end position, as there are four or five scrappers out for the place. Scanton will give some of the linemen a fight for their positions.

The back field presents a problem. Pollom and Schuster graduated last year. Prather, the punter and line plunger, will not be back. He will be badly missed in the back field. Howenstine, the fullback on the varsity two years ago, may possibly be in school. He was strong on the punts. A kicker must be developed and at present Coxen appears to be the best of the bunch.

Sidorfsky, the fast varsity half-back, is in school, but he has announced that unless his studies can be arranged differently he will not have the time. He is a fast man and would have the benefit of being experienced.

Byarlay, the fullback on the last year varsity, is back and trying hard for that position. He will be about the heaviest man in the back field. He played well in a couple of games last year.

Haymaker, quarter on the junior class team, has written in that he expects to be out for a position. He was a star on the Fairmount team two years ago. He is a classy drop kicker and should make a valuable addition to the Aggie team.

Those who were out in suits the first night were: Haggard, McGilhard, Bayer, Captain Loomis, Moss, Marble, Coxen, Byarlay, Riney, Schafer, Root, Denman, Michaels, Wright, Wagner, Hauke, Cusick, Hopper, Dresser and Skinner.

ANNUAL FRESHMAN TAKE.

It was about one-thirty in the morning. The door bell at "Prexy's" rang noisily. "Prexy" dressed hurriedly and went to the door. Upon the steps stood a proud mother and her boy. She had brought him to college and she wished to be sure to leave him in good hands.

STOLEN

The students returning to K.S.A.C. this fall will miss many of the familiar faces among the faculty. During the summer the college has lost 56 of her ablest teachers. This seems a serious matter to the older students.

We can take pride in the fact that many of our men have seemed desirable to other states, but at the same time we deplore the fact that the great state of Kansas thinks that it cannot afford the best instruction for her sons and daughters.

HO! THE FRESHMAN.

Welcome to the freshman. He may be green and may be covered with rough places, but he will soon look like all the rest of us. It may be a solace to him to know that most of the older students had the same feeling of being out of place when they first hit the long climb up the hill to Anderson Hall. Probably they were every bit as green.

The freshman will soon be beyond his depth in the mysteries of Chem 1 and kindred subjects. The work may be hard or it may prove easy. It will depend largely upon the way in which he starts. Start right and keep it up and it will be much easier next term.

A FOREWARD.

This is the beginning of a new school year. Everyone is making a new and fresh start on another college year. The Kansas Aggie enters upon its twenty ninth year as the organ of the student body of K. S. A. C. In the past, the Kansas Aggie has always stood for the best interests of the college and of the students. The paper has passed through various resolutions, but always emerges stronger and better.

The Kansas Aggie starts this year with practically a new staff. All of whom are pledged to make the Aggie the best student paper possible.

We expect to support in every way possible anything that will be of benefit to the student body. Athletics in all of its branches will be "boosted" the limit.

All of the other activities of the college will receive the same cordial support.

We hope to have this same boosting spirit expressed by the student body for the Kansas Aggie.

Jones of Kansas City, Leslie Plumb of Milwaukee, Fred Loomis of Osborne, Captain of the varsity football team, J. Gordon Auld of Concordia. Following is the program for the week's entertainment: Tuesday evening a smoker will be given at the chapter house in honor of the new men. Wednesday at five-thirty o'clock a dinner at the chapter house. Thursday, welcome dance in Aggieville hall. Saturday, a line party at the Marshall theatre. Sunday a one o'clock dinner at the chapter house. Monday, the 22nd, an informal dance.

'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch.'

There is no gainsaying the extraordinary popularity of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which comes to the Marshall theater Tuesday, September 23. It has proven an inexhaustible fountain of mirth for local amusement lovers. Mrs. Wiggs has charms that soothe the most hardened of theater goers, and almost all of the characters in the play are distinct and highly interesting types. Playgoers in renewing their acquaintance with Mrs. Wiggs, Lovey Mary, Miss Hazy, Mr. Stubbins, Little Tommy and the other delightful characters of the play, find a common bond of sympathy and union. It is a piece which, because of its originality and Dickenslike sweetness of humor, genial wit and wholesome philosophy, appeals to all classes. The play itself clearly fulfills its mission—that of sunshine and laughter, imbued with a wholesome and optimistic philosophy. The play will be presented here under the management of the United Play Company Tuesday, September 23.

THE KANSAS AGGIE

VOLUME XIX.

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1913

NUMBER 2.

WHO'LL FILL PRATHER'S PLACE?

HARD HITTING FULLBACK HAS NOT YET BEEN HEARD FROM.

WE NEED SECOND STRING MEN

Captain Loomis and Marble Should Have a Great Season—The Line Strong as Ever.

The one question among the football bugs deals with the return of Raymond Prather, star fullback and punter of the '12 team, to the Aggie school this fall. To date, nothing definite has been heard of Prather and it is thought that he will not be in the line-up this season. The loss of Prather will be a serious blow to the coaching staff, for, be it known, Prather is one of the hardest hitting line plungers in the business, and at punting is also a top-notch. Coupled with the death of "Barney" Simms, through which the Aggies lost a cracking good quarterback, the coaching staff will be more than troubled to find men to fill the places. A good number of men from the 1912 freshmen team are candidates for the 1913 varsity. Coach Lowman is complaining of the lack of second string line men. Several first year men are now working opposition to the varsity.

The Aggies will have one of the strongest lines this year in their history. Captain Loomis and Marble played remarkable games last year in the tackle positions and will fill up the vacancy due to the loss of Jake Holmes. Cusic, Burkholder and Wehrle, playing the guard positions, should close all competition for their respective jobs. Coxen seems to be the best bet for the pivot position. On the freshmen squad in 1911, Coxen was a punter of repute. Moss, Schafer, Root and Hopper should take care of the end jobs in great style.

The line will overbalance the back field in strength. The loss of Prather to the team means that the coaches will have to develop a kicker. This is something that cannot be accomplished in a day and oftentimes not in a season. To date, the coach says that no kicker has been spotted. The quarterback position is another that will cause Coaches Lowman and Merner considerable worry. Haymaker and "Nick" Enns, ex-Fairmount College stars, are working out for the position. Haymaker proved a clever drop-kicker in the inter-class series last year. Wenn, a sensational player from the freshmen team in 1911, is trying out for the position. "Hank" Dresser, a sub-quarter on the 1912 team, is also at work.

OZMENT AT KANSAS CITY.

City Paper Coasts the Aggie Bandmaster.
B. H. Ozment, bandmaster at Manhattan, Kan., of the K. S. A. C. band, was here yesterday in conference with the American Royal Live Stock Show officials. The Manhattan college band will entertain the Royal visitors the first part of Royal week, starting October 6. Mr. Ozment has 36 men in his aggregation. He was at Columbia, Mo., in charge of the Missouri State Agricultural College band, for six years, and several former Columbia men at these yards know him and his work. They say he's always produced fine music with his bands.

Besides the band, and the students from the college for the judging contests, and the men in charge of the college's exhibits, a good many Manhattan people are coming to the Royal. Mr. Ozment said, "The farmers and stockmen around there are deeply interested in the better kinds of farming and live stock raising, and they are coming down to Kansas City to see the fine stock here.—Daily Drovers' Telegram.

OPENING WEEK BREAKS RECORD

AND THE NUMBER STILL CONTINUES TO GROW

DEAN MILLER—A GOOD GUESSE

Said Dry Weather Would Increase Number—Results Prove Him Correct

From the Students Herald of Last Year.

The enrollment Friday night was slightly over the 1,600 mark. It is expected to reach 1,700 by Saturday night.

The enrollment at K. S. A. C. this fall will be the largest in the history of the school. Friday night it was well past the 2,000 mark and it was expected to reach at least 2,200 by Saturday night. This is an increase of at least 300 students. The enrollment in on this number. The enrollment in the secondary school is expected to enroll at least 400.

May Still Grow.

Friday morning there were about 100 matriculation blanks on which the grades had been filled, but for which no student had yet arrived to claim. The committee on admission and on advanced credits handled at least 700 new students.

The enrollment may yet go higher as many of the older students have still to register or have not yet returned. One Professor has only about one half of the students in his course who have returned.

The registrar still continues to handle the crowd quickly, but the committee on credits has been very busy. The method of having all the offices at the gym has saved much confusion.

The statement in our first issue to the effect that Professor Kammeyer desires a few more students for his new course in the History of Economic Thought was published without his knowledge or consent. He has never by word or attitude solicited students for his electives. The item referred to was published at the solicitation of students who desire to take this course and who are anxious to insure the organization of a class in it. This correction is cheerfully made in justice to Professor Kammeyer.

You don't have to buy to be welcomed at The Duckwall Racket.

GREETING.

The Board of Educational Administration extends greeting to all the students of K. S. A. C.

We hope this year will be the happiest in your college career.

You are to be congratulated on the choice of a school that teaches modern scientific agriculture, because no industry in the world is of more importance today.

The arts and sciences relating to the home are of equal importance in this college, and the young women students are fortunate in being able to receive the highest training in these things.

The whole student body is an "Army of Good Fortune," of which Kansas is proud, because later it will be a trained and cultured body of citizens.

BOARD OF ADMINISTRATION.

Y. W. RECEPTION.

Spend Enjoyable Evening at the Domestic Building.

The annual Y. W. Reception given for new girls was held in the reception rooms of the D. S. building Friday evening.

The girls were welcomed in a very unique and novel way. The entertainment took the form of a district school. The stern school mistress with ruler and bell called the noisy pupils to order. Lessons were said, "speeches" given and a spelling match gave added excitement. A call from the trustees of the "Deestrikt Skule" was enjoyed by the school. The advisory board chaperoned.

FREE BOOK EXCHANGE.

Y. M. to Handle Second Hand Books Free for Students.

The Y. M. C. A. has opened a free book exchange at their building. The exchange will take the books which the students want to dispose of and will handle the books free of charge. The student wishing to sell his books will list them at a set price. The buyer then can go to the Y. M. and by looking over the stock pick out the books he needs.

Gerald P. Wyland of Smith Center, passed through Manhattan last Thursday on his way to Kansas City with a car load of cattle. He will enter college next week.

THE NEW SCHOOL IS ORGANIZED

TO BE INDEPENDENT SCHOOL—GRANTS OWN DIPLOMAS.

THE ENROLLMENT WILL BE LARGE

Exact Figures Cannot Be Obtained Yet—Expect Four Hundred to Register.

What about the new school? That's the question everyone is interested in asking. There is much that can be said about it.

The school is located in the old Agronomy building. Prof. Harry Kent is the head of the school and Miss Ada Rice is his assistant and will have charge of the girls. Professor Kent was formerly in charge of the correspondence courses. The other teachers are former teachers in the college and some of them will teach freshmen classes.

Enrollment.

The enrollment in the secondary school this first year will be greater than the enrollment in the first year sub freshmen class last year. A conservative estimate, according to several of the faculty, will be about 400.

What It Is.

The secondary school is a separate school. It gives three year courses in agriculture, mechanics arts and domestic science. After the completion of the course a diploma will be granted. If the students desire then to enter the college they can do so by doing work in special classes which will be provided.

The school was not created to take the place of the old subfreshman course, but to provide a three year course in vocational subjects for graduates from the eighth grade who cannot spend four years in a high school and then four more in a college.

The school has the advantages afforded by the college equipment, grounds and buildings, including very adequate laboratories.

New Pledges.

The Lambda Lambda Thetas have pledged Alma Halbower of Anthony and Marguerite Elliot of Manhattan.

The Lambda Lambda Thetas will give a five o'clock tea Sunday afternoon at the chapter house.

Karl Knaus, '14, Aztex, has returned from his home in Wilson County.

CIVILS HAVE JOBS.

A Few Are Back, but Will Finish at Christmas.

The civil engineering graduates of the year just completed are almost all of them working at the profession. Three of them did not graduate and are back this fall. G. E. Wyland, George Alexander and V. G. Hendrickson will be in the college this term. J. C. Jones, J. A. Nicholay, M. M. Hutchinson, I. E. Taylor, H. Broberg, are with the Santa Fe R. R. at Chanute. Ralph Smith is with the contracting company of Wm. B. Stingley & Co. I. V. Howenstine is to teach manual training in the Winfield, Kansas, High School. Dudley Atkins is still in Manhattan. Max Alderman is with a contractor in Ottawa, Kansas. Charlie Blake is with an engineering party on the Longview farm at Lees Summit, Mo.

COLLEGE CLUB ELECTS.

Plan to Give Dance at Eureka Lake to Members.

The first business meeting for the year, of the College Club, was held last Monday evening. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, W. A. Lippincott; vice president, R. K. Nabours; secretary, Carl Ostrum; treasurer, R. A. Throckmorton; business manager, I. V. Isles. Mrs. Mary Zeigler has been retained as household manager. The house is full and the clubs books at the close of the first fiscal year show the club to be ahead financially. A business meeting is to be held next Monday evening at 7:00 o'clock. Among other business matters the change of dues will be considered. The club also has planned its first dance to be given next Friday night at Eureka Park.

LARGE CROWD ENJOY RECEPTION AT Y.M.

NEW STUDENTS HAD BIG TIME AT ANNUAL STAG MIXER.

The get-acquainted with new students social at the Y. M. Thursday night was a big success. The new students were there in large numbers and many of the old ones dropped in for a few minutes and then stayed the rest of the evening. The new students met many of the regulars and all enjoyed the good speeches and interesting games. Secretary McLain estimated the number of students present at 700. After pulling the usual stunts on some of the new fellows the gym was turned into an auditorium and there were speeches by Prof. J. E. Kammeyer and Coach Lowman. They were followed in turn by Rev. Kimball for the churches of the city, Roy Gwin for the literary societies and C. O. Levine President of the Y. M.

HEARD HON. GEO. A. NEELY.

Congressman from Fifth District Spoke at First Assembly.

More than 2000 students heard Congressman Neely of the fifth congressional district of Kansas deliver the opening chapel address on "Present Day Opportunities." Two members of the Board of Administration were on the rostrum with President Waters.

Congressman Neely delivered an interesting address dwelling at some length on the effects of the New Currency Bill and upon the great benefits to be derived in the west from a proposed irrigation movement.

He said, "I am glad to live in Kansas, because here manhood counted rather than blood and social standing."

President Waters, speaking for the new Board of Administration, announced that there would be no fee charged for music, as in the other state schools.

Receptions at Churches.

The young people's societies at the different churches will give socials at the churches Monday evening. The receptions will be held at the Congregational, Baptist, Methodist, Christian, Presbyterian and United Presbyterian churches. The new students will be the guests.

RACE FOR PRIZE—A FINE BANNER.

ANNOUNCEMENT LYCEUM NUMBERS

Ticket Sale Starts Tonight—Reservations on October 25—Who Will Win?

Tickets to the Society Lyceum Course will be put on sale at the different society meetings Saturday. All tickets will be the same price, two dollars. The reservation of the seats begins at 1 o'clock October 13.

The tickets will be sold by the members of the literary societies. To the society whose members sell the largest number of tickets the committee will award, as a prize, a handsome banner. The banner will be designed by the society which wins it.

The members who sell the tickets will receive five per cent of the sales as a commission. This commission will also be paid to the members of the society who win the banner.

It is expected that the rivalry between the societies will greatly increase the sale of tickets.

The Lyceum Board has decided to go back to the old way of reserving the seats. The ticket boards will be located, one at a drug store downtown, and the other, at some point on the campus. The Gym may be used. By having the board at the college it will be handier for the students who are in the line to exchange with friends and attend some of the morning classes. The system of different prices for the seats was not satisfactory in its working, so the other way will be given a trial.

Get in line, fellows! The reservation of the Society Lyceum tickets will begin October 13.

A NECESSITY.

The students of K. S. A. C. should wake up to the fact that we have an athletic fee. The athletic fee was introduced by a voluntary vote of the student body last winter. The various teams had failed to receive the necessary amount of financial backing and something had to be done. The result was the students' voluntary athletic fee.

The fee was not made compulsory because it would work a hardship on some of the students. If enough of the students who can afford the fee fail to pay, it will be necessary to introduce the compulsory fee such as is in use at other large schools.

Athletics, under the old system of season tickets, soon outgrew the number of holders. The students failed to take an active interest in athletics and the result was a lowering of the standard of the teams. As the school grew, it became harder and harder to finance the teams. A coach was secured. We became members of the Missouri Valley Conference and it was imperative that we should support a high class team. K. S. A. C. wanted a winning team.

A winning team to be successful must be encouraged by the knowledge that the whole student body is behind them. They must be made to feel that the students appreciate the hard knocks which they are taking. The student body must be at all of the games and "root" for the home team. Every student must be there. A winning athletic team is the greatest advertiser which a college has. A losing team a great detriment. A losing team, but with the student body as enthusiastically supporting it, is not a detriment and will soon change the team to a winner.

A high school student forms his opinion of a strange school by reading the sport results. A sensational winning team, year after year, shows that the school is alive and has a strong unified spirit. The student body is judged by the class of the athletic teams.

Supporting an athletic team will give the student the do or die spirit after he leaves his alma mater. If he takes no interest in the sports it's a safe guess that he cares little for the life of the college. If he becomes interested in athletics he will scrap at the drop of the hat for the betterment of his college.

K. S. A. C. is in the Missouri Valley Conference. We have two of the best coaches in the conference. We have the men to make and develop winning teams. Have we the "pep"? Have you paid the athletic fee? If you have not, you better beat it back and pay it now at the registrar's office.

Has anybody seen a green cap lately?

START ROOTING.

Coach Lowman in his talk at the Y. M. social said: "The freshmen and the students enrolled in the new agricultural school should appoint committees at their first class meetings to arrange to co-operate with the president of the Rooters' Club."

The different class meetings will be held on next Thursday. The new students should be present and start an agitation immediately for a strong rooters' section. The freshmen and the new students are the ones on whom to base the rooting. If they get the habit, it will stay with them until they are through college, and that will mean good boosting.

The other classes do not want the freshmen to get ahead of them. Let them get busy, too, and show the new students how the old heads do it. By all means be at the games, and root.

Buy your campus and chapel tickets early and avoid the rush.

THE MUSIC FEE

The students who are interested in the music department are rejoicing that the Board of Administration did not retain the proposed fee for music instruction.

None of the students enrolled at K. S. A. C. are here to take a musical course. They are here and taking some music largely for pleasure. The glee club would have been injured by having to pay for the privilege of singing.

K. S. A. C. has the best band and orchestra in the state and some of the men on the glee club could make a success of professional singing. We are proud of our musicians and are pleased to find that conditions will remain the same.

With one exception, the entire cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. is back to begin work. Julia Wolcott is attending school in Wisconsin.

All social organizations wishing to have "write ups" of their functions will assist the staff greatly if some one of their number be selected to handle the publicity.
All news should be in the hands of the Society Editor by Monday and Thursday afternoons in order to secure publication.

Just What a Typewriter Is.

A typewriter is one who typewrites on the typewriter, and the typewriter is a machine on which the typewriter who typewrites on the typewriter typewrites. Now, the typewriter who typewrites on the typewriter, typewrites on the typewriter until there is no more typewriting to be typewritten by the typewriter on the typewriter on which the typewriter who typewrites on the typewriter typewrites. Manhattan Typewriter Emporium, Manhattan, Kan., 411 Poyntz.

BETTER PROSPECTS FOR WINNING TEAM.

New Men Out.

Topeka, Kansas, Sept. 18.—With twenty-seven men reporting for the first practice last Thursday, the foot prospects have brightened for the coming year. The practice was made short but snappy. It consisted chiefly in running down under punts, passing the ball and taffing on the ball.

The team's hope took a leap when Bears, the chief ground gainer in the Kansas Aggie game last year, came out for practice. Bears was not expected back this year but he decided at the last moment to come and has enrolled in the Law School.
Barrett, who was sub-center two years ago, is back in a suit and will be a candidate for some position on the line. Whitcomb, the last year's center, is on the field with lots of "pep" for this year. Tro-bert had business at the State Fair last week along with Wolf but they will turn out this week. Wolf's knee is still weak but Coach Gray has ordered an elastic bandage which he thinks will keep the knee from going back on Wolf.
Nichols, Martin, Deaver, Elbe, all old men of last year's Freshman team, are reporting. O'Brien will not be able to come out for two weeks at least on account of injuries sustained in the summer while trying to run over an auto.

The Freshmen are turning out well, about half of those reporting being first year material. Captain Martin of the last year's Topeka
High team, is out together with Morris, Stewart, McFarland and Reese.
In addition to these there are Sager of Clifton, Henry and Bob Hasty of Belleville.

Driver, our last year's coach, no the coach at the University of Mississippi, was on the field for the first practice and talked to all of the old men. In addition he helped Coach Gray by giving pointers on the old men.

Practice will start in earnest right away as the Nebraska game is only a little over two weeks away. This will be a mighty hard game but the team stands a good show as they will have the advantage of a week's extra practice.

Coach Gray's Loyalty.

A story is told about the coach illustrating his ability in football.
When Gray graduated from Oberlin Academy he wrote to Cornell to see if there was a job so that he could go to school there. Cornell's trainer not knowing his ability, answered that he didn't know of anything. The next year Gray went to Cornell with the Oberlin team. At the beginning of the game he got the ball and ran through the Cornell team for a touchdown. This record against Cornell was the same for three years.
After the first game he was told that there was a job but Gray refused it.
After graduating, Gray became one of the coaches and took a team down to Cornell and beat them.

MECHANICAL ENGINEERS ARE ALL AT WORK

ARE EMPLOYED IN MANY DIFFERENT STATES AND WITH MANY COMPANIES.

The mechanical engineers of last spring's graduating class are rapidly finding positions in their work. Most of them are placed already and the positions secured by them speak very high for the efficiency of the mechanical division of the engineering department. W. C. Baxter is doing engineering work for the Gas Power Company of Bartlesville, Okla. L. E. Grube is experimenting on steam turbines for the General Electric Company at Lynn, Mass. Arthur Hall is with the American Locomotive Works at Pittsburg, Pa. R. R. Kimmel is with the Western Electric Company in the manufacturing department at Chicago, Ill. Elmer Schneider is at the same place. Dale Perrill is in Milwaukee, Wis., manufacturing refrigerating machines. Wm. Schuster is with the Westinghouse company at Pittsburg, Pa. R. E. Wiseman is the operator of an irrigation plant at Garden City, Kan.

PRACTICE ON FORWARD PASS

Forty Missouri Football Players Worked Out in Columbia Yesterday.

Columbia, Mo., Sept. 20.—Forty candidates for the University of Missouri football team were given the first forward pass practice of the season this afternoon. Coach Brewer who has been laid up with a lame foot, reappeared on the gridiron today. Coach Schulte is still in charge of the squad.

Eight "M" men are out for places and Barton, all-Valley tackle, is expected here next week. The first scrimmage of the season will be given the men tomorrow, but it will be light. Shepard, last year's fullback showed up to a decided advantage in punting practice.

Gerald Wyland enrolled Monday. He has just returned from a trip to Kansas City with a load of cattle. While there he made a trip to Lee's Summit, Mo., to visit C. H. Blake, who is surveying on Longview Farm at that place.

ALL YE ROOTERS BIG ELECTION

BE AT THE OLD CHAPEL THURSDAY MORNING.

REORGANIZING THE ASSOCIATION

Plans to Be Announced at Meeting—Pick a New Cheer Captain.

The time is at hand when the student body must meet to choose the leaders in the department which means most to this institution and to the college, namely, the Rooters' Club Election.

The success of the season depends upon largely, practically one might say upon the men who shall pave the way for victory in the pigskin game this season.

Everyone is expected to get busy and attend this meeting.

If you have no candidate in mind attend anyway to show your interest. There are but a few more days until the warriors of K. S. A. C's gridiron will go forth to bring back the scalp, and to be sure they need your support. Make an effort to be able to attend Thursday.

There will be an important discussion upon re-organization at this meeting so that it is necessary for every old member to be present.

It will be a great aid if the Freshmen will attend so that they may know how the meeting will go.

AT HUTCHINSON FAIR

K. S. A. C. Professors Judge Many of the Exhibits.

The judges of the Domestic Science exhibit at the Hutchinson State Fair finished their work at noon on Wednesday. They were Miss Frances Brown, Miss Adah Lewis, Miss Florence Snell, and Miss Edith Allen. Judging began Monday.

There was a very large display of bread, cake, canned fruits and vegetables, jellies and preserves," says Miss Lewis of Trade Extension department. "The cake exhibit was especially good. There were about five hundred entries of canned fruit."

A very attractive feature of the fair was the horse show. It was held three successive nights. Some of the best exhibitors of the country brought horses for this event.

Professors Cochell and Blizard and Dr. Wilbur McCampbell acted as judges. P. E. Crabtree of the extension department of the agricultural hall.

"Kink" Musser, Aztec '14 has returned from a trip to Holton, Kansas City and Oskaloosa. He has been making tests for the Dairy Commissioner.

MILL OPENS CHRISTMAS.

New Machinery Being Installed in New Ag. Building.

Professor Fitz of the milling department states that as soon as the new motors arrive the mill will be ready for business.

The north end of the new Ag. building is taking on a new appearance. The grinding machinery is in place, and as soon as the motors and power apparatus arrive they will be installed. No classes in milling will be taught this term, but the mill will be started and work in experimentation will be begun at once. Everything will be in readiness to begin instruction by the opening of the winter term.

Sigma Nu Danced.

The Sigma Nu fraternity gave a dance Saturday night at Aggieville hall. About thirty five couples were present. Dean and Mrs. Jardine chaperoned in the fraternity colors.

Masonic Club Entertained

The Masonic Club entertained the eastern star girls of the College at cards and dancing, in its new home on Osage St., Saturday evening.

THE NEW CADET CORP GET AN EARLY START

ABOUT 500 MEN REPORT FOR DRILL FALL TERM—NEW EQUIPMENT

The cadet corps met the first time for the fall term Monday afternoon the 7 hour. The cadets, 500 in number, were organized into two battalions of four companies each. The officers have not yet been selected.

The drill will commence on different days of the week than heretofore. The periods will be one hour on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Last year the corp met on four days in the week.

At the first meeting the companies were organized. There will probably be an award squad for several weeks.

Under the new ruling of the faculty all men including athletes will drill until six terms have been killed. A man will not be allowed to substitute athletic or orchestra for drill. The band will be the only possible substitution.

Commandant Hill said of this ruling: "I am not at all unreasonable and will allow the athletes to postpone the drill during the term which they are playing. It makes no difference to me when they drill just so that they drill the required six terms."

Different Equipment

There will be several changes in the equipment of the cadets. White gloves will be bought in large quantities and furnished to the cadets at cost. New caps will be secured of a different type. The cadets will be required to wear regulation army shoes. These shoes will be handled by one of the down town stores.

EASTER DEBATERS WAGE WORDY WAR

TRI-STATE SQUAD GETTING READY TO WIN

THE DEBATES ARE PUBLISHED

Annual Tri-State Debates Will Have Speeches—Chosen Over Large Eastern Universities.

The debaters of the college will not be behind the other organizations in getting to work early in the fall. The first meeting of the team which will debate with Ames and South Dakota met yesterday in the Forum hall. The prospects for a winning team this year are very good. Last year's ever victorious team has given the men the confidence necessary to keep the team fighting.

The squad is composed of eight men, six of whom will have the opportunity to represent the college. Three of the men on last year's squad and the new men show signs of even better work.

Debates to Be Published

The speeches made by the Aggie men in the last year tri-state debates are published in the volume of Tri-State debates. This is the greatest possible honor because the speeches were chosen in competition with several of the large eastern universities. Editor Nichols, is commenting on the speeches, writes: "Only one other college ever put the speeches in such good shape for publication." Much of the credit of having these speeches in such shape belongs to Professor Ostrum, who carefully edited the copy before publication.

This Year in Debate

The offering of the two one hundred dollar scholarships, which were secured by Professor Searson, the best debaters, has resulted in much interest being shown in the different literary societies. Already many of the members are preparing for the tri-outs for the spring debates.

Debates have already been scheduled with Colorado and with Oklahoma agricultural colleges. Other debates will be scheduled with the different colleges in the state.

The question which will be debated this winter in the preliminaries will be upon the coastwise vessels of the United States paying toll for the passage through the canal.

The tri-outs for these debates will occur either just before Christmas or at the beginning of the winter term.

The Pi Kappa Alphas will dance at Aggieville hall Saturday night.

The Sig Alpha gave a dance Monday night at the Aggieville hall.

BRAMWELL BACK AT K. U.

Foot Ball Captain Returns to Strengthen Line

Lawrence Kan., Sept. 21.—Willis K. Bramwell, who was elected captain of the University of Kansas football team at the close of last season, and Edward W. Stuewe, the star fullback on last year's eleven, notified Coach Mosse today that they were needed on this year's team.

Up to this time Bramwell had given no intimation that he intended to attend the university this year and Coach Mosse this morning appointed William Weldlein, of last year's team, temporary captain. It was stated that Bramwell would assume the duties of captain upon his arrival Monday.

With Bramwell and Stuewe back in the game, Kansas will have eight of the regulars who composed last year's eleven.

Coach Mosse said tonight that to have a winning team he had only to develop a pair of end players to succeed Brownlee and Price, who graduated last spring, and a tackle to succeed Burnham, who was drowned in the Kansas river several months ago. He said there were a number of promising men in the squad that had been working out on McCook field every day this week.

AT THE Y. M.

Many Students Have Their Second Hand Books Listed.

These are busy days at the Y. M. C. A. Between locating the new students and handling the book exchange, it keeps them busy.

"The book exchange is a big success," said Sec'y. McLean Tuesday. "The sales amount to about $15 to $20 a day and between two and three hundred books have been exchanged. The Y. M. does this work as a favor to the students and charges no percentage for its trouble."

CARL T. MERNER ASSISTANT COACH

COMES HERE TO HELP LOWMAN—HAS GOOD RECORDS AS AN ALL AROUND MAN.

Although coming with the reputation of being an Easterner, Assistant Coach Merner is only an Easterner by education. Mr. Merner is a Jayhawker by birth and claims Harper county as his home. Merner first stepped into the athletic limelight at the Iowa State Teachers' College, located at Cedar Falls, Ia. While in that school, Merner played football, basketball, and was an all-around man on track. He played good enough football to be chosen All-Iowa halfback in 1909. In basketball he distinguished himself in a forward position. On track, Merner made the following records at the Iowa school: 100 yards, :10 flat; 220 yards, :23 flat; 440 yards, :50 flat; 220 yard hurdles, :26 flat; discus, 122 feet 10 inches; shotput, 38 feet.

Merner entered the Springfield Training School, of which Coach Lowman is also a graduate, in 1910, graduating in 1912 after distinguishing himself in the three previously mentioned sports. After graduation, Merner located in the public school work at Gary, Ind., from which position Coach Lowman secured him to assist in turning out winning combinations for the Aggies.

At Stock Show.

The University of Missouri band will furnish music for the American Royal Live Stock Show at Kansas City the last three days of the exposition, which begins October 6. The Kansas Agricultural College band will furnish the music the first three days.

A live stock judging team is always sent to the show, and has usually won a number of prizes. The management of the exposition has made special efforts to interest.

GUARD MISSED HAS BAD ANKLE

BURKHOLDER, ALL KANSAS GUARD, FAILS TO REPORT.

PUNTING IMPROVES VERY SLOWLY

Several Strong Candidates Are Out for the Two End Positions.

Football prospects are not looking as bright for the Aggies as they might. Burkholder, All-Kansas guard, have not reported. Burkholder writes that he received a sprained ankle while participating in a baseball game in his home town last week and will not be able to play football for some time. Burkholder proved a tower of strength in the line for the last two seasons and his absence will weaken the line considerably. Scrimmage work was instituted yesterday and from now on the bugs will have an opportunity to see just what kind of a player this and that candidate will turn out to be.

Cusic is being worked out at Burk's position and gives promise of making a good shoe-filler. Cusic is away below weight, however, and Coach Lowman is worried as to what to do to fill out the tonnage of the line. Coxen, last season's sub-center, is playing a good position this season, but there is no substitute working out for his place, and Coach Lowman is fidgeting around trying to rake up some worthy man to help the ponderous Coxen hold down the pivot position.

Prospects for a good punting department are rosy. Briney and Haymaker are showing considerable promise in this department of the game. Haymaker is also a clever drop-kicker and a reasonably sure scorer via the drop-kick route, so the team will be strengthened through his presence. In the inter-class series last fall, Haymaker put three tallies over the cross-bar in one contest and won the series for the junior team.

Enns, Haymaker, Dresser and Wenn are the candidates for the quarterback job this year. From daily workout, Enns and Haymaker appear to have the edge on the position, although Wenn shows plenty of scrap and Dresser will prove a heady and speedy broken field runner. Enns has a good, strong, commanding voice and holds his players together well. He is heady and cool, carries the ball well, but does not kick. Haymaker is a good man to carry the ball and punts fairly well. His drop-kicking is first class. Wenn lacks weight and experience. The same may be said of Dresser.

The field for ends seems to be overrun. Hooper, Schafer and Moss are the letter men trying out for the positions and there are several others, who will be right up on the heels of the "K" men when the season opens. Skinner, from the freshman team of 1912, is fast and heady and will bear watching. Frank Root may be use either at end or in the backfield, whichever Coach Lowman decides. Root was knocked out of football last season when he injured his shoulder prior to the opening game with Southwestern. Dickinson, a former Topeka high school star end, is looking fine in the workouts and will give some of the heavier tyros a hard tussle for the opening.

M. U. BAND TO KANSAS CITY.

The University of Missouri band will furnish the music for the American Royal Live Stock Show at Kansas City the last three days of the exposition, which begins October 6. The Kansas Agricultural College band will furnish the music the first three days.

A live stock judging team is always sent to the show, and has usually won a number of prizes. The management of the exposition has made special efforts to interest students.—Daily Missourian.

The junior class election took place without a hitch, says the Rocky Mountain Collegian. There must be politicians at other schools, then.

DRIED APPLES.

Kansas may have had a bad summer. Perhaps the drouth killed almost everything and the grasshoppers ate what was left. There was, mayhap, a total lack of round moist particles in the air. The peach crop, the corn crop, the berry crop—and others too numerous to mention—may have been almost total failures. But still the optimist lives. One was recently remarking about the splendid yield of dried apples, all ready for use.

College Life, the official paper for the College of Emporia, gives an account of the Y. W. reception under the heading "Hen Party."

A WORD TO THE WISE.

In order to fill the Kansas Aggie full to the brim with news it will be necessary to have the co-operation of all the student organizations upon the hill. The Kansas Aggie of this year has many more columns of space to fill with readable news. It is no small stint to fill twelve columns of news twice a week.

There is a superabundance of news. But it is a hard proposition to go out and get some of this news. It takes time to chase down even a small news story.

The staff of the Aggie desires to print all of the news. Will you help us to collect it? Every student organization must have an authorized reporter who will make a point of having all of the news sent to the Aggie in the best possible shape and in time for publication. Help us gather the news and we will be glad to print it.

GET BUSY.

It's just about time for the annual resurrection of the Roosters' Club and the Athletic Association. These annual and spasmodic eruptions occur but once in the year.

The football season will soon be in full blast and it is urgently necessary to have these organizations alive and full of the necessary pep for the occasion.

The membership in the Athletic Association costs but little and it means much to the support of the team during the long grind of the football season.

Every student who pays the athletic fee should be considered a member of the Athletic Association. He will then have the incentive to appear at the election of the members to the board and to take an interest in the election of a competent yell leader. But above all, he must go to the mass meetings and to the games and root. Bring the Athletic Association to life.

SEATS ASSIGNED.

Assignment of chapel seats for the year was made Tuesday. As in previous years, freshmen were seated in the left section, seniors, juniors and sophomores in the central section and specials and sub-freshmen were placed in the right section.—College Life, Emporia College.

Even as You And I.

The Green Freshman tremblingly and fearfully entered the gym on his first day here. Yes, he was very green. The soul of the Grave Senator with the benign expression was filled with joy at the sight of this Verdant Youth. Here was his chance.

The G. S., with his benign expression very much in evidence, approached the V. Y. "Good morning," remarked the G. S. "You were here last year, weren't you?" This, of course, was a bald attempt to win the V. Y.'s good will.

"No," answered the V. Y. with a pleased expression, "this is my first offense."

"Oh, I would etaoin etaol eta s "O, I never would have dreamed that you were a Freshie," said the G. S., smilingly, admiringly and hungrily on the V. Y. "Have you bought your campus ticket yet?"

"Why, no, I didn't know I needed one."

"Well it's a wonder some one hasn't stopped you before this. Here is the idea. Of course you will want to look around a bit if you are here for the first time, and with this ticket you can go anywhere and enter any building on the campus. Even chapel admission is included on this ticket. I am selling, though not on all. A bunch of us upper classmen got together and obtained permission to include chapel on our campus tickets, because we think freshmen are "stuck" for too much money when they first come up here anyway." It was a long speech, well learned and beautifully rendered.

The V. Y. had decided. "Well," he said, "I believe I'll take one. How much is it?"

"Just fifty cents. The other fellows charge seventy five, but that's a hold-up."

I guess I'll have to write a check. But I dislike to write it for part of a dollar. I'll make it for a dollar and you can give me the change if that's all right with you. I might need some more change soon anyway."

"Sure" assented the G. S., "glad to oblige you."

The V. Y. drew out his check book asked the senior's name and wrote busily, then handed a check to the G. S. He glanced at it, folded it up, handed the V. Y. fifty cents and a off. etaoin etaoin etaoin etaol "Thank You" and joyfully walked off.

While looking over some papers that night in his room, he opened the check and read:

First National Bank.
Pay to "Know-It-All Bank—or order, One—cent and it was signed Jack Jones."

The "One" had been particularly prominent.

"I wonder," mused the G. S. "just how green I would look in contrast to that kid. He surely earned his fifty cents."

Dairy Cows at College Tested for Advanced Registry.

During the past week the dairy department has been testing the dairy herd for advanced registry in their respective herd books.

The last few months the dairy herd has been greatly improved. Many individuals of note have been developed. For this reason the department has been conducting a test in order to get these animals recorded in the advanced registry class in their respective herd books. The test has included Jerseys, Holsteins, Guernseys and Ayrshires. A. F. Kiser and C. S. Goldsmith have been doing the sampling, and testing under the supervision of the department.

INSPECTION THIS WEEK

Opening of New Rock Island Highway Arouses Much Interest.

Marysville, Kas. Sept. 22.—The official inspection trip over the Rock Island Highway from St. Joseph to Denver is to be made this week, leaving St. Joseph Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock, and the officials expect to reach Denver at 6 o'clock Friday evening. Much interest is being manifested by motorists all along the route and great preparations have been made at all the towns on the highway for the entertainment of the officials, especially at the county seat towns.

The party will be escorted from one county seat to the next by delegations of the motor clubs of the counties the route traverses. The route has been marked by red and white bands a foot high on telephone poles and at turns in the country roads by white steel markers bearing the words: "Rock Island Highway, St. Joseph-Denver."

Follows Pony Express Route

To the people along the route of the Rock Island Highway—especially in the towns along that portion which lies between St. Joseph and Marysville—the opening of the Rock Island Highway is of more than common interest because the route follows in the main the route of the old pony express route on the Overland Trail to California.

Early in 1860, William H. Russell of Leavenworth established the old Pony Express Route from St. Joseph to San Francisco. Johnny Frey was its first rider and his first trip was made April 3. He left St. Joseph in the evening. The route, after leaving St. Joseph, crossed the river and a little south of there ran due west until the old Military Road was reached at Kennekuk where it diverged somewhat and followed a westward course to this city. Leaving Marysville, the route took a northwest course and crossed into Nebraska at what was known in the early days as the Hollenberg Ranch located a mile or two west of Hanover, Washington county. An old log cabin—the Hollenberg Inn—was standing when this route was established and is today still standing.

Many Old Towns Abandoned

The trail after leaving the old Military Road at Kennekuk passed through Granada, Log Cabin, Seneca, Ash Point, Giltard's Station, near the present town of Beattie, in this county, and then to this city. A number of the towns and stopping places on the old route between St. Joseph and Marysville have since been abandoned, but their memory lingers. However, the county seat towns still remain and are on the route of the Rock Island Highway, which will be officially opened this week.

Leaving Marysville, the old Pony Express Trail crossed the Big Blue River at Marshall's Ford and the St. Joseph to Fort Kearney, Nebr.—wended its way northwesterly to that place.

CLASS TO MAKE TRIPS.

Senior A. H. Men in Advance Judging Take Them.

Dr. McCampbell of the animal husbandry department, is planning many trips of interest and instruction for the class in advanced judging II, composed of senior A. H. men.

Dr. McCampbell said in part: "This course has two ends in view. In the first place, it is a training field for the stock judging team which will represent the college at the American Royal and at the International stock shows. But this is not the great aim. It is fundamentally a course designed to round out the student's training in this phase of his work. In order to better complete this training, the class will be taken on several trips over this and neighboring states, visiting the farms of noted stock raisers. In this way the men will get an idea of the manner and method of the best men in conducting their work. A few of the places to be visited will be Thompson's at Garrison, Sutton's and Berry's at Topeka, and Robinson's at Towanda, and the class will also attend the American Royal at Kansas City.

Jake Holmes returned to Topeka last Monday after having spent a few days with friends.

KANSAS STATE NORMAL TO LEAVE CONFERENCE

COACH CRISPIN OBJECTS TO THE ENROLLMENT RULING—DECLARE IT UNFAIR.

The Normal intends to withdraw from the Kansas athletic conference at once, according to the announcement of Coach George Crispin, made last week. The recent ruling of the Kansas athletic conference, which stipulates that the schools in the conference having an enrollment of between 150 students cannot play freshmen during the first eighteen weeks of school is given as the reason for the withdrawal. The Normal objects to the ruling on the ground that a large percentage of the students are women.

"The ruling is wholly against the interests of Washburn and the Normal," declared the coach. "It is not just to us at the Normal, when so many of our students are women. We intend to pull out of the conference because we feel that we must in our own interest. We will try to play many conference teams as possible, but if we cannot get the games we'll go to Missouri, that's all. The Normal still has a little money in its athletic treasury.

FOOTBALL PROSPECTS AT MISSOURI

EXPECT FIFTY MEN OUT FOR FOOTBALL—FIRST PRACTICE MONDAY.

Columbia, Mo., Sept. 22.—About twenty-five men started football practice in a drizzling rain yesterday afternoon for the 1913 Tiger team. The practice was light, just good exercise, but tonight practice will begin in earnest. Fully fifty men are expected to report. Prof. C. L. Brewer, director of athletics, says that he expects the number to increase each day until there will be at least seventy-five in suits out on Follins Field by Saturday.

Many veterans were back last night and all the last year's M men are expected tonight. Nine M men are to be back in the squad this year and a number of promising men from last year's freshman team, besides all those who were in the scrubs last year and who ought to be better this year.

Captain Wilson, Kemper, Clay, Gallagher and Groves of last year's line are here. P. T. Graves, a 1910 tackle, is out this year, making six M linemen who will average 190 pounds.

In the back field McWilliams, Sheppard, Wiggins and Lake of last year's team are out. Herndon, a substitute end, and Dunkel, substitute in the back field, will be in the game.

Among the freshmen who showed up best last year and who will be candidates for the Tiger squad this year are Moore, Armstrong, Speelman and Zimmerman.

Knobel and LeMire are the men of last year's team who will be most missed, but Professor Brewer thinks that a very good number of the old men have returned for this year's team. Thatcher, the captain of the 1914 track team, will not be out for football but will devote his entire time to track, trying out all the men in the gymnasium classes for material.

Professor Brewer and H. F. Shulte will be the Tiger coaches and O. F. Field will have charge of the freshman team. Dr. H. F. Bailey of Knox College and the Kirksville School of Osteopathy will be in charge of the conditioning of the men.

Prof. C. L. Brewer, director of athletics at the University of Missouri, says that football will not be so much of an experiment this fall as usual because no radical changes are made in the rules this year. The only important change is that allowing the ball to be kicked from any place from behind the scrimmage line. The change will again make the old quarterback kick possible.

This year any player who has been taken out can be put back into the game any time during the last quarter. Formerly he could go back only at the beginning of the quarter. In a forward pass play, the men may interfere until the pass has actually been made.

The field will be laid off the same as it was last season, 300 feet long, with 30-foot zones for forward passing. A touchdown will still count six points, with an additional point if the goal is kicked. A field goal also still counts three points.

Professor Brewer says that less time will be lost this year at the beginning because the men who played last season will not need to learn the game all over again.—University Daily Missourian.

Billings caught well for Quincy but slumped in his batting at the end of the napping only five hits in the final two weeks of the season.

HAD GOOD TIME

AT ESTES PARK

K. S. A. C. SENT LARGEST DELEGATION TO Y. W. CONFERENCE THIS SUMMER

K. S. A. C., had the biggest delegation of Y. W. C. A. girls at the Estes Park conference, August 22 to September 1. Eighty-nine schools were represented.

For the first time, the conference was for college girls only. The city branches having had a separate conference. Three hundred and fifty-two girls were there. Of these, 22 were from this college.

The girls had a special car which was shared with the Washburn delegation. The trip from Loveland on, was made in steamers. About 100 more girls attended than were expected, and as a result, accommodations at the park were very crowded.

Miss Clarissa Spencer, the world's Y. W. C. A. secretary was present. A Chinese delegate was of interest to the students from this college.

Although the girls were much saddened by Miss Mauley's death, the conference was of great benefit to those who could attend it.

Those who attended were: Bess Walsh, Clay Center; Lina Tulloss, Ottawa; Eda Schowalter, Halstead; Ruth Brown, Kansas City; Ruth Foster, Kansas City; Eva Alman, Kansas City; Jenny Brown, Plainville; Anna Searl, Moreland; Margaret Jones, Elma Jones, Barrett; Edith Maxwell, Topeka; Lily K. Haas, general secretary, Rev. Goldsmith Manhattan.

The girls from Manhattan were: Clara Sachaw, Ethel Marshall, Ethel Goheen, Winifred Neusbaum, Mae Hildebrand, Lynn Hilsabeck, Ruth Allen, Hazel Laughlin, Mabel Benner and Katrina Munger.

NUMBER 4

McKEEVER GOES TO KANSAS U.

THE PHILOSOPHER TRANSFERRED TO THE UNIVERSITY.

ANNOUNCEMENT WAS MADE TODAY

Has Been With K. S. A. C. Thirteen Years—To Head Child Welfare Department at K. U.

William A. McKeever, for the past thirteen years at the head of the department of philosophy at the Kansas State Agricultural College, will go to the State University January 1 as head of the department of "Child Welfare," just created at that institution. The transfer was made by the board of administration and was announced to the college students this morning at chapel by President Waters. Prof. McKeever said afterwards that he would accept the new position.

"Prof. McKeever is resigning to take charge of the department of child welfare at the university January 1," said President Waters while waiting to board a train for Topeka. "At the university he will spend half his time with the child welfare department and one half writing and lecturing. Between now and January 1 he will travel and study."

According to President Waters the agricultural college is a school of industrial education, and the child welfare department really belongs to the university.

PROFESSOR A. A. POTTER

Appointed Acting Dean of the Engineering Division

Professor A. A. Potter, Professor of Steam and Gas engineering, has been appointed acting head of the Engineering Division. Professor Potter has been at K. S. A. C. since 1905 and is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Professor Potter spent a part of this summer in the designing room of the steam turbine department of the General Electric Company's plant at Lynn, Mass. While there he had an excellent opportunity to come in touch with many of the former students at K. S. A. C. The men who are with this company have made a fine reputation in their lines of work and their records are of the highest. The superintendent of the plant, Mr. E. E. Boyer, and other high officials say they have nothing but praise for the efficiency of these men. This certainly speaks well for the K. S. A. C. engineering school, for it comes from the foremost engineering experts of the day.

TICKETS SELL FAST

Societies Working Hard to Win the Banner

Who'll win the prize of a society banner that is offered by the Lyceum Course committee? That is the question all of the literary society members are thinking of and at the same time he is trying to sell you a ticket. The first news as to the result of the contest will be announced at the societies Saturday night. Some of the girls' societies think that they have the prize easily won and so do several of the other societies. From the number who have been selling tickets it's a safe bet that they all are trying hard.

The Lyceum Board is busy in folding the booklets that will be given out at the first number. These booklets tell all about the nine big numbers which will be offered. The most of the numbers come early in the year but because two could not be booked until February they will come in March.

The course this year will be one of the best that has been offered here. The talent will cost just as much as the more numerous numbers of last year's course.

Bible Class at the Churches

The Y. M., and Y. C. A., have co-operated with the churches of the city in planning their Bible Study classes. The committees in charge feel that they have unusually good subjects and the teachers are specially trained and qualified for the position. It would be helpful to every young man and young woman to join one of these classes.

Harold Gaden has returned to college from Seiling, Oklahoma, where he has been farming.

SHOW GROWING DESIRE TO ATTEND COLLEGE

ATTENDANCE AT ALL OF THE STATE SCHOOLS BREAKS ALL RECORDS.

Topeka, Sept. 25.—Figures received at the state house office of the board of administration indicate that the attendance records at every one of the state educational institutions will be broken this year. At the end of last week, according to D. M. Bowen, secretary of the board, there were 1,075 more students enrolled at the schools than on the corresponding day a year ago.

"And they still were lined up to enroll late Saturday afternoon," said Mr. Bowen, "at the State Agricultural college."

The Agricultural college shows the biggest increase in enrollment, with 400 increase over the same day a year ago, when the previous enrollment records were smashed. The University gets the next biggest increase, 250. Other increases reported to the board so far are: Pittsburg Normal, 140; Hays Normal 75; The figures from the State Normal at Emporia were not reported at the end of the week.

"The tendency to get a more practical education is largely responsible for the increased enrollment," according to Secretary Bowen. "This undoubtedly has been a big factor in bringing more students to the state schools. While it accounts for only a small part of the increase, I presume some boys are enrolled this fall because of the lack of work following the drought. But this I believe to be largely offset by the decreased attendance due to lack of finances on the part of a number of old students who are not back this year."

"One big factor, I am certain is the faith in the necessity of a college education nowadays, especially along practical lines. We have a good teaching force now, and that doubtless has attracted a good many students."

G. H. Hower, who has been in Manhattan for a few days, has accepted a position at Cottonwood Falls to teach in the high school there.

WORD RECEIVED FROM GREENLAND

PROF. M. C. TANQUARRY WRITES TO FRIENDS FROM ETAH.

THE SHIP ROOSEVELT DISABLED

Were Unable to Cross Smith Sound Because of Late Arrival

Word has been received from Prof. M. C. Tanquarry who is a member of the Crocker Land Expedition. He is now located in the town made famous by Cook and Peary, Etah. They left New York on the ship Roosevelt which was used by Peary on his last trip, but were unable to finish the voyage because the Roosevelt was disabled. This made them a week late and when they finally arrived at Etah they were unable to force through the pack ice.

Cards from Etah have been received by President Waters and the College Club, which will be interesting to all friends of Professor Tanquarry.

To President Waters

Dear President Waters: Because of the heavy mass of pack ice we have found it absolutely impossible to cross Smith Sound and are therefore compelled to establish headquarters on the Greenland shore. We selected Etah as the best place. Etah is a little Eskimo settlement of about half a dozen tupiks or skin tents. In the winter they use stone and snow to build igloos. We have some of the same Eskimos that Peary had. With best regards to all K. S. A. C. people I am, yours,

M. C. TANQUARRY.

To the College Club

Etah, Greenland, Latitude 78 deg. 20 min.

Dear Fellows: We have established headquarters at Etah instead of over on the Ellesmere Land side. We tried for a week to get across Smith Sound but the pack ice was so heavy that no ship could get through it. We will do our work from this side. We may be here two years and possibly three.

Etah is simply the name of a harbor where there are about a dozen Eskimo families. Our house will be on the shore at the foot of mountains about 3000 feet high. Best regards to all. Sincerely,

M. C. TANQUARRY.

Any letters to Professor Tanquarry will be received by him some time next summer. In case of emergency a wireless could probably find him as they have an instrument with them. The expedition is under the direction of Dr. MacMillan and is supported by the American Museum of Natural History of New York City and several large societies and prominent men.

Professor Tanquarry will have charge of the zoological work and will help in the botanical work.

TO REPAIR WIRELESS OUTFIT AT THE COLLEGE

EXPECT TO COMMUNICATE WITH OTHER STATIONS AT A DISTANCE.

The wireless telegraph system which the department of Electrical Engineering has in the Physical Science building will soon be in shape to communicate with wireless stations at greater distances than has heretofore been possible. Last year messages were successfully exchanged with Leavenworth and Ft. Riley. This year the installation of a five kilowatt transformer in place of the one kilowatt transformer now used will make it possible to communicate with Galveston and other points equally distant.

Prof. G. B. McNair who is in charge of the wireless station here has been at work re-arranging the apparatus according to the Massey system and expects to have everything in shape within a couple of weeks.

Dr. Holt Spoke

Dr. E. A. Holt spoke to the girls at Y. W., meeting Thursday evening. His subject, "Why the Modern Woman Should Study the Bible" was of interest to all girls and was handled in a clear and convincing way.

The Phi Phis have invited guests to a slumber party to be given Saturday night.

EVERYONE WILL WEAR A TAG

TRY TO MAKE KANSAS AGGIE DAY A BIG SUCCESS.

HAVE SPECIAL CHAPEL PROGRAM

President Waters and Professor Searson Will Try Persuasive Powers

Today will be called Kansas Aggie Day. Everyone will be expected to wear a tag and boost the Aggies. The Y. W. C. A., girls are swarming all over the campus and you had better get yours early. There will be fifty of the Y. W. girls out with tags and subscription books and they will be glad, yes, persistent in their efforts to get you to subscribe at once.

A Chapel Program

Everyone must be at chapel. A special program will be in charge of the Aggie officers. President Waters Professor Searson and maybe some of the others will try their luck in persuading you to subscribe. The first part of the program will be given over to President Waters and the latter part to Prof. Searson.

To The Students

The Kansas Aggie has to have the co-operation of all of the students enrolled at K. S. A. C., or it cannot be a success. It is a paper run by students, and every subscriber is a shareholder. Then every student should be interested in his or her paper. It is absolutely necessary that the student body get behind and push. The officers cannot do it all and its success then is up to you.

To The Faculty

The faculty in the past have been true supporters of the Aggie but they must not forget that each and every one of them should be a subscriber to the paper. Which department will be the first to have every member a subscriber to the Aggie?

About 16 to 1

The Aggie does not believe in the 16 to 1 ratio of readers that is in practice here. Just because your roommate or some other fellow at the house has the interest to subscribe is no excuse for you to sponge off of him. Get busy and take it yourself. When you get through reading the paper send it home.

FORMER AGGIE STAR

Stahl Now Coaching the Topeka High School Team

Topeka, Sept. 25.—Thirty husky lads, working under the tutelage of Elmer Stahl, last year, all-star end on the Kansas Aggie team, promises to furnish Topeka High school with a fast, aggressive football eleven this year. The high school squad has been practicing regularly on the meadow south of Washburn athletic field for a week. Every evening Coach Stahl gives his men a stiff work out. Scrimmage practice was introduced the first of the week and the squad has mastered its signals so that yesterday afternoon two teams were lined up for a half hour's snappy signal practice.

THE FIRST GAME IN KANSAS

Cooper College Lost to the Emporia Normals, 7 to 26

Emporia, Sept. 24.—The Kansas collegiate football season was opened here today when the State Normals won from Cooper College, 26 to 7. Cooper put up a game fight but was helpless before the Teachers' superior weight. The visitors scored first when Hazlett broke away in the opening quarter on a fake and ran thirty yards to a touch-down. A pass to White, the same period, gave the Teachers six points.

Hear From Dr. Barber

Friends of Dr. L. B. Barber will be pleased to hear that he has written a card from the Island of Guam to Dr. Schoenleber, stating that "all is lovely." Dr. Barber is a graduate of the veterinary department. For a year he was manager of the department, experiments and then practiced at his chosen profession in the city of Wamego for a year. He is now on his way to Honolulu where he will be employed by the government as a veterinarian.

SENIOR ELECTRICALS WIDELY SCATTERED

HAVE GOOD JOBS WITH GOOD COMPANIES IN MANY STATES.

The electrical engineers that graduated last spring are now situated as follows according to the latest information available: G. S. Gillespie, F. H. Graham and L. L. Jensen student apprentices to the Westinghouse Co., at Pittsburg, Pa.; W. A. Buck is in college doing post graduate work; H. H. Fenton, electrician, Concordia, Kansas; Carl Ipsen goes to the General Electrical Co., at Lynn, Mass., next week; C. H. Leech is at Kansas City, Mo., with the Western Electric Co.; F. C. Lewis is teaching manual training at the State Normal school at La Crosse, Wis.; F. C. Moss, Allis-Chalmers Co., Milwaukee, Wis.; V. D. Stone, Denver Gas and Electric Co., Topeka, Kansas; Denver, Colo.; E. G. Stahl is superintendent of the Topeka municipal lighting plant, Topeka, Kansas.

A. D. Conrow has been wiring for the college but expects to go to the General Electric Co., soon; C. D. up his course.

Dr. Brink's New Book

Among the Fall announcements of the A. C. McClurg & Co., appears the following notice of Dean Brink's new book.

The Making of An Oration. A manual of the Rhetoric of Oratory. This work is designed especially for use in colleges, high schools, literary and debating societies, and for all who wish assistance in the art of preparing speeches. For the most part the book deals with the logic and composition of the oration and the fundamental methods that must be pursued if success in oratorical composition be desired.

Dr. Brink is planning to use this book in his course of "Studies in Oratory."

The old Horticultural hall just north of the Physical Science building is being remodeled and refitted. It will be used as a carpenter repair shop.

SEASON STARTS NEXT FRIDAY

STORIES FROM SOUTHWESTERN SAY THAT THEY EXPECT TO WIN

PURPHOLDER BACK IN THE GAME

Kicking and Back Field Still Cause the Coaches Much Worry

The 1913 football season will be opened next Friday on the College Field with the football players of Southwestern College as the opposition for the Lowmanites. The Moundbuilders are looking up for the Aggie game and will give the local players a hard inaugural battle. Coach Clapp has all of his 1912 players on hand and many new ones that are pushing the old heads for their positions. The school paper from the Winfield school is already talking about the erection of a suitable hanging place for the state hall of fame. Take it all in all, the Aggies will have their hands full disposing of the Clapp warriors.

Captain Bernsdorff, Manager, Lear Ziegler, Carlson, Didisman, Leekly, Moore, Hamilton, a former Oklahoma star, McCormick, Shade, Wesley, Randels, and Templin, are come on his string for the 1913 team. Among the 1913 candidates who are pushing the older men for their jobs den of Chase, Baker of Enid, Hamilton and Vandever of Winfield, seem to have the edge. Two years ago the Southwestern players tied the Aggies on a muddy field. What will they do this year?

"Percy" Returns

The return of "Percy" Burkholder has caused the Aggie stock to advance several points. Burk made an All-Kansas guard last season and is expected to duplicate the trick again this year. Cusic, who has been working out at Burk's position, is not in the best physical shape possible and the coaching staff will be greatly relieved now that the ponderous Burkholder is suited up. The line seems to be the strongest part of the Aggie machine this year, that is, out as far as the ends. Forward passing will not be a sure ground game for the Aggies owing to the lack of capable forward flip handlers. Stahl was the mainstay of the 1912 team, with the pass, scoring the only tally that was made against the Cornhuskers, via, the forward pass route.

The mode of play that will be used by the Aggies this season is still a mystery. Coach Lowman says that it is still a mystery to him. The backfield is lacking in its most essential points, a capable fullback, and a good reliable kicker. Without these two, the team will be badly handicapped for all the gains cannot be made by tackle swings and end runs. It seems to be up to the coaching staff to develop a team that will handle the open style play rapidly and accurately enough to do the scoring. The line will prove a stone wall if defense to the majority of the linemen should turn out to be great ground gainers with the oval.

Varsity Scrimmage

Scrimmage work this week has not unearthed anything to be proud of. The line for the regulars has been holding the scrubs with ease, as strong as ever, but the varsity backfield seems to have great trouble handling the ball for gains. The first scrimmage work was held last Tuesday evening on the college field. The regulars pushed Agnew through the line for a touchdown after three minutes of play, but the scrubs spruced up after that spurt and held the regulars on even terms until the final whistle blew.

GET THE JOINING HABIT.

When the notion to include all the students who paid the athletic fee as members of the Rooters Club passed, K. S. A. C. made another step in the perfection of the athletic system here.

In times past, the Rooters Club has just existed and during the best part of the year it was dormant. The membership was voluntary and the dues so slight as to be inadequate for all practical purposes. It was necessary to get all of the members possible and then on top of that, to pass the hat every time a group of students could be gotten together.

The Rooters Club is primarily for the purpose of stimulating the interest in the athletic teams; to make if possible, a uniform and united body of rooters and to help in many other ways in raising the standard of athletics at this institution.

Under the old system, the Rooters

Club members, less than a hundred in number, elected the Yell Leader, but now with all of the student body who have paid the Voluntary Fee, it will be possible to elect a Cheer Leader who will represent the rooters.

One leader for all of the rooting is not enough. There should be one who leads a half a dozen others. The sub-leaders should all try to work together and to watch the progress of the game. In the past, the rooting has been each man for himself. There has been no really organized rooting. K. S. A. C. should have 1000 rooters who will root as one person, and they should be present at all of the games.

The new system has the approval of President Waters and Coach Lowman. It gives the students a chance to become interested in the rooting and it will result in better support of the rooting.

The election of the Cheer Leader will occur next Tuesday. Will you do your part and be there?

FRESHMEN SHOULD ROOT

Why not have the freshmen attend the football games and root? If the students at K. S. A. C., are to have systematic rooting they must learn to root. You can't teach an old senior or junior to get out and root at every game. He is not used to it, but if that senior had the habit he would make quite a bit of noise.

The time to get the habit is the first year you are in college. You go to the games and are feeling big and peppery and want to get out and make a big rumpus. Get a fellow to rooting at this stage of his career and it is likely that he will stay with it.

If the freshmen were to attend the games in a body and have a good leader, a fine bunch of fighters at the games will soon be developed.

A SUGGESTION.

The students at the university of Utah have placed an immense U upon the mountain side. This U is visible for miles to all the trains entering the valley.

The U is 100 feet high and the width of each side of the letter is 20 feet. Once a year all of the students take white paint and paint the U.

Here's a chance for the engineers to distinguish themselves. A large "K" should be placed upon Blumont and upon Prospect so that it will be seen by everyone who goes through Manhattan on either of the railroads.

The engineers could survey and locate the "K" and the rest of the student body would be glad to assist in the work of construction. Or a class could leave the "K" as a lasting memorial of their loyalty.

All social organizations wishing to have "write ups" of their functions will assist the staff greatly if some one of their number be selected to handle the publicity.
All news should be in the hands of the Society Editor by Monday and Thursday afternoons in order to secure publication.

K. S. A. C. STOCK WIN PRIZES

K. S. A. C. CATTLE WON 18 PRIZES AT STATE FAIRS.

9 AT TOPEKA; 9 AT HUTCHINSON

At Both Fairs, Beau Talent Was Pronounced Champion Steer—To American Royal.

Eighteen prizes at the state fairs—nine at Topeka and nine at Hutchinson—were the awards made to eight head of cattle exhibited by the animal husbandry department of the Kansas Agricultural College this season. Two championships, seven firsts, five seconds, two thirds and two fourth prizes, with cash awards of more than $300, were the extraordinary winnings of these eight animals.

At both fairs, Beau Talent, a purebred Hereford, was pronounced champion steer and won first place in the yearling exhibits; Greenwood, a purebred Hereford, and Maple Boy, a grade, first and second prizes in the exhibits of two-years-old steers; Baldoon, a purebred Angus, second in the aged bull exhibit; College Boy, a purebred Shorthorn, first in the exhibit of calves. First and second prizes on the best group of three steers also went to the college herd. Baldy Stewart, a purebred Angus, won third at Topeka and fourth at Hutchinson; College Beau, a purebred Hereford, third at Hutchinson, and Fancy Beau, a purebred Hereford yearling, fourth place.

The college will show these eight prize winners and twelve others at the American Royal stock show in Kansas City next month.

THE ANDERSON CLUB

Co-Operative Organization Lowers the H. C. of L.

A plan for curtailing college expenses is being worked out by the Anderson club which has its headquarters at 1405 Anderson avenue. Last year the house at 1441 Anderson was rented by the same club. During the fall term the cooking and dishwashing was done by the members of the club in turn. All running expenses were equally apportioned among the members. There were 18 members in the club last year. This year the house accommodates 15 men. Last year expenses averaged about $2 a week a member. After the football season, a woman was hired to do the cooking for the club and the plan was found even more satisfactory than the first. This year the property at 1405 Anderson has been bought by some of the members of the organization. The same housekeeper has been engaged for the school year and the business of the club will be conducted much in the same manner as last year. The club is not run as a permanent organization, but is merely a home for its members while in college. Charles Holladay, assistant in physical training, is manager of the club.

A GOOD PIPE DREAM

Southwestern Editor Sees Things Wait Till October 3

The prospects for a winning football team were never brighter. The team will be composed largely of experienced men and will be the most likely looking squad that ever represented the purple. Under the tutelage of Coach Clapp they are fast developing into a football machine that will not only harvest wheat shocks but state championship shocks as well. However, a team in order to win needs the support of every student and it is up to you to do your part. Cheering to be effective must be spontaneous; and if each individual student will imbibe himself with the state championship spirit the team can not help but win. Let's talk it in the halls, yell it in chapel and dream of it at night—STATE CHAMPIONSHIP FOOTBALL TEAM.

DAN CUPID IS GUILTY: NOT BOARD OF CONTROL

LURE OF LOVE TAKES TEACHERS FROM K. S. A. C., SAYS A DISPATCH.

Topeka, Sept. 24.—Daniel Cupid and not the Democratic state legislature is responsible for the trouble in the state schools, according to Mrs. Cora G. Lewis of Kinsley, a member of the state educational administration board. At the state Agricultural College alone, 35 female instructors have recently followed the lure of the love god and resigned their positions to become blushing brides.

In Topeka this week Mrs. Lewis told of the trials and tribulations of a woman who tries to help "boss" the big state colleges and universities. For Mrs. Lewis is one of the three members of the educational administration board, which has supervision over the state educational institutions and the responsibility of shaping their course, directing their management and buying their supplies, to say nothing of looking after the details of employing some 1,200 or 1,500 instructors and heads of departments.

Mrs. Lewis returned this week from Manhattan, where she attended the opening ceremonies surrounding the formal opening of the State Agricultural college. The big farm school is now in excellent running order, Mrs. Lewis says, and there is a greatly increased attendance in all departments and every indication of a successful year.

"President Waters told us," said Mrs. Lewis, "that he has one of the most competent and efficient faculties in the history of the school and that this year there should be the best since the establishment of the school."

"Well, the loss of some of the older instructors will have its effect," said Mrs. Lewis, "although we have employed a number of new instructors from whom we expect great results. But the loss of teachers was not due alone to the action of the legislature or the policies of the board. We lost more teachers through matrimony than from any other cause."

"Why, do you know," confided Mrs. Lewis, "we have lost 35 of our lady instructors in the Agricultural college since the close of the last school term all to get married. These kind of resignations became so frequent that when President Waters sent us notice that some lady instructor was to quit, he just wrote on the resignation 'usual cause' and we always know what was meant there were to be wedding bells and another happy home."

But the educational board, the loss of these teachers is no joke. They laugh about it but it is really a serious matter.

"I don't know what is the real cause," sighed Mrs. Lewis. "It does not happen so frequently in the other schools. There is evidently something about the surroundings or the college that promotes love affairs quicker than in the other schools. But the loss of 35 of our lady teachers during a summer vacation period is not a laughing matter. Especially when it is necessary to find good competent people to take their places.

WEIDLINE IS THE K. U. CAPTAIN

Bramwell's Place Was Voted to the Tackle After Yesterday's Practice
Lawrence, Kas., Sept. 24.—Immediately following the workout on McCook Field this afternoon the Jayhawk football team unanimously elected William Weidline captain of the Kansans of 1913. Weidline was graduated from the Central High school of Kansas City in 1910. He played on the Kansas freshman team and this is his third and last year on the varsity. Weidline is one of the most valuable men in the line. At tackle his weight and experience makes him a tower of strength. He is one of the most popular athletes Kansas has ever had and his election was received with enthusiasm by the student body. He succeeded as captain, William Bramwell, who was unable to play this fall on account of parental objection.

NEW FOOTBALL DEVICE

Harvard Coach to Train Centers to Make Throws
Cambridge, Mass., Sept.—A new piece of football apparatus has been invented and installed at Harvard by Derric Parmenter, coach of the centers.

The New device is built similar to an easel, with an oval hole in the middle of it the size of a football. This hole is at the height of a kicker would receive the ball in the outstretched hands from the center for a field goal or a punt.

The centers stand in their positions and toss the ball at the open space just as they would if a fellow player were there waiting to receive it. The machine is expected to train the pivot men to more accuracy when they relay the ball from center for kicking.

ROOTERS CLUB REORGANIZED

HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING ON THURSDAY MORNING CHAPEL HOUR

CHEER LEADER SYSTEM CHANGED

Everyone Should Attend Chapel on Next Tuesday and Be a Booster

There will be an athletic meeting in the auditorium Tuesday morning at Chapel hour. Coach Lowman, assistant coach Merner and Captain Fred Loomis will talk on the prospects of the football season.

No athletic team can be expected to do its best if it is not backed by good and systematic rooting. At this meeting a new system of cheering will be discussed, and yell leaders will be elected.

Many colleges and universities meet with great success in their cheering by having one chief yell leader, and two or three assistants. For these places men must be elected that have a natural ability of leadership. Men that won't give up till the game is won, and men who stand in well with the student body.

This meeting takes the place of the regular chapel program, and every one is urged to be present.

At Thursday's Meeting
The members of the Rooters Club and others interested in the work, met in the old chapel Thursday at chapel hour and discussed plans for the re-organization of the club.

I. L. Fowler, President of the club, called the meeting to order, and in a short speech deplored the lack of interest in the last year. Fowler then introduced Coach Lowman, who presented a new system of organization for this year.

The Coach laid the blame of the small membership on the extra fee of 50 cents which has been charged the past two years. He called attention to the fact that, with a paid-up membership of only fifty members, the money derived from the dues was not enough to accomplish much in the way of entertaining visiting teams and carrying on the incidental expenses of the club.

He suggested that every person paying the regular $1.50 athletic fee should automatically become a member of the club, and the necessary money be raised by collections and subscriptions.

Fowler and Martin Souders spoke in the same vein, pointing out the ease with which money was raised by collections last year, and comparing the amount raised by the dues system.

Souders moved that the constitution of the club be amended to include as members of the Rooters Club, all persons who have paid the regular athletic fee.

The motion was seconded and unanimously passed. Coach Lowman then made two other suggestions to the club. He advocated the choice of two cheer leaders by each class, their work to be supervised by the official leader of the club.

He also suggested a radical change in the method of election of the three student members of the Athletic Board. The Coach proposed that the Senior, Junior and Sophomore classes each elect one member from their own class. This method has recently been adopted in Ames, Iowa, and the coach said he believed it would be most successful here.

Under the old system of election of the student members of the board by the Rooters Club, the student body as a whole was not represented and this fault met with the disapproval both of the Coach and of President Waters.

Fowler and others spoke in favor of making the proposed change, and incorporating the office of member of the Athletic Board in the permanent offices of the classes. A motion was unanimously passed to that effect, and the Secretary was instructed to notify the Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors of the action.

No definite action was taken as to the election of cheer leaders by the various classes.

As the plans for re-organization had come up, the election of officers was postponed till next Thursday at chapel hour.

A BIG BEAR STORY FROM KANSAS U.

ANNUAL PRACTICE BEHIND CLOSED GATES HAS BEGUN.

Lawrence, Sept. 24.—Captains, the Jayhawk football team is working hard these days in order to get into shape for the first game of the season against William Jewell a week from Saturday. Willis Bramwell, captain of the team, is not in school nor does he expect to be, according to reports. The story that he was going to return to school was unfounded. At present William Weidline is acting as leader of the squad.

Seven regulars and a good bunch of sophomores are out for practice each night, but the squad is smaller than in any previous years. Only 20 men were in suits last night. This smallness of the squad is worrying the Kansas coaches. If some of the regulars fail to show up in good form the mentors will have to find substitutes from the new men. On McCook field this afternoon there was a scarcity of substitutes.

Coaches Mosse and Frank are working the men behind closed gates this week. The teams have been given formations and are working to get them in shape before the opening game.

Jay Bond, freshman coach, held the first practice for his youngsters this afternoon. A bunch of 40 try-outs were in suits.

Manager W. O. Hamilton is arranging for a big opening of the football season here a week from next Saturday. A parade of former football stars, headed by Governor George H. Hodges and Chancellor Frank Strong will make the kickoff.

CONTRACT TO BE LET FOR NEW SERUM PLANT

PLANT TO BE OF BRICK AND SANITARY IN EVERY RESPECT.

The old serum plant will change its location. The old one will be abolished and a new plant erected. The contract for the new plant has already been let by the Board of Administration and work upon a new plant will begin soon. The plant would have been erected at once but for the difficulty in finding a location that was nearer to the college and also a desire on the part of the residents of college hill to keep the plant as far away from themselves as possible. It is easily seen that the plant is obnoxious when it is considered that there are from 300 to 1000 hogs always on hand.

The property owners are trying to have an interurban through their district and it was felt that the plant would lower the property value.

As it is the matter still swings in the balance and although it seemed at first that there would be some litigation it is now probable that the trouble will be settled for the best interests of all.

Professor Schoenleber, when interviewed stated that the new plant was necessary because of the inefficiency and limited capacity of the old plant for the production of serum. The incinerating division of the old plant was too close to the road. This will be carefully avoided in the new plant.

"There is an increasing demand for the serum," said Dr. Schoenleber. "Recently it was necessary to return a check for a thousand dollars simply because the plant could not supply the serum. At present the plant is supplying serum for the states of Iowa, Virginia and Idaho. As a matter of safety it is necessary to keep on hand a constant reserve of 500,000 centimeters for emergency calls."

As soon as the new plant is located work will commence. The construction will be of brick and the plant will be as sanitary as possible.

Freckles Coming

An unusually strong attraction comes to the Marshall Theatre Oct. 2, when for the first time in that house "Freckles," one of the few real successes of last season, will be the offering. This production is under the direction of A. G. Delameter whose staging of popular novels, notably "Quo Vadis," "Graustark," "Beverly" and "The Piring Line" has established him as a specialist in book-plays. "Freckles" was the best of the "best-sellers" for several years and still ranks high in popular demand. One can scarcely hazard a guess as to the number of our theatre patrons who have read the novel but it must be very large and in consequence, more than ordinary interest is aroused over the attraction.

The play is said to follow closely the book story, every character being faithfully reproduced in the stage version and in this form possessing an even wider appeal to lovers of nature than as a novel.

The Division of Agriculture is preparing a large exhibit of farm crop products to be sent to the International Dry Farming Congress and Farm Crops Exhibition which is to be held in Tulsa, Oklahoma, Oct. 22 to 31.

Mr. Bruce Wilson, farm demonstrator for the agricultural division with several assistants has been engaged for the greater part of the summer, in collecting and preparing samples and exhibits for the display.

The exhibit consists chiefly of grains and forage crops, together with charts, photographs and placards, describing the methods employed in their production.

The chief aim is to be educational, rather than competitive. Although a prize has been offered by the directors of the Exposition for the best exhibit from any college, the K. S. A. C., exhibit has been arranged entirely to the view of demonstration of general practical, methods of crop production in semi-arid regions.

Exhibits Will Include

Specimens have been collected from all over the state. The Hays Experiment Station has furnished some excellent samples of wheat and other grains. The Tribune Experiment Station in Greeley County has contributed sorghums and other valuable forage crops.

The exhibit will include: statements of the results of experiments here and at the different experiment stations, pictures and data arranged in a striking, simple and easily comprehended form.

Special attention will be paid to the dry farming feature. The exhibits relating to this phase of the exposition have come principally from the western part of the state.

Dry Farming Congress

The Dry Farming Congress will play the most important part in the exposition, and the K. S. A. C., exhibits have been carefully arranged with this fact in mind.

New varieties of sorghums, kaffir corn, and other drought-resisting crops are to be shown and their culture explained. The Division of Agriculture has devoted much time to the testing and propagation of these crops for some years.

The exhibit will not be confined to the agronomy department, but will include work from the horticultural, dairying, animal husbandry and poultry departments. The horticultural department will send exhibits now in use on the Farmers' Institute circuit. They will be arranged in the institute show cases, and be accompanied by the information used by the institute demonstrators.

VOLUME XIX.

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, OCTOBER 1, 1913.

NUMBER 5

SOUTHWESTERN HERE FRIDAY

STRONG WINFIELD TEAM WILL HUSTLE AGGIES.

SCRIMMAGE SHOWS LACK OF FORM

Can the Aggies Beat a Team Using the Forward Pass?

When Referee E. C. Quigley, late of the Arbitrators Board of the National League, signals for play to begin between the Aggies and Southwestern, Friday, afternoon on the local gridiron, some two thousand footballists will wriggle forward to the edge of the bleacher seats and breathe nervously for about an hour-and-a-half. The band will march around over the battle ground and play cheerful airs but will the hearts of the fans be as cheerful? That is a question that can be only as settled by being at the game and seeing for yourself.

Lester Howenstine, some kicker on the '11, has taken out an assignment in the college and checked out a football suit. Howenstine averaged better than 45 yards in many battles in 1911 and won the Washburn game with two neat dropkicks. Whether or not he will be able to return to his old form is a question, but if he does he will bear watching and comparison with Trobert, Washburn's touted eight wonder.

Considerable anxiety has been shown by the football followers, since the scrimmage last Saturday afternoon, as to the outcome of the battle with the Southwestern warriors. One thing is certain, it will be a much harder game than the average person suspects, and one that every loyal Aggie rooter should be lined up for. The Southwesternites licked some little prep school from northern Oklahoma, last week, literally tramping the Southerners into the dust, under a score of 48 to 0. The Winfield team showed themselves adept at handling the forward flaps and scored via this route within ten minutes after the opening whistle had blown. Rannells, a speedy end, who showed up well in the Southwestern game last season is starving down in Winfield this year through his dazzling speed and adeptness with the basketball style of football.

The Aggies showed up just fairly well in the workout last Saturday afternoon. Of course the reader must not infer from the few remarks that are published in this sheet that K. S. A. C. is not going to have a football team this year, for in reality it is to be some team. The Aggies will put one of the best lines into the field which has represented this school in years. Such men as Captain Loomis, Wehrle, and Burkholder, are not to be underestimated when the day for battle arrives. The ends are very weak in their handling of the forward pass, but they will not meet opposing ends this season who will outclass them in their general playing ability. This brings the discussion around to the rear guard and really the most essential part of the team. From the scoring stand-point of view, the backfield, is where the Aggies appear weakest. There are good men in the rear guard this season but they have not worked well together in the scrimmage. Agnew is hitting the scrub eleven for great gains this year and Enns looks better than ever before. Sidorfsky is playing his usual speedy, heady game, but they are not working together. The speed of the backfield, that was in action Saturday, went by jerks and individually was great, but collectively, rotten. From the outside appearance of the workout Saturday, the quarter back position is still open for debate. This berth will be usually difficult to fill when one stops to think of all the good points Simms displayed last year.

Coach Lowman never gives out a lineup for an athletic team until they appear on the field and ready for the game, but it is our guess that the team will lineup about like this—Coxen, center; Wehrle, Cusic and Burkholder, guards; Captain Loomis and Marble, tackles; Schafer, Moss, and Root, ends; Haymaker, quarterback; Agnew, Enns, and Sidorfsky, halfbacks; Briney and Hartwig, fullbacks. The game will be called at 3:30 sharp. C. E. McBride, K. C. A. C. will serve as umpire and Dr. J. A. Reilly, K. C. A. C. will officiate as headlinesman.

Richard Lewis Schovee.

Richard Lewis Schovee, student of Civil Engineering at K. S. A. C., died of typhoid fever at the St. Francis hospital in Wichita, September 25, 1913.

With Mr. Schovee's death, the Catholic students club has been deprived of a most able president and the student body has lost a young man of ability and of excellent character.

He was a member of the Webster literary society and had a large circle of friends in college. At his request Rev. A. J. Luckey of Manhattan officiated at the funeral services, which were held in the church of the Assumption at Topeka, Monday, Sept. 29.

LOCAL DOCTORS WERE SELECTED

FOR THE PRESENT FOUR LOCAL DOCTORS WILL PRESCRIBE FOR STUDENTS.

Your 50 cent medical fee is good at four of the physicians' offices. The health board has made arrangements for the treatment of all students cases by these four doctors. This arrangement is only temporary and a permanent arrangement will be made soon. The doctors do not think they received enough for their work last year.

Last year the students could go to any of the doctors and the bill would be paid by the college. A nurse was employed and she visited all who were sick.

The doctors last year received 48.9 percent of the total amount of their bills. They feel that this amount is not enough.

Miss Gertrude Nicholson, the nurse last year, resigned and her successor has not yet been chosen.

The rules governing the sick cases are the same this year as last. The sick permits are issued by the registrar and turned over to the doctors. Medicine will be furnished in ordinary cases, but the student will have some medicine to buy occasionally.

One of the rules to be observed is: "When a student who has been absent from college for two or more consecutive days because of sickness, returns he must present to the instructor a certificate of good health from his physician before he will be permitted to be in the class."

The doctors whom the college chosen to care for the sick are:

J. D. Colt.
E. J. Moffitt.
J. C. Montgomery.
B. Belle Little.

Lambda Pledges.

The Lambda Lambda Thetas have pledged Emily Lofinck and Frances Evalt, both of Manhattan.

MASS MEETING AT AUDITORIUM

AND EVERY STUDENT SHOULD BE THERE AND BOOST

COLLEGE BAND TO BE PRESENT

Will Elect Yell Leader and the Officers of Rooters Club—Everybody Come

The season of pigskin chasers is here and the evidence of loyalty to the warriors as yet has not been demonstrated. As only a few days are to elapse before the opening of the season with Southwestern, it is necessary that the machine without any missing links or cogs must get into action.

The old students well realize how defeat has been grasped by the forelock and led the team to victory by systematic rooting. The kind that give the everlasting fight in the heart of any athlete. To the new student we can say that the only way to get the most out of an education is to be a loyal supporter of the athletic teams.

How often one hears this question, when away from college: "did you know so and so, he played half on the football team?" Do you want to say: "I don't know," in answer? Well then show your enthusiasm and come to the meeting.

The meeting tonight will not only be a pep meeting so that the new student will have an opportunity to get in the line of loyal supporters, but the intention is also to elect the officers for the ensuing year.

The politicians will have another chance to get busy and be in trim for class meetings Thursday. It is not to what fraternity or society to which a man belongs that these offices should be chosen. The men who hold the offices are to be the most representative men in this work which the student body affords.

The officers to be elected are: President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and Yell Leaders.

The yell leaders are the most important officers of the entire staff. It is a problem which has given Coach Lowman and his men considerable worry. These men are the ones in whom the entire student body must place their confidence and follow throughout the year. They will direct your voice the same as a choir leader and you should respond promptly.

The band and the football team will be present, so these attractions should be worth the price of admission.

The old men of the team, Capt. Loomis, Schafer, Wehrle, Cusic, Sidorfsky, and others will give talks concerning prospects for the best football team in the state and, needless to say, the State Championship. I. L. FOWLER, Pres.

A BIG ATTENDANCE IN D. S. COURSES

EXPECT TO ENROLL 700 BEFORE THE TERM CLOSES—WANT PRACTICAL WORK

There are 690 girls enrolled in the college this term. The number very probably will reach 700.

More than 500 of the girls are taking the regular four years course in home economics. The other 150 have enrolled for the six months housekeeper's course. The other nothing except practical work in sewing and cooking and special training in home decoration. It is an excellent course for those who intend putting it into practice soon after completion.

Enrollment had reached 2258
Monday, an increase of thirty six since last Tuesday.

WILL HAVE OWN FOOTBALL TEAM

HAVE OWN TEAM INDEPENDENT

JAKE HOLMES TO COACH TEAM

Have Planned a Five Game Schedule With Smaller Colleges in State

Jake Holmes will arrive in Manhattan next week to coach the team of the Secondary School. The Secondary School has an enrollment of over 600 and of these 450 are boys. This large number gives an opportunity to select a strong football team. Later it may be possible to have the literary society independent.

The Secondary School students met after chapel and voted to have their own athletic teams. Jake Holmes has been selected to take charge of their team. A five game schedule will be arranged, the first game being with Cooper College. The K. S. A. C. Athletic Fee will not admit to the games. The team will be supported by the Secondary School and will have its own equipment.

There are a number of good players in the school and they will be able to give the smaller colleges a hard fight.

They also voted to have their own colors which are maroon and gray.

It is quite possible that in a few weeks they will have their own literary societies. Nothing has been done however, about societies at present.

The different years of the school have organized their classes and will elect their officers soon. Already they have all kinds of pep and it will not be surprising if, in a few years, they will be showing K. S. A. C., how to do things.

FRANK HARRIS GOES TO EUROPE

Instructor in Architecture to Study in Europe for a Year

Frank Harris, '08, Instructor in Architecture and Drawing will leave for an extended trip through Europe and Egypt as soon as a successor can be secured. Professor Harris was given his leave of absence for one year by the Board of Administration this week. He will study along lines of his profession.

When asked about the Board's action Professor Harris said: "The Board of Administration has granted me a leave of absence in order that I may study architecture in the old country. My wife and I will leave as soon as some one is secured to take my place."

"We intend to land in France, travel across the continent to Geneva, Italy and leave at Naples for Port Said. We will go up the Nile to the falls then come back to America."

LARGE CROWD ENJOY EVENING

Y. M. AND Y. W.'S., GIVE SOCIAL AT COLLEGE

At least 1200 were present
If You Did Not Get Acquainted It Was Your Own Fault

The Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., gave their annual joint reception to new students Monday evening in the Nichols Gymnasium. Half an hour before the doors were opened students began to arrive, so that by eight thirty a crowd of several hundred had gathered in front of the building. The east door was then opened, and the young people entered. Professor McKeever's class room, downstairs, and Professor Johnson's, on the second floor were used as cloak rooms.

The receiving line stood at the east end of the main floor of the gym. Mr. Carl Ipsen, at the head of the line, presented the students to President Waters. Next to him was Mrs. Mary Pierce Van Zile, Dean of women. Next in order was Miss Haas who is in charge of the Y. W. C. A. work here. Mr. W. W. McLean, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Miss Margaret Jones, president of the Y. W. C. A., and Mr. C. O. Levine, president of the Y. M. C. A.

The hall was decorated with pennants. Many schools and organizations were represented, the purple and white, however, predominating. In each of the four corners was a table from which punch and wafers were served. The college orchestra furnished music throughout the evening.

These receptions furnish excellent opportunities to the students for becoming acquainted. They are always quite informal, and the friendly attitude is felt and appreciated by the new students. About a thousand persons attended.

"In the Hands of Fate"

The Phi Kappa Phi sorority gave a slumber party Saturday, Sept. 27. Before the party the girls were entertained by a face, a very exciting tragedy, entitled "In the Hands of Fate." After the farce refreshments were served.

STAFF PLAN ROYAL PURPLE

WILL LET PUBLISHERS CONTRACTS IN SHORT TIME

FEATURE THE GOLDEN CENTENNIAL

Plan Many Innovations in Volume Six Students to Select Prettiest Girls

The board of editors on the Royal Purple Staff met for the first time this year last week. Plans are being made to make the book larger and better than it has ever been, which will be no easy matter. There are fourteen members on the committee, who will collect material and attend to the business matters of the enterprise.

The contracts have not been signed at the present time, but before another month it is thought that the publishers will have been selected and actual work will have been begun by them. To the ordinary lay student who has never worked on a book, it would seem a comparatively easy matter to collect snapshots, label them, collect money and spend it for the printing and advertising, but the managers declare the reverse to be true. There is the responsibility of the contracts which involve several thousand dollars and the work of arranging has to be planned and criticized several times to prevent errors from creeping into the volume.

The board has in mind several interesting features to present in Volume Six, which is the number of this year's edition. The buildings will be run in a different manner and negotiations are under way to get the plans for the Agricultural College of the future. The general treatment of the book will differ greatly from others which have been published in the past. One idea that will be carried throughout will be that of the 50th anniversary of the college, which will be celebrated in October. This is to be really the feature.

Another idea which the board has in mind is the beauty contest. They offer to give a full page each to the pictures of the six prettiest girls, the candidates being from any class and elected by the student body in general. There are a dozen other things that will make the book worth keeping, but it is too early in the season the managers say, to give all the surprises.

Snapshots which are bright and clear will come in good play and the editors of the "funnies" will give all comers a chance to "turn one in" on their friends. Good views are very desirable. The members of the committee are: Tom Harris, Manager; F. A. Smutz, Ralph Musser, Herman Tagge, A. P. Davidson, Homer McNamara, Russell Williamson, Joe Goodwin, Mae Hildebrandt, Bess Hoffman, Jesse Neiman, Beulah Wingfield and Flossie Davis.

JUNIORS TO TAKE HIKE

Plan a Steak Roast for Friday Night On Prospect

All the members of the Junior class are expected to meet at the Central School building to make a trip out to Prospect Friday night at 7 o'clock.

The affair will be a steak roast and a large number are expected to be present as it is the first class party of the year.

The committee who have charge of the picnic are: J. W. Linn, Archie Marble, L. Mann, Nell Beaubien, Louise Walbridge, W. L. Loomis.

Aggie Government Money Club

A large number of our members graduated at last commencement but the club made a large increase during vacation and our cause is growing rapidly throughout the country and in congress. We will soon give our friends a chance to learn where we stand.

COLLEGE SPIRIT

Hurrah for the Rookies! They have the true college spirit. By their action Monday, involuntarily increasing the drill period from one to two hours in order to be ready for the Centennial, they set a good example for the rest of us.

Only a few held back and many of these were working and it would be impossible for them to drill an extra hour. The military department always has a large part in any of the college celebrations.

After the men had so enthusiastically approved of the extra drill period, the Commandant willingly gave his permission for the corps to attend the football games. Last year it was impossible for the rookies to get to the games on time. This year they will be one of the most enthusiastic bodies of the rookies.

Lets all say it again. Hurrah for the Rookies!

"SUNNY JIM"

McKeever is going, too. We are glad for his sake, because it will give him an opportunity to do the work which he is interested in. But we cannot forget that K. S. A. C., is the loser. "Sunny Jim," as the students familiarly called him, was a favorite with us all. He was one of the faculty whom we all met our first year in Methods of Study, and was one of the last when we took Philosophy in the senior year.

While at K. S. A. C., he did a great work for Kansas. The famous cigarette law is an example. He published many books about Kansas. In his trips to the east and other states he established a prestige for the institution. He was appreciated more in other states than in Kansas.

At K. U., he will be enabled to do the work which is his calling. Child Welfare work has always been his hobby. He will be given a chance to travel, talk and write about the great problem of the child. He will accomplish a great good.

YOUR SKELETON TOO

The campaign for subscriptions to the Aggie last Saturday was not the big success expected. The students failed to respond as liberally as they might have done. The Y. W. girls worked hard and did well considering the day of the week.

It is no secret that the Kansas Aggie is facing a crisis. It was impossible last year to print all of the news because there was not room in the paper. The size of the paper has been increased yet it appears that the students are not quite ready to support a larger paper. The present size is a good start for a daily paper such as is supported by other institutions the size of our own.

The Aggie started the year with a debt, left over from previous managements, but it was expected that the heavy increase in the subscriptions would pay the remainder of this debt.

It is almost impossible to keep the reporters and others on the staff at work, because of the small salaries which it has been the custom to pay and which have not been paid since last April. In reducing this debt the present staff have been donating their services.

The paper is now self-supporting and has been since last April, but it is the skeleton in the closet which demands more subscribers.

We know that we have the moral support of the faculty and the student body, but we also need their financial support.

BUGLE NOTES

A Freshman Writes of His First Experiences at Drill

The Freshman "Old Guard" drilled for the first time on the sward, Friday night. A division of the trained and untrained men of each company was made in the gymnasium; the captains remained within the gym, while the lieutenant and first sergeants, drill books in hand, marched out to the parade grounds, with their civilian charges. A demonstration was given in the simplest forms of drill, and many an applicant for the squad put in his bid by nearly falling down the hill at "about-face." Several would be buglers stationed themselves behind the trees out of range and did gymnastics on the bars of the scale. Objections were raised as to the condition of the grass and many cadets would prefer to wait till the olfactory conditions are better before drilling again. All men who have uniforms will have to either wear them afternoons of next week, drill days, or do the lightning change between classes.

The commands given the men are written in the purest English, but the nasal versions sound like Hindoo or Hottentot; first, a guttural gurgle, and then the vocal cords stop business by saying, sharply, "bow!" or "toot!" One sub-F said: "Why don't that feller carry a horn and say Honk, Honk!" Company Z was learning the salute. They had been pirouetting and dancing left and right all the hour. All at once the captain thundered, "Boys, when you salute me, you want to keep your thumbs doubled back into your palm."

A.M. READY FOR OPENING GAME

MANY OLD MEN TRYING FOR POSITIONS ON TEAM OF TEXAS AGGIES

Special to the Aggie:

College Station, Texas, Sept. 29.—The football squad, forty strong under the leadership of Coach Charlie Moran, have returned from preliminary practice at New Braunfels. The training camp was a success in every particular. Every effort is now being made to whip the squad into shape for the opening game with Trinity University on Oct. 11. In spite of the many hardships, it is beginning to look like the Texas Aggies will be strong contenders for championship honors again this season. Many old and new men are trying for the various positions.

Here is the weight, age experience and position of the men who are showing up best:

W. G. Beasley, captain, 185 pounds, 22 years, A. and M., halfback.

Caesar Hohn, former star from Houston, 180 pounds, 24 years, A. and M., end.

L. H. Powell, 185 pounds, 21 years, A. and M., center.

John Garrity, Corsicans, 150 pounds, 21 years, A. and M., quarter.

Harley Deason, 180 pounds, 20 years, Academy, halfback.

L. C. Jones, 180 pounds, 21 years, High School, halfback.

R. L. Wilkinson, 174 pounds, 20 years, Academy, center.

C. C. Halbeddie, 180 pounds, 20 years, High School, guard.

W. L. Coleman, Fort Worth High School, 175 pounds, High School, halfback.

H. G. Lacey, 175 pounds, 23 years, A. and M., guard, tackle.

W. L. Reynolds, 185 pounds, 21 years, A. and M., line.

J. S. Coen, 175 pounds, 21 years, A. and M., line.

N. M. Braumiller, 180 pounds, 20 years, A. and M., fullback.

R. E. Rice, 175 pounds, 20 years, High School, halfback, tackle.

George Lindsey, 170 pounds, 22 years, College, end.

E. S. Harrison, 180 pounds, 22 years, A. and M., line.

Joe Harrington, 185 pounds, 23 years, A. and M., line.

Henry Miller, 190 pounds, 21 year, A. and M., guard.

Keasler, 195 pounds, 21 years, A. and M., line.

Abbott, 155 pounds, 23 years, A. and M., line.

In addition to these men, Tyree Bell of Dallas, captain of last year's team is expected at College Station in a few days. The presence of Hohn, familiar to A. and M., caretakers as "Dutch" augers well for the success of the team.

A WORD FROM TEXAS

Have a 261 Pound Wonder—Aggies Play Them Nov. 18

Austin, Texas, Sept. 29.—The Longhorn football squad had their first practice on Clark Field yesterday afternoon when Allerdice's squad of forty pigskin warriors went through a light workout.

The squad is the largest that has ever been turned out on the first day in the history of the University and never before have so many candidates for the team been seen in as good condition and ready for the early work as are the members of the squad that the Varsity football enthusiasts saw yesterday.

Yesterday's work for the squad consisted of punting and receiving punts, practice on falling on the ball, and towards the end of the practice Allerdice divided the squad into three teams through a lively signal practice.

The men seemed to be in splendid condition and got off with good speed in signal practice, an indication that the Longhorns this season will be fast as well as of good weight.

Several additions were made to the squad. Niblo, the old reliable fullback and lineman, made his appearance; Pritchett, whose drop-kicking was good last year, was out in uniform. Among the new men to appear were Holliday, of Henrietta High, who looks good as a lineman. Holliday tips the scales at 261, but does the hundred in 13 1/2. Dean, of Victoria High, a lad of 180 pounds, is a candidate for fullback. Spence and Howell, also freshmen, were out. Three elevens were running.

Leonard Barrell, last year's half, was tried at quarter today.

The squad appeared in football suits for the first time. The new suits have not yet arrived, and there are not enough of the old to supply the demand.

Freckles Coming

An unusually strong attraction comes to the Marshall Theatre Oct. 2, when for the first time in that house "Freckles," one of the few real successes of last season, will be the offering. This production is under the direction of A. G. Delameter whose staging of popular novels, notably "Quo Vadis," "Gruentzen," "Beverly Hills Ransom," "The Firing Line" has established him as a specialist in book-plays. "Freckles" was the best of the "best-sellers" for several years and still ranks high in popular demand. One can scarcely hazard a guess as to the number of our theatre patrons who have read the novel but it must be very large and in consequence, more than ordinary interest is aroused over the attraction. The play is said to follow closely the book story, every character being faithfully reproduced in the stage version and in this form possessing an even wider appeal to lovers of nature than as a novel.

BAND WILL NOT GO

Trouble With Musicians' Union Causes Change

The K. S. A. C., band will not go to the American Royal Stock show in Kansas City. The musicians union in the city has objected to having non-union men play for the show.

The college authorities are not to blame for this change. When the managers of the Stock show wrote for the band they were informed that the band would be glad to play, but that they must make arrangements with the union to get the permission.

Last week the union took the matter up with the Curators of Missouri University and the Missouri band will not attend. It is hardly possible that the union will reconsider the matter and the Aggie band will go.

A large delegation of students was going with the band.

THE KANSAS AGGIE

VOLUME XIX

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, OCTOBER 4, 1913

NUMBER 6

SOUTHWESTERN TURNS TRICK

MANY FORWARD PASSES WIN FOR WINFIELD TEAM

THE FINAL SCORE WAS 13 TO 10

Captain Loomis, Marble and Hay-maker Did Best—Line Had Many Holes

Southwestern turned the trick. Too much forward passing spelled the Aggies downfall. The final count was 13 to 10 in the Winfield "win" column. Both sides played loose ball but the Aggies Southwestern lads pulled together when the hits meant scores. The Aggie line appeared to be bested by the backfield, the Winfield players hammering through the tatted stone wall with apparent ease. The Aggies lost heavily through penalties in the opening period and also lost one of their most promising players, when Agnew was expelled from the going and the team was penalized 45 yards by Referee E. C. Quigley.

The Aggies scored first. Haymaker drop kicked from the 35 yard line after nine minutes of play. Five minutes later Marble plowed through the Southwestern line and scored the first touchdown made on the Aggie field this year. Briney kicked a neat score. The playing was even in the second period and Southwestern opened up some of the forward passes but failed to make any substantial gains on them. In the middle of the third period, the Southwesterns held the Aggies and Briney kicked 40 yards to Lear, who returned the ball half the distance. On the next play a Southwestern player pulled down Lear's pass and raced 20 yards for the first tally for the Clapp warriors. Bernsdorf kicked the goal. Coxen kicked off and the Aggies took the ball in mid field on an exchange of punts to Haymaker who in turn fumbled to Randells. The Aggies were penalized for offsidelines play and the visitors worked the oval to the Aggies yard line from where Leekely shot around the right end for a second touchdown for the Winfield lads. Bernsdorf failed to kick the score out.

Some Surprises
Frankly, yesterday's game was one of the loosest an Aggie team has played on the local field. The line has been touted as on par with last season's, but failed to show the mid-season form that was required to cope with the open work that the Winfield team displayed. Many criss-cross plays were on the Southwestern repertoire. About half of these were good for gains. The Southwestern line held like a stone wall when Quarterback Lear attempted forward flips and the majority of these were good for gains for the visitors. Southwestern did not make many first downs on straight line bucks but sifted through most embarrassingly when they wished. The Aggie backfield was stunted when Agnew was jerked for it had been working with a great display of speed until that unfortunate play appeared. Briney who replaced Agnew played well for his first trip to the plate and his kicking was excellent besting his rival Bernsdorf all the way until the final period.

Haymaker showed up well in his work with the exception of his handling of the punts. These he misjudged on several occasions but recovered the ball well on each try until the fatal third quarter. Marble played a great game as did also, Enns, and Sidorfsky in the back-field. Captain Loomis did not get away as well as had been expected on his tackle swings but played well in the line. Root looked good, while in the going and Moss and Schaffer worked well on the ends.

Lear, the fleet Southwestern quarterback, starred for the visitors and Randells also played a great game at end. Southwestern's two tackles played well on the offensive and were difficult to move on the defence. Bernsdorf punted well and played a good game at fullback for the Clapp team.

The Summary

Bernsdorf kicked off 40 yards for Southwestern to Agnew who returned 5 yards. Marble made 5 through the line and Sid tore off 4 more. Here Southwestern was offside and took a 5 yard penalty. Sid made 6 more and Marble 3 and Agnew fumbled and recovered, made 2 yards and first downs for the Aggies. Agnew made 4 through the line, and Loomis was held. Haymaker's on-side was blocked and the ball was ran back up field for a 40 yard loss. Southwestern was called offside on the next play and Marble gained 5 back. Coxen punted 45 yards to Southwestern's 20 yard line. Southwestern could not gain and lost the ball to the Aggies on Southwestern's 20 yard line. Enns made 3 through the line. Marble lost ground but Southwestern was again penalized 5 yards for offsidelines play. Sid lost five but Marble came back and made three, placing the ball on Southwestern's 30 yard line from where Haymaker tallied the first count of the game, a neat dropkick. Score Aggies (Continued on Third Page.)

A NOISY CROWD AT MASS MEETING

"FAT" McBRIDE EJECTED CHEER LEADER FOR THE COMING YEAR.

The first mass meeting was a big success. About 1000 noisy rooters were there and surprising to relate many of the loyal D. S. rooters attended too.

The band was all there and they kept things going. All of the members were there ad a vote of thanks is due them for their efforts.

Coach Lowman, Captain Loomis, Martin Souders, Tom Harris, and "Shorty" Fowler all gave hot talks. Captain Loomis hit the key note when he said: "There won't be any crape hung Friday night."

After the speeches came the election of officers. Homer McNamara was elected President, H. C. Colth, Vice President, Tom Harris, Secretary-Treasurer.

"Fat" McBride was chosen Cheer Captain and sub-captains were to be elected from all of the classes Thursday.

Then in a work-out under the direction of the Yell leader. The crowd "raised the rafters" on the Auditorium. Several new Yells were given a try-out and then the meeting adjourned to meet in the bleachers Friday.

M. U. PUPPUSERS MAKE GOOD

Graduates of Journalism Course
Make Good

That journalism can be successfully taught in colleges seems to be proved by statistics which have been gathered by Prof. F. L. Martin, acting head of the School of Journalism at the University of Missouri.

Eighty per cent of the graduates are engaged in actual newspaper work. Only ten per cent have left the newspaper field for other work. In the five years since the school was founded, forty-nine have graduated. Since the teaching of journalism was begun these courses in journalism have been introduced into thirty-five universities and colleges.

There are two advanced classes, and these will be given special training in classical dancing. All freshmen classes will take regular work.

There are about 400 girls enrolled in the course. Miss Garnet Hutto is the assistant instructor.

A FEW CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES

SLIGHT CHANGES IN FORWARD PASS, SUBSTITUTION OF PLAYERS AND PUNTING

Now that the football season is near at hand, it might be well to look over the changes in the last season's football rules. The rule regarding the substitution of players, last year, made it possible to return a man to the game later than the beginning of the third period. The rule this season reads, "A player who has been removed during the game may return, once, either at the beginning of a subsequent period or at any time during the fourth period." The new rules permit any of the backs to kick the ball from any point behind the line of scrimmage. The old rule required that the ball had to be punted or kicked, if at all, from a point not closer than fifty yards to the line of scrimmage. This change is sure to produce more quick kicks and unexpected situations as it will not be apparent from the formation when the punt or kick will be made.

The forward pass has to be made from a point five yards back of the line of scrimmage, as formerly and to be an "incomplete pass" has to pass beyond the line of scrimmage. If the ball on a pass touches the ground before it reaches the line of scrimmage it goes to the side recovering the ball at the point where it is recovered." In the rule regarding the conduct of the players after a forward pass, the insertion of the words, "after the pass has been made," now makes it clear that players may interfere with one another until the pass is actually made.

HELP BUILD MANY SILOS

K. S. A. C., DOING A GREAT WORK
AMONG FARMERS

RECOMMEND CEMENT STAVE SILO

Are Building a New Type of Silo for Animal Husbandry Department
North of Campus

The Extension Department has had several men at work throughout the state this summer in the investigation and supervision of silo construction. The college men supervised the construction of about 48 silos in the western part of the state, in the past year.

Last summer's drought demonstrated, more effectively than the division has ever been able to do, the absolute necessity existing for some method of preparing for such a contingency.

The silo undoubtedly meets this necessity in every way, and is rapidly becoming as essential a part of the efficient farmer's equipment as are his barns and machinery.

Mr. Clyde McKee, demonstrator at Norton, in the extreme western part of the state, has taken a leading part in the work.

Mr. McKee is co-operatively employed by K. S. A. C., office of Farm Management, United States Department of Agriculture, and the Rock Island R. R.

Several types of silo are now used, and much time and ingenuity is being expended in the endeavor to improve present methods, and develop new ones.

Cement Stave Silos

One rather novel form, coming somewhat into use all over the state, is known as the "cement stave". It is constructed of cement staves thirty inches long, ten inches wide, and two and one-half inches thick. Each stave has a round groove on one edge, running the full length of the stave, and a corresponding rounded part on the other edge. These staves are set end on end, the joints being broken as in laying brick; and the structure, when finished, encircled with iron hoops, as in wooden silos.

The cement stave silo possesses the advantage of comparative cheapness, and, unlike the ordinary cement silo, may be constructed at the will of the builder, after construction has been commenced. The blocks or staves may be made at any time and in any quantity, and used in the same manner.

An A. H. Silo

The A. H. department is at present constructing a new silo, of an unusual type for this location, at its barns north of the college grounds.

The silo is of square, baked double tile, set on a cement foundation. It will be sixteen by forty-six feet, and is estimated to cost from one hundred to one hundred and fifty dollars less than a cement silo of the same size.

This type is common in Iowa and where sand for the manufacture of cement is hard to procure.

The Pit Silo

The "pit" silo seems to be particularly fitted for the present time and conditions in the western part of Kansas.

One of the essentials for the construction of the pit silo is naturally, a fine dry, well-drained soil, which makes this type undesirable in eastern Kansas or states east of Kansas. The type is, however, rapidly coming into use in western Kansas, Oklahoma, and eastern Colorado.

The advantage of the pit silo are its inexpensiveness of construction, simplicity of design, and the ease with which it can be filled with ensilage.

Mr. Edward Wray, of Norton, has constructed two of these silos, each seven by twenty-five feet, at a cost of about twelve dollars and fifty cents each. He expresses himself as eminently satisfied with them.

The principal objection, the holsting out of the ensilage, is easily overcome by simple arrangements of windlass or pulleys, and is more than compensated by the advantages of the silo.

The walls of the pit silo are plastered with from three-fourths of an inch to one inch of a rich cement.

Issue Bulletin

The Division of Extension has issued a bulletin on the "Pit Silo for Western Kansas," and Mr. E. C. Johnson, Superintendent of Institutes and Demonstrations, estimates that over one thousand of the pit silos have been built in Western Kansas, Oklahoma, and eastern Colorado this year.

MAKE THE Y. M. LARGEST IN WEST

CAPTAIN WHOSE TEAM GETS
MOST MEMBERS WILL GO TO ESTES PARK

For one week, October 6 to 11, a strenuous membership campaign will be undertaken by the Y. M. C. A. No less an ideal than the largest membership in the West will be set before the eyes of the student body. In order to attain this coveted goal, six hundred young men will be asked to sign the membership blanks. So for this year about 225 men have renewed or taken out memberships. This together with the memberships which do not expire until January, makes the total 300. A large number of memberships just expiring are not included in the above. Six hundred renewals and new memberships this fall will swell the total to 900 and with the short course men who come in for the Winter term the membership rolls will run over a thousand which ought to give us the largest membership in the West.

Plans for the campaign are rapidly maturing and on Monday morning ten committees of ten men each will start in to canvass. The ten captains chosen to head these committees are George Bailey, R. H. Van Scoik, Raymond Schaffer, C. O. Levine, Don Wheelan, Will Marshall, Wesley Bruce, Jesse Frey, A. E. Jones and Elmer Bird.

It is the plan of the members of the committees to work among their friends for the first two days, wherever they may have an opportunity to meet them. Then a more systematic canvass will be made from lists of men who have not joined. Each new man will be given one of the Y. M. C. A. buttons which will serve to show who are members.

To the man who secures the largest number of points, free transportation and the program fee to the Estes Park Conference will be given. A team prize will also be awarded to that team securing the largest number of points. Points will be rewarded on the basis of the amounts secured. Thus a one dollar subscription of membership will mean one point, a five dollar subscription or membership will mean five points, etc. At least one-third cash will be required.

The Y. M. C. A., is a student enterprise which makes little distinction between members and non-members, except that the former have limited gymnasium privileges not open to the latter. By joining, a student gains very little, as every young man is welcome to drop in and read, play the games, attend the meetings, secure the help of the employment bureau. But we feel that most the students will wish to hear a share in the expenses of the Association and we find that many men want to show their sympathy for the ideals and work of the Association by taking out a membership even though they have other interests which prevent their engaging directly in the activities of the Association. No man need keep out because of the expense, as no fixed dues are required. The men subscribe from $1 to $10, the average being $3 either in cash or by term installments. The attitude of the men this year has been very friendly and our aim is to quickly and effectively give the men an opportunity to renew their memberships or take out new ones.

LETS CONTRACT FOR NEW BARN

TOPEKA FIRM WILL CONSTRUCT NEW COLLEGE BARN.

ERECT IT NORTH OF THE CAMPUS

Board of Administration Also Changed Constitution of the Athletic Board.

The Board of Administration at their meeting yesterday awarded the contract for the construction of the new Kansas State Agricultural College barn to Cuthbert & Son, of Topeka, for $14,494.00. There were two other bids that presented bids. Henry Bennett made a bid of $15,959.00 and Clarence Johnson of Manhattan, bid $16,400.00.

The old Animal Husbandry barn will be wrecked and the stone that is suitable will be used in the new barn and the lumber will be used in the construction of a nutrition laboratory to be erected at the side of the slaughter house on the campus. The new barn is to be on the former site of the Poultry plant just north of the campus and will take the place of all the stables and barns on the college campus with the exception of the dairy barns and one on the Agronomy farm.

The small stone barn just north of the Dairy building, is to be torn down and the entire north end of the ground, with the exception of the ground occupied by the Agronomy barn and pens, will be made into a campus. Plans are being made for ornamenting this part of the campus and a rock road will be built out to the road on the north side of the college campus.

The Board also changed the rules of the college in regard to the constitution of the Athletic Board. It was amended so that as the ruling now stands the three upper classes will each elect a representative, instead of the Rooters club electing three. The Rooters club will have no representative on the Athletic Board.

H. E. Porter, instructor in mathematics, was elected as faculty member of the Athletic Board to take the place of Dean McCormick.

William Ball was elected as assistant in Carpentry.

Irwin Henry, of Blue Rapids, was appointed temporary assistant in Blacksmithing, in the place of J. H. Hollar who has leave of absence on account of sickness.

PROF. O. E. REED BACK

Returns From the Coast Where He Judged Dairy Cattle

Prof. O. E. Reed of the Dairy Husbandry Department acted as Judge of dairy cattle at the recent California State Fair at Sacramento.

The exhibit of dairy cattle, which included the four breeds, Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein, and Dutch Belted, was a very good one he says. It was larger than that of any other class of live stock, and in many ways better than similar exhibits at eastern fairs. One of the Holstein cows which he judged holds the world's record in milk production.

California's dairy industry is increasing very rapidly. All of her development along that line has been made within the last few years. The high price of her irrigated land has made it necessary to feed the crops grown for the greatest profit possible. Since all dairying products are very high, in that state the dairy cow has proven to be the most profitable investment for the farmer and hence the dairy industry has developed to its present large proportions.

While in the West Prof. Reed visited the University of California where eight thousand students are enrolled and also the University Farm at Davis where he saw Harry Baird and Leon Davis, both graduates of K. S. A. C. The latter has charge of the Dairy Industry Department at the Farm.

Twenty students have enrolled since Monday. The total now stands at 2278

COLLEGE MARKETING.

Through lack of the necessary money, President Waters has not been able to establish the full-fledged bureau promised in connection with the numerous other useful departments of the Kansas Agricultural college. However, the demand and the needs for marketing aids have so pressed themselves upon the institution that Dean Miller of the Extension Division is doing everything his time will permit in finding buyers and sellers of feed, grain, hay and potatoes. He has put a number of farmers without feed in communication with others who have feed to sell and make no charge for this help.

George O. Greene, extension horticulturist, is again preparing to act as a clearing house this fall for Kansas grown apples. Growers who have a bushel or a car load should send in their names to the bureau now, giving the names of the varieties for sale, and telling whether the apples were sprayed or not. Merchants and produce dealers also are urged to use the apple bureau.

These men are doing the best they can under the conditions under which they are compelled to work. They have already accomplished much, but the extent of the good they can and will do is governed by the use made of them. You can help yourself and other by calling on either of these gentlemen for what you need.—Kansas Farmer.

BE A POLITIAN

There were many knockers about the results of the different class meetings. All kinds of stories were being circulated, about the methods used in some of the classes to railroad the measures and officers through.

How many of these knockers had been regular attendants at the class meetings? The most of them had just dropped in to see how things were going, and were disgruntled because the rest of the class did not elect them president the first time present. Of course the officers go to the ones who have taken an interest in the affairs of the class and have proved themselves capable of handling the different duties.

Now is the time for you to start to going to class meetings and become acquainted so that next term, may be you can be accepted in the councils of the brotherhood of class politicians. Get the habit and keep it up.

BE A ROOTER

The new system of cheer leaders should prove a big success. With a captain and five assistants there is no excuse for not having leaders enough. The next thing is to have the student body willing to follow these leaders. It is useless to have these leaders if the rooters will not root.

The rooting at K. S. A. C., in the past has not been of the best and now is the opportunity to get busy and win games with some systematic rooting. We have one of the best teams in the Missouri Valley and the only way that we can show that we appreciate what they are doing is to get out and support them by rooting.

At the games watch the leaders and root when he says. Don't yell when he says not to, for some times, it will result in a penalty for our own team. It is also harder for our men to hear the signals when there are a thousand fellows yelling to buck the line hard. Co-operate with the leader and we will show some of these Missouri Valley teams how to play football.

A CAP SCRAP ON

Faculty and Students Differ About Freshman Headgear

Lawrence, Sept. 30—War against the faculty and the plan to do away with students' discipline has been started at the University of Kansas by the members of the student council, a representative body of students elected by students. The student council has been the governing body at the university for several years, but this year the faculty has stepped into the light and taken a hand in the freshman cap controversy. The students say, however, that the freshmen will have to wear the diminutive headgear.

A resolution has been passed by the student council in regard to this matter. The resolution has not been made public, but it leaked out here this afternoon that the council had defied the faculty and were intending to take the matter to the board of administration. If the board decides for the faculty the students declare that they will quit their jobs and K. U., as a school disciplined by students will be a thing of the past.

COBURN REPORT OUT.

Annual Report of Board of Agriculture Just off the Press.

Topeka, Sept. 27.—The report of the Kansas State Board of Agriculture for the quarter ending March, 1913, was issued from the state printing plant yesterday. Besides the report of the proceedings, of the meeting of the board last December, the report in full contains 110 pages of useful information upon wheat clover, the hardy catalpa, feeding work horses and ten years records of numerous dairy herds.

F. D. Coburn, secretary of the board, apologizes for the belated appearance of the report, five months overdue, in the following characteristic notice pasted on the outside of the volume.

"The manuscript for this report was delivered to the printer March 17. That the report was not in the hands of the public five months ago is no fault of the state board of agriculture."

M. S. U. TO SHOW STEERS.

Prof. E. A. Trowbridge Here to Arrange for American Royal Exhibits.

Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 28—Prof. E. A. Trowbridge, superintendent of the American Royal Horse Show, was in Kansas City yesterday. Professor Trowbridge will have charge of the draft horse show in the day time and of the saddle and harness horse show in the Royal pavilion during the four nights from October 7 to 11. He is head of the animal husbandry department of the college of agriculture of the University of Missouri. His department has entered twelve steers of its feeding in the Royal fat stock department.

"We are particularly proud that all twelve of these steers were bred in Missouri," Professor Trowbridge said. "The department aims to prove to Missourians that they should breed as well as feed their stock, for there is more honor in fitting an animal for a show from the time it is bred than in taking an animal that somebody else has partly fattened and merely finishing it. At least twenty students of the department will visit the American Royal Show."

CORNHUSKERS HURT

Three Men Injured and Will Not Be Able to Play

Lincoln, Nebr., Sept. 30—Earl Hawkins, quarterback on the Nebraska University football team, went out of the game tonight for the remainder of the season with a broken bone in his ankle. The accident occurred in the scrimmage with the freshmen eleven during regular practice.

Hawkins is the third man on the Cornhusker eleven thrown out of the game for the season, a fractured collar bone in last night's scrimmage putting Don Cameron, the leading candidate for center, out of the game. Reese, a half and the leading sprinter on the track team, is out with a twisted knee, sustained last night forming a mass play.

FIFTY TRACK MEN GATHER

Kirksey and Wickham Talk to the Candidates

Columbia, Sept. 30—A meeting of track men out for fall practice was held in an upstairs room of the gym at 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. Between forty and fifty attended.

Talks were made by Guy Kirksey, assistant coach; Rex Wickham, cross-country instructor, and Herbert year. Plans were laid for the work this fall. Special emphasis was placed on the prospects for the cross-country team. The men were urged to do conscientious work to maintain the excellent record of the University.

COLLEGE CAUGHT SANDED FEED

BOARD OF TRADE MEMBER ADD-ED SAND TO CORN CHOP

PROF. FITZ EXPOSED THE GRAFT

College Authorities Make Catch and Confiscate Several Car Loads
Lots

Corn chop which had been adulterated with sand was found recently in the hands of grain dealers at Iola, Garnett, Arkansas City and several other Kansas towns. Prof. L. A. Fitz, who has charge of the enforcement of the state feeding stuffs law in this state, investigated into the matter. It was found that the adulterated feed was manufactured by R. J. House, proprietor of the Dixie Elevator in Kansas City, Mo., Action was taken against him at once and the matter pined in the hands of the courts.

The Kansas City board of trade of which House was a member also took up the affair and at a hearing before the board of directors he was expelled. The government seized two carloads of adulterated chop shipped from the Dixie elevator. This state inspector stopped sale in five additional cars.

Last year the manufacture of sanded corn chop was traced to this same elevator and 200 sacks of it were confiscated. At that time, however, the case was in the hands of the federal government so no action was taken by the state authorities.

Defending himself to Prof. Fitz, House declares that in mixing sand with the feed he is doing no worse than many other elevator men who adulterate their products with elevator impurities. The only comfort which Prof. Fitz offers under the circumstances is that he will prosecute the other manufacturers of impure feeds too if they ship adulterated feed into Kansas, and in the meantime he will endeavor to make House an example which will cause other manufacturers or dealers to reflect before they put adulterated feeds on the market.

EXPERT ADVICE FURNISHED FREE

PROFESSOR BRAY AND ASSISTANTS DOING GREAT WORK BY INSPECTION TRIPS.

The Division of Extension is sparing no pains to make the lot of the Kansan easier, and to strew his path with roses. During the past year the position of "Industrial Engineer" has been maintained, and Prof. Bray, of the engineering department has had charge of the work.

His work consists largely of consultation with and advising private parties, companies, and town representatives who have need of an expert engineer.

Prof. Bray gives advice, when necessary going to the scene of the work and studying the situation at close range. After general advice is given, and approximate cost estimates are made, if the applicant desire to carry on the work, more careful and specific plans are made. All computations and draughting work is done at K. S. A. C.

Besides the specific cases which are being attended to, there is much general work being done.

Large numbers of small towns in the state face practically identical conditions, and advice which will apply to one, is valuable to all. Prof. Bray says that from eight hundred to one thousand small towns over the states are considering the installation of municipal lighting systems, most of them in combination with municipal water-works.

To accommodate this need, Prof. Bray and his assistants are preparing bulletins and printed material for distribution, which will take the place of some of the preliminary inspections and trips.

Prof. Bray strongly recommends small-town municipal ownership of public utilities, such as light-plants, water-works, ice-plants and sewers. Various small towns have granted long-time franchises to private companies for electric light, when the sum paid by the city for lights would build the plant in five years. City bonds, due in from six to eight years could be issued, sold, and return good money on the investment, and be easily paid within the time-limit.

The Division Extension, through this and other departments, is doing a most valuable work in the development of the entire state.

ALL-AMERICAN COACH FOR TEX.

Lieut. Wier, All-American Guard and Captain at West Point Will Assist at Texas U.

Austin, Texas, Oct. 3.—A second assistant coach for the Varsity team has been added to the coaching staff of the University of Texas, and under the direction of head Coach Allerdice he will devote his entire attention to the development of the line. Lieutenant Joseph Wier of the 18th Infantry, now stationed at Texas City, has been selected to fill the position and has been granted a two months' furlough. He will report at Clark Field on Monday. Lieut. Wier will also coach the scrub eleven. He comes with a great reputation, having played on the Army eleven for four years, being captain of the famous team of 1911. In this year he was the star of the Army eleven and was placed on Walter Camp's second all-American at guard. Assistant Athletic Director and Trainer Disch, who has formerly had charge of the scrub eleven, will have entire control of the freshman squad.

Under this system the University of Texas is assured of a perpetual supply of candidates for the Varsity each year as both Trainer Disch and Lieutenant Wier will devote much time to the development of new men. Under this system the strength of Varsity will be augmented through the fact that Head Coach Allerdice and Assistant Coach Rix will be enabled to give their entire time to the first string men.

With the addition of Lieutenant Wier, Texas will have the most complete, skilled, and competent coaching system in this part of the country. Nothing of such a magnitude has ever been attempted before in the Southwest and it is a very rare thing that any of the other Southern institutions have such a complete corps of coaches.

Southwestern's pass netted them their first touchdown. Bernsdorf kicked the goal. Score, Aggies 10; Southwestern 7.

Coxen kicked off 30 yards and the enemy returned the ball 10. Southwestern stalled and kicked 35 to Haymaker on the Aggies 20 yard line. Aggies could not gain and Briney kicked 42 yards to Lear, who came back 5 of it. Southwestern's pass failed and Briney muffed up another pass for the visitors. Lear fumbled and lost the ball on downs. Southwestern was penalized for offside play and the Aggies lost the ball on downs. Southwestern failed on a series of passes and kicked 40 to Haymaker who fumbled to Randells on the Aggies 20 yard line. The visitors made 8 through the line for a touchdown. Bernsdorf failed to kick goal. Score, Aggies 10; Southwestern 13. The half ended two plays after the kickoff with the ball in the Aggies possession on their 44 yard line.

Marble made 5 and first downs. Sid was held and Haymaker made 4 around left end. Loomis filed to gain. Root replaced Schafer. Haymaker's pass to Moss went 24 yards. Marble made 6 and Enns 3 and Enns made first down on a delayed pass play. Marble was held and Cusic replaced Burkholder. The Aggies could not gain and lost the ball on the Southwestern 1-foot line. Bernsdorf punted out of danger and the two kickers, Briney for the Aggies, and Bernsdorf for the visitors, engaged in an exchange of punts that lasted throughout the remainder of the quarter and in which the honors were about even. The game ending with Randells getting away for 26 yards on a pass from Lear to the Aggies' 30 yard line. Score, Aggies 10; Southwestern 13.

At Washburn

Topeka, Oct. 1.—In scrimmage last night the Washburn varsity massacred the scrubs for half an hour and then annihilated the freshmen for about the same period. Although the bunch got away well the team seemed to be a little short on the "get-together" spirit and was not as keen after the ball as they ought to be. Trobert showed his usual form at grabbing the passes. The line worked a little spasmodically but seemed to stop almost everything. On the second team "Pinky" Beales was showing excellent form. Beales is small and fast, and consequently hard to catch.

The coach, worked Elwood Washburn at the quarter position for a little while. For the first time that he ever tried it, his work was pretty good. Bill Smith was showing up pretty well at guard and Carl Linde was in pretty good form.

Eligibility is troubling Coach "Crip" Gray again. In all probability Beales and Champney will not be eligible for the Missouri Valley games on account of entrance requirements in which they are behind. Several of the other men have back work to make up before they are eligible for the Nebraska game, but their work is now mostly ready so that the players at least anticipate no difficulty. The blue mentor will be in a bad way if he has to face the crimson and cream with a bunch of scrubs because his regulars forgot to study last spring.

The coach has been shifting his men so rapidly that it is impossible to tell just who will run against the Lincoln team. He himself, between eligibility and cripples and so many candidates, does not know just how the team will look.

Mr. Lawrence Endacott, of the College Book store and Mr. Elmer Kittell, of the Varsity Shop, took a walk over town the other morning. When asked about it they replied that they were out for a little fresh air. They said that it was the first breathing spell they had had since the students came back this fall.

Ernest O'Neal a student in College received word from home Wednesday night of the death of his brother. Mr. O'Neal left at once for his home in Mississippi. He will not be in school this term but expects to come back for the winter term.

The Aztec fraternity initiated the following men into the fraternity last Saturday night. William Sweet, John Elliott, Samuel Skinner and William Whorley the big tackle on the football team.

THE KILLARNEY GIRLS AND RITA RICH.

The Killarney Girls appear in Irish costumes and, with an appropriate setting, present a program of instrumental music and singing, with emphasis on the latter. There are Irish songs that range from simple folk lore to the Irish classics, all of which will be rendered by a company of real artists.

Miss Rita Rich, whose work will be one of the special features of the company, is widely known in Exeter.

cles, having been a member of the Elma B. Smith Company for some time—a most popular organization. One of the features of Miss Rich's work with the Elma B. Smith Company was her appearance in Irish folk lore songs at the Chautauques.

Miss Martha Stebel, who will appear in cello and vocal solos as well as having a prominent part in the ensemble, was a few years ago with the Stebel Quartet, which appeared widely on the Chautauques.

Another member of this company who will have a prominent part in the program is Miss Laura Verno, reader, accompanist and vocalist. As a member of the Killarney Company she will present Irish legends and readings.

The contralto soloist is Miss Marguerite Andrews soloist for several years in one of the largest churches in Pittsburgh and who has appeared in concert work throughout the east.

Miss Elma Kinnison, soprano, who has been with the 'Pugh Company' the past year under Redpath management, will appear not only in the ensemble, but in the quartets, solos and as an accompanist.

There will be seven members in the company, all of whom are artists.

A Lawrence man who was traveling over the state found he had need of his typewriting machine, and telegraphed to have it sent to him in care of the hotel at which he was stopping. The next day he asked the hotel clerk if a box had arrived for him. "Yes," replied the clerk, "and I had it put on ice the moment it arrived."

In explaining the dance in Salome, which appeared at the opera house, a St. Marys woman had a hard time impressing her husband with the "horrible" movements of the dancing girl, who by the way was an artist at depicting the way she thought the dance should be given. The wife tired of trying to explain by word of mouth how the girl twisted and bobbed across the stage, tried to go through a few of the steps for the benefit of her spouse. After hopping across the room two or three times and getting in a few of the many twists the dancing girl was proficient in, the man threw up his hands and said:

"That will do. I guess you are right, but say, I'd like to have seen that girl dance."

A Fort Scott man was in an automobile accident and when he was asked to explain how the accident occurred, he thought it over for a minute. "Well, we were coming down a long hill," he said, "when the car began to go fast. There was a loud report, and the doctor said, 'Sit up and take this.'"

After the Rock Island wreck, which happened about ten days ago, a physician informed the crowd that he needed some whiskey for one of the injured passengers. "He is going to die if he doesn't get it," said the doctor. There was a liberal response from the crowd.

The Topeka and Hutchinson fair associations are bragging about the wonders of the exhibits of their state fairs. Instead of stables and sheds and houses of exhibits they tell of miles of exhibits. A mile and a half of prize winning cattle. A mile of fine horses. A half mile of fancy corn; a half mile of alfalfa exhibits, etc. But this is Kansas.—Winfield Press.

Hard luck story from the Leavenworth Post: A Leavenworth boy who was raised on a farm in this county and who didn't have the opportunities for getting his education that city boys have, is now a teacher of mathematics in Princeton university. Just another instance where ability and pluck have won in spite of difficulties.

The Kingman Journal has noticed that somehow the fellow who thinks it a great disgrace for the newspaper to print the news he made in police court never thinks it any disgrace to make the news. In his eye it is no disgrace to be a hoodlum, a thief, or a drunk—the disgrace is all in having it told in print.

When the young traveling salesman learned that a local jeweler had started suit to collect for the diamond ring he had given to his intended, he rushed into the store and threw the ring at the jeweler. Query: How did he get the ring from the girl?

JAYHAWKERS PLAY TODAY

Tangle With William Jewell College—Will Win Easily

Kansas University opens the 1913 season today on McCook Field, playing the William Jewell team of Liberty, Mo. The Lawrence coaches are not worried over the outcome of the game as the Jayhawkers have one of the best teams in recent years. With all their bright prospects, the team will be considerably weakened owing to the ineligibility of Buster Coolidge, a star backfield man. Coolidge has been knocked out of the game through a six hour deficiency that he drew in the preceding semester. A probable line-up of the Kansas follows: Reber, left end; Captain Weldlein, left tackle; James, left guard; Keeling, center; Tudor, right guard; Burton, right tackle; Bishop, right end; Wilson, quarterback; Detwiler, left half; Stuewe, fullback; Greenlees, right half. Coach Mosse "found" Greenlees this fall and the former Jayhawker basketball star is giving promise of developing into one of the best backfield men on the Kansas squad. Reber, a star track man is making good at left end. Bishop, ex-Fairmont star, is playing the other end.

A Rooters Section

Why not have all the freshmen and possibly the sophomores too, occupy sections in the bleachers and be made to root. At other large schools and at some smaller ones these are the methods that are employed in teaching the freshmen how to root. This is one of the reasons that they make the freshmen wear caps. When they have the caps it is an easy matter to herd all the caps into one section and then under the direction of capable leaders they are given their first lessons in the science of rooting.

Why not reserve a section in the bleachers, and not only put the freshmen there, but all of the fellows who are willing to root and root intelligently? Lets all get over in the bleachers and do some rooting for the team.

SOMETHING DOING AT KANSAS U.

TWO CORRESPONDENTS SEND STORY TO TOPEKA AND RESULTS IN THEIR BEING CANNED

Lawrence, Oct. 2—For writing a newspaper article telling of the organization of a proposed "Tango" club at the University, Wayne Wingart, of Topeka, and Leon Howe, of Almena, Kan., were suspended temporarily by Chancellor Strong this morning. The reason given for the suspension was that the article was untrue or exaggerated and constituted a serious reflection on the University.

The story which led to the suspension was printed in the Topeka Capital this morning, under a Lawrence date line. Wingart and Howe were summoned to the chancellor's office, this morning and were questioned about it. They said they were responsible for it. Chancellor Strong then informed them that they were suspended pending the action of the board of administration. He added that the boys would be reinstated if they could show that their story was true.

"The suspension is not to be construed as directed against the two boys," said Chancellor Strong this afternoon. "The action was taken as the best means of getting to the bottom of conditions at the University. We regard the story as detrimental to the University and don't believe it to be true. But if it is true we want to know it, and we have decided that now is the proper time to reach an understanding of conditions here.

"If it is shown that the story is true, the matter will not be dropped with the reinstatement of the suspended students.

"The University is anxious that all dancing that goes on among the students should be free from objectionable features. We propose to find out whether these objectionable features prevail at any of the dancing parties given here. If we find that suggestive or otherwise objectionable dancing is done, the University will take whatever steps are necessary to protect the situation."

"Will the University permit the tango at school dances?" the chancellor was asked.

"Absolutely not," he said. "I don't believe the tango and the dances akin to it are such as should be indulged in by students. We will not permit them and the university authorities will do everything in their power to prevent them getting a hold in our social life."

Chancellor Strong said the board of administration would be in Lawrence within a few days and then would pass upon the case.

The Lawrence Gazette contained the following statement this afternoon.

"The facts related by the young men in their stories have been known in down-town newspaper offices for several days, and elaborate plans had been made to 'cover' the dances as soon as they got fairly under way, with 'stories' that would give the general public some line on the newest in dancing."

Both Wingart and Howe declare that they had positive information before writing the story which caused the trouble.—Topeka Capital.

THOMAS BROOKS FLETCHER.

Thomas Brooks Fletcher, who is to lecture here, was formerly a newspaper editor of note, and he is starting on his eighth year as lecturer. He is the youngest man of similar renown on the American lecture stage. He is pronounced to be the leader of the younger lecturers and thinkers of this generation.

Reports from the lecture course committees that have engaged him class him among the most distinguished orators of the present time. He has been substituted for the late Senator John F. Dolliver, and at Findlay, O., recently he was substituted for the famous Ben B. Lindsey of the juvenile court of Denver, Colo., and this was his second appearance before the Findlay audience within eight months. He has lectured in nearly every state in the Union, and his success has been as remarkable in Massachusetts and the New England states as it has been in Iowa and the west. He has appeared before some of the largest college and university courses everywhere, and there are few places where he has not been recalled for the second or third lecture, which would indicate that we are to have, perhaps, one of the greatest addresses ever delivered in this city.

It is remarkable that a man should be able in so short a time to lecture on the same platform with Dr. S. Parks Cadman, Newell Dwight Hillis, Wendling, Gunsaulus, John Temple Graves and many other distinguished men of great intellect and be able to share honors with them in oratorical ability and be pronounced by the audiences the equal of the most dramatic orators of the time.

WANT SNAP SHOTS FOR ROYAL PURPLE

COMMITTEE VERY ANXIOUS TO GET SNAPS OF THE COLLEGE AND OF DIFFERENT
SENIORS

The edition of the Royal Purple Vol. 6, which is in the process of editing at this time will contain many snapshots. In fact in all college year books the use of snap shots is almost essential in order to obtain a book that represents the entire college. It is the hope and desire of the committee this year that this part of the book will be especially desirable and interesting. However, this can only be accomplished by having a great variety of snapshots to choose from, and the only method of having a large number is by having each and every student hand in to the committee such snapshots as they may have or may obtain in the near future. Snapshots in and about the various departments are to be featured this year, in a manner that is entirely new to this school and in fact has not been used at all in the West to any great extent. In order to do this it is essential that the committee have the snapshots to use and it is hoped that the kodak fiends will get busy and do their utmost in getting good live snapshots. Those who have snapshots already should, as soon as possible, hand them in to one of the following persons: Tom Harris, Homer McNamara, Russell Williamson, or any other members of the Royal Purple Committee.

K. U. MEN EVADE RULE

One Way of Getting Around Missouri Valley Regulations

To avoid the temptation of breaking training, the squad of varsity football men are not maintaining a "training table," but are boarding together at their own expense in order to obtain wholesome, muscle-making food at 1324 Vermont.

The menu consists of food which will keep the men in shape and no cake, pie, and other pastry are set before Mosse's warriors. The customary training regulations are being kept by the Jayhawker squad. Tobacco in any form is prohibited and the gridiron men are supposed to keep early hours.—Daily Kansan.

NATIELLO HERE NEXT MONDAY

FIRST NUMBER OF LYCEUM
COURSE OCT. 13

THE SEATS RESERVED SATURDAY

Ticket Sales Must be Checked In at Aggie Office Before Friday
Noon

The Don Philipini Band will not be on the lyceum course this year. A telegram has just been received from the management saying that it was impossible for them to get a booking near here and that the expense would be too big to make the trip.

The lyceum board has secured the famous Natello Band to take its place. Efforts were made to secure this band instead of the Philipini band earlier in the summer.

The seat reservation has been changed to Saturday Oct. 11 at 1 o'clock p. m. Seats may be reserved at the main entrance of the college auditorium or at the Palace Drug store. All of the tickets must be turned in by Friday noon, Oct. 10. There will be a member of the lyceum committee in the office of the Kansas Aggie all Friday morning to check up the tickets.

During the coming week, copies of the blue print plans will be exhibited in prominent places on the campus and you can go and select a seat that you would like to have. Then when the reservation line is started, you will have some idea of where you prefer to have your seats located.

The band will give a matinee on Monday, Oct. 13. The season tickets will not be good for admittance to this concert. All of the school children will be admitted at 10 cents each. The regular price will be 50 cents. The regular concert will be in the evening.

Masonic Club Entertains

The Masonic Club entertained informally Saturday evening. The evening was spent in dancing and an enjoyable time was enjoyed by all. Harry A. Geauque, '11, head of the department of Physics and Chemistry, McPherson College, was the out of town guest.

Clyde McKee Here

Clyde McKee, '10, who is at the present time, farm advisor and college demonstrator for Northwestern Kansas, was in town and about the College last Saturday. He is cooperatively employed by the College, and the government.

The College Club will give a reception to the faculty Saturday evening, October 11. Invitations were issued Monday.

DOING A GREAT WORK

Professor Bray Shows a Kansas Town
How to Save $2,700

If the recommendations of G. E. Bray, Industrial Engineer with the extension division of the Kansas Agricultural College, are followed, Lyons, Kan., will save about $2,700 a year on its light and water bill. Mr. Bray, whose business it is to help work out problems of efficiency for small-town public utilities made an investigation of the public utilities of Lyons. His recommendations to the officials of that town, recently made, contain some interesting figures.

Lyons pays $133 a month, or $1,596 a year, for street lighting. If the city owned its own plant it could furnish current for this service for $532. Mr. Bray's figures show, or a saving of more than $1,000 a year. Then, if current from the light plant could be used to operate the city water plant, which now is run by steam, a saving of about $1,690 a year could be effected.

To make the changes recommended by Mr. Bray would cost Lyons about $25,000. Considering the saving to be made annually, such an investment would pay about 11 per cent. In addition, the people of Lyons could be supplied with current at the rate of ten cents a kilowatt, instead of fifteen cents, the rate now charged, and the plant still would make a profit. If Mr. Bray's recommendations are accepted, he will prepare specifications, if desired. No charge, other than for traveling expenses, is made for the work Mr. Bray does.

WILL BUILD CONCRETE COURTS

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT WILL REPAIR THE TENNIS COURTS

Two concrete tennis courts are to be built by the college this fall west of the Nichols Gymnasium where the old dirt courts are now.

"Concrete courts," said Coach Lowman in speaking of the advantages of the new courts, "can be used earlier in the spring, later in the fall, and sooner after a rain than other courts. Practically all the large universities and prominent athletic clubs are building them because they are easily kept up. The first cost is, of course, rather high, but after such a court is once built the expense of maintenance is practically nothing."

Concrete courts are a little harder to play on and a trifle rougher on the shins when a player falls down than are the dirt courts, but their good points will offset these objections.

The new courts will cost one hundred dollars. It is the intention to build several more at a future time, if enough interest is aroused in the sport.

Nell Beaubien will visit in Lawrence this week.

HOLTON HONORED BY MARYLAND

ASKED TO MAKE AN EDUCATION-AL SURVEY OF MARYLAND.

WATERS WANTS HIM TO ACCEPT

Will Do So if Given a Leave of Absence—Maryland First to Take Up Work of This Kind.

Prof. E. L. Holton, head of the department of education at the agricultural college, has been appointed by the governor of Maryland to make an educational survey of that state. Professor Holton expects to accept the appointment if the board of administration will grant him leave of absence for the month of November. President Waters is strongly in favor of the proposition and wishes Professor Holton to accept.

Professor Holton will have to leave about the last of this month as the work is to commence about November 1st. He is hoping that his recently chosen assistant, Professor Reiser, will be able to be on hand before that time to take up his class work.

Maryland will be the first state in the union to take up a work of this kind. Professor Holton will investigate the country schools of the state, the city schools and the agricultural college with a view to pointing out their weaknesses and suggesting reforms and more especially the actual needs of the state in the way of better educational facilities for the rural districts.

INSTITUTE WORKERS MAKE TRI- FLE

Miss Adah Lewis will be in Cottonwood Falls, Emporia, and Burlington this week on institute work. Next week Miss Lewis and Miss Frances Brown will go to Wichita for the Wichita Exposition. While there Miss Lewis will give six demonstrations, one each morning, on the cooking of milk foods. Thursday afternoon she will lecture on Home Decoration.

Miss Brown will lecture every afternoon except Thursday on subjects pertaining to household efficiency. Miss Brown and Miss Lewis expect to be away two weeks.

New Instructor in Crops

Cecil Salmon, formerly connected with the South Dakota Agricultural College, is a new instructor in Farm Crops here. Prior to his work at South Dakota, Mr. Salmon was connected with the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington, D. C.

O. B. Burtis will go to Kansas City Wednesday to attend the Royal.

BROWNING OPEN HOUSE

Give Unique Entertainment at Society Saturday

The Browning literary society gave an open day program Saturday, October 4. Forty-three visitors were entertained.

The prevailing idea of the entertainment was football. A guessing contest of football terms was one of the features. Jesse Frey, an Athenian, won first place, and Miss Billings, a visitor, second.

After this contest refreshments were served. They consisted of cocoa and cookies, and the cookies were cut in the shape of footballs.

FEED 'EM TAFFY

Io's Serve Candy at Hamp Society
Saturday Night

Many visitors enjoyed an unusual good program at the Hamilton Literary Society, last Saturday. A pleasant feature was the serving of candy by the fair Ionians, to the Hamps, "sister society."

The Hamiltons are planning to have a "stag" next Friday. Each member to bring a new man and "hot hand" will be the game.

The usual program will be rendered Saturday and visitors are cordially invited.

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN GAINS MOMENTUM—WANT
1000 MEMBERS

Are you wearing a badge? The Y. M. C. A. campaign started off the first day with nearly 100 new men. The teams are working hard. They expect to make this one of the largest and most successful campaigns ever held.

It is hoped by the secretary that this will be made the largest Y. M. C. A. in the state. At Missouri University a similar campaign was held last week in which 604 members were added.

A thermometer was placed up in front of the main building this morning and this will register the number of new members as fast as they come in.

The Y. M. C. A. now has 300 members and it is hoped that during this campaign the number will be increased to 900. That will leave 100 for the winter term, making 1,000 members, the largest Y. M. C. A. in the west.

WASHINGTON CO. CLUB

Meet Monday Morning and Elect Temporary Officers

Twenty Washington County students met in a 60 last Monday morning and re-organized their county club. Walter Ott was elected temporary chairman and Miss Evelyn Potter secretary.

A committee consisting of Alvin Colth, C. H. Simons, and Miss Clara Peters was appointed to draft a new constitution.

Two years ago Washington county had a flourishing organization here. This year that county again has a large delegation in school and in re-organizing the association the students are expecting to develop a large and helpful club.

HAVE INVITED PRES. WILSON

PLAN BIG CELEBRATION FOR
OCT. 28-29-30.

PRES. WATERS OUTLINED PLANS

At Meeting Monday Night Plans Were Discussed—All Work in Harmony.

At a meeting of the faculty and students of the college in C26 Monday evening, plans for the semi-centennial celebration were discussed. A large representation from the faculty, the engineers, the agricultural and general science divisions were present.

President Waters presided and in his opening remarks outlined in general the plan suggested for the celebration.

The scope and plan as suggested will bring out all of the different phases of college work. No one department will be emphasized at the expense of the others.

The celebration will occupy three days, October 28, 29 and 30. The three days will be divided in this way: First day, College or Student day. It would consist of parades and displays of all the three divisions. The engineers could use the evening as they have the facilities for using it. The agricultural students and the division of General Science being the base of all the other divisions would naturally fit into the doings of all the others or could have floats or some stunt of its own.

The second day would be Kansas day. It would be given over to the alumni, former presidents of the college, ex-regents and former teachers. The governor of Kansas and the secretary of agriculture and other state officials could be given this day. All of the state schools would be given a place upon the program.

The last day would be National day. President Wilson and Secretary of Agriculture Houston have been invited to attend. There will also be the chairmen of the committees on agriculture in the House and Senate. All of the congressmen of this state and neighboring states will be invited. Several foreign countries have been asked to send representatives, and at least one great European nation's ambassador has been invited.

This day will be given over to the nation and to showing the broader scope of the work of the agricultural colleges.

The last two days of the celebration will be worked out by the committees of the faculty. The first day will be in charge of the student body and will be planned by the students in the different courses.

The engineers at their meeting Monday morning appointed committees and outlined in general the plan of their department. They will have a parade and general stunts similar to those of last spring.

The "Ag" will have their meeting Tuesday, when their committees will be appointed. Active work upon their plans will begin at once.

The division of Domestic Science will have a prominent part in the celebration on all of the days. On the first day they may possibly serve a luncheon in the U. S. building.

The cadets will give an exhibition of drill and a parade on one of the days. The music department will plan to have some musical numbers. All of the departments will work in perfect harmony in all that is done. Each department will try to make it a big success for the college. Dean Willard of the General Science division will have the general supervision of the work as he is chairman of the faculty committee.

Those attending Monday night were enthused with the possibilities of the celebration and all are going to work upon the different plans and make it a date in the history of the institution.

THE V-NECK

A fair coed in K. S. A. C., wore a gown with a rather low V. 'Twas nothing alarming, In fact, it was charming.

As everyone round her could see,
But the winds came so chill—
As September winds will—
And swept right into that V
Its protection was nil,
So the girl became ill,
And had to leave K. S. A. C.

But her fate was no warning,
As each frosty morning
Will surely and openly show,
For they still defy reason,
Tho' cold be the season,

PUT ON YOUR THINKING CAP

"I see immense possibilities in a parade for the celebration," said Professor Walters at the meeting of the students Monday night. To the thinking student there is no end to the big things which might be worked out. The greater question is where to draw the line to keep from attempting to do too much.

Everyone who was at the meeting was to go home, put on a "thinking cap" and try to formulate some good suggestions.

By having suggestions from everyone, there will be a large number of excellent plans from which to choose.

The engineers showed what they could do last spring, and with that experience will out-do their previous efforts in making something original. The D. S. girls are to be relied upon to do some thing that will please everyone.

The "Ags" have the largest number of students. They have never attempted such a stunt as a parade, but will have a great opportunity to show the others what they can do. When you think of the possibilities in the use of farm products, and live stock you realize that they can make a wonderful display if they get busy right away.

In a big live stock parade they could show every animal in the department. Many of us have never seen the prize show cattle or horses, which the college owns.

Some of the departments, the extension division, or the entomology department, could arrange a float or an exhibit of the work which they have done for the state. Descriptive charts of their work could be shown. The cases used on the institute circuit could be displayed. These departments have a chance to show to the hundreds of visitors just what they are doing for the state.

K. S. A. C. will have an opportunity to convince the state and the people that we are on the map; are doing a great work for the state, and that we need more money to carry on this work.

NATELLO'S BAND TRIUMPHS

Aggregation of Musicians and Soloists Prove Popular at Fair

The stellar attraction at the opening of the State Fair and Exposition yesterday was the celebrated Natiello Concert band and grand opera singers. Promptly at 1 o'clock, Natiello, nattily dressed in white, ascended the steps leading to the big stand.

He was followed by thirty bandmen; Miss Olive Elsom Scharr, the soprano soloist and Joseph C. Ramser, the baritone soloist. The opening selection was Weber's overture, "Jubel," which called for an encore long and loud.

After the band had played two pieces, one of its members, Mr. Hurst, rendered a bells solo, "Let Me Whisper to Your Heart," which was met with spontaneous applause, and then came one of the rarest of treats, Miss Scharf, in a selection that gave her voice full range. Having just completed a successful tour of Europe, the singer was apparently at her best and she was a prime favorite long before the last cadence had died away. As the star attraction of the Natiello band, she scored a triumph on the occasion of her second appearance in Oklahoma City.

Mr. Ramser's success was no less instantaneous and he, too, was given an ovation. He not only gave the afternoon and evening audiences some of his best solo work, but he was at his best in duets with Miss Scharf.

At the first concert in the afternoon in front of the grandstand, the band gave ten numbers, the score being one of Natiello's best including the classical favorites and popular present day music.

Professor Natiello is not an eccentric band leader, but a thorough musician, who draws from his men their best playing qualities. He has all his musicians so well trained that they play like one man. The band is handsomely uniformed and makes a fine appearance. This not only added to the afternoon concert but was exceptionally noticeable at the second concert of the day in Convention hall last night when the hall was filled with an appreciative audience.

Two New Motors.

The agronomy department received two electric motors from the Westinghouse Electric Company last Saturday, to be installed in the mill in the rear of the new Ag. building.

The motors are fifteen and ten horse power.

WITH THE WEBS

A Number of Old Members Present and Made Speeches

The meeting of the Webster Society last Saturday was one of the best held for some time. It was made particularly notable by the presence of some of the ex-members, who had returned to visit their old society.

Mr. Turner, '01, who is now employed in the government forestry department in New Mexico, gave a very interesting short talk on his work and the changes in the society since his membership.

Glen Fickel, '11, and E. W. Dennman, '11, both of whom are employed by the General Electric Company in Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, addressed the society in short talks.

Chester Turner, '11, who has returned to take some further work in K. S. A. C., was also present.

At the business meeting, held after the literary program, it was decided to hold a joint entertainment with the Euro's in the near future, and a committee was appointed to make the necessary arrangements.

Goes to Kansas City.

Dr. J. E. Ackert, assistant professor of zoology, will go to Kansas City Friday to secure material for the laboratory classes in embryology. He will also visit the stock yards to secure material for experiments and classes in parasitology. He expects to remain over Friday and Saturday.

THE KILLARNEY GIRLS AND RITA RICH.

Miss Martha Stelz, who will appear in cello and vocal solos as well as having a prominent part in the ensemble, was a few years ago with the Stelz Quartet, which appeared widely on the Chautauqua.

Another member of this company who will have a prominent part in the program is Miss Laura Werno, reader, accompanist and vocalist. As a member of the Killarney Company she will present Irish legends and readings. The contralto soloist is Miss Marguerite Andrews soloist for several Miss Elma Kinison, soprano, who has been with the Pugh Company the past year under Redpath management, will appear not only in the ensemble, but in the quartets, solos and as an accompanist.

There will be seven members in the company, all of whom are artists.

J. W. McColloch, '12, assistant entomologist of the Kansas Experiment Station, has discovered a parasite of the chinch bug which has been attracting the attention of entomologists, as it is an entirely new type to this country. It is the only parasite enemy of the chinch bug that ever has been found.

A. A. Potter, acting dean of engineering, made an extended trip through the East this summer and visited the leading manufacturing companies who have in their employment K. S. A. C. graduates. He was very much elated with the reception accorded him, and also with the general record made by all the men.

Stanley Clark, '12, is beginning his second year's work at Mashawak, Minn., where he is teaching in the high school. He writes that skeeving and deer hunting are his pastimes; also, that he likes the country, but at times he wishes he could get back to Kansas, where the thermometer doesn't register 40 degrees below zero.

L. E. Gaston, a member of the '08, class, has been working for the Jame Manufacturing Company, of Ft. Atkinson, Wis. He has just succeeded in obtaining two big contracts for stanching and barn equipment for his company. The contracts were for equipping the dairy barns at the Topeka State Hospital and at Osawatimie.

Karl B. Musser, '12, while at Missouri University last year taking out his $400 scholarship which he won at the International Stock Show at Chicago in 1911, was honored by a $400 fellowship given him by that school. Mr. Musser is now working out his fellowship at that university. He will get his M. S., degree next spring.

L. R. Hain, '11, who has been working with the Ingersol Rand Company, 11 Broadway, N. Y., has just been promoted to assistant manager in their New York office. He writes that he likes the East and ventures this advice to Professor Potter: "I suppose you are busy with your coming engineers for the 1914 class, but I hope you are not working them too hard. Give them lots of thermodynamics, as they will need it in compressed air."

Hurd Morris, '10, recently visited his parents in Manhattan, Mr. Morris was an assistant in physics in the University of Pittsburg for one year after graduating. Since then he has been with the Westinghouse Electric Company at Pittsburg, Pa., where he is now carrying on important tests in electric railway motors. While here he spoke to the class of electrical engineers on the subject, "Recent Problems in Electrical Railway Engineering."

Even as You And I.

The industrious young man hated girls. They were such a bother. A fellow was always expected to carry their books, hold their coats, and wait on them generally. He considered them quite superfluous.

The telephone rang insistently about three o'clock on the afternoon of his first Sunday here. Presently the landlady called him. He went downstairs and picked up the receiver.

"John," came the voice of his sister over the wire, "come over for a little while, can't you? It's only three blocks, and I have hardly seen you since we came."

"All right," answered the I. Y. M. rather un sociably. Of course his sister was different, but after all she was a girl. And he would rather stay where he was.

"O, I say," he called, as a sudden thought came to him, "anybody else there?" But she had gone. "O, well, I suppose not." She's probably lonesome, and so called me.

He smoothed his hair, put on a collar, and started out, never dreaming that he was walking into a den of the hateful pests.

Six girls were in the parlor, his sister among them. Sister introduced him, then he sat down on a chair, smiled—and felt like a fool.

"Come on, earthquakes, fires, and floods," he murmured under his breath. "Happen all at once and set me free."

Just then the landlady opened the door.

"Yes, you may have the kitchen, girls, if you want to make candy."

The I. Y. M. rose with joy in his heart as the girls started gleefully for the kitchen. He would bolt.

"Good-bye," he said to his sister. "I will come some other time. Lots of studying to do—". Immediately there went up a chorus of "Oh, don't go," "Why, school has hardly begun yet. No need to study." "Don't desert us." The I. Y. M. found himself in the kitchen, without the slightest idea of how he got there.

"Will you help me with these nuts?" asked one of the creatures, offering him a pan containing nuts of varying sizes and shapes. He felt an impulse to throw them at her, but took the pan and they set to work.

"We really have no preparations made," continued the girl. "You see we decided rather suddenly upon this candy making. We all room here. The landlady is an aunt of one of the girls, and is very nice to us. We did not know that your sister had called you, and so insisted on her joining us." Oh, so sister was not to blame then. But really, it was not so bad after all. The girl had a very frank, impersonal sort of a smile, and she did not seem to expect him to wait upon her at all. She was working quite as hard as he was. He decided that she was the nicest girl he had ever seen.

"I have been hearing about what a good student you are, and how hard you study," continued the N. G. "Don't you really ever go anywhere, or have a good time?"

"Oh, yes, often," fibbed the I. Y. M. "I don't spend more than half my time studying. Why who told you?"

"Your sister for one, and a boy who knows you quite well, and comes here to call on my roommate."

He was flattered by her apparent interest in him. The nut picking job was almost finished, and the N. G., took up a plate containing egg whites and began to beat them briskly.

"Here, let me do that," offered the I. Y. M., to his own surprise and his sister's genuine astonishment. The N. G. smiled and handed him the plate. The first stroke splashed some of the foamy substance onto his coat. He laughed and the N. G. sprang up and ran out of the kitchen, returning presently with a big blue apron. She tied it around him—and he let her do it. He even thanked her for her thoughtfulness, and really meant it. He was beginning to find many pleasing characteristics in her which he was unaware the girls possessed. Had he ever thought of her as a creature, a brother, or a pest? The gods forbid! The other girls were buzzing around, happy, busy, and talkative, but he was oblivious to all except the N. G.

The landlady opened the door and ushered in a young man whom he had known for a long time and who was aware of his opinions in regard to girls. Upon seeing the I. Y. M., surrounded by six girls, wearing a blue apron, and busily beating eggs—in fact, even smiling as though he enjoyed it—the friend stood for an instant transfixed with surprise. Then he roared with laughter. "Come on," invited the I. Y. M., "and help make candy. It's great fun," and he waved the eggbeater in the air scattering white foam broadcast.

"If I am to judge by the example I see before me," asserted the friend, "it is more than fun. It is a reformation." Of course, nobody saw the point of this remark except the friend, the I. Y. M., and sister. But everybody laughed, and the candy making went merrily on.

As the two young men started homeward that evening, the friend glanced sidewise at the I. Y. M.

"Oh you woman hater" he murmured, softly. But the I. Y. M., merely grinned. His case was hopeless.

Masonic Smoker

The College Masons were entertained at a smoker given by the Masonic Club, 821 Osage, Monday evening. A large number were present renewing old acquaintances and making new ones. The smoker is an annual affair and is an event in college Masons life.

CORNHUSKERS BADLY CRIPPLED

Lowman's Men Practice Forward Pass and Better Interference for Next Game

Hard luck is ahead for the Cornhuskers. Coach Lowman "shooed" the spectators from the athletic field last night and from now on the football practice will be behind closed gates. The old yarn about the "man on the hill with the field glasses" may leak out, but there will be no watchers on the field for the balance of this week. Coach Lowman says that Nebraska did not display her real strength against the Blue last Saturday and that Coach Stiehm inserted many of his second string players against the Washburn team. This being the case, very little can be said of the coming Aggie-Cornhusker struggle, other than that it will be a close one.

The Southwestern defeat laid bare the weak spots in the Aggie roster and it is a safe bet that the Aggie team will take on a different aspect next Saturday. Coach Lowman has been putting the team through grueling routine workouts daily. The tackling dummy is a tired looking specimen, and has lost much of his original make-up. The bucking machine has been hammered up and down the gridiron each night and the men are acquiring new snap and vigor. The kicking department has been stationary, additional speed being the only outward appearance of improvement.

Some talk of securing the services of a trainer has been making the rounds this week, but no definite plans have been laid. The proof of the value of the services of a trainer was clearly shown by the work of the team in 1912. Superb condition marked the play of every Aggie game last season, following the Nebraska conflict. The Aggies had the final punch. Coaches Lowman and Merner more than have their hands full with the teaching of the technique of the game and should have an able assistant in the rubbing room. The team will journey to Lincoln in a special Pullman via the Rock Island. The car will be placed on a siding at the Rock Island depot Friday evening and the players will all be in slumber land when the train leaves at 2:15 the next morning. Coach Lowman will probably carry 20 or 22 men on the trip.

Ames Loses
Minneapolis, Oct. 4.—Playing through a drizzling rain that made impracticable other than straight football, the University of Minnesota defeated Ames Agricultural college, 25 to 0. The touchdowns, one each in the first and second period and two in the line plunges. Fullback Shaughnessy's gains through the Ames lines featured the first three quarters. Ames was unable to consistently penetrate Minnesota's defense and frequently the Iowa backs were thrown for losses. The play for the most part was confined to Ames' territory and the latter never came dangerously near to scoring.

Missouri Beats Drury
Columbia, Mo., Oct. 5.—The University of Missouri football team opened its gridiron season here this afternoon with a victory, rolling up 69 points, while the eleven from Drury college failed to get a point.

Wiggins' run of 55 yards and Lake's run of 52 for touchdowns featured the contest.

Missouri started off with a rush, playing a smashing game that netted them 21 points in the first quarter. When the first half was over, 55 points had been scored. Seven points were added in each of the third and final quarters.

Coach Brewer sent in many substitutes during the game.

Emporia College Wins
Ottawa, Kan., Oct. 3.—Superior team work and the bulky lineup of the College of Emporia football team enabled it to defeat Ottawa university here today by a score of 47 to 0.

The local eleven showed poor form and Coach Craig switched the back field in a futile effort to check the aggressive tactics of the visitors.

NEBRASKA WINS 19 TO 0

Washburn Puts Up Game Battle But Were Outweighed

Lincoln, Nebr., Oct. 4.—Crushing their lighter opponents down by their superior weight, the University of Nebraska football team carried off the season today, by defeating the Washburn college eleven, by a score of 19 to 0. In a sea of mud, the two teams battled.

The Kansas team by the terrific plunges of halfbacks Bearg and Hardy and penalties on Nebraska carried the ball to the Cornhuskers 13-yard line in the closing minute of play, and that was the only period in the entire contest that they threatened to score.

The heavy field made the work of the stellar backfield of the Cornhuskers difficult. Few end runs were attempted, but Captain Purdy, with his mate, Halfback Rutherford, was able to lug the ball through the center and guards of the Washburn squad for gains whenever they desired. Nebraska suffered severely from penalties, holding being the chief offense.

Eight minutes after the game opened the Cornhuskers were over the Washburn line. Straight football, with one forward pass brought the score. An incomplete pass over the goal line lost the Nebraska a previous chance to score. Purdy carried the pigskin over the line but fumbled and Towle fell on the ball for the initial score. He failed to kick goal.

The second quarter opened up with a change or two in the Nebraska line. Nebraska kept their line plunging and Washburn, whenever they got the ball were forced to the same tactics. Bucks through center failed to gain a few yards off guard, but rarely distance to punt. Once in a possession of the ball, the Cornhuskers carried it across the field for a second touchdown. Towle going over. Towle kicked goal.

After that Nebraska sent in two subs in the backfield and the line was shifted and the contest waged on more even terms. The third quarter was a punting duel between Howard and Billings, and closed with Nebraska again threatening. Gains off tackle, guard and center sent Ellwell over for the Cornhuskers' third touchdown early in the final quarter.

Getting the ball in the center of the field a few minutes later, Hardy and Bearg demonstrated the prettiest bit of line bucking of the game. Two 15-yard penalties brought the ball to Hardy attempted to skirt left end and was thrown back for a 10-yard loss, and the final whistle blew with the ball in the possession of the Washburn squad on Nebraska's 13-yard line.

Miss Helen Monsch, '04, who has had charge of the work in home economics for four years in the famous schools of Gary, Ind., has just been appointed head of the department of home economics in Simmons College, Boston, Mass. Simmons College is a technical institution of high grade, organized along lines of home economics, and corresponding in this field to the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, with which institution it is more or less affiliated.—Intrastatist.

Mr. Geo. S. Hine, State Dairy Commissioner, is out of town this week on institute work. He will attend the fair at Wichita and while there will make several addresses on topics of interest.

Professor Dickens, of the horticulture department left Sunday for the southern part of the state where he will do institute work for two weeks. Richard Lush accompanied him.

"POINTED PARAGRAPHS"

Friends University came back to life, that is to football life, last Wednesday and defeated Alva Normal of Oklahoma, 62 to 0. This was the first football victory for the Quakers in seven years.

Kansas won from William Jewell College on McCook Saturday, but that was about all the Lawrence crowd did aside from pulling off a big ward school parade and permitting Gov. Hodges to occupy a box and gaze on the fray through a heavy Kansas dew. Kansas was "lucky once more" is the only label to be placed on the game as they won it on an offside play on the Jewell's giving the Lawrence crew first downs where they had been unable to make them before. A forward pass for ten yards and a pretty sprint by Greenless put the oval over. Captain Weidline kicked out the additional point.

Ames lost to Minnesota, 28 to 0. Saturday and Drake played Coe a zero to zero game. Drake, Ames and Missouri with a possibility of the Washington University of St. Louis, slipping in on the money, are supposed to be the best teams in the Valley this season. Kansas touts her team as an ever-victorious machine this season, but it is our hunch that Kennedy's Haskell tribe would make a bunch of monkeys out of the Jayhawkers right on their own field. Surely looks like a good year for the Tiger.

The University of Nebraska team tried to smother Coach "Crip" Gray's Washburn eleven in Lincoln last Saturday, but judging from the comparatively small score the Cornhuskers' piled up, they ran into something which they did not expect to find. Washburn is undoubtedly the weakest she has been for years, but must have played a mighty good defensive game in spots to have held the Cornhuskers to nineteen points. Nebraska is not the Nebraska of former years and will find the going mighty hard in the Valley circle this season.

A very common-place statement: "Well sir, there's very little of a football game that "Quig" don't see," and we might add that there's a measure of truth there, too.

A large gathering on the bleachers, too. Football promises to pay well this season. And just think of the crowd the K. U. Aggie game will draw. The athletic treasurer's coffers should be well filled with check-calls this season.

"Kill the nigger," had little effect upon Southwestern's tar-baby, but to increase his speed. The kink-haired Tad played excellently for the enemy but looked a little bit out of place when he stopped so many of the Lowman crew's plays.

Cheerleader McBride and his assistants put in some good work on the rooters at last Friday's game. The rooting was by far the best ever at an opening game and with the improvement sure to come by mid-season bids fair to rival that of any school in Kansas.

Burkholder is said to not be in the best of condition yet. His playing Friday did not bear out this statement. Coxen says that on one play Burk came up under Winfield's center and guard, shoved each out of the way and nailed Lear before he was fairly started. Some play for an unconditional man!

Captain Loomis made a great recovery of Haymakers' fumbles outside kick in Friday's game. A Southwestern player beat Loomis to the ball but could not hold the elusive oval, therefore the good work by "Cap."

"Bobbie" Gerlaw, who won the two-mile event for the Aggies in the 1911 State meet, is on the roster of the University of Nebraska track squad at present. Coach Guy Reed expects great work from the former Aggie star, and rightly.

The "anvil chorus" has been working overtime of late. Some of the members could use their surplus in rooting from the bleachers, to a better advantage, than from the "grub-shock" table.

The following men have been named to remain on the varsity football squad until further notice: Shafer, Moss, Root, Skinner, Dickinson, Byarley, Richards, Loomis, Marble, Burkholder, Briney, Cusick, Scanlon, Coxen, Fletcher, Wright, Wehrle, Baker, Bayer, Enns, Sidorfsky, Agnew, Hartwig, Dresser, Haymaker, Cleland, Wagner, Slentz, Smith, Hauke, Howenstine.

AMERICAN ROYAL STOCK SHOW

HAVE A BIG EXHIBIT AT KANSAS CITY THIS WEEK—MANY PRIZE WINNERS AMONG THEM

The American Royal, which is taking place at Kansas City this week, is the largest cattle show in the world and few people realize what it means to win prizes there.

The exhibit which the Kansas Agricultural College is making at the Royal this year is unusually good and consists of twenty head of fine cattle, many of which are prize winners though over half of them have never been shown before. Particular pride is taken in the fact that twelve of the twenty were bred by the college.

Some of the prize winners which are being shown are: a purebred yearling Galloway steer, first in his class at Kansas City last year; the purebred Shorthorn calf, College Boy, first at Topeka and Hutchinson this year; the Hereford yearling heifer, Tootsy, first in her class at Chicago last year; the two-year-old Hereford grade steer, Blizzard, first in his class at Chicago last year; and the purebred yearling Hereford steer, Beau Talent, commonly known as Bill Taft, fourth at Kansas City last year and first at the International.

Botuna, a Hereford cow with calf by side, is one of the interesting features of the college display. Stock shows have been criticised considerably by some people because the animals shown were, so the knockers said, not representative of commercial live stock, but were merely pampered individuals kept only for show purposes. To meet this criticism the Royal has, this year, opened a new class for competition in which are entered cows with calf by side. It is in this class that Botuna and her calf will be shown.

Much credit for the high-class herd which the college can show this fall should be given Leslie Ross, under whose care the college cattle have been for the last three years. Mr. Ross is considered one of the best handlers of high-class cattle in the United States and his instructive lectures add very materially to the thoroughness of the training which the boys receive in animal husbandry.

The students of the Kansas Agricultural College have never given the Royal the attention they should. To visit such a show is a liberal live stock education in itself and much information can be gotten there which can be gained no place else.

Nearly all of the agricultural colleges of the middle west send large delegations of from one hundred to five hundred students, some of them traveling as far as fifteen hundred miles to attend. We are but one hundred and twenty miles from Kansas City and yet the largest delegation we ever sent was twenty.

PLAY AT NIGHT

Nebraska and Haskell Will Try a New Stunt

As an innovation in football, the Nebraska management is planning to play the Haskell-Cornhusker football game after dark. The field will be lighted with strong electric lights and the players will be painted white. Judging from the clip the Kennedy players are hitting now, the Cornhuskers will need about all of the real sunlight they can procure to keep within hailing distance of the flying Indian squad. The Lawrence crew took the State Normal to a terrible cleaning last Friday, when Dr. J. A. Reilly pulled his team of bone-setters out of their fray with the Aborigines a couple of weeks ago. He pronounced Kennedy's bunch as the best in the Valley. Of course this was natural as the Kansas City team was swamped beneath a large score.

JUDGING TEAM AT KANSAS CITY

COMPETE WITH OTHER COLLEGES—DR. McCAMPBELL THE COACH.

The college stock judging team which is representing K. S. A. C. at the Kansas City Royal this week consists of Fred Dunlap, Walter Hepler, Archie Kizer, Roy Kizer, Frank Kramer and C. H. Arbuthnot, alternate. These men with Dr. C. W. McCampbell, assistant professor of animal husbandry, coach of the team, left Sunday morning for Kansas City where they are competing with stock judging teams from several of the large agricultural colleges of the middle west.

"A man begins trying for the stock judging team the first term of his freshman year," said Dr. McCampbell in speaking of the team. "Careful records of all his stock judging work are kept from the first and the team is chosen the fall term of the senior year from those men who have done the best work during the entire four years. A place on the team is a reward for high class work along animal husbandry lines." After returning from the Royal the team will have seven weeks to prepare for the International Live Stock Show at Chicago. During that time they will meet every day for from two to four hours for training work.

Last year the Aggie team took second at Chicago in competition with teams from nine important schools. Considerable pep was aroused for them. A large crowd of rooters was at the train to see them off and encourage them. Similar enthusiasm will no doubt be shown this year.

En route to Chicago the team will visit many of the leading stock farms in Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, and Illinois where they will have an opportunity to study and compare not only the best individuals of the various breeds of live stock, but also the methods of feeding and management used by the most successful breeders of these states—an experience of inestimable value in after life.

The prize was a $25 phonograph. Miss Pearce was a clerk in the president's office here until '93, and librarian from '93 to '97. She is now employed by the government in the Bureau of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture, at Washington, D. C.

THOMAS BROOKS FLETCHER. Thomas Brooks Fletcher, who is to lecture here, was formerly a newspaper editor of note, and he is starting on his eighth year as lecturer. He is the youngest man of similar renown on the American lecture stage. He is pronounced to be the leader of the younger lecturers and thinkers of this generation.

Reports from the lecture course committees that have engaged him class him among the most distinguished orators of the present time. He has been substituted for the late Senator John P. Dolliver, and at Findlay, O., recently he was substituted for the famous Ben B. Lindsey of the juvenile court of Denver, Colo., and this was his second appearance before the Findlay audience within eight months. He has lectured in nearly every state in the Union, and his success has been as remarkable in Massachusetts and the New England states as it has been in Iowa and the west. He has appeared before some of the largest college and university courses everywhere, and there are few places where he has not been recalled for the second or third lecture, which would indicate that we are to have, perhaps, one of the greatest addresses ever delivered in this city.

THOMAS BROOKS FLETCHER.

It is remarkable that a man should be able in so short a time to lecture on the same platform with Dr. S. Parks Cadman, Newell Dwight Hillis, Wendling, Gunsaulus, John Temple Graves and many other distinguished men of great intellect and be able to share honors with them in oratorical ability and be pronounced by the audiences the equal of the most dramatic orators of the time.

AGGIES MEET CORNHUSKERS

PLAY AT LINCOLN, NEBRASKA
THIS AFTERNOON

AGGIE LINE MUST STOP PURDY

Stiehm Has Best Fullback in the Missouri Valley in Purdy

That the Cornhuskers did not display their real strength against the Washburn eleven last Saturday is the opinion of Coach Lowman. Winning was all that was necessary and the "Stiehm Roller" did a good job of that. Nebraska has the best football player in the Valley in Purdy, the plunging fullback. Purdy is the peer of all western fullbacks. The Aggies did not stop the plunging Southwesterners, but they have been drilled daily on the methods of stopping the flying Purdy. The Aggie line is composed of the best of material and is about due to break into the limelight in today's game.

The second round of 1913 football will be in order today. Every school in the Missouri Valley except Washington University of St. Louis opened its season last Saturday. Missouri, Nebraska, and Kansas were returned winners in the first round. Drake and Coe surprised everyone by playing a 0 to 0 contest. Drake supposedly strong, and Coe acknowledged the weaker, met on equal terms it appears, and now the Big Muddy Circle is sitting up and wondering how it all happened. Drake played in the front rank of Missouri Valley football last year and was doped to repeat again this season.

Missouri University got away on the right foot as usual and defeated Drury College by a 69 to 0 score. Drury always travels to Columbia "loaded for bear" and always wends its way homeward along the path of the downfallen and weary-hearted. Missouri looks good this year. The Tiger team has an excellent training staff and an abundance of class material, all that is necessary for any coach to have in order to turn out a winning team. The Ames Aggies lowered their colors to the Minnesota shift staged by the originators, 28 to 0. Ames played Minnesota in 1912 and held the Northerners to a low score, but the growth of the Minnesota bunch proved too much for the Iowa team this season.

Coach Mosse's eleven did not get a fair chance to show its ability last Saturday. The same however could be said of the William Jewell team. Mosse has a new combination of work on the field this season and as football players do not spring out from every bush and tree by the wayhide will need time to develop many of his men. The Kansas ends are new at the game and the K. U. bacon was only saved in one play in last Saturday's contest by the fact that Wilson, an experience player, was holding down the safety position.

On this play the Missouri runner cut outside the Kansas end, who had been sucked into the hole, and made 20 yards on the play. Greenleafs has been inflated throughout the Lawrence press since his showing in the William Jewell game and is touted by the Kansas as one of their "best ever." Kansas may again be lucky, but it is hardly possible that a man new to football should make good on such short notice. "Dutch" Martin jumped into the candle light of fame when he sprinted past the Aggie safety and reeled off 60 yards and a touchdown last year. But at the end of the season he was not even remembered with a monogram of the scrub eleven.

Nebraska and the Kansas Aggies taggle today at Lincoln. Kansas plays Washington University at Lawrence and two of the four teams will be eliminated from the Missouri Valley race. The Lincoln fray promises to be interesting. At Lawrence fandom is in a turmoil. Washington University comes with a new coach, an ex-Michigan player, by the way, and the Jayhawkers are up against their first real battle in the Missouri Valley elimination contest. The outcome is a toss-up. At Lincoln Low-the Cornhuskers as hard a battle as any team could wish for at such a place in the schedule. Behind closed gates Coaches Lowman and Merner have been pounding the fear of the Cornhuskers into the Aggie legion all week and the Aggies look fit and trim.

The players who will make the Nebraska trip are Sidorfsky, Agnew, Enns, Dresser, Haymaker, Howenstine, Hartwig, Cleland, Skinner, Moss, Schafer, Root, Cusic, Scanlon, Loomis, Marble, Burkholder, Coxen, Wright and Wherle.

Wherle suffered a broken nose in practice last evening but he is going to make the trip just the same.

COLLEGE ROADS TO BE PAVED

ROAD MUST BE FINISHED BY NOV. 1

TO DEMONSTRATE A NEW TYPE

Cement Manufacturers to Furnish the Materials—Civils to Inspect Work

A five thousand dollar paving contract has been let to the Alpine Construction Company of Kansas City by the College.

The loop from the Vattier street entrance up the hill, in front of Anderson Hall, and around in front of the Chemistry building, the "Old Ag," and back to the intersection with the main road, is to be paved with cement, and a macadamized road run north past the Dairy building to the "North Road" leading to the New Ag.

The cement paving is to be made in the nature of a demonstration of its possibilities, and not as an experiment. This type of paving is rather uncommon in this country, and to introduce and demonstrate it, the Association of American Portland Cement Manufacturers has agreed to furnish the cement, and assist in the supervision of its construction.

In the opinion of Professor Conrad, of the engineering department, cement paving for country roads has many possibilities where the material can be conveniently obtained.

The cost of the paving will be 86 cents a square yard, and of the curbing, 30 cents a lineal foot. The roadway will be twenty-four feet wide at the main entrance, with a curb on each side. From the fork of the road to the main building it will be twenty feet wide, with curbing, and on the loop proper it will be from fourteen to eighteen feet wide, without curbing.

The paving will be reinforced every thirty feet, at the transverse joints, with steel armor, or sheathing, which will render it infinitely more durable and solid.

Since the Cement Manufacturers Association is to furnish the cement, they will have an inspector present. Some one from the Civil engineering department will also be on the job. It is probable that Mr. Geo. Alexander, who is preparing a thesis on this line of work, will be selected for this position.

The work will be used as an object lesson to the Civils, and to the students in other branches of the engineering courses, and the finished road will stand as a good road example for the entire country.

The forestry department, which has the general charge of the maintenance of the campus, will have charge of the macadamized road running north from the dairy building.

Students Meet Many Graduates at Kansas City

Many former graduates and students were seen at the American Royal show. Among them were E. O. Sechrist, '12, Elmer Myers, '13, Floyd Nichols, '12, Oley Weaver, '12, Aaron Hammond, one time guard on the varsity football team, and Raymond Prather, last year's plunging fullback.

Sechrist is putting his college training into practical use on a farm near Topeka. Elmer Myers is at the present time engaged by the Lee Brothers Stock farm at Harveyville and is assisting with the show herd. Floyd Nichols is employed by the Capper publishing works at Topeka.

Professor Patterson, formerly of the Animal Husbandry department, and now at the Agricultural College of Minnesota, was also seen at the fair.

PICK TEAM FOR DAIRY CONTEST

WILL MAKE TRIP THROUGH THREE STATES ON WAY TO NATIONAL SHOW

The dairy judging team has been the class in advance. W. M. M. I. S. selected. The men were picked from the class in advanced dairy judging by Professor Fitch. Each year the college picks a team and enters it in the contest at the National Dairy Show at Chicago. The team is composed of three men who are C. S. Goldsmith, R. H. Musser, and H. C. Stockwell and Roy Phillips alternata. The team will leave Manhattan and make a trip through Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois visiting different breeders of fine dairy cattle on the way and end the trip at Chicago where they enter the contest. They will spend several days at Chicago and will then return. The whole trip will take the better part of two weeks.

Professor Fitch will accompany the team as the coach.

Y. M. C. A. MEMBERSHIP

Have Reached a Total of 500 Friday Noon

Reports up until Friday noon showed that the Y. M. C. A., membership canvass will result in a very substantial gain. The total membership at that time as nearly as could be judged from the returns was 500. This number includes some old members who have not yet renewed but who have promised to do so. The men most actively engaged in the canvass feel certain that the total membership this fall will surpass the 600 mark. No sensational methods of canvassing have been employed and the Association leaders are well satisfied with the results.

Get New Bugles

The Military Department received nine new bugles this week for use in the cadet bugle corps.

The bugle corps now has sixteen men, and is going to be a great improvement on last year's squad.

Y. W. C. A. PLAN BIG CAMPAIGN

THREE TEAMS OF 15 MEMBERS TO MAKE A THOROUGH CANVASS OF GIRLS

You won't need to "watch closely" to see it—especially if you've a girl. The Y. W. C. A., membership campaign will begin Tuesday morning and end Saturday night.

At the end of the week, the Y. W. C. A., will be the largest in the west, if all plans go well.

Ruth Gilbert, who is chairman of the membership committee, hopes to add 300 or 350 new names to the roll during the week.

Three captains have been chosen each to have charge of a team of fifteen girls.

One of these girls will give each new girl a personal invitation to join. The captains are, Mabel Brown, Winifred Neusbaum and Mae Hildebrand.

The teams securing the fewest members will entertain the visitors teams at the "Y. W. C. A. Commencement" at the Y. W. C. A. house, October 20.

This commencement has been officially stated, will be something new in commencements, rather more hilarious than the common sort of graduating performances.

HORT SHIPS APPLES

Ship Car Load Lots From College Orchard

In spite of the dry weather, the horticultural department is shipping out apples in carload lots from the college orchard northwest of town.

The early apples were stunted in size by the drouth, but the later ones have developed a great deal under the influence of the fall rains. Several of the Ben Davis trees in the orchard were killed by the drouth, and other varieties suffered severely. The apples now being shipped consist mostly of Wine Sap, Ben Davis, and Missouri Pippins. The shipments are all going to the western part of the state.

Three grades are being put out, Firsts, Seconds, and Thirds. None of the apples are being packed, as their quality would not warrant the expense. The prices range from 60 cents to $1.40 per bushel.

TICKETS.—PLEASE

A society lecture course ticket is an absolute necessity for every student. To the most of the students, two are desirable. Yet many of the students are missing the chance to see and hear some of the best talent which can be secured. The lyceum course here is the best any college in the country supports. Very few towns or schools have a $2000 course and then sell the tickets for two dollars. As a rule they have a much cheaper course and charge from one to two dollars for it.

In the past K. S. A. C., has always supported the course heartily. This year they will do the same as soon as they realize the benefits which will be derived from it.

There have been many complaints to the committee about the system of reserving the seats. Many of the girls cannot stand in line all night and many of the boys won't. This year the line has been taken to the Auditorium so the students can sit inside. There will also be a larger number to handle the reservation board.

Arrangements have been made to hire students to stand in line and reserve tickets. The committee have several students who will stand in line for a small sum.

The auditorium seats 2100 people and of this number of seats there are 1500 which are as good as anyone could desire.

Last year after all the reservations had been made, it was possible to still buy some of the best seats in the house. There will be no excuse for not having a good seat even if you refuse to stand in line.

DO IT NOW

It's just two weeks and a half until the big Semi-Centennial celebration will be in full session. How many of you are taking an interest in the proceedings and are helping to make it a success? Have you written to your home paper all about the plans so there will be a statewide interest in what's going on at the Agricultural College?

Right now is the time to get busy and write home and tell about the work of the college. Write to your friends and invite them to visit you and see the celebration at the great Agricultural college in the United States.

To make the celebration what it should be, will require the co-operation of all of the student body working together.

The students of each department must be willing to do some work for their department. You don't want another department to have a better display than you have, do you? The only reason for any department to make a poor showing is for the students of that department to fail to have the pep and help do the work which is needed.

The time is short and it will require some "tall hustling" on somebody's part to have everything ready. The engineers have had the experience of one parade and they are already at work on their exhibits. They realize the need of working early and not waiting until the night before to plan the exhibit. The other departments cannot afford to let the engineers get the jump or they will find themselves slipping as the time draws nearer. Everybody get busy and do some work.

HAIL! HAIL!

The team will come home from the hard game with Nebraska tonight. They will be in late at night, but a big crowd of rooters should be there to make things noisy for them.

The best kind of enthusiasm which the college can show for a team is to meet the mat the train about 2000 strong and make the mfeel that we are for them. Last year they came home the losers of a hard fought game and 1000 students met the train at one in the morning. It was the best exhibition of college pep ever shown here.

Tonight, if you happen to hear someone yelling and a band playing, Hail, Hail, be sure to roll out of the bed and get out and help to keep the town awake.

The signal is, "Hail, Hail."

GIVE YOUR CHICKENS FEED

The next time you feel like buying a bag of peanuts or some candy, just save that nickel or dime and turn it over to the Rooters Club to buy the big megaphone.

The Club is trying to get money for a big megaphone which will have a dozen or twenty mouthpieces. A bunch of rooters will be trained to root together and they will be assigned to the work of filling the big horn.

This will be one of the most valuable assistances to the cheer leader, for with its help, all the crowd will have to do is yell with the horn. It will make noise enough to be heard all over the field.

It will be some big rooter.

Have Department Meetings

The department of history is planning to hold departmental meetings this winter, in accordance with their usual custom. At these meetings the members, made up of the department instructors, read papers on subjects pertinent to the work of the department, and discuss questions and methods which come up in the classes.

This is not a new thing with the department of history, since they have used the plan for some years. It is coming into use in the policies of the other departments also.

STUDENT COUNCIL MET

Want Opinion About Date of College Opening in Fall

At the meeting of the Students Council, Thursday afternoon, the matter of beginning college one week earlier in the fall was discussed. The members of the council seemed generally in favor of the earlier date of opening. Most other schools throughout Kansas start school earlier in the fall than we do, and let out earlier in the spring. The question at issue is, which week is the more valuable to the average K. S. A. C. student? It would seem that the spring week would be more valuable especially to the young man who goes back to the farm. Harvest usually begins before college closes, the corn needs cultivating, and farm work in general, is on in earnest. If the student body is desirous of the proposed change all that it needs to do is to express itself and the proper authorities will give the matter careful consideration.

Miss Martha Stelzl, who will appear in cello and vocal solos as well as having a prominent part in the ensemble, was a few years ago with the Stelzl Quartet, which appeared widely on the Chautauquas.

Another member of this company who will have a prominent part in the program is Miss Laura Werno, reader, accompanist and vocalist. As a member of the Killarney Company she will present Irish legends and readings.

Miss Elma Kinnison, soprano, who has been with the Pugh Company the past year under Redpath management, will appear not only in the ensemble, but in the quartets, solos and as an accompanist.

There will be seven members in the company, all of whom are artists.

Even as You And I.

The Busy Professor was hurrying up Main walk. It was a beautiful morning but he had no time to notice such things. He was thinking of that pile of quiz papers that must be graded before second hour.

Suddenly his reveries were broken by a voice, saying: "Good morning, Professor. Have you bought your Lyceum course ticket yet?"

"No, I can't go this year," he said, and went on up the walk, irritated by this sudden break in his reverie. His train of thought was just well started again, when, "Oh, Professor, won't you buy your lecture course tickets from me?" sounded just beside him.

No, I haven't the money, with me this morning, Miss Smith," he said. She was sorry, but went on without urging him further.

The B. P. mused: this was a good way to escape. That had been very easy.

Well, Professor, have you got your Lyceum course ticket yet?" he heard from beside him.

No, I haven't," he answered.

"Then buy them from me."

"I can't this morning," the B. P. answered, with enjoyment. "I haven't the money with me."

"Oh, I have checks on all the banks. Which do you prefer?"

"But maybe I can't go this year," argued the B. P.

"Oh, yes you can. And a professor should show the students that he approves of the Lyceum course."

"Well, I suppose so," answered the Professor. Was his reputation at stake? This was a new phase of the subject.

"All right, give me two tickets," he decided, naming his bank. He wrote a check and received his tickets.

"Now, I suppose I will be left in peace," he thought as he started on. "Good morning, Professor," he heard suddenly. "I am selling Lyceum course tickets. Won't —"

"I have mine," he broke in, disgustedly, and hurried on.

He dodged two people in Main hall who looked like agents, and slipped into his office. He seated himself and picked up a quiz paper. He was feeling vicious. The paper was poor, so with a feeling of satisfaction he marked it "F."

The office door opened. "Professor, won't you buy some—"

"No, I won't, he thundered. The girl fled.

The B. P. wondered if he were dreaming. Could this be possible? He feared he was losing his mind, and began to tremble. He felt in his pocket. Yes, there were two tickets. But this endless line of people.

The door opened again. "Professor, I hunted up some blank checks. I knew you would buy if I had them."

"Yes, yes, Miss S—. Give me some. Give me half a dozen. I want to send them to the folks at home."

The girl stared, but handed him the tickets. The B. P. filled out a check, signed it with a trembling hand, and as the door closed sank in a faint to the floor.

Gave Dinner Dance

The Phi Kappa Phi sorority gave a very elaborate dinner dance Monday evening as a close to the rushing season for this year.

Dinner was served at the house at six o'clock. Pink roses and dainty place cards made up the table decorations. Corsage bouquets of roses and lilies of the valley were given to the ladies as favors. Hall's orchestra, of Topeka, played during the dinner.

The hall was attractively decorated in Japanese style. A typical Japanese garden and cozy corners were formed at the ends of the hall, which was lighted by Japanese lanterns.

Favor dances, of which there were several, were a feature of the evening. In one particularly clever dance Japanese parasols were given as favors to the girls and Japanese caps to the men.

Punch was served throughout the evening. Near the close of the dance coffee, olives, and sandwiches were served. The chaperones present were Mrs. Van Zile, Mrs. Waters, Miss Meade, and Professor and Mrs. Holton.

Prather Not Coming

Ray Prather, who was seen at the American Royal this week, says that it will be impossible for him to be in college this term.

McKee Goes to Ames

Clyde McKee, who has been a demonstration agent in the northwestern part of the state at Norton, has been elected to assist in agriculture at the Iowa State College at Ames. He will begin his work at Ames about October 15. His position in northwestern Kansas will be vacant temporarily.

Lambdas Entertain

The Lambda Lambda Theta sorority entertained with a five course dinner Wednesday evening. Baskets of Scotch thistles and lilies of the valley tied with tulle bows formed the centerpiece. Lavender shaded candles helped to carry out the color scheme, which was repeated in the menu. An orchestra furnished music during the evening. Covers were laid for thirty guests.

"JUST DOPE," SAYS LOWMAN.

Negro Player on Nebraska Team Will Not Play Against Aggies.

A dispatch from Lincoln, Neb., says:

"Both the Kansas Agricultural College and Kansas University have entered protests against Nebraska playing the giant negro guard Ross in the games against the teams of those schools. A breach between the two schools is a possible result. Coach Stiehm has sent a resolution to the athletic board, which meets tomorrow, favoring cancelling Saturday's game with the Aggies if the Kansas school endeavors to have Ross ruled out because of his color."

"It is rumored that Coach Lowman's protest is based on a secret agreement among the coaches of Missouri Valley Conference schools not to use negro players on their athletic teams."

"Somebody had to send out some dope," said Coach Guy S. Lowman when he read the above dispatch this morning.

Coach Lowman says that Nebraska knows just as well as anyone else that negro players are not allowed to participate in the Missouri Valley Conference games. Coach Lowman says Nebraska is not going to play Ross against the Aggies nor against K. U. The coach laughed at the idea of the game being cancelled because of a protest made against Ross. Lowman did not even make a protest. He says the coaches all have an understanding about the matter.

"Nebraska is sending out this kind of dope so that in case some team beats them they will have something to kick about and a 'why we lost' story," said Lowman.

Professor Holton is in Topeka today on business.

STATE WIDE CHINCH BUG WAR

SIGN DEATH WARRANTS OF THE CHINCH BUGS OCTOBER 11.

EVERY COUNTY IN EAST KANSAS

Will Take Part in the Affair—A Co-Operative Burning of Trash and Dead Grass.

The death warrant of the chinch bugs in Eastern Kansas will be signed October 11. All of the farmers' institutes in this part of the state will meet on this date to discuss the destruction of the chinch bug. Edw. C. Johnson, superintendent of the farmers' institute department of the college, has set the date and sent out the announcements of the plan to all of the institute organizations in this part of Kansas. The planning of the co-operative burning of the dead grass and trash in every county will be the basis of the discussion.

Now is the best time of the year to fight this pest, as the bugs are going to their winter quarters in the dead grass along the road and in the fence corners. And it is not always possible to find all the bugs in the immediate vicinity of infested fields, as some of them often gather in bunches of grass some distance from the original field, is the warning of G. A. Dean, state entomologist.

The great advantage of early winter burning, according to the college authorities, is that the farmer protects both his corn and his wheat. The success of this fall and winter burning depends mostly upon co-operation and hard work, that is, thorough burning, close to the ground. Professor Dean says that to be successful this must be a county affair. If done merely in localities it will not bring about the results even if the work in that particular place be ever so thorough. Every local organization should lend its aid to this project, the Farmers' Union, Farmers' Grange, Farmers' Institute and the Anti-Horse Thief Association should all help. The agricultural college will give every possible aid, through the county demonstration agents, the extension department men and the field agents.

The department of entomology will keep in touch with the various organizations and when the proper time arrives for the burning will notify the different localities of the day to do the work.

Mosses and Frank were not satisfied at all with the showing of the team against William Jewell last Saturday and have added an extra amount of work in this week's schedule. K. U. will meet Washington Saturday in the first conference game of the season, and to win the team will have to show more fight than it did against the Liberty team.

The team will be worked every night until after darkness. Manager W. O. Hamilton has provided a string of arc lights and a "ghost" ball will be used so that late work will be possible. A decided change must be made in the Minnesota shift play before it will gain much for the Kansans. By using the Harvard method of stopping the play the Jewells were able to prevent long gains in the game last Saturday. Of course the muddy field must be taken into consideration but the Jayhawkers outweighed the William Jewell team by 30 pounds to the man. In losing the services of Bishop, the big right end, the K. U. team was materially crippled. The work of Strothers and Cain was not up to standard in the first game. Reber, at the other end, also had his troubles.

The backfield worked in pretty good shape considering the muddy field but Frank wants the men to get more fight in their work.

Baldwin, Kan., Oct. 8.—Baker claims to have more students enrolled in Greek than any other college in Kansas. Since the new requirement made by the university last year, Greek or Latin is not required to graduate, but despite this much interest is shown in both of these studies. There are nearly 100 students enrolled in Greek. The Latin classes are also very large.

DEBATERS NOW HARD AT WORK

WILL PICK NEW SQUAD FOR THE SPRING TEAM DERATES ABOUT CHRISTMAS

The debaters for the fall term are rapidly getting in shape for the coming debate with Ames and South Dakota which will be held, November 14. The affirmative will debate Ames here and the negative will go to Dakota.

There are eight men on the squad and only six of them will be used in the debate. All of the men are studying hard on the question and will be ready to win when the time comes.

The faculty members are taking great interest in the team. Professor Searson and Ostrum are the coaches of the team and later in the season Professors Kammeier and Johnson will help to coach in delivery. Miss Derby, of the Librarian's force has been working hard to find material upon the question and to help the team in running down references.

The members of the squad for the fall debates are W. L. Sweet, Ivar Mattson, W. T. Brink, Joe Sweet, McArthur, J. L. Lush, Roy Gwin and W. A. Sumner.

The question which will be debated is "Resolved that the Philippine Islands should be granted their independence."

About Tri-Outs

Several students have already begun work preparatory to the tri-out for the spring term debates against Oklahoma and Colorado Agricultural Colleges. The tri-out for these debates will probably occur just before the Christmas vacation or right after.

The question which they will debate is: "Resolved, That vessels of all nations will be charged the same toll for passing through the Panama Canal."

TENNIS AT MISSOURI

Four Trophy Cups Will Be Given to the Winners

The Annual Fall Tennis Tournament began yesterday. The tournament is open to everyone in the University, including freshmen, and Prof. C. L. Brewer expects thirty-five or forty to enter the singles. It is probable that many will enter the doubles.

The first matches in the singles are being played now, the second matches Thursday and Friday, and the third Saturday. Mr. Brewer says that he expects the tournament to be finished by Saturday, October 18.

Four trophy cups will be given as prizes. The winner and the second man in the singles will each receive a cup, and each member of the winning team in the doubles will receive one of the prizes.—Daily Missourian.

A GOOD STUNT Advertise the Work of Oklahoma University

In accordance with the wishes of President Brooks the Journalism department is to carry on for the University a state-wide publicity campaign of a permanent nature, to begin as soon as the new school gets settled in its new quarters in the print shop building.

Whenever a student here at the University does anything that would be of interest in the locality of his home, it will be the work of the department to get the information to the newspapers in that locality as soon as possible. The stories for these papers will be written by the students in the Journalism classes.

In order to "cover" every part of the state and watch every student here, Prof. Herbert has divided the state into eighteen districts, and one student will be responsible for "watching" the students of one district.

When a student does anything to receive mention in the University Oklahoma, one student, who has charge of an assignment book, will assign the story to the member of the class having the district where this student lives. The story must then be written in brief, concise, newspaper style and mailed at once to the papers in that community.

In this way the local papers over the state will be furnished with news of what their people are doing here and the University will get much of the right kind of advertising.—Oklahoman.

Thirty men have been out in suits and the men scrimmaged with the Manhattan High School team Tuesday evening. The eleven will wear gray jerseys with a maroon stripe.

While no heavy schedule will be undertaken, it is expected that five or six games will be played. Arrangements will probably be made for games with Cooper College. The Washburn Freshmen, the Academy of Nebraska University, Manhattan High School and Burlington High School.

PROF. MCKEEVER NOW AT KANSAS U.

HE WILL LEAVE THIS WEEK FOR THE EAST TO STUDY OTHER BUREAUS

Prof. Wm. A. McKeever, head of the Bureau of Child Welfare of the Extension Division, will go east this week for the purpose of studying the Child Welfare movement in eastern cities. He will leave Lawrence Saturday and expects to return the first of January to take up his duties as head of this bureau in the Extension Division.

Professor McKeever states that nothing very definite can be announced for a month or two until he has made his study of the movement in eastern cities. "The bureau seeks to supplement the child welfare work already being done by the school, the home, and the church," declared Professor McKeever. "At present only a general outline of the proposed plan can be given. It plans for the vacation employment of the city school boy; the formation of parents' clubs and such kindred organizations as teacher-parent associations; the establishment of playgrounds and social centers; the organization of civic improvement clubs in all cases where the proposed program of work includes the local child welfare interests; and offers individual counsel and advice through correspondence to parents who have special problems in the training of their children."

Up to the time of his election as head of the Child Welfare Bureau Professor McKeever was in the philosophy department of the Agricultural College at Manhattan. He is a graduate of the University of Kansas and the University of Chicago and has studied in the Summer School of Harvard university. Of the books he has written, "Training the Boy," "The Pioneer," and "Farm Boys and Girls" are the best known. Professor McKeever has also issued a number of Home Training Bulletins of which many copies have been distributed throughout the English-speaking world. Concerning this Bulletin, Professor McKeever says he will continue to issue it as a personal affair. He expects the next number to be "Training the Child to Play."—Daily Kansan

DEAN WILLARD OUTLINED PLAN

TELLS OF INTERESTING FEATURES OF THE K. S. A. C. BEGINNINGS

HAVE NO REGULAR COLLEGE WORK

Invite All of Your Friends to Visit You and Boost K. S. A. C.

All of the students who were not at chapel Tuesday morning missed hearing an interesting talk upon the plans for the anniversary celebration, by Dean Willard the chairman of the faculty committee. In his talk he told many new and interesting things of the old college of fifty and even sixty years ago.

The original college was established and granted a charter on February 9, 1858. It was a denominational school and was under the supervision of the Methodist church. The college was located near the present site of the serum plant.

K. S. A. C., had a narrow escape from becoming K. U., at this time also. When the church authorities offered to give the state the farm and the college, the legislature passed a bill providing for the establishment of a University here. The bill was vetoed by the governor and so we became the Kansas Agricultural College.

The first class met on September 1, 1863. This makes the present celebration just a little bit late in the season.

Dean Willard read some interesting facts from the first catalog. In one they mentioned the fact that the U. P. R. R. had been built to Lawrence, would be completed to Topeka by fall, and would some day be built to Manhattan. However, Manhattan was located on a stage coach line which went to Junction City.

The first course established was one in agriculture and the first subject taught was first year Latin. Latin was one of the standbys in the old courses.

One of the rules urged the students to be clean. In contrast to the present voluntary attendance at chapel, the poor students then had to go to church every Sunday, either at the college or at some church in town, which was to be designated by the parents of guardians.

The third catalog announced that undue social attention would not be permitted.

The old catalogs "pat the college on the back" for the amount and value of the equipment. The library had a collection of 3000 volumes. The whole equipment of the chemistry and physics departments could be placed in a bathtub. The old electric machine which is now in the physics lab., is one of the original pieces of the equipment.

The Program

The first day of the celebration will be Student Day and will be devoted to the different student activities and to the parades and shows of the different divisions of the college.

The second day will be Kansas Day, and there will be speeches in the morning by different state leaders. Gov. Hodges and a Senator and Representative will be here if possible. Chancellor Strong of the University, President Butcher of the State Normal, and Secretary of the state board of Agriculture, Coburn, will give short addresses.

The afternoon of the first day will be given over to the alumni and there will be addresses by Dr. Walters the senior member of the faculty. Dr. E. O. Sisson, not the Commissioner of Education of Idaho, who claims to be the youngest graduate of K. S. A. C., will be here and talk.

Two ex-presidents of the college have been invited as have also the sons of Presidents Anderson and Dennison. Prof. Wahl of the Mass Agricultural College will speak.

The evening will be given over to different meetings of the alumni. All of the literary societies are urged to have special programs and to write to their alumni asking them to come.

All other college organizations will also be asked to hold reunions.

The third day will be National Day. President Wilson and Secy. of Agriculture, Houston have been invited, but it is not definitely known if they will be here. There will be speeches by Prof. U. G. Davenport, Dean of the Illinois Agricultural College, President W. E. Stone of Purdue, Dr. A. C. True, D. U. Fairchild and by Mrs. Nellie Kedzie-Jones. Mrs. Kedzie-Jones was one of the first heads of the D. S. division and to her is due the credit of really starting the work in that department.

Either the second or third day the Cadets will give an exhibition of military drill. The Cadets have been drilling overtime every day in preparation for the great occasion.

MADE IMPORTANT BUG DISCOVERY

FINDS A PARASITE FOR CHINCH BUGS—IS A NEW SPECIES

James W. McColloch, assistant in the entomological department, while doing research work during the past summer, made one of the most important discoveries in that line which has been known of.

While doing experimental work on soil samples which had come in innoculated with chinch bug eggs, Mr. McColloch discovered a parasite which may do great things in combating the ravages of this bane to the farmer's life.

In regard to his discovery, Mr. McColloch says:

"While conducting a series of experiments this year to determine the first appearance of young chinch bugs and the mortality of the eggs, a large number of eggs were collected in the field for examination. In looking over these eggs it was noticed that a few of them were becoming black in color instead of assuming the natural red color. These eggs were isolated and on May 19 three parasites were obtained from them. With these as a basis the life history was carried through nine generations during the summer. In this time over eight hundred individual parasites were bred out and the length of the life cycle was found to vary from ten days to over a month, depending on climatic conditions.

"The parasite is well distributed over the state. Specimens were taken during the summer in Ford, Kiowa, Kingman, Sumner, Cowley, Montgomery, Cherokee, Allen, Leavenworth, Atchison, Harvey, McPherson, Ellis, Rice, and Riley Counties, and the average per cent of parasites in these places was about sixteen per cent. In some of the corn fields about Manhattan as high as fifty per cent of the chinch bug eggs were parasitized."

Specimens of this insect were sent to Mr. A. B. Gehan, entomologist assistant of the Bureau of Entomology, U. S. Dept., of Agriculture, and in his report he says that the parasite is a new species as well as a new genus.

Widespread interest was aroused all over the state by this discovery, and the agricultural interests are awaiting its development with much interest.

The Pi Kappa Alphas danced informally in Aggieville hall Saturday afternoon. Lester Lair played. Professor and Mrs. Allee and Lieutenant and Mrs. Hill chaperoned.

Ralph Smith, '13, is now located at Eureka where he is working as a construction engineer for the Stingley Paving Co.

TEAM LOST TO CORNHUSKERS

TEAM SHOWED MUCH IMPROVEMENT OVER LAST GAME

MARALE MAKES SPECTACULAR RUN

Both Teams Used Line Plunging For Best Gains—Aggies Were Out Punted

The Kansas Aggies were decisively defeated by the heavy Nebraska University team on the Cornhusker gridiron at Lincoln, by a final score of 24 to 6, last Saturday, by excelling in kicking and running back punts, the Cornhuskers gained an advantage of many yards on the Aggies and were aided materially in defeating the Kansans, in this way. The great Purdy and the even greater Rutherford, skirted the Aggie ends, shot through the Aggies' line, sometimes for goodly gains, many times only to be held in the clutch of some hard tackling Aggie, and still other times to be thrown for bad losses. Coupled with the great punting of Howard, Nebraska's clever fullback, and many costly fumbles by the Aggies, the work of these two stars, downed the Lowman team.

The Aggies started the contest in great style, scoring on the first play of the second quarter. As two grapplers feel each other out and test the others agility when starting combat, just so did the Cornhuskers and the Lowmanites open the Lincoln struggle, upon receiving the kick-off, punted deep into Nebraska's territory. Line smashing, which is the "Stiehm Roller's" specialty, and punting, consumed the remainder of the opening semester's play, the ball being in possession of the Manhattan eleven on the mighty Cornhuskers' 3-yard line when the whistle blew.

Marble Shipped Past

Marble pulled the first spectacular play of the game in the first period, when he slipped around the Nebraska right end and raced 45 yards before being downed. Just as he started his run the headlinesman blew signal of off-side play and everyone stopped but the gigantic Marble. This piece of work, coupled with the general fight the team displayed throughout the remainder of the quarter, paved the way for the Aggie score. The Lowman team took the jump on the Cornhuskers on the first play of the second semester and sent "Nick" Enns off Nebraska's left tackle for a touchdown. Agnew was called upon to kick a very difficult additional point, made all the more difficult by a great angle and strong opposing wind, and failed by inches.

The Nebraska team came back with a rush after the Aggie score and captured Haymaker's punt on the Aggies 25 yard line. Terrific line plunges and fast work around the ends placed the oval on the Aggies 6 yard line from where Purdy shot through the mass for Nebraska's first score. Towle kicked an easy additional point. Five minutes later, heeled catch of a punt gave Nebraska the ball on the Aggies' 33 yard line from where Towle added three points with a kick from placement. The score jumped to 17 to 6 in the third quarter when the Nebraska team marched from mid-field to the Aggies' 2 yard line and Rutherford plowed through the line for six points. Towle adding the point. Delemeter slipped past the Aggie safeties and ran 20 yards for the final touchdown of the game. Towle again kicking goal.

Show Improvement

The Aggies played much better football than in the Southwestern game, every man working in tip-top form. Marble starred offensively, while Captain Loomis was equally good on offense and defense. Schafer, Moss, and Root, played good games at the end positions. Agnew, Enns, and Sidorfsky, played on equal terms with the Cornhuskers backfield, Hartwig, who replaced Enns in the third period, looked good in the time that he was on display. The line worked well in the opening half, but charged high in the latter part of the game. Haymakers work in the pilot position was steady and he displayed good headwork throughout the contest.

The Summary

Rutherford makes 4 through left tackle. Hallikan 7 on tackle swing. Purdy 4 through line and Towle 2 through the same hole. Purdy takes 7 around the end and Rutherford pulls 24 yards around the opposite side. Purdy loses 2 and comes again for 10 through the line. Vallis is held and Towle takes 3 through the line. Cap. President and Mrs. Waters were to have been in the line, but were out of town.

The rooms were decorated with potted plants, ferns and palms. In the serving room were bunches of violets. The refreshments consisted of punch and wafers, served by Misses Drusilla Halleck and Carrie Belle Gardner.

Mr. Lair, Mr. Young, and Mr. Kormeyer comprised the orchestra, which furnished music throughout the evening. There were about 50 present. The club has sixty members.

Miss Ruth Anderson of Lawrence, spent the week end with her parents here.

JAKE HOLMES TO COACH TEAM

SECONDARY SCHOOL EXPECTS HIM THIS WEEK

TRY TO HAVE OWN SOCIETIES

Await Action of Other Literary Societies—Class Meeting on Thursday

The School of Agriculture is rapidly taking on the manner of a regular sure-enough college. The school is going to have its own football team, coached by a K. A. S. C., football star of no mean fame, no less a person, in fact, than Jake Holmes.

Jake is expected to be in today at latest, and will immediately take up the work of getting the youngsters into shape.

Any of the men in the school are eligible to play on the team, and Principal Kent says most of them seem to expect to play.

An adequate supply of athletic supplies has been ordered, and is expected to arrive soon.

No complete schedule has been made out as yet, though Coach Lowman is working on one. The School of Ag-team may play any high school, preparatory or ward school. They may also play the freshmen of any college not in the Missouri Valley Conference. Cooper College has already written in requesting a game.

Besides the athletic end, the school is to have its own literary societies. Principal Kent communicated a set of resolutions to the Presidents' Council of the College literary societies in reference to this matter which was acted on last Saturday night.

The sum of the resolutions is that the students of the School of Agriculture be not admitted to membership in the regular college societies until he has graduated from the School of Agriculture. On his graduation he may select the College society he wishes to join, and will be admitted to that society without question. Those students who have entered the societies as sub-freshman and are now in the School of Ag. may retain their membership if they so wish.

Complete reports were not turned in as to the action taken by the societies last Saturday night.

The work done by the new societies will be very similar to the work done in the regular societies by the regular men. Principal Kent favors the smaller societies, and more of them. He says he believes that the students should run the societies themselves, and elect their own officers. It is possible the faculty will furnish supervising and criticising members.

Class meeting will be held next Thursday at chapel hour, and these questions, and other related subjects will be discussed. The first, second and third year classes will have their meetings separately.

The weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A., Thursday night, will be addressed by Rev. Goldsmith. His subject will be Rural Work Miss Louise Young, student here two years ago, is visiting with Miss Nell Longnecker. She is on her way to visit her brother Wilber Young at Plainville, Kan.

Earl Springer, '13, is now located at Gaylord, Minn. He is teaching agriculture in the High school there.

START BOXING CLUB

Membership Open to Any One Interested in Boxing

The boxing club has resumed operations. The club meets two nights a week and practices the many art of self defense at the Y. M. Gym. The Club was organized last winter and had a membership of about 40. Several sets of boxing gloves and a punching bag were purchased by the members. Several handy men with the gloves were developed.

Wesley Bruce and Otto Hubb are the officers and coaches of the club. Men of all weights belong to the club and no one need to worry about finding an opponent his weight.

Those who are interested in boxing and wish to become members may learn of the plans for this year by inquiring at the Y. M.

WITH THE WEBS

Had Big Debate Over the Wilson Tariff

The Websters had another unusually good meeting Saturday night. The general tone of the society is picking up in fine shape.

The feature of the evening was a debate on the Tariff Question. The "Wilson Bill" was successfully vindicated before the sovereign people by W. N. Skoroup, and L. W. Anderson against the well-directed efforts of L. A. O'Brien and Bob Sellars.

F. B. Nichols, '11, gave a "different" alumni-Web talk, and was a most welcome visitor.

Next Monday, the 20th, was announced as the date of the Web-Euro "Hike" to be held at some place to be announced later.

Hike to Prospect

A party of young ladies entertained with picnic supper on Prospect last Friday evening. Those who enjoyed the evening were: Misses Mabel Brown, Edith Maxwell, Elsie Adams, Kathrina Munger, Faith Harling, Margarie Creighton and Messrs. W. L. Sweet, J. S. McBride, H. F. Tagge, Joe Sweet, Ralph Little, W. A. Sumner. Miss Haas and Professor Williamson chaperoned.

THREE TEAMS SEEK MEMBERS

Y. W. C. A. HAVE A MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN TOO

HAVE SIX HUNDRED IN SIX DAYS

Announce Other Plans Which Are of Interest—Miss Cutler Coming

We're After You.—That's what the posters say today. And there's no doubt that the Young Woman's Christian Association girls are living up to it. They started yesterday morning, with the slogan: Six Hundred Members in Six Days, and it seems that they will succeed. Forty-five girls, three teams of fifteen each, are working in this membership campaign with a vim. Although the membership list of the association included over 500 last year, there are at present only about 200, but by the end of the week there will be more than three times that number.

That isn't all that the Y. W. C. A., is doing however. They are planning a very attractive college calendar which will be ready by the first of December, and which will help you solve the Christmas gift problem. Later in the year one of the National Secretaries of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Cutler of New York will conduct a Bible study institute for the girls. Miss Cutler is a graduate of the Hartford Theological Seminary and is the Bible study expert of the National Association.

ANOTHER LEAVES K. U.

Dr. W. C. Payne, Head of Bible Chair Resigns

Lawrence, Oct. 13.—Dr. Wallace C. Payne, who has been in charge of Myers hall, the Christian church Bible chair at the University of Kansas for the last twelve years, tendered his resignation today. Mr. Payne will become field secretary and Mrs. Payne Young Peoples' secretary of the Christian Women's Board of Missions. Their headquarters will be in Indianapolis, Ind.

HAVE NEW BLANKETS.

Aggies Presented a Sporty Appearance at Nebraska

The Aggies blossomed forth in the new football blankets at the Lincoln contest. Combined with the new striped-sleeve jerseys, the team put on a classy appearance. The new blankets were purchased by the athletic department and are purple backgrounds with the word "Aggie" in felt letters across the center of the square. A white border and a "K" in each corner complete the makeup of the latest addition to K. S. A. C., athletes.

Marshall-Barnard

Miss Madeline Marshall of Lincoln, Neb., and Mr. George A. Barnard of Alma, Kan., were married at the home of the bride's parents in Lincoln, Saturday morning, October 11, at eleven o'clock.

The bridal couple were attended by Miss Elsie Marshall of Clifton, Kan., a friend of the bride, and Mr. Edwin Barnard of Glacier, Texas a brother of the groom. Other out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Barnard, Miss Rose Cox and Mr. James Moran of Madison, Kan., Misses Isabel and Josephine Lawrence of Nickerson, Kan., Miss Mayme McCluskey of Junction City, and Mr. and Mrs. A. Hawke of Clifton.

Mrs. Barnard has attended college here for the last four years and has made many friends. Mr. Barnard graduated from this college in 1912 and has since held the position of Manager of the Light and Ice Plant at Alma, Kan.

Mr. and Mrs. Barnard will be at home in Alma after November 1.

Web-Euro Hike

The Webster-Eurodolphian hike has been arranged for Monday, October 20. All members of both societies should be sure to go. Particulars will be announced at the society meetings next Saturday.

CLEAN IT UP

There's an eyesore on Anderson street. It's just facing the campus, too. It will make a fine showing when the visitors come pouring into town and all of them will pass this point. It's been there since the middle of last winter when a fire started, but failed to finish a building.

The owner should have the lot cleaned up or should be made to do so. The beauty of a fine campus should not be marred by such a surrounding.

It has been talked among the students that the owner was waiting for a mass meeting and that the remains of the building would make good material for a bonfire. Maybe it would, and maybe it wouldn't. It would be dangerous to other property, if such a thing should happen. But just the same, it should be cleaned up before the anniversary celebration.

MORE CELEBRATION

The anniversary celebration is to be the big event of the year and, if possible, of the years to come. It is seldom that on institution has an opportunity for such a celebration. K. S. A. C., may feel proud of her record as an educational center.

We are now granted an opportunity which will not come to any other student body for fifty years, and it is up to the 2300 students to see that we show the work of the school in the best possible manner. We should be filled with an eager desire to do all the work possible to make the three days a never to be forgotten time.

It will be up to the student body to show the prominent men who visit us just what we are and what the college is. The impression which the students make will be the one which they will remember. The student body will have a chance to make many influential friends for the college by putting some time into the preparation of the plans.

Each division will be judged according to the merits of its display. The strongest division in the college, the one which has the largest number of students, if the students are slow to take advantage of this chance may, possibly, make the poorest impression. What's your division going to do or do you know or care?

Many of the students are failing to take any interest in the work. These same students will be seen at the celebration proudly showing "Papa" and "Mama" around the campus and will say: "Here's our display. We have the best one on the hill." And a few of the loyal K. S. A. C., students will be doing a lot of hard work.

HAS GOOD OPENING

The lyceum board is to be congratulated upon the good showing made by the first number of the series. Everyone who was present had no regret that they had invested their money in a good seat.

A large crowd was present, proving that the ticket sale had been very successful and demonstrating that the course has the financial support of the student body.

The lyceum course here is one of the strongest in the country and has always in the past been exceptionally well supported. The course is managed by a committee of students who are selected by the literary societies. The committee works hard and deserves all kinds of praise.

SENIOR WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Honors in Debate Go to W. A. Sumner, a Student in Journalism

The scholarship offered for excellence in debate has been awarded W. A. Sumner, a senior in the industrial journalism course. This scholarship amounts to $100, to be paid in monthly installments beginning November 1. Mr. Sumner is editor of the Kansas Aggie. It was entirely through the efforts of J. W. Searson, professor of the English language that the offer was made, the three donors being former debating associates of his. Two of these men are residents of other states.

The scholarship is to be not only a reward for work well done, but an incentive for further work this year. Mr. Sumner is to assist in debating this year, in whatever way is designated by the coach.

A similar scholarship is open to the competitors this year. The debater winning the highest honors, as shown by the records, is recommended by the managing coach, assistant coach, faculty debating committee, and debating council for appointment as the Forum debating scholar. The scholarship is not to be considered as a private or departmental affair. The money is paid through the regular college channels by the approval of the board of administration.

The preliminary contests are being held at present in the literary societies to determine the members of the debating class this year. The question of Philippine Independence is to be argued in the intercollegiate debates. Contests will be held with Iowa and South Dakota about the middle of November. The try-outs for the tri-state debates with Oklahoma and Colorado probably will take place before the Christmas holidays.—Kansas Industrialist.

M. U. WILL DEBATE 3 SCHOOLS

Colorado, Texas and Kansas Will Be Opponents in April

The debating squad of the University will debate against three other universities: Colorado, Texas and Kansas. The Colorado debate will be the second Friday in April; the Texas debate the second Friday in April; and the Kansas debate probably the last Saturday in April. Only the Colorado debate will be held in Columbia.

A series of tryouts will be held starting December 1. This system of trying out students a few at a time, will allow each student longer to speak, as well as give the judges a better chance to make their decisions. All students wishing to take part in the tryouts must hand their names to Prof. F. M. Tisdell, room 35 Academic Hall, on or before November 26. To those not members of a debating club, there is an entrance fee.

The subject for the tryout is: "Resolved an illiteracy test along lines provided in the Dillingham-Burnett Bill vetoed by President Taft, should be required of all immigrants." This is the subject for the Colorado and the Texas debates as well. D. C. McEwen, an instructor in English, will coach the squad.—Daily Missourian.

Another member of this company who will have a prominent part in the program is Miss Laura Werno, reader, accompanist and vocalist. As a member of the Killarney Company she will present Irish legends and readings.

"In His Steps"

Of peculiar interest to all college people is the presentation of Dr. Sheldon's well-known book, "In His Steps" at the Congregational church, Saturday evening of this week. The cast of characters includes students prominent in college circles, and this is the first time that permission has been received to give this play in this part of the state. It has been given in Topeka and in Des Moines, Iowa, and in both of these cities it was necessary to repeat the performance in order to accommodate the people who wanted to see it. Since the church will seat only five-hundred people, it is evident that only those who buy early will be able to see it.

BAND DRAWS LARGE CROWD

FIRST LYCEUM NUMBER HAD FULL HOUSE

THE HAMPS LEAD FOR BANNER

Large Attendance Guarantees Success of the Annual Society Course

An audience of about two thousand heard Natello's band at the Auditorium Monday night. This was the first number on the lyceum course, and if the others are as good the committee in charge is to be congratulated on its choice of dates. The program was especially well selected and the rendition excellent.

Olive Elsom Scharf and Mr. Ramser gave several vocal selections which were thoroughly appreciated by the crowd, as, indeed, was the entire program.

The ticket sale for the lyceum course was a success from a financial standpoint. The last two days before the reservation, several hundred tickets were sold. The final number has not yet been determined but it will be at least 1700. The auditorium seats about 2200 and nearly all of the seats were filled for the first number.

The result of the contest for the banner, which is to be awarded to the society which sell the most tickets, will be announced Saturday. From last reports the Hamps were in the lead with the Webs a close second.

HAS CHARGE OF PUBLICITY

Professor Searson Appointed Chairman of Teachers Committee

Topeka, Oct. 12.—To make the attendance at the fifty-first annual convention of the Kansas State Teachers' association at Topeka, on November 6 and 7, larger than ever before, a systematic campaign of advertising will be carried on. State Superintendent W. D. Ross and J. W. Searson, of the Kansas Agricultural college, are in charge of the publicity work.

Prominent Kansans who will address the teachers this year are Gov. George H. Hodges, former Gov. E. W. Hoch, of the state board of administration, and State Supt. W. D. Ross.

J. W. Searson has been appointed by Pres. W. S. Heuser, of the teachers' association, as chairman of the committee on publicity. Mr. Searson had charge of this department last summer for the National Educational association meeting at Salt Lake City and his success was marked. Mr. Searson will furnish material for the newspapers.

A GOOD SCHEME

But Mental Telegraphy Won't Win Games

For the first time in the history of Washington a football game played away from the city will be followed play by play over a special wire. This innovation will be made by the Y. M. C. A., here.

On Saturday, October 11, when Washington plays Kansas State University at Lawrence, Kansas, a special wire to the Stadium will bring the news of every phase of the game. A blackboard ruled to represent a gridiron will be erected, and on it each play will be marked off as it occurs. This will be free to the Student Body, and students are invited to come out and use a little mental telepathy to win the Kansas game.—University Life.

The class is taught once a week, Tuesday at the 7th hour, and has a membership of about twelve. More members are needed, and will be welcomed. The work is a treatment of the subject both historically and sociologically, and should prove helpful.

Haymaker is forced to kick 20 to Towle and no return. Gross replaces Vallis for Nebraska. Purdy's throw for a 12 yard loss and Howard is forced to punt 55 out of bounds and the ball goes to the Aggies on their 20 yard line. Marble makes 3 and Referee Maskers rules against Nebraska on an attempt to steal the ball. Nebraska off-sides, Agnew is thrown for a 4 yard loss on the next play. Loomis makes 7 and Haymaker punts 40 to Rutherford who returns 35 being downed by Cusic. Smashes by Purdy and Howard place the pigskins on the Aggies' 25 yard line as the whistle ends the half.

Score Nebraska 10 Aggies 6.
Moss replaces Root and Coxen kicks off 45 yards to Purdy who returns 15 yards. Howard punts out of bounds and Aggies failing to gain kick to Rutherford who is downed in his tracks. Cornhuskers work oval to Aggies 30 yard line and Towle makes a place kick. Aggies ball on 20 yard line. Aggies fumble ball to Hastin. Rutherford fumbles to an Aggie on the Aggies' 20 yard line. Howard makes 5 on a fake punt and the Nebraska march toward the Aggie goal line. Halligan makes 10 on a tackle swing and knocks out "Nick" Enns who is replaced by Hartwig. Towle fails to gain on two attempts but Rutherford scores on the third down. Towle kicks goal.

Score Nebraska 17 Aggies 6.
Elwell, Delameter, and Coffee replace Purdy, Rutherford, and Beck. Nebraska punts to Aggies and Haymaker is injured but continues in the game. Aggies fumble to Gross. Nebraska loses 15 for holding and Howard punts out of bounds ball going to Agges on their 20 yard line. Agnew makes one through the line and Hartwig shoots through for 10 more. Sid slips through the line for 35 yards and Haymaker falls on a pass. Hartwig makes 2 through the left side of the line and Sid held as the whistle ends the third period.

Score, Nebraska 17, Aggies 6.
Aggies ball on the Nebraska 33 yard line. Haymaker misses a pass and the ball goes to Nebraska on downs. The Cornhuskers institute a tramp up the field in which Ross recovers a 15 yard punt by Howard placing the ball on the Aggies' 20 yard line from where Delameter runs over four chalk lines for Nebraska's final score. Towle again adds the point.

Score Nebraska 24 Aggies 6.
Scanlon replaces Wehrle and Towle kicks off 35 to Hartwig who returns 20. Haymaker passes 7 yards to Loomis, and missed one to Root. Wehrle returns and Scanlon replaces Marble. Haymaker kicks 40 to no return. Nebraska makes distance in three plays and falls short on next three and Howard is forced to punt 45 yards to Haymaker who heels a fair catch on his 27 yard line, and punts 45 to no return.

Two line plunges and a penalty force Nebraska to kick 30 yards to Loomis who returns 10 to Nebraska's 42 yard line. Enns returns and replaces Hartwig, and Coffee captures Haymaker's pass to Root. Coffee, Elwell and Delameter make 7 yards. Delameter fumbles to Aggies on Aggies' 35 yard line. Marble replaces Scanlon and Haymaker is thrown for a loss on the final play of the contest.

Dear Sir:—

This is one of the big months for our business. Why? So far we have exceeded the same days of a year ago, then again we are showing a larger variety of Suits, Overcoats, Rain-coats, Sweaters, Shoes, Shirts, Underwear, Extra Pants and Furnishings than we did last year.

Why should you go elsewhere when our showing of styles and qualities are so much larger than shown by any other store in the city, and our prices, we see by comparison often are less than the credit houses. We solicit your inspection.

THE ALUMNI REGISTER

Work Almost Complete and Will Be Printed Soon

The Alumni register is in the hands of the printer and linotypists, and on their progress will depend the date of its appearance. It was a small task for the Alumni Association to vote the assessment and instructions concerning the register. It has been a very considerable task to collect the assessments and secure the information. An occasional straggling notice still comes in and the changes of address have been made up to the present time. The board of directors hopes to make this volume one that will be of very considerable use as well as interest.

In addition to the arrangement by classes, the register is to contain an alphabetical index of all the graduates. The year of graduation, it is believed, will be of more value and fully as convenient a means of locating information as would a page index. Under the graduates of each year will be grouped the information concerning their occupation and location. A geographical index also will be given.

At the association meeting, Commencement week, the board of directors was directed to secure all possible information, and then print the names of graduates from whom information had not recently been received, with an asterisk to indicate that the information was obtained from the list of graduates last published by the college, with the explanation that this information is the latest obtainable but is not guaranteed to be reliable.

Only enough books will be printed to supply the graduates who have forwarded the assessment, and the libraries of other agricultural colleges. Former students or alumni who have not already paid the assessment may still be able to secure copies by sending the assessment of one dollar to the board of directors.

NO YELL-LEADER FOR THEM

Six Freshmen Find Toomey's Try-Outs Too Strenuous

At least six freshmen have decided that they don't want to be assistant yell-leaders at M. U. Some friend, or otherwise, of theirs or of Charles C. Toomey, the yell-leader, sent these six freshmen to Mr. Toomey to be tried out as assistant yell leaders. Many new versions of the varsity yells were given by the freshmen. Mr. Toomey says he may have been given some pointers on yelling, but as yet he has not discovered them.

Each freshman was given a thorough tryout—that is he was tried out until he was too hoarse to speak. When the try-outs were over, none waited to see who was selected—the try-out was enough.—Daily Missourian.

DR. E. H. REISNER FILLS VACANCY

BECOMES ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF EDUCATION

WILL RESIGN CHAIR AT WASHBURN

Has Degrees From Yale and Columbia Universities—Takes McKeever's Place

Dr. Edward H. Reisner, Professor of Philosophy at Washburn, will become Associate Professor of Education. Dr. Reisner will fill the vacancy caused by the leaving of Professor McKeever. He has been for the past three years, head of the department of Philosophy at Washburn.

Previous to this time, he had been for two years in charge of Industrial Education work in New York City. Dr. Reisner received his A. B. and his A. M. at Yale, and has completed his work for a Ph. D. at Columbia University.

Having resigned his position at Washburn College, he will take up his work here just as soon as it is possible for the trustees to secure his successor. At Washburn, he has been one of their most popular professors and they regret his leaving.

Professor Holton met Dr. Reisner while in the east at Columbia University and speaks of him as a "growing man." He comes here because K. S. A. C. offers greater opportunities for work.

Before offering the position to Dr. Reisner, President Waters went to the President of Washburn College and laid the matter before him. The Board's action in hiring Dr. Reisner was with the full consent of the Washburn authorities.

"It is not the policy of this institution," said President Waters, to hire any professor away from any college during the college year without first obtaining permission from the head of the institution. We do this as a matter of courtesy to the other school. However, all other colleges do not observe the same courtesy with us but often hire our instructors without our knowledge."

Commenting on Dr. Reisner's resignation the Washburn College paper says:

A rumor to the effect that Dr. Edward H. Reisner might leave Washburn to accept a position on the faculty of the State Agricultural College, which has been in circulation for the last week, has only recently been confirmed. Dr. Reisner holds a very important chair on the Washburn faculty and unless a fitting substitute can be found for him in the near future, he will continue to teach here until next year. The position which has been offered to Dr. Reisner at K. S. A. C. is a marked advancement over his present one, both educationally and financially. From a standpoint of business, Dr. Reisner is under contract to teach the full year here, but as the Board of Trustees of Washburn do not wish to stand in the way of a real advancement of one of the faculty, it has been decided to allow him to break the contract, provided a satisfactory substitute can be found.

To find grounds for the rumor a letter was sent at once to President Waters of the Aggie school but up to the time of going to press, no definite word had been received.—Washburn Review.

Dr. Reisner will begin his work at K. S. A. C. some time next week.

ASK FOR MODEL CONTRACT

One Used by K. S. A. C. Debating Council to be Published

Prof. E. R. Nichols, editor of Intercollegiate Debates published by Hines, Noble and Eldridge Co., has written to Professor Seanson for a copy of a model debating contract.

A copy of the contract used in the K. S. A. C. Fairmount debate was sent him for publication.

The speeches of the tri-state teams of last year appear in this year's Intercollegiate Debate and Professor Nichols reports that he is now reading the proof and the books will be out in a short time.

SECONDARY SCHOOL SOCIETIES

Here Are the Resolutions of the Presidents Council

On recommendation of the presidents council, a movement has been started for the organization of literary societies in the School of Agriculture. A set of resolutions regarding these societies has been adopted by the council on the approval of the various literary societies of the college.

This action meets with the hearty approval of Professor Kent who is principal of the School of Agriculture.

Here are the resolutions: We, the literary societies of the Kansas State Agricultural College, do affirm and adopt the following resolutions:

First. That we instruct the Presidents Council to lend such aid as is necessary to the organization of literary societies in the School of Agriculture.

Second. That the students enrolled in the School of Agriculture shall not be eligible to membership in the societies of the Kansas State Agricultural College.

Third. That those students enrolled in the School of Agriculture, who are now members of the various societies of the Kansas State Agricultural College, shall be allowed to retain their membership in the said societies if they so desire, but that such students shall not be eligible to membership in the societies of the School of Agriculture.

The presidents Council is composed of the presidents of the literary societies of K. S. A. C., and their aim is to take up work which will benefit the societies as a whole.

LOSING MEMBERSHIP TEAM WILL GIVE A PARTY TO OTHER
MONDAY NIGHT

The Y. W. C. A., membership campaign promises to be a decided success.

The girls are working with all their might and expect to enroll several hundred new members. The campaign ends Sunday.

There are three teams to increase the membership. Monday night the losing team will give a party for the other two at the Y. W. C. A. house on Fremont. During the evening honorary degrees will be conferred upon the girls obtaining new members. Those who secured three new girls will receive a B. A.; for four an A. M.; five an A. B.; 6 a B. S.; 7 an M. D.; 8 to 10 an M. E.; 10 a Ph. D., and for the one securing the largest number a Y. W. C. A.

Many surprises are in store for the girls in the conferring of these degrees, and much fun is anticipated. All members, both old and new should make it a point to be present.

The campaign is not for new students only. Girls who have been here before, even seniors, who are not members will be especially welcome. An invitation to join is not essential. Anyone desiring to become a member has only to send in her name.

SENSATIONAL SCANDAL IN THE

Plain Clothes Men Everywhere—
Sheriff Fowler and Men Are Gathering Evidence

The Aggie Court of Peers was organized yesterday with these officers: Judge, Tom Harris; Sheriff, Shorty Fowler; Bailiff, Will Marshall; Clerk of Court, Florence Justin. The docket for the fall term of court contains some rather sensational cases. Attorneys at law, W. R. Curry, C. W. Giffin, Valeda Downing, and Margaret Walbridge have opened offices here and expect to be very busy getting ready for the opening of court, which will be sometime next month.

It has been rumored that the College fruit, which usually is guarded carefully by the Hort. Department, and later given out as a Christmas treat to the students, has been tampered with. Certain persons have even whispered that a few persimmons have been taken. Sheriff Fowler will look into this.

Plain clothes men, under Sheriff Fowler, have the Hort. Department under strict surveillance. They have little to say, but hint that they are waiting until they can get the man higher up. Sheriff Fowler says that this is a very unusual case, and that sensational developments may be expected during the next few days.

GIVE SPECIAL HELP TO THE SOCIETIES

UNDER DIRECTION OF MISS ADA
RICE MEMBERS CAN SECURE AID IN WORK

The department of English is doing a good work in helping out those students who have outside literary work to do.

Miss Ada Rice has charge of the work and the ones in need of help apply to her. She assigns them to different members of the English department who may be at liberty to assist them, and who are best fitted to their particular "stunt."

The members of the different literary societies, have been the principal ones to avail themselves of this help. Over 100 of them came to Miss Rice for assistance last year, and she expects a larger number this year.

Most of the applicants desire help in reference work on debates; "stunts" and novelties follow and are given a close race for second by calls for oratorical suggestions. Those who are preparing essays and papers seem to be the most independently inclined of any.

The English department gives no instruction in delivery, but confine themselves to helping locate references, and criticizing and advising on thought and composition.

Several of the Society members who are trying out for the inter-society oratorical contest next winter term are being coached by the department. The instructors assist them in picking their subjects, arranging their outlines, and correcting their finished "products."

PEDAGOGUES MEET FARMERS

AGGIES ALL IN GOOD CONDITION FOR GAMES

NORMALS CLAIM TO BE CRIPPLES

But It's a Safe Bet That They Will Make Game Interesting For Aggies

The Aggies play the third game of their football schedule this afternoon on the college field with the Emporia Normals at 3:30. The Lowman crew is hoped to win although the muddy condition of the field will be detrimental to classy playing and a large score is not to be expected. The Aggies have been showing constant improvement since the Nebraska game. Play has assumed snap and vigor that looks good for mid-season. The regular players are all in good condition. Frank Root received an injured ankle in the play against the Ft. Riley team Wednesday afternoon, but is expected to be able to enter the combat should he be called upon to do so.

The Aggies have been scrimmaging against the freshman-varsity eleven and the scrubs, this week, and have been making matters equally disagreeable for both teams. On Wednesday afternoon the Lowman crew tangled with the Battery E eleven of the Sixth Field Artillery, of Ft. Riley. Battery E passed through here Wednesday on its way to Ft. Leavenworth and the football team stopped long enough to give the Aggies a workout. The soldiers played their usual stunts, but to no avail and after thirty minutes of play succumbed to the Lowman pupils and to "Sir Coffin-Nail," the final count being in the neighborhood of 50 to 0 for the locals.

During the workout Coach Lowman changed the Aggie lineup constantly and shifted the regulars to other positions. Marble was shifted to fullback and looked good offensively in this position. Hartwig and Cleland were used in the backfield a part of the game and worked well. Root was injured in the melee while running from a halfback position and had to be removed from the game. Wright and Fletcher were sent in to play the tackle positions and did a good job of it for ten minutes. Skinner and Dickinson worked at the end positions a while and showed class.

The Aggies have not had much of an opportunity to display their wares this season. They did not open up any passes to speak of in the Nebraska game, being on the defensive most of the game. Out of seven attempts the Lowman tribe completed one in the Cornhusker battle, that one being straight over the line from Haymaker to Loomis. In the Southwestern game, the Aggies were hardly able to get together well enough to play straight football let alone the open style and hopes had been entertained that the field might be in satisfactory condition for the open style game today. This would permit the Aggies trying out their ability before the Kansas game, next week. But such seems not to be the case.

The Normal press agent threw out the usual bear story Thursday, saying that the Crispin eleven was crippled so severely that the Emporia mentor would experience great difficulty in preparing a lineup to cope with the Aggies today. Broken bones, dislocated joints, and severe bruises are claimed to have robbed the Teachers of their regular ends and a general shake-up will be necessary if the Emporia eleven gives the Aggies a respectable game of the national college pastime. This may be true enough but it is a safe bet that Coach Crispin will set out a fast shifty team in front of the Lowman contingent today. Captain "Ducky" White of the Emporia team is rated as being one of the best halfbacks in the State Conference, and is said to be headed for the All-State team again this year. Haskell defeated the Normals 28 to 7 a few weeks back, but that was to be expected if the Indians are to sustain their reputation as being one of the best elevens in the Missouri Valley.

JAPANESE ART VERY POPULAR

FIRST EXHIBIT SOLD RAPIDLY AND ANOTHER HAS BEEN ORDERED

The exhibit of Japanese prints and crafts which is being given in A 68 has proven to be an exceptionally successful one. Visitors by the score have been making the most of their opportunity to visit it. The Japanese have furnished the world some of the most perfect examples of design and color and reproductions of some of these masterpieces are among the display of prints.

That the exhibit is making an appeal is proven by the fact that within a day after it was first opened such a large proportion of the articles had been sold that it was necessary for Miss Colth, who is conducting the exhibit, to order a large second shipment. Of the dozen card cases ordered all were sold on the first day. Thirty-two dozen place cards were also sold the first day and orders taken for twenty-five dozen more. Other things went with equal rapidity. The additional order will arrive early next week. With the articles selling at their present rate the art department will no doubt earn a sum of money which will be of decided value in enlarging its equipment.

SANG HAIL HAIL!!

Large Body of Rooters Out Getting Up Pep for Today

The rooters were out in a body last night and paraded all over town with the band. The crowd formed up in Aggieville at the Coop corner and marched down town. In front of the Air Dome they went through a cheer practice. There were at least 800 in the bunch and they formed a parade at least a block long as they went up Poyntz.

While down town they paid their respects to President Waters but he was not at home. Mrs. Waters came out and was given several cheers. The crowd then went up toward Aggieville and disbanded at the Y. M. C. A.

Raymond and Fred Pollom were at their home in Topeka Wednesday to attend the marriage of a relative.

FIRST CALL FOR TRACK

WANT MEN FOR CROSS COUNTRY RUNNERS

THE SEASONS OUTLOOK IS DRY

Last Years Freshmen Should Be Strengthen Team—Helt Eligible For Sprints

The first call for track men was posted on the Nichols Gym bulletin board Thursday. Coach Lowman, Cross-country men are needed. The Missouri Valley cross-country meet will be held in Lincoln, November 10, and if the Aggies can put a team in the running, Coach Lowman is anxious to send the men. This is the first season for the Aggie Missouri Valley athletics proper and it is to be hoped a team will make the trip.

The Aggies bid fair to have much better track team this year than last. Many freshmen come this year's team from the freshman squad of 1913 and should bolster the 1914 team in many of last year's weak spots. P. Helt, holder of the state record in the broad jump at 22 feet one inch, and a sprinter of no mean ability, is eligible this year and should make a clean sweep of all of his races this year. Helt ran for the Aggies in the Kansas City Athletic Club's indoor meet at Convention Hall last spring and defeated a large field in the 50 yard events. He won first in the handball 50 and lost the scratch event to Carl Adams and Frizzell are new men on the field events. Both are high jumpers and cleared better than 6 feet nine inches indoors last winter. Frizzell is also a good hurdler.

Washington, an ex-Texas A. and athlete, is out for the pole vault with a good record and plenty of form, and should have little trouble in raising the present college record. Teeters proved his ability as a distance runner when he defeated Helt to, last season's star distance man in the two mile event in the Washington's Birthday handicap in Nichols Gym, last year. Teeters will make a valuable man for the team and should win many points throughout the coming season. Colth gave promise of developing into a good all-around athlete this year. Last season he won points in the weight and middle distance runs in the various local meets.

Of last year's letter men, Captain Gates, Root, Welsh, L. Collins, Jones, Marble and Smith, are eligible. Captain Gates proved a sensation in the sprints last spring and broke college records in the 220 yard sprint at Columbia in the dual meet against Missouri. L. Collins, Jones and Gates form three-fourths of last year's relay team, the remaining man for this season's team yet to be found. Welsh is a contender over the high barriers and promises well for this season. Under the tutelage of "Cap." Bryan, "Mickey" developed slowly, but surely, and pulled second to Martin, of Baker, in the State Meet in a race that broke the State record. Marble and Smith won points last year in the weight events and should repeat this season.

WE SURE HAVE

The Kansas Aggie has a worthy candidate for the all Missouri Valley title in F. H. Loomis, the tackle. Loomis can maintain the pace he set in the game against the Cornhuskers at Lincoln last week. The athlete who beats him out of a game on the mythical eleven will be a maniacal tackle.—Kansas City Star.

BREAK INTO PRINT

The Kansas Aggie will be glad to accept any contribution from any member of the faculty or the student body. There are many live issues which need discussion by the students. The last few days several students have asked to be allowed to express their opinions through the paper. Several articles have reached the paper, but they were unaccepted. In the future no articles will be published or accepted which do not have the name of the writer. It will not be necessary to give the names, but they will show that the author is sincere in his views. Of course we reserve the right to print only those of general interest and to suppress any which may create factional differences.

ARE YOU TO BLAME?

K. S. A. C. has the finest campus in the West. Natural conditions make it possible with the help of the landscape gardener. The campus is the first thing which attracts the attention of any visitor. We have a beautiful campus here and many of our visitors comment on its beauty. It is a good advertisement for the college. Other colleges have not the natural advantages for such a campus and are obliged to depend on the landscape gardener for its beauty.

K. S. A. C., also, has a public bulletin board which is located at the entrance of Anderson Hall. This bulletin board was constructed so that it would be unnecessary to place placards all over the campus. Of course in Kansas we have winds. And it is impossible to have a bulletin board located so that the wind won't blow the placards all over the hill. Have you noticed how nice it is to see a lot of old papers and cards blowing around the campus?

SOME WRITE-UP

Professor Wilson has not always been a Professor; once upon a time he was just a school teacher. However, he was a good one. He received his degree as Bachelor of Science in Agriculture from Kansas Aggie in 1905. When he was a Junior in college he received the high honor of being appointed a member of the International Stock-Judging team. In 1905 he came to Phoenix, Ariz. Since then he states very modestly he has done nothing but look pleasant and draw his salary, which assertion his record rather contradicts, for he has attained a good reputation among the stock men of Arizona, and is said to be an expert on sheep. He has been associated with the State Fair and Arizona Cattle Growers' Association. He is said to be a fifth cousin twice removed of Woodrow's.—Arizona Life.

The girls at the College of Emporia have taken to playing marbles in their spare minutes. Can this be interpreted that it will soon be time for Easter Millinery?

CLASS "PEP"

The unusual number of candidates for the position of manager of next year's class book to be commended as it indicates that the juniors have the "pep." The way to get the best man in the place is to arouse an interest in the campaign. When a large number of candidates are in the field there is no excuse for not supporting the best man.

Ability rather than personality, or pull, should be the major consideration in the selection. The class and the school is judged by the grade of the class book which the class is able to produce.

Keep Library Open

Editor of Kansas Aggie:
There is a matter of interest and concern to nearly every student in this college which I think should be changed. I take the method of writing to your paper about it in order that it may get to the attention of all.

I refer to the closing of the library and museum during chapel.

Every day those who have settled themselves for an hour or so of quiet work in the reading or reference room, are disturbed and work interrupted by the announcement that it is chapel time and the library must be cleared for half an hour. The work, no matter how important, must be dropped immediately, the unfinished reference unread, returned to the shelf to become the object of a search when wanted again.

If too late for chapel or not caring to go, the time must be spent standing in some of the halls, or in an empty class room. One almost envies the boys their custom of retreating to the entrances for "Bridge Lab." They, at least, have a definite place to go, and a definite object in going, and do not have to stand around with the time lengthening out to twice its usual duration on account of the lack of occupation.

It seems waste of time to clear the whole library out for a single half hour, and have all the distraction of coming in, finding seats, removing wraps, getting books, and settling down to go through with, before work can be resumed.

The students should have free access to the library at all times, and not have the inconvenience of being excluded from it for so short a period at such times as they do not wish to attend chapel.

I wish you would print this, and get the opinions of other students on the question. Possibly we could get up a petition which would keep the library open at chapel hour.

Yours truly, A Would-Be-If.
I-had-a-chance,—Studios Freshman.

IF

(With apologies to Mr. Kipling)
If you can keep your head, when all about you,
Are losing theirs and you are cribbing all

If you can write a quiz when all pros doubt you,
And yet make good a sudden, half-baked stall;

If you can cram, and not be tired by cramming,
Or without cramming keep a cheerful face,

Or take an oral quiz without wind jamming,
And answer stunners with an ease and grace;

If you can write out facts in any history,
That you have never heard mentioned before,

If you can clear up plots and deep dyed mystery,
That never were within your wisdoms store ;

If you can write six thousand words an hour,
And get a mark for neatness and deep thought,

If you can grin, when grins turn pale and power,
And talk across the room and not get caught;

If you can read the paper of a classmate,
Whose writing's small, and to you upsidown;

If you can ride a pony when the death rate,
Of cribbers makes the optimistic frown;

If you can have been to class each day, each hour,
And heard the jokes, if that were your sad lot;

You ought to pass, my son! It's in your power,
Perhaps you will, and then—perhaps you'll not who knew said that she was a wonderful dancer.

He roused with a start. The little freshman had asked for his knife. Instead of sharpening the pencil for her, he grudgingly handed over the knife, and went on dreaming. A few days later he had occasion to regret his unsociability.

But just now he was entirely engrossed with thoughts of the Junior girl and that evening he was made supremely happy. But his happiness was of short duration.

The girl's usual bunch of admirers was missing, so the delighted Freshman went two whole blocks out of his way in order to walk one half block with the S. J. He decided to make the best of his opportunities.

He spoke of the coming lyceum course numbers, and even went so far as to show the S. J. his ticket. She seemed interested, and asked if they were in a good location.

"Oh yes, won't you come and try them with me?" eagerly asked the G. L. F.

"Oh, George and I will sit in the center, third row back of the balcony, but," she added when she saw his disappointed expression, "I'll look around and maybe I'll see you."

As soon as he was alone, the G. L. who was not appreciated, thought of the cute little freshman in the chemistry class. He decided to honor her with an invitation to the big band concert.

But when he went into the class room the black eyed little miss was very busy talking to the young man on the other side. He knew how to sharpen pencils and was never so occupied with dreams that he could pay her only secondary attention.

"Oh yes," the G. L. F. heard her say, "that is a good location. Yes I am sure it will be good. It is so nice of you to ask me." The G. L. F.'s heart sank again.

And that is how it happened that two perfectly good seats were vacant the first night. You noticed them didn't you? Girls he's still looking for a certain S. J. and "there's a reason."

A SCHOOL BOY WROTE IT.

Now "The Typhoon" is Being Played in All Large Cities.

The coming of Walker Whiteside in "The Typhoon," to the Marshall theater on Friday night, October 24, calls attention to the fact that the author, Herr Menyhert Lengyel, a young Hungarian, was only a boy at school when he wrote the play which made him famous the world over. As a mere youth Lengyel was sent to Berlin to an academy, at which place he fell in with a group of student Japanese. Their queer ways and great industry impressed him greatly, and upon his return to Vienna he wrote "The Typhoon," which was subsequently produced in Buda Pest. It was translated later on into no less than five different languages, and at one time was being played in Vienna, Paris, London, Berlin and New York, where Walker Whiteside was appearing in it at the Hudson theater. Play writing is now looked upon with favor by our great eastern colleges, and it seems but a question of time when every school of any consequence will have a chair of play writing. Young Sheldon, whose first play, "Salvation Nell," was followed by other successes, was a product of Harvard, and Yale is also turning out some extremely talented men whose work is being eagerly sought for by our theatrical managers. "The Typhoon," as presented by Mr. Whiteside, clearly illustrates the art of construction as applied to the drama. It gradually unfolds an absorbing story of love, intrigue and passion, which ultimately reaches a tremendous climax. In fact "The Typhoon's" story is as inexorable as a Greek tragedy, resulting in the death of the two principal characters. Nowadays, little attention is paid to the so-called "happy ending." What our audiences want is action, brisk dialogue and a gripping story. The ever-lingering, sugar coated, marry-and-live-happy-ever-after play is a thing of the past. If the theme demands a tragedy for its finish, a tragedy it is, and that ends it.

Walker Whiteside's attitude toward the author of "The Typhoon" is indicative of the man. There was no copyright agreement in existence between Hungary and America when "The Typhoon" was first produced, and it is not necessary, even now, to pay royalties for Hungarian plays. Mr. Whiteside, however, pays a handsome royalty to Herr Lengyel for each and every year that "The Typhoon" is played. Last year the earnings to the author amounted to more than $30,000.

In the part of Tokerao, a young Japanese diplomat living in Berlin, Mr. Whiteside has the greatest role of his long career. In fact it is the character which made him recognized as America's greatest character actor, and should live in the annals of American theatricals as a marvelous interpretation.

The library of the University of Minnesota has recently received six small stone tablets, which are said to be among the oldest books, and contain a reasonably accurate account of the life and customs of 4700 years ago. The tablets were dug from the ruins of Bismya in Babylonia. They have been translated and given to the University by Prof. E. A. Banks of Harvard.

Nichols was Agricultural Editor of the Fruit Grower, of St. Louis, until last summer, when he resigned to take the position of Field Editor and traveling feature writer for the Capper publications.

John Voringier, '12, visited for a few days at the Sigma Nu house last week. He intends to visit here about a week, after which he will go to Florida where he will superintend a large pecan farm.

FARMERS STUDY MOTORS NOW

In College of Agriculture Attention Is Given to Gasoline Engines

The College of Agriculture of the University is offering a new course this semester. It is called Construction Methods, and undertakes the making of concrete posts and tiles, farm buildings, including planing and the carpenter work. M. A. R. Kelley, instructor in farm engineering has charge of the work.

The old course in Farm Engineering in the College of Agriculture has been changed to Farm Machinery and Motors. It now covers five hours instead of three. The change was made so that more time could be made in studying the gasoline engine.

Next semester a new course, Farm consist of farm drainage and surveying. The title is the same as the old course which dealt with farm machinery, but the work is different.

MAKE DISCOVERY IN BREADMAKING

PROFESSORS SWANSON AND CALVIN DETERMINE AMOUNT OF MALT TO BE USED

Professor C. O. Swanson and Professor John W. Calvin, of the chemistry department, made some very interesting discoveries last spring. They were working with the problem of breadmaking, and the amount of malt extract required in the process.

It was found that certain enzymes, or organic secretions in the flour, were capable of converting almost twenty-five per cent of the flour into the reducing or simpler sugars, through the action of these enzymes.

The experiments were chiefly given up to the determination of the best temperatures, proper assisting ingredients, and other conditions for the best results.

It was found that about eighty-eight per cent of the action took place in the first hour in which the flour and warm water were allowed to interact. The optimum, or best temperature for the mixture was found to be about sixty-five degrees Centigrade, or one hundred and seven degrees Fahrenheit.

The proper proportion of flour and water was also given careful consideration, and was found to be from one part of water to four of flour, to one part of water to ten of flour.

The different grades of flour acted in very different manners under the tests, the high grade flours proving much more sensitive to the action.

A particularly close investigation was made of the effect of certain chemicals when put in the presence of the action. Sulphuric acid retarded the action to a considerable extent. Sodium Hydroxide had a similar effect. Sodium chloride, in various strengths, retarded the action least of all.

The practical application of the results will be in the amount of malt extract which will have to be used as food for the yeast in bread making. This can be intelligently regulated by governing the conditions of temperature, reagents and length of time.

The result of the experiment attracted attention in scientific circles, and the report of the authors was published in one of the chemical journals.

VALLEY SETTLEMENTS

How Controversy Stays Missouri Valley Conference

Lawrence, Kas., Oct. 15.—In reply to statements printed in Lincoln which reached the university today, Manager W. O. Hamilton, director of Jayhawk athletics, gave out a statement this morning emphatically denying some of the warmer insinuations advanced and repudiating many of the more extravagant statements. A Lincoln newspaper says:

"Should Kansas try to make any more trouble for the scarlet and cream school the Nebraska athletics authorities, who have become disgusted with Jayhawk tactics, would not need a great deal of persuasion to sever relations with the Lawrence school."

The athletic authorities of both the Universities of Kansas and the Kansas Agricultural college at Manhattan have lodged protests with the Nebraska athletic board, asking that Clinton Ross, the gigantic colored guard, be barred from the games between Nebraska and these institutions.

"Kansas university has a habit of protesting Nebraska football players. Time and again the Cornhusker coaches have received authentic word that professional ball players and ringers were being used by the Southerners, but never has Kansas been asked to bar a member of a team. Guy Reed has received information from friends in Kansas that the Jayhawk team which will take the field against Nebraska is bolstered up in a number of places by players who are not exactly in line with the Missouri valley rules and regulations."

Manager Hamilton said:

"The University of Kansas has made no formal protest against the playing of the negro Ross on the football team of the University of Nebraska. As manager, I have not thought it necessary to issue any protest against the negro's playing, as there was an agreement, as I understand, acquiesced in by the Nebraska authorities at a meeting of the Missouri valley conference at Columbia, Mo., last December that negroes should not be used in conference games. We did protest the negro in the track meet at Lincoln last May, or rather we asked why he was being used, and Dr. Clapp informed me that the agreement was only in games of personal contact, such as football and basket ball."

"This agreement was brought about not by the fact that any one team had a negro in it, but from the fact that Missouri university and Washington university absolutely refused to play against negroes. The conference games that are played are played for a so-called championship and it certainly gives no line on the championship to have Missouri play against a team of certain players and then Kansas play the same team with different players, and that is the reason for an agreement equalizing the conditions."

Hamilton also stated that no man is allowed to contest for a Kansas athletic team on McCook field unless his complete eligibility has been examined and full proofs are in the hands of the athletic coaches concerning his scholastic work.—Kansas City Journal.

UNITED PRESS SPORT NEWS

(By Hal Sheridan)

New York, Oct. 13.—With hard practice sessions during the coming week, the big Eastern colleges football teams probably will furnish a good line on just what they have in stock in the games scheduled for next Saturday.

When Yale, Harvard, Princeton and the other big eleven were called to the field for practice today the coaches began putting finishing touches on the machine play. The games Saturday showed that many of the rough spots had been worked out. The teams are fast rounding into form and real football will be under way from now on.

Harvard is slower than some of the other teams in hitting the form that probably will be shown in the big games. The attack has not been what it should be as was indicated in Saturday's game, when Williams held the Crimson to three points for nearly three full periods. The question of a quarterback has been bothering Coach Haughton. Bradley has shown better form than the others of the trio being tried out, but many of the railbirds believe Mahan may yet be shifted to the position.

Yale started the week with a shift in the end positions as an experiment. Roberts and Brann were taken from the scrub team and will be tried out in place of Avery and Carter.

Gale appears to be the best end in Yale's squad, but he was injured Saturday and will be out for 10 days. Cornish will continue to work at quarter in place of Wilson. This shift is regarded as responsible in a great measure to the improvement shown by the Blue.

Princeton has yet a great deal of work to do before the top form is reached. The defense against open formations and the forward pass showed improvement Saturday, but is not yet up to the mark. There will probably be several shifts in the line this week.

The Army, Navy and Pennsylvania showed that they are coming along in rapid strides. The Army is playing without Hobbs, who is to be kept out of the games until the big battles are "on."

Cornell is in for a week of it. They showed a woeful weakness in handling the forward pass against Carlisle.

COLORADO WARMS UP

Get Ready to Beat K. S. A. C., and Oklahoma Next Spring

Do you want to get the thrill that comes from mental contest? Do you want the development that comes from a well regulated combat of brains? Can you stand on your feet before an audience and express yourself convincingly? To bring these questions before the student body and to urge participation in the tri-state debate was the intent of the chapel exercises Monday, September 29.

The hour was turned over to the last year's debaters and to the new debate coach, Mr. Westfall. Mr. Garvin gave a brief history of the debate movement and also of last year's contest. He said, speaking in behalf of himself and Mr. Decker: "We worked very hard and we lost, but we are going after them again, with the intention of winning."

Mr. Collopy maintained that debating in college stands as the last step in a line of work that began in the grades when one had to recite "Mary Had a Little Lamb." Both exercises point to efficiency in expression, an important accomplishment.

That debating has an enjoyable element, as well, was brought out by Mr. White. He gave a very graphic description of the mystery of eggs or the advantages of a stand-in with the waitress. Mr. Decker was the last one of the debaters to speak. With his usual fluency, he reiterated Mr. Garvin's contentions by saying, "It was hard to appear before our own student body and lose." He contended further that the paramount issue in debating is to attain accuracy and dispatch in expression.

Mr. Westfall was then introduced as the best obtainable man to lead the Aggie debating teams. He held that debating was a contest, that it challenges manhood. Mr. Westfall displayed that power of conviction which he maintained was an important function in successful speaking.—Rocky Mountain Collegian.

WILL NEED CONDITION

K. U. Getting Ready for Drake and Aggies

Lawrence, Kan., Oct. 13.—The University of Kansas football team, which on Saturday overwhelmed Washington university, was out on McCook field today for a light practice. The team came out of the Saturday game without injuries. Coaches Mosse and Frank told the men that while the coaches were well pleased with the showing against the Washington eleven the men should realize that the opponents they will go against in the next three weeks will be much stronger than the Washington team. The coaches cautioned the players not to be over confident.

During the week two days will be given out to secret practice in preparation for the game with Drake at Lawrence next Saturday. While work this week is directed mainly in preparation for that game, the idea of the coaches also is to have the team in the best possible condition for the game at Manhattan the following Saturday, when it will clash with the Kansas State Agricultural college for the championship of the state.

At Illinois
Each fraternity at Illinois has volunteered to support of its own free will the football eleven for two weeks, the dinin table beln rotated about between the different houses until the season comes to its close. The house cook prepares each meal, while the athletic department attends to the purchasin of the food. This plan not only renders possible the maintenance of an efficient dining table for the men without needing any deception as to its real purposes, but at the same time exert a real inducement toward getting all of the men acquainted with students whom they might not meet otherwise, and provides for the social life of the team at the same time.

AT CLASS MEETING
Senior and Junior Classes Have a Very Busy Time.

The junior and senior classes each had interesting class meetings Thursday. And as a result the atmosphere is charged with politics.

The juniors nominated their candidates for the position of class book chairman. There were four nominations: Dave Shull, of the horticultural course; W. F. Smith, general science course; W. L. Loomis, electrical engineering course and H. C. Colth, industrial journalism course. The election will be next Thursday. The seniors brought up the question of voting $300 to be divided $200 to the Chairman of the class book committee and $100 to his assistant, as pay for the work that these two members of the committee do on the class annual. After a short discussion the motion was laid on the table. A committee was appointed consisting of R. H. VanScolk, chairman; and four other members to get the class pins. The pins will cost about two dollars each. The committee will open the office opposite the postoffice some time next week and take orders for the pins.

—When You Buy Shoes

When a man or woman buys a pair of shoes, they like to know something about the reputation of the maker.

When you buy a shoe with the SELZ trade mark stamped on it, you are getting the best shoe you can buy for the money, because that mark will not be attached to anything but a good shoe, and when it is placed there, a guarantee tag, that leaves no doubt, accompanies the shoe.

We don't believe you can get as strong a reason for buying any other shoe, that's why you ought to buy SELZ Shoes.

CROSS COUNTRY MEN

K. S. A. C. Should Send Team to Valley Contest

Where are the cross-country men? Coach Lowman says he will send a team to the Missouri Valley cross-country meet which will be held in Lincoln, early in November, providing any runners come out for the work. At Lincoln, the cross-country squad has been at work for two weeks and the men are all doing promising work. The meeting will be held under the auspices of the University of Nebraska this year and Guy Reed, the Nebraska coach, claims the course is the best over which the races has ever been run in the history of the meet.

A COLLEGE PAPER

The following extract was printed recently in a college publication in answer to the question, "What is the use of the college paper, anyhow?"

"In colleges and universities today the college paper is the one institution which cannot be killed. It may be on the verge of bankruptcy, its promoters may be expelled from school, and the editor may have to run to preserve his life, and yet the old paper still comes out on time. The students may not subscribe for it, the advertisers may refuse to give longer to charity, and the paper may be the object of universal ridicule, but there is always some fellow who will work all night, flunk in classes, and give his last cent to keep the paper alive.

"Of course college papers have their fat years like other institutions. Their editors do not always need a shave, the business manager is occasionally seen in a new suit, and frequently a body of students will be induced to subscribe quite generally. Sometimes the college paper is even in good repute. Its poetry is endured for a season with no show of violence, its swollen ideas concerning its own importance are charitably accepted, and its stories of big athletic prospects, its enrollments and brainy stuff, are received for the truth.

"Perhaps the reason for the longevity of the college paper is that it has acquired the habit of boosting everything that could withstand a boost. If there are only five faculty members and fifty students at the president's reception the paper will write of a great throng of happy guests, and when the school's teams are defeated in every game there is no athlete who is not referred to as worthy of a place on the all-star aggregation.

"In the early days of higher education college papers appeared intermittently, once or twice a year; then the publication stalked forth in monthly form with long stories and treatises; later the advertisers were induced to pay for weekly issues; and now any large university should be able to publish a morning and an evening daily. What ever becomes of the college paper of future years, even though it continues to rustle its pages in the faces of many non-subscribers, it will never lose any of its vigor until all things collegiate pass away."—Exchange.

FOUGHT TO WEAR CAPS

Many regrets have been expressed the last few days that the freshmen have not adopted the custom of wearing caps, green or otherwise. Many students hoped the freshmen of their own initiative would get busy and surprise the rest of the college by "sporting" new caps at the K. U. game next Saturday.

Last year's class, of their own free will, voted to wear the caps and did so. They had the best of college "pep" when they wore them. It was thought, at times, that the cap custom would be started and that this year's freshmen would continue the custom.

This year's freshmen have the "pep" as they demonstrated at the chapel the other morning. They have a live class organization and are trying to "show up" the other classes.

Freshmen caps are not a new thing at K. S. A. C. as is shown by this extract from the records of the freshman class of 1905.

"On September 20, 1905, five hundred and forty-seven freshmen enrolled at the Kansas State Agricultural College. It was the largest class which had ever climbed the hill, and great things were expected from its members. And thus far they have been realized to the fullest extent.

"The freshmen showed that they were not lacking in class spirit by purchasing class caps early in the winter term. Trouble was soon afoot, for the envious sophomores tried to "swipe" a few of them. This misdemeanor was continued until a number of the enthusiastic freshmen felt called upon to teach the noble sophomores a lesson. This was done in various ways. Some of them being disturbed from their peaceful slumbers and taken out for a midnight walk. A few days later, followed the "Battle of the Caps," and no more caps were stolen thereafter."

MUST BE STOPPED

The suspension of two members of the student body and their probable punishment for petty thieving will, it is hoped, be a lesson not only to the thieves, but to others who have not the moral backbone to do what is right.

Petty thieving at K. S. A. C. must stop. There is no more of this kind of stealing going on here, than at other colleges. The rest of the student body need not feel ashamed because two out of 2300 have fallen. There are many opportunities for petty theft here, because of the carelessness of students. Students are criminally careless when they leave valuables where they may tempt men of weak moral fiber.

The punishment of these two men will surely be a sufficient warning to all so that there need be no repetition of the shameful occurrences of the past week.

OR TRY A GRIN

"The Normal Bulletin came out last Saturday with a great spread of ink on the front page which said: "Will we beat the Aggies? Well, I should smile!" And we might add smile—and keep smiling, that's all you've got coming to you.

SIGN UP

Several voluntary contributions of poetry and prose were sent to the editor of the Aggie this week. It is necessary for all such contributions to be signed or they will not be published. If you are ashamed to sign them should we not be ashamed to print them?

There's one thing that the faculty committee in charge of the celebration next week must not forget, and that's to be sure and NOT invite the bad weather man.

Engagement Announced

At a seven o'clock dinner Friday evening, October 17, the engagement of Miss Mary Austin to Dr. John Gingery of Columbia, Mo., was announced by the bride-elect. The wedding will take place in Manhattan, December 20.

Miss Austin was a member of the '12 class and has many friends in college. "Jack" Gingery was captain of the Aggie football team in 1910, and is well known and liked by all the students. He is a member of the Tau Omega Sigma fraternity. Mr. Gingery is at present with the Missouri University at Columbia.

Those present at the announcement dinner were: Mrs. Ed. Dearborn of Kansas City, Misses Jessie Nichols, Alta Roberts, Amy Batchelor, Georgia Roberts, Florence Rose, Bertha and Bernice Truesdale, and Nel Beaubien.

The color scheme was pink and white, and the decorations were of pink and white-roses.

Francis Milliken, '09, assistant entomologist of the bureau of entomology of Washington, D. C., visited the college Saturday. Mr. Milliken took graduate work in the department of entomology and was assistant entomologist in the Kansas experiment station until the summer of 1912, at which time he resigned to take the position with the bureau of entomology at Washington. Mr. Milliken is stationed at Garden City and is in charge of the sugar beet and other truck garden insects.

"Comps" at Texas U.

The athletic council has made a change in the method of issuing complimentary football tickets to members of the teams, which it is believed will meet with the approval of the squad. In the past these tickets have been issued without regard to a man's service on the team. The new plan aims to recognize and reward such service. In the future men who have been on the squad one year will receive one ticket each, two year men two tickets, three year men three tickets, and four year men four tickets.—Daily Texan.

Prof. E. L. Holton and Supt. E. C. Johnson will go to Waukegan Friday for a community meeting. Professor Holton will speak in the afternoon on Community Buildings, and Mr. Johnson in the morning on Farm Management.

Don F. Jones, instructor in charge of the horticulture department at Syracuse University, has written to the horticulture department here, asking to exchange varieties of apples for use in his pomology classes.

Frank Howe, visited friends in Junction City over Sunday.

FINALLY CATCH LOCKER THIEVES

SOME OF THE VALUABLES STOLEN HAVE BEEN FOUND—WILL BE PROSECUTED

Two students, Glen Chartier of Clyde, Kan., and Clarence Brown of Dwight, have been expelled and will be prosecuted for stealing articles from the lockers in the Gymnasium. This is the first time anyone has been caught swiping things this year. The two boys have confessed to stealing many of the articles. The college officials are still working on the case and may get several others before the week is out.

Chartier has admitted stealing a pair of football shoes, a gold watch and a fountain pen out of the lockers at the Gym. Brown has admitted stealing a football suit, baseball bat, and a rain coat from the Gym and a pair of overalls from the shops.

A bunch of keys was missed at the Gym Friday afternoon, and everyone in the gym was searched. The keys were found under Chartier's locker. Chartier was taken before President Waters. When his room was searched the articles were found. Monday, Brown confessed having placed the keys under Chartier's locker.

DEBATE TRY-OUTS WINTER TERM

WILL HAVE PRELIMINARIES AFTER VACATION—QUESTION IS DECIDED

The debating council has decided that the preliminary try-outs for next winter's debating team will be held the first part of the winter term. At this time, the debaters for the tri-state debate with Colorado and Oklahoma Agricultural Colleges will be chosen. Another debate will also be scheduled with some of the nearer colleges, probably with Washburn or the Normal.

The try-outs will come after the vacation so that they will not interfere with studying for the final examinations, and because it would be possible for the different contestants to work up their debates during the vacation.

K. S. A. C. should have some strong teams this year for the societies are taking more and more interest in debating each year. Last year the team won every debate and the coaches hope to repeat last year's success this year.

Each society is limited as to the number of possible men it can have on the team and through the elimination contest there is much society rivalry to see which society can place all of their men on the team.

Places upon the team are worth working for because of the honor, and then, incidentally, a possible trip is an additional incentive.

Many members of the different societies have already started to work for the contests. The exact wording of the question has not been determined but it will be upon the subject of the Panama Canal tolls. The affirmative will maintain that all tolls should be equal and the negative will contend that the United States should have a lower rate.

NEBRASKA DAIRY TEAM

Have selected Men to Judge in National Contest

The tryouts for the dairy team which will represent the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture in the National Dairy Show at Chicago resulted in the selection of R. J. Posson, J. B. Shepherd, H. N. Thomas, and F. J. Chase, alternate.

The show occurs October 22 to November 1, the judging contest in which the team competes coming on October 24. All the leading agricultural schools of the country participate in this contest, fourteen different schools taking part last year. Nebraska probably has the highest record in taking first place, winning the cup in 1910 and in 1912.

The team left yesterday for the Waterloo, a. Cattle Congress, and will remain there three or four days, after which they will attend cattle shows at Waukegan, Peewaukee and other points in Wisconsin, judging at each place. They were accompanied by Mr. Jensen to Waterloo, and will be joined by Professors Frandsen and Woodward at Waukegan.—Daily Nebraskan.

Miss Mary Turner, '12, a former member of the Kansas Aggie staff is now located in New Orleans, La., where she is teaching Domestic Science in an Industrial school.

FAVORABLE COMMENT

Prof. J. W. Searson Will Also Handle Publicity for State Meeting

Prof. J. W. Searson has received much favorable comment in a number of the leading school journals on account of his excellent work in the publicity department of the National Educational Association which meets at Salt Lake City this summer.

The English Journal published by the University of Chicago had this item:

"Nothing concerning the recent meeting of the National Educational Association at Salt Lake City is more worthy of praise than the notably good reports printed by the local newspapers. This was due, in part to the very efficient services of the new publicity department of the association, in charge of Mr. J. W. Searson of the Kansas Agricultural college."

"Abstracts of the various papers and addresses of the convention were faithfully and accurately published while certain important speeches were printed in full. There was no attempt, moreover, to exaggerate convention gossip or appeal to sensational lovers."

"This is much more than can be said for the press in the large cities in which the conventions of the N. E. A. have been held for the last two or three years."

BUILD AT STATE NORMAL

Emporia School to Have a $60,000 Building

The main building of the State Normal School at Emporia is to be rebuilt within the next year. The last legislature appropriated $60,000 for the current biennium for this purpose, and the State Board of Educational Administration is taking steps to carry out the plan. Mr. George Kessler, of Kansas City, who laid out the park system of Kansas City, has been retained as landscape architect for the state schools, to make plans for the beautifying of the campus of each school and to assist in locating future buildings. Mr. Kessler will be associated with State Architect C. S. Chandler, of Topeka, in deciding the manner of treatment of the present main building at the Emporia Normal School, and it is believed that work may begin within a few months.

The present main building was constructed in parts, at intervals from 1880 to 1895. The scope of the school has expanded rapidly and the student attendance has become larger so constantly that more room is urgently needed for both instructional and administrative departments. The rebuilding of the main building will go far toward making the State Normal School the best equipped teachers' colleges in the country, inasmuch as the other present buildings, the gymnasium, library, science hall, and training school, are nowhere excelled for their purposes.

CLASSY PLAYING BEAT NORMALS

TEAM SHOWS WONDERFUL IMPROVEMENT IN LAST GAME

HEAVY LINE WAS A STONE WALL

Normals found it impossible to Buck Line—Aggies Can Handle The Pass

The worm turned and the Aggies plowed through mud ankle deep, back and forth across Ahearn Field last Saturday afternoon and planted the pigskin behind the Kansas State Normal goal posts five times. The final count totaling 33 to 0. The Aggie goal was never in danger. Forward passes put the Normal machine on the Aggies 30 yard line in the final period of play, but they went no farther. The improvement in play of the Aggies was wonderful. Line smashing such as rivaled that of Prather or any of the old timers was in evidence. Mud was no hindrance. The Aggies were speed mad. They forward passed when it was necessary and gained through the Crispin team at will.

On the other hand the Normals gained chiefly through use of the forward pass and through Captain White's end runs. Never through the Lowman line. The Aggies played stone wall defense and tore up the Normal line. Captain Loomis continued to pave his way to the mythical "All-Valley" team by his great work throughout the game. Schafer and Moss displayed fast football at the end positions and Schafer gained well with the pass. Haymaker played a great game at quarter. His returning of punts surprised everyone. On the kickoffs he averaged better than 45 yards. Dresser displayed the fight and ran the team for a touchdown. He returned punts in excellent style.

The Aggie backfield deserves special mention. Agnew, Enns and Sidorfsky starred in the fray and showed class. Hartwig replaced Enns later in the game and the way he tore holes in the Emporia's lineup made one think of old timers. Briney looked good in the time that he was on display. Marble was fresh and he piled the Normalites up on his smashes from the fullback position in the last minute's play.

The Summary
The Aggies won the toss and chose to defend the west goal. Morgan kicked off for the Emporia's 30 yards and Haymaker returned the ball 20 yards. Enns smashed the line for 4 yards and Sidorfsky slid around left end for five more. Isaacs was injured for the Teachers and replaced by Nichols. Enns went around right end four yards; Agnew hit the line for 3 and Haymaker made it first downs. Sid right end 5 and Agnew was held. Enns tore off 4 through the line and on the next play made first down. Agnew failed to gain and the Aggies lost 15 on a penalty. A shift play netted Agnew 5 yards, and Haymaker missed a pass. Sid was held and Haymaker punted 25 yards, to White who returned the oval 3. Sid threw Nichols for a 5 yard loss and White fumbled and recovered, but Agnew threw him for a 10 yard loss and Morgan was forced to kick about 12 yards to Haymaker who returned the ball to the Aggies' 20 yard line. At the Game Saturday Overheard on the sidelines this week.

He—The field is muddy today. The fellows will get awfully dirty.
She—That won't make any difference.

He—Won't make any difference; Why not?
She—Well, they have a scrub team, haven't they?

They Must Have One
The football team of the University of Kansas and also that of the Kansas Agricultural College are protesting against playing Nebraska University because the latter has a negro in the line-up, says the Ottawa Herald. This reminds us of the Washburn game last year, when Sweat, the burly negro halfback, was sent in against them. All the Washburn players said, "Kill him." "Kill that nigger." Sweat only grinned and played his steady game, making gains whenever given the ball. Sweat couldn't help it because he was black. His color didn't keep him from playing a clean game, which won him the admiration of all football followers. —Normal Bulletin.

PARADE IN NIGHT SHIRTS

Students Celebrated Victory With Songs and "Snake Dance."
The first post-victory celebration of the year began with a "night shirt parade," by twelve hundred students after the Oklahoma game last night. At 7 o'clock last night, almost a thousand students had gathered around the columns of the quadrangle. The parade increased in numbers on the way to the downtown street.
The students went to Christian College where they yelled and were greeted by the young women of the school with "Old Missouri." Then they returned to town and paraded and "snake danced" up and down Broadway.—Daily Missourian.

Kansas continued on the flowery path of victory last Saturday when the Moose-Frank eleven defeated the Drake University team 11 to 0. Drake put up the fight in the first half and weakened permitting the Kansans to play rings around the Iowans in the final periods. The forward pass was used effectively, being responsible for the Kansas touchdown. A safety by Turner, a goal from placement by Weldline, and a touchdown by Wilson spelled the defeat of the Drake machine.

Out playing their rivals in every department of the game the Michigan State Agricultural College team defeated the Michigan University eleven last Saturday for the first time in the history of athletics between the two schools. The final count was 12 to 7. Let us hope that a similar article may be written after next Saturday's battle on Ahearn Field.

The University of Pittsburg team at Pittsburg, Pa., defeated the Carlisle Indians Saturday, 12 to 6. Carlisle will miss Thorpe and Powell. Powell plays with the Haskell Indians this season. Smiley, Tomlinson, Ammons, and a couple of ex-College of Emporia football players are playing "semi-professional football" for the U. of Pittsburg this year.

The West Pointers kicked a goal from touchdown following a 45 yard run for a touchdown on the return of a punt by Abel, of Colgate, and the Army eleven defeated the Albany eleven 7 to 6. Colgate had the game on ice until the fatal fortieth second of the final minute of play.

Texas University beat Baylor last Friday scoring 12 touchdowns and made three of them in the first quarter. Texas has been mistreating all of the teams in that part of the country. The Aggies make a long trip down there to play them November 18.

Funny how some things work out! Kansas U. opened the football season defeating the Wm. Jewell eleven, 7 to 0. Yesterday under very similar climatic conditions Washburn trounced the Missourians 24 to 0.

Missouri out fought the Sooners and defeated Bennie Owen's team 20 to 17. Two of the Oklahoma players, said to be stars, were thrown out of the game on account of the three year eligibility ruling in the valley.

Last year the "Big 6" champions, Wisconsin, defeated Perdue 53 to 0. This season the Perdue Boilermakers staged a spectacular 70 yard run and tied the last year's champions at 7 all.

Milwaukee is taking the starch out of the Western League champions in the present Post-Season series. Last year Minneapolis lost six games to Denver in the series for the championship of the middle-west.

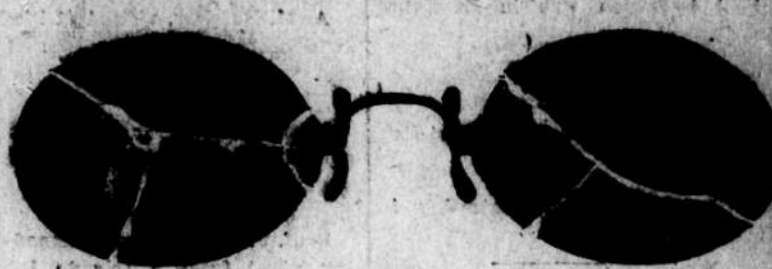

Captain Bryan's team at the Colorado School of Mines journeyed to Laramie, Wyo., last Saturday and trounced the Wyoming University eleven to the tune of a 41 to 0 score!

Ames had little opposition, winning from the Washington University eleven last Saturday, the final score being 37 to 7 for the Ames bunch.

Referee Quigley Says They Look Like a Different Team.

E. C. Quigley of St. Marys, who refereed the Aggie-Normal game here Saturday, thinks Lowman has worked wonders with the Aggie team during the past two weeks. Quigley saw Southwestern trounce the Aggies in the opening game of the season, but Saturday night he said the Aggies looked like a different team now. He even went far enough to make the statement that K. U. couldn't have beaten the Normals as badly as the Aggies did. He refused to comment on the probable outcome of the Aggie-K. U. game to be played here next Saturday.

PRACTICE BASKET BALL

Fifty Men Reported for Practice at Lawrence

Lawrence, Kan., Oct. 17.—Fifty men reported last night to Coach Hamilton for basket ball practice at the University of Kansas. Such a large number working out for a possible squad of nine or ten regular players gives Kansas a good chance for a championship team this year. The return of Van Der Vries, the star forward of the 1908 team, gives Kansas one of the fastest men she has had for several seasons. Captain Sprout, Dumire, Smith, Van Der Vries, Weaver, Folks, Hoffman, Nelson, Cantrell, Laird, Roust, Ferguson, Kent, Cole, Herrod and Brown are the most likely candidates for the squad. The first five men in the list are "K" men, all of last year's regulars, except Van Der Vries.

In order to be entitled to the $125,000 offered by the general education board of New York. The two conferences, at the suggestion of Bishop W. O. Shepard, Kansas City, Kan., will attempt to obtain $180,000 of the necessary fund in their three hundred charges comprising the eastern third of Kansas.

WILL HAVE CLASS ANNUAL

K. U. Seniors Vote For a Six Dollar Assessment

With about 150 members present, the senior class at its meeting in Snow hall after chapel this morning adopted the six-dollar annual plan as given in Thursday's Kansan, as follows:

Six-dollar voluntary assessment for seniors, for which each senior will get an annual and his cut.

Manager and editor to get salary of $100 each, and elected by senior class next Thursday. Two assistant managers appointed from senior members of Student Council, salary $50 each.

The meeting was short and spirited. President Holloway asked for a rising vote from all seniors who wanted a book this year and got a unanimous vote. Paul Ross read the report of the annual committee which recommends the above plan. On motion this plan was adopted. Daily Kansan.

OFFER REWARD

Missouri Students Form a Club to Catch Thieves

With the object of putting a stop to the wholesale "swiping" about the University, 110 students have pledged fifty cents apiece for the conviction of anyone caught stealing the property of students in the University.

The pledge signed by the 110 students, most of whom are upper classmen, is as follows:

"We, the following students of the University, subscribe the amount of 50 cents per person to a fund as a reward for the detection and conviction before the Student Senate of any student caught taking the property of any other student on the campus or in any University dormitories."

Volney McFadden, a senior in the school of Law of the University, who is responsible for the getting out of the petition, said this afternoon, "There has been entirely too much stealing about the University this year. The theft of $100 worth of property has been reported to me since I have been working on this petition, as having been stolen from students since school began."

"Many of the persons who took tennis rackets, balls, golf clubs, gymnasium shoes and the like, most of us believe, did not realize what they were doing. They simply carried them off because they thought they could get away with them." Daily Missourian.

HISTORY WELL RECEIVED

Professor Taylor's Syllabus Used at Harvard

Professor R. G. Taylor, of the history department, has compiled a syllabus of Kansas history which is meeting with universal commendation.

The book, which was issued last winter, is chiefly a reference work. It gives references, and arranges outlines in such a manner that the student can, with the least trouble, find information on the particular phase he happens to be working on, without an aimless search.

The outlines are balanced in such a way as to be not only valuable in the treatment of Kansas history, alone, but in its relation to national history. The references given are selected from historical works most likely to be available to the common school and to high schools. Many of the references are from narratives and accounts written by eye-witnesses, and have been gathered with a particular thought to their unity and accuracy.

The pamphlet has twenty pages, including the introduction and a complete bibliography in the back. It is crammed with valuable outlines, with their accompanying references, arranged in the most convenient way.

The syllabus is being used here in college in the elective in Kansas History, and as a reference work by Professor Turner, of Harvard, in his classes in Western History, and in other educational institutions.

W. E. Comfort is back in school after two week's leave of absence.

Mr. Carl Breese, who graduated from college in 1912 and who was visiting friends here the past week, has returned for the second year with the General Electric Company of Lynn, Mass.

McKEEVER'S PLANS.

Outlines Work That He Intends to Do for the State

Professor McKeever, formerly of K. S. A. C., has given out an interesting interview through the United Press, of what he intends to do in his new department of Child Welfare.

First among the efforts of this new department to make out a more complete and unified plan in behalf of boys and girls—to redirect the lives of town and city children—will be the following:

I. A plan for the vacation employment of the city school boys. The chief purpose will be to provide work that is disciplinary, and helpful to his character as well as remunerative in a small degree.

II. The formation of parents' clubs and such kindred organizations as parent-teacher associations. In this connection, it is hoped that there may be frequently an opportunity to offer parents a short course in child psychology, say six to a dozen lectures extended through a week's time.

III. The establishment of playgrounds and social centers for the young. There is already much interest in this matter throughout the state, but the enthusiasm for it needs expert advice and guidance.

IV. Assistance in the organization of civic improvement clubs, in all cases, where the proposed program of work includes the local child welfare interests.

V. To offer individual counsel and advice through correspondence to parents who have special problems in the training of their own children.

In short, the effort will be to supplement the child welfare work already being done by the school, the home, and the other institutions. Thus we may be enabled to make out a larger and more unified plan for the training of the boys and girls of Kansas.

Mr. J. S. Houser, who graduated from K. S. A. C. in '04, is visiting relatives and old college friends in Manhattan. Mr. Houser is associate entomologist of the Ohio experiment station. After graduating from the college, he was made assistant entomologist in the Ohio station. He worked there for three years, after which he went to Cuba as state entomologist. Later, he took graduate work at Cornell University and obtained a master's degree.

Mr. Earl Denman, who has been visiting Manhattan friends the past week or so, returned by way of Kansas City to Pittsburg, Pa., where he is working for the Westinghouse Electrical Company.

MORE EXTENSION WORK

Colleges to Equip Men for Work They Are Now Doing

The Kansas Board of Administration, in charge of the educational institutions of the state, is going to work out a new system of extension work for the state university, agricultural college and possibly the normal school. It will actually carry certain departments of the big schools direct to those who cannot go to the schools. The work will be partly actual personal instruction.

At present only the technical courses will be undertaken. It is not intended to give the courses as a home study that would lead to a degree, but better to equip the young men for the work they now are doing.

At Wichita, for instance, are several big railroad shops and numerous factories. At Hutchinson are several large electrical firms. In each town and in other towns are many mechanics of various kinds. One night each one of the university instructors will be in each town to take up problems with the classes arranged there. So far the work is only in mechanical engineering. At Wichita a class has been organized of railroad shopmen and another class of carpenters. At Hutchinson a class in mechanical work is to be organized and there may be a carpenter class, also.

The instructor will meet this class once each week. Through the week additional instructions will be given by mail, but when the instructor returns the following week the class members will have solved their problems and have problems to present to the instructor. By getting five or six classes in different towns of the correspondence sort the instructor would be kept busy throughout the week and one instructor may have four or five classes of the same kind in each town.

"Our plan is not to make the young men believe that they can become the manager when they complete the proposed work," said F. P. Walker of the mechanical engineering department at the university. "All we propose to do is to teach the young men how to do their work easier and better and make themselves more valuable."

Rookie Uniforms Are on Way for Use Anniversary Week

The rookie corps is going to have to make a lightning change at the Semi-Centennial. Their parade is to be given the last day, Thursday, and their new uniforms are due to arrive by express from the manufacturer's in Kalamazoo, Mich., on Wednesday.

The corps is doing remarkably well for the time they have been drilling, having picked things up in a way that astonished the old men in the corps.

Architects Meet

The architects will meet Monday evening at the home of Professor Walters at 7:30. All of the members of the club are requested to be present.

Abilene High Here Today

The Abilene high school football team came down this morning to see the game this afternoon. The Abilene team has won all of the four games played by them this year. M. D. Collins, '12, is their coach.

HAMPS WIN

PRIZE BANNER

LYCEUM COURSE PENNANT

AWARDED FOR SELLING

MOST TICKETS

The Lyceum Course Committee determined the winner of the ticket selling contest between the literary societies last Thursday evening, and awarded the banner to the Hamiltons.

The Websters were second in the contest, and the Franklins third. The contest was productive of much advertising during the ticket selling campaign, and spurred the amateur salesmen and saleswomen to efforts which will be valuable to the Lyceum course committee in a financial way. The prize, a large banner, was well worth the time of the society members who won it.

The Hamps will appoint a committee to design the banner, and after it is completed it will be presented formally to the society at the first number of the source occurring after it is in readiness. This will probably be about November 7.

The Ben Greet Players are going to give the "Merchant of Venice" this year. The Lyceum committee gave a great deal of thought to the selection of their number, as they are playing the Merchant of Venice and Othello principally. It was decided that the Merchant of Venice was the most generally known, and would be best appreciated.

Pledges Gave Smoker

The new pledges of the Sigma Nu fraternity gave a smoker last Monday evening, at the chapter house, for the new pledges of the other fraternities. All of the old men were requested to leave the house which was turned over to the new men. There were twenty-five pledges present. Punch was served during the course of the evening.

W. S. Gearhart went to Newton last Thursday to make a final inspection on six county bridges built by Harvey County under college supervision.

GIRLS PLAN BIG STUNT

OUTLINED THEIR PLANS AT BIG MASS MEETING

HIPI—HIPI—HURRAH! FOR GIRLS

Give Demonstration of Their Loyalty Between Halves—It Will Be Classy

A great deal of the credit for winning the football game Saturday will belong to the girls if their plans work out. And there is no reason why they should not.

At least 600 girls were out at the mass meeting Thursday night, and their pep and spirit and loyalty to the team are equal, if not superior, to that shown by the boys. Their plans were outlined briefly by Miss Halbower, and the demonstration should be very effective if carried out as it is scheduled.

The girls will wear white dresses and carry purple pennants. Between halves of the game they will march onto the field from the east and west ends of the north bleacher where, seats have been reserved for them, and form an immense K. facing the amphitheatre.

This same demonstration was given two years ago at the K. U. Aggie game, here and it produced a tremendous effect. It put more pep and go into the team than a large amount of rooting. The men felt that they simply must do something to justify such faith. The visitors and townspeople too, were very much impressed.

Do it again this year, girls, and make it bigger than ever. It is an inspiration to the team, and any man on the team knows how much help in winning a hard fought battle comes from encouragement of this sort.

DISPLAY PEP FOR TODAY'S GAME

WILL BEAT KANSAS U. IF PEP COUNTS FOR MUCH

AND ALL THE GIRLS HAVE PEP TOO

Band, Team and 1400 Rooters Listen to Talks by Lowman and Team Thursday Night.

Will we beat K. U.? Sure. The matter was decided beyond the shadow of a doubt at the big pep meeting last Thursday night. Two thousand wildly enthusiastic rooters, nearly half of them girls too, made the trip up the hill that evening, gathered in the Auditorium, and created more noise and more pep than has been heard for years.

After the band had furnished a few numbers and "Fat" McBride had led the crowd for a while in a bunch of yells, both old, time-tried ones and new ones with fancy effects, President McNamara of the Rooters Club took charge of the meeting and introduced Coach Lowman as the first speaker.

The coach, who doesn't believe in making prophecies didn't state definitely that we would win, but he assured the crowd of the team's perfect physical condition, convinced us that they are going to play the very best football of which they are capable, so we decided that today would be a very sad day for K. U. In concluding his talk the coach requested that the student body encourage the team as much as possible by furnishing "lots of pep," whereupon the rooters gave a sample of their vocal powers which must have convinced the coach that K. S. A. C. was behind the team with all its might.

Coach Lowman's talk was followed by speeches by different members of the team, (repeated calls for Percy, however, availed nothing) by Coach Merner, and by Jake Holmes and Elmer Stahl, each fellow setting forth in his own peculiar style of oratory what he thought of the coming contest. It simply made things look glomier for the Jayhawkers.

Hurrah For the Girls!

The closing speech was made by Miss Alma Halbower, cheer leader of the girls. When a thousand Aggie girls got together under the leadership of a competent yell leader like they will this afternoon it will make the cheering of mere men seem poor. No football team would dare disappoint them.

The closing stunt was the burning of the stuffed dummy in football duds which represented K. U. Will we give the Jayhawker eleven as warm a time as we did the dummy? Of course. Will we beat K. U.? Sure.

RECEIVED FRESHMAN GIRLS.

Dean Van Zile held informal reception for all freshman girls at her home on Fremont street Wednesday, and Thursday afternoon from four to six. About 60 girls attended each day. There were 170 invitations issued.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Van Zile was assisted by Misses Ruth Brown, Ethel Boyce, Alma Halbower and Eva Alleman, and Thursday by Mabel Brown, June Milner, Margaret Blanchard, and Murrel Sweet. Hot chocolate and wafers were served as refreshments.

Miss Blanche Simons of Lawrence is visiting Miss Margaret Fuller at the Phi Phi house.

HONORED LAST WAR GOVERNOR

SAMUEL J. CRAWFORD WAS GOVERNOR WHEN K. S. A. C. WAS FOUNDED

All of the classes at K. S. A. C. were dismissed the sixth hour, Thursday, and the flags were at half mast in honor of ex-Governor Samuel J. Crawford, who died Tuesday morning. Governor Crawford was governor of Kansas when K. S. A. C. and the other state schools were founded.

The Board of Administration adopted the following resolutions when it learned of the death:

"Whereas, death has claimed ex-Gov. Samuel J. Crawford, the statesman and soldier under whose administration the University of Kansas, the Kansas Agricultural College, the Kansas State Normal School, the school for the deaf and the school for the blind were opened. And,

"Whereas, Governor Crawford lived his long life a splendid inspiration and example as soldier, statesman and private citizen to the young people of Kansas, and has gone to his reward at a ripe old age. Therefore, be it

"Resolved by the board of administration for the educational institutions of Kansas, That it extend its condolence and the condolence of the University of Kansas, the Kansas Agricultural College, the Kansas State Normal School, the school for the deaf and school for the blind to the bereaved families, and that the flags of said institutions be displayed at half mast on the day of the funeral, and that all school work cease in said institutions during the hour of his funeral. And, be it further

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of each of these institutions, and copies be sent to the bereaved families.

"Ed. T. Hackney, President.

BIG GAME OF THE YEAR PLAYED THIS AFTERNOON

AGGIES EXPECT A HARD BATTLE

Jayhawkers Here With Big Body of Rooters—Aggies All in Good Condition

Today is the day. This afternoon, at 3 o'clock, the University of Kansas football team will tackle the Kansas Aggies on Ahearn Field. Confidence is lined up with each team. A close game is anticipated. The Kansas coaching staff has been working the Jayhawker eleven night and day for his battle realizing that the Aggies will be no easy victim for the Lawrence eleven to trim. The Aggies have been primed for this battle which is virtually the climax of the season's schedule as far as nifty attractions go. Every player will enter the fray this afternoon to do or die.

Whether or not today's Kansas Aggie-Jayhawker fracas is an important Missouri Valley or Kansas State Conference battle matters little to the Kansas State College football following. To wallop the Mosse-Frank rowd and to lose all the other games in the schedule, would mark a real team for the Aggies. Starting today the Lowman crew has fought a wonderful uphill battle, striving to lay real football. Last Saturday's contest with the State Normals roved little better than a good workout for the Aggies, who played the most consistent game of football any Aggie team has ever put upon Ahearn Field.

The University of Kansas team has played no strong teams this season. Drake probably put up the best opposition that the Lawrence crew has met. At that Drake was forced to lift Bunz, their crack fullback, who scored the touchdown that defeated the Kansas team in 1912, into the line to play a guard position. The opposite guard was played by a man who had never seen a football game before this fall. All this was done to hold the Kansas eleven and the press comments remarked of the weakness of the K. U. machine on the offense.

The Kansas team scored their touchdown on Drake on a forward pass. The Aggies had fair success in defending their goal against the forward pass in the Normal game and the Kansas should find stiff opposition to any scoring by this route. On the other hand, the Aggies proved themselves able handlers of the pass in the game with Crispin's Normals and should be able to gain a few yards on the Kansas team via of this route. The Kansas ends have not played consistent football this season and both being new men at the game should cause the Aggie secondary very little trouble. Reber is a cinder path artist of some renown and may prove speedy on a straightaway run. The Kansas line will probably outweigh the Aggies somewhat. The Kansas are said to tip the scales for an average of 190 pounds. This will tip the Lowman machine about ten pounds.

The Aggies played stone wall defense against the Normals and charged low all the way through the game. The Lowman forwards are all old heads and the Mosse-Frank mountain will have to go some to outcharge them.

The Aggie backs are playing whirlwind football at present and are relied on for a great deal in today's encounter. Agnew, Enns, and Sidorosky, will no doubt start the contest in the backfield positions. Hartwig

FAIR PLAY

Beat K. U.—that's what everybody is saying and that's just what we are going to do today. We have the best team in the state and just for the fun of it we are going to prove it to the most skeptical.

In the past the games have been lost by the very closest of margins, but this year the margin is to be in favor of the Aggies.

The Coach suggested at the mass meeting the other night that the rooters should treat the visitors in the best manner possible. When our team goes to other colleges, we are sore if they are not given a fair chance and treated well. Now is a chance to start the custom of "Fair Play from the bleachers." Common courtesy does not cost anything and the visitors appreciate all that we do for them. Let's beat Kansas fairly and squarely and use no "horse play" in doing it.

The spirit worked on the Kansas Sport editor so strongly that he promulgated a rather remarkable prophecy which was that the K. U. football team would win by 10 points. He must have been having an exciting dream about the time he wrote that joke.

ARE YOU BUSY?

The students are all busy as "cranberry merchants" and they will continue in business until the end of next week. The mass meetings and the excitement of the game with our old rivals is just a good starter for the "pep" that should be shown during the anniversary celebration.

The different divisions are hard at work upon different plans for the glory of their department. The Engineers have their building under lock and key and the Ags have put in a requisition for two companies of the cadets to keep the engineers from finding out their secrets. But after all its going to be worth all the hard work that we put upon it and K. S. A. C. is going to show her visitors that we have the greatest agricultural college in the world.

Captain Weidline of the K. U. team has announced that the more rooters who are in the stands from K. U. the higher the score will be. He's got the correct dope all O. K. It will be higher for the Aggies.

WE HOPE SO

Coaches Mosse and Frank plan to send their substitutes against the Aggies at Manhattan Saturday. This will be done for the purpose of keeping the real strength of the team hidden from the Cornhuskers' spies expected there to watch the game. An attempt will be made to keep the Kansas plays under cover as much as possible. Scrimmages closed tonight with the coaches driving the men hard.—News dispatch.

WHO DOES IT FIT?

Breathes there a stude with mien so meek
Whose mouth has never sprung a leak

To tell the coach a big pipe dream
On how he ought to run the team?
If such there be, make haste, by heck!

And hang a cow bell round his neck;
Go tack a medal on his breast
And honor him above the rest.
—Darn in Drake Delphic.

BRITISH HUMOR

Editors Overlook a Great Chance for a Witty Paragraph

At the Y. M. C. A. reading room the Illustrated London News is on file. The last issue fully justifies the popular opinion of British humor and conservatism.

A cleaning compound manufacturer, named Scrub, has an advertisement in the back pages, and has made no effort to emphasize the obvious joke. The editorial page has also overlooked this golden opportunity. "They manage these things better in American Journalism."

Society Reporters Attention!
All literary society write-ups should be in by Monday and Thursday afternoons. Each society has been asked to select a reporter to handle the publicity of that society. The reporters who have been appointed so far are:

J. S. Houser, '04, is visiting relatives and old college friends in Manhattan. Mr. Houser is associate entomologist of the Ohio Experiment Station. After graduating from the college, he was made assistant entomologist in the Ohio station. He worked there for three years, after which he went to Cuba as state entomologist. Later, he took graduate work at Cornell University and obtained a Master's degree.

HAMP-IONIAN

Had Joint Program Last Saturday Night

The Hamilton and Ionian literary societies held a joint program last Saturday night. At seven thirty about sixty Hamiltons accompanied by as many Ionians met in the society hall. After a very interesting program, given by members of both societies, a few minutes were devoted to good natured parliamentary "rag chewing."

When the lights began to wink, the Hamps and Ios promptly left the hall to meet a few minutes later at the Harrison Candy Kitchen, where refreshments were served. All report a jolly time. A joint program affords an excellent opportunity for the members of the societies to become acquainted with each other.

Reception For Alumni

The Alpha Betas will give a reception to the graduate alumni of the society in the society hall on Wednesday night. Dr. J. T. Willard will give a short talk and Miss Hungerford will sing. There will be talks by others of the old timers.

Professor Lippincott, Dr. R. V. Christian, A. R. Losh of the state engineers office, were entertained by the Sigma Nu's Wednesday evening at chapter house.

Thomas Low, a graduate of the Dairy Short Course in '11, came this week to take charge of the College creamery. He will take the place of Arthur Doryland.

F. B. McKimmell, M. E. '08, is supervising the construction of a large hospital at Clavis, New Mexico. This building is being built by the Santa Fe railroad system.

Miss Etta Savage and Miss Grace Denby, both of the library department, went to St. Joseph last Wednesday where they attended a session of the library association.

A committee of the college faculty, working with the Y. W. and Y. M. secretaries, are locating rooming places and board for the visitors that will be here for the celebration.

A. R. Losh, of the state highway engineers office, has just returned from an extended trip in the southern part of the state. He was in conference with several county commissioners.

The engineers office has been very busy getting out plans for bridges in the last month. The following counties are erecting bridges under state supervision: Jewell, Wilson, Riley, Donophon, Harper and Washington.

Elmer Stahl, '12, is back for the K. U. game today. Stahl was the crack end on the team for the last three years. He is now the superintendent of the Municipal Light Plant at Topeka and is coaching Topeka High team.

HOT TIME AT

CLASS MEETINGS

W. L. LOOMIS ELECTED CHAIRMAN OF CLASS BOOK FOR ROYAL PURPLE VOL 7

There were many surprises at the various class meetings Thursday. At the Sophomore meeting they raised the dance question from the dead and then proceeded to enter it again by a vote of 43 to 27.

The Juniors elected their classbook chairman; there were four candidates for the office. W. L. Loomis 69, Dave Shull 35, H. S. Colth 16 and Walter Smith 2. The junior class also voted to buy the sweater for their cheer leader.

The seniors had parliamentary drill over the question of voting the class book committee $300. Finally a committee was appointed to bring some definite proposals before the class at the next meeting.

At Congregational Church

Are you loyal?
No one determining factor plays such a part in making or unmaking the life of the college student as his loyalties. It curses and it blesses. The badge you wear is the symbol of what you are becoming. How far ought you to follow a crowd? Can a man be saved by himself? Is modern individualism cursing society and robbing men of life? These subjects will be discussed at the Congregational church beginning next Sunday evening.

The subjects will be:
1. Loyalty its Curse and its Blessing.
2. The Practice of Loyalty in Common Life.
3. Religion as Loyalty.

Thursday night twenty young ladies formed a line party to the Marshall theatre, later they went to the candy kitchen. They were: Gertrude Wilson, Ruth Anderson, Minnie Oleson, Margaret DeForest, Katherine Adams, Myrtle Blythe, Elsie Adams, Ethel Roseberry, Clara Willis, Gladys Adams, Blanch Baird, Elizabeth March, Leah Baily, Margaret Shultz, Ora McMillin, Elsie Hart, Ella Phenicle, Marie Moses, Anna Adams, Mabel Leuzler, Bernice Solderer and Mary Mack.

SUCCESS

It is no more possible for every man to be a success than it is for every tree in the forest to be the tallest. But a young man, if he wears the right sort of clothes, if he selects them carefully in a shop particularly adapted to his needs, if he pays a fair price and demands good service, is certain to at least secure a basis on which he can work toward success.

K U. ROOTERS HAVE SPECIAL TRAIN

BRING "UNCLE JIMMY" GREEN, BAND, AND THE THUNDER-ING THOUSAND

The Jayhawk rooters will have a special train to carry them down to Manhattan for the game Saturday. This was decided yesterday when the Union Pacific announced that a special train had been provided for the students, and the trip to and from the Kansas State Agricultural College could be made in one day.

A special rate has been provided for the rooters, and the trip can be made both ways for $3.20. The band is to be there, the cheer leader will accompany the team, and the athletic authorities will be disappointed if at least one thousand students do not make the trip and root for the Jayhawkers on their opponents battle field.

The Aggies played at Lawrence last year, and students, professors Manhattan merchants all accompanied them.

If they could save up their money and gather together 750 students to make the trip, why cannot Kansas raise one thousand men and women, in truth a "Thundering Thousand," and surprise Manhattan with their enthusiasm next Saturday? Come on, fellows. Dig down in your jeans for that necessary $3.20 and join the gang!—Daily Kansan.

PLAY AT COLUMBIA

Annual K. U.-M. V. Game to be at Missouri

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 21.—An official statement received here today from A. Ross Hill, president of the university and chairman of the Missouri Valley Conference Board, stated the annual Missouri-Kansas game, November 22, would be played in Columbia. The president sent this message from New York on the eve of his sailing for Europe, that it might put an end to the agitation to bring the game back to Kansas City.

A second shift in the lineup of the University of Missouri football team was arranged by Coach Brewer today in an attempt to remedy the weakness of the ends. Speelman, tackle, was sent to left end, where he displayed excellent tact and fighting ability. Fullback Groves, whose place has been taken by Captain Wilson, was sent in as tackle and materially strengthened the line. Zimmerman is being worked at center.

With Gallagher, the 210-pound guard, out because of injuries the claches are having a difficult task maintaining the team's weight standard. Several scrub men were tried in his place today, but all were lightweights.

FALSE ALARM

Will Not Play Washburn as Reports
State

The Yearlings are scheduled to play the State Agricultural College secondary school Saturday afternoon. The secondary school is being coached by Jake Holmes, last year's all-Missouri Valley tackle and he is reputed to have a fast heavy bunch. Coach Dwight Ream's Freshmen will have to ramble to beat the prep farmers, but Coach Ream is supposed to have the stuff.

The game is part of an effort on the part of the Athletic Association to support athletics at home when the varsity is far away in some of the distant provinces. There has often been some complaint that students enterprise holders do not get their money's worth and the game is partly in answer to that complaint.—Washington Review.

Forum Officers

The Forum held its first meeting for the year Wednesday afternoon in the hall in the basement of the Library. Preparations were made to boost the coming debate with Ames on November 14. The officers who were elected for the Fall Term are: President—W. A. Sumner. Vice-president—Roy Gwin. Sec. Treas.—Blanch Burt. Marshal—Ivar Mattson. Critic—Joseph Sweet. Chairman of Board—Roy Jaccard. Second Member—Nina Neusbaum. Third Member—W. J. Loomis.

will be held for the pinches. Hartwig is proving a bear cat on offense although "Nick" Enns has been outplaying him on the defense. Agnew made first down every time he was called upon to do so against the Normals and will prove a hard man for the Lawrence crew to outplay.

Coach Lowman has little to say of the game. To win is all that he wishes. This is the game that he has been pointing the team for all season. He, as usual, will announce no lineup but the team will probably start in the same places they held down last Saturday. A tentative lineup follows: Schafer, right end; Loomis, Captain, right tackle; Burkholder, right guard; Coxen, center; Wehrle, left guard; Marble, left tackle; Moss, left end; Haymaker, quarterback; Agnew, right half; Enns, fullback; Sidorfsky, left halfback.

The officials were selected at the meeting of the board selected for that purpose, last spring. James Maskers of the Kansas City Athletic Club will referee, Capt. King, U. S. A. will officiate as umpire, and Dr. J. A. Rielly, also of the Kansas City Athletic Club will trot the side lines.

Miss Lewis to Southeastern Kansas Miss Adah Lewis returned Saturday from Wichita where she did demonstration work during the Dairy Show there.

Miss Lewis leaves Monday for a two-week's circuit in Southeastern Kansas. She will be accompanied by Mr. H. J. Barr, county demonstration agent in the southeastern part of the state.

TIGERS IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

Brewer Predicts Hard Fight Between Missouri and Ames

"The Tigers are in remarkably good shape, considering the hard game they played Saturday," said Prof. C. L. Brewer today. "If we have no accidents this week, our men will go into the game against Ames in first-class condition. And they will go in determined to fight hard."

Mr. Brewer says that Ames has a strong team, and that they will fight every minute, especially on their home ground.

Missouri has never won a game from Ames. One tie has been played. There will be an open practice game Wednesday, between the Varsity and the freshmen and scrubs. The team will leave Thursday night and return Sunday.—Daily Missourian.

TRY TO HAVE PARADES TODAY

POSTPONED UNTIL THEY HAVE MORE SETTLED WEATHER

MANY OF THE SPEAKERS ARE HERE

Attendance Has Been Affected by the Weather Men—Students Should Hear Speakers

A snow storm, the first of the season acted as a damper on the activities of the first day of K. S. A. C.'s big birthday party. The different departmental parades which were to have been given yesterday have been postponed until today.

The engineers parade will be given tonight if possible. It will start from the college and will try to be down town by eight o'clock in the evening. The agricultural parade will be held at three o'clock in the afternoon and will go down town also. The domestic science department will have floats in both of the parades and will be sure to make a good showing. All of the students in these departments have been working overtime on the different schemes, and each is striving to out do the other.

Where the Parades Go

The parades will be formed at the college and then will progress down town. The route taken will be, South on Manhattan Ave., to Moro, East to Eleventh, South to Houston, East to Juliette, North to Poyntz, East to Third, North to Osage, West to Juliette, North to Blumont, West to Manhattan, North to the Vattier Street entrance to the college. Both of the parades will take the same courses.

The attendance will probably be greatly reduced but many of the alumni are expected to arrive during today. There are many visitors here now, as they were seen at many places on the hill Monday and Tuesday. Some of the visitors at the game Saturday have remained in town for the celebration. Many of the students expect friends and relatives today and tomorrow.

All of the classes have dismissed for a holiday of three days but few of the loyal sons and daughters have taken advantage of this factor and gone home. The relief from class work has enabled many of the students to catch up with their work and to get "crammed" ready for the mid-term examinations which will occur next week.

The speakers for today and tomorrow are all here or on the way and the students, visitors and the people of Manhattan will have an opportunity to hear some of the greatest men in the country during the week.

AT FRESHMAN PARTY

Three Hundred Had a Big Time on Wildcat.

Three hundred freshmen and a few others too, enjoyed a hike to Wildcat last Monday night. Ten bonfires were lighted and steak and marshmallows were provided for the hungry ones.

Not all of the boys had dates so they started a bonfire of their own. After cooking some steak "the stags" organized a rooters club and cheered the fellows who were lucky enough to have dates.

After taking a few flash light pictures the crowd came merrily homeward. The chaperones were Professor and Mrs. Floyd and Professor and Mrs. Allee.

AGGIE GIRLS

FORMED "K"

FORMED LARGE PURPLE AND WHITE "K" BETWEEN THE HALVES AT GAME

The girls made a very creditable showing at the football game Saturday. Between halves the band played a march, and at least 75 girls dressed in white and carrying purple pennants came onto the field from opposite ends of the north bleacher. The two lines met at the center of the field, and one kept on its way while the other turned sharply to the left. The result was a huge purple and white "K," facing the amphitheatre and the effect was all that could be desired. The girls have received many sincere and well merited compliments on this "stunt."

STUDENT WINS PRIZE.

L. W. Gearhart, Wrote Essay About Berkshire Hogs

Lloyd W. Gearhart, a senior student in animal husbandry, has been awarded a prize in an essay contest conducted by the American Berkshire Association. The subject to be discussed was "Berkshires on the Farm, in the Show Ring, and on the Block." This contest was open to all students of agricultural colleges.

Miss June Milner will be visited by her sister, Laura Milner of Hartford, and a cousin, Edith Cox, of Normal, Ill., during the Semi-Centennial.

Miss Gertrude Wunder left Saturday for a short visit at her home in Valley Falls.

D. S. COURSE FIRST IN U. S.

WAS ESTABLISHED BY PRES.
ANDERSON IN 1874

GIRLS MADE BUTTER AND CHEESE

At First It Was Just a Lecture Course—Now They Give Much Practical Work

The department of Home Economics at K. S. A. C. was the first of its kind to be established in the United States. It was recommended by President Anderson in 1874, and the sewing department was started during this year. A few months later a short course of lectures on special hygiene was begun. Mrs. M. E. Cripps had charge of this and of the sewing.

At the same time Prof. W. K. Kedzie delivered lectures on the chemical composition of many articles of food, and Prof. E. M. Shelton lectured on the care of milk and the making of butter and cheese. These three lectures comprised the department of household economy.

No actual cooking was done until 1877, when the senior girls began verifying their lectures by experiment. There was a weekly "baking day" and three formal meals were served during the year, one to the Board of Regents, one to a few invited guests—usually on Washington's birthday—and the third to the entire senior class, as a special treat to the young men of the class.

In 1881 the household chemistry work was taken by Mrs. Cropps, and she organized a three week's cooking class. This was the first step toward a real course in cooking, one as it exists in the college today.

The next year, 1882, Mrs. Nellie S. Kedzie, took up the work, and enlarged the course in household economy to twelve weeks. The class met daily for a two hours session, the first hour being devoted to a lecture and the second to cooking. Three years later, the departments were divided, Mrs. E. E. Winchup taking charge of the classes in sewing.

In 1887, there were twelve students in the cooking class. Four years later the number had increased to forty-five, and now there are 700, exclusive of special students and those in the School of Agriculture.

AFRICA HEARS ABOUT NABOURS.

Transvaal Paper Has Long Article About His Work.

It is a matter of some pride to the college that many of her faculty members are acknowledged authorities the world over. Have you ever heard of Transvaal? It's a colony in South Africa. A column and a half of a Transvaal newspaper was devoted, recently, to the work of Dr. R. K. Nabours, of the Kansas Agricultural College, in breeding Zebu and American cattle.

AT THE Y. M. C. A.

Will Help Locate Visitors During This Week.

The Y. M. C. A. is not planning any special exercises during the celebration, but is doing a good work in acting as a clearing house for accommodations for visitors. Secretary W. L. McLean says he is busy all the time, registering rooms all over town. Visitors who wish accommodations should see him.

CENTENNIAL EDITION.
In accordance with the present ideas of the staff of The Kansas Aggie to print all of the news possible, and to print it while it is still news, we will try to have three issues this week. The paper will come out Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and will have full accounts of the celebration.
It will require quite a bit of overtime work on the part of the staff to get the paper out and any news items which are handed in will be appreciated.

Most folks are just beginning to discover that "too much pep ain't good for a feller."

WELCOME
K. S. A. C. extends a hearty welcome to the guests and the alumni who gather on the campus to celebrate the 50th birthday of the college. The guest who sees K. S. A. C. for the first time will scarcely be able to conceive of the small beginnings which have grown to such magnificent proportions.
The love for Alma Mater brings back to the campus, alumni from all of the states of the Union and they rejoice to see the wonderful development of their college.

The college has grown in attendance, in the size of its faculty, in the number and size of its buildings, in the equipment, in the beauty of the campus, and in the value of its work to the state. A small denominational college has become one of the greatest Agricultural Colleges of the world. The faculty and students are one in extending to our guests the keys of the college.

General Sherman once made a famous remark about war which could be applied equally well to the result of the football game last Saturday.

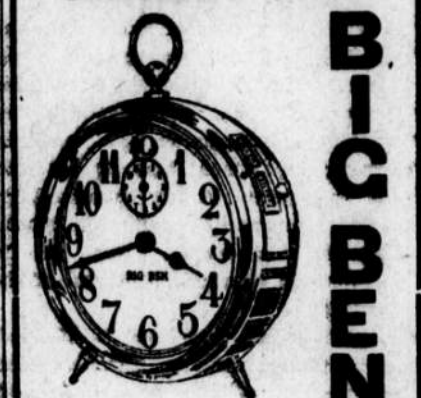

KANSAS WON.
The Aggie team and rooters accepted the defeat without any hard feelings that usually go with such a result. The visitors showed that they were good winners by their actions after the game. After all, Kansas won.
The Aggies are now eliminated from a possible Missouri Valley championship for at least another year. Kansas by winning our game has only to defeat Nebraska and Missouri to have the championship this year. Kansas has one of the best teams which they ever have had. Let's pull for Kansas for the Valley honors.

Today is the day that some studious freshman will go to class and then "beat it" when the "Prof" fails to show up.

BROAD WALK WELCOME.
As an innovation, which might be desirable to perpetuate as a custom, let a definite period about assembly time be set aside on the most appropriate day of the second week of college each fall term, to be known as "Broadwalk Welcome Day."
Have the entire student body and the faculty arranged in two columns, one on each side of the center line of the broad walk from the Auditorium to the Horticultural Hall, the west column facing north and the east column facing south. Group the people according to the official college classification, and each group have a distinguishing colored card attached to the right lapel. Upon the card have the name, home and county address.

Then with the band playing, in front of the Main Hall, let the columns slowly advance, and let the old welcome the new and everybody become acquainted and re-acquainted. Such a plan with modifications might be tried out Semi-Centennial week.
Again, on Wednesday or Thursday afternoon of the commencement week, have a "Broadwalk Farewell."

SUCCESS

It is no more possible for every man to be a success than it is for every tree in the forest to be the tallest. But a young man, if he wears the right sort of clothes, if he selects them carefully in a shop particularly adapted to his needs, if he pays a fair price and demands good service, is certain to at least secure a basis on which he can work toward success.

AGGIES LOSE TO KANSAS

MINNESOTA SHIFT WAS WORK-ING IN FINE SHAPE

PLOW THROUGH THE AGGIE LINE

Haymaker Tried a Drop-Kick From 34-Yard Line But Failed—
Aggies Were Outweighed

The Kansas Aggies ran up against a better team and lost, on Ahearn Field last Saturday, to the University of Kansas eleven, by a final count of 26 to 0. The Kansas team outweighed the Aggies and outplayed them in all except the returning punts.

The Minnesota shift was directly responsible for the defeat of the Aggies, although the forward pass and Captain Weidline's toe added 12 points to the Kansas total. The Aggies were clearly outclassed by a team which gives every promise of duplicating the feat of the famous 1908 Jayhawker eleven, that of playing through a complete schedule without the loss of a single game.

The Mosse-Frank team kicked off to the Aggies at the start of the contest, but the Aggies failed to gain and Haymaker was forced to punt to make the distance. Then entered the efficiency of the Minnesota shift. The Kansas linemen charged up under the Aggie defense and threw it back, tearing great holes through which the fleet Jayhawker backs sped with the ball to the Aggies 20-yard line. The Lawrence eleven formation, stepped back of the backfield, received the snapback, and shot a beautiful spiral into the waiting arm of halfback Greeless who dashed across the Aggies goal line for the first touchdown of the game.

Another defeat had been marked down in the records against the Aggies.

Several times during the grind, the Aggies managed to get the ball to the Kansas 25 yard line, but as a whole they never seriously threatened the Jayhawker goal. In the second period Haymaker brought the stands up with an attempt to score from the field. The ball left Haymaker's boot at an angle and failed to clear the goal posts by a goodly margin. This was the only chance the Lowman crew had to break into the score column.

The attack of the Kansas team was not so varied as to bewilder the Aggies, but the locals seemed to be lacking. The shift formation plunged the Kansas backs through the same holes in the Aggies line time and again. On the defense the Kansas held the Aggies cleverly. The Aggie backs rarely made over five yards through the Kansas forwards and more often failed to gain at all. The forward pass proved a better ground gainer for the locals than for the Kansas. Skinner made one feature gain of 45 yards in the final period.

The Kansas backs and Quarterback Wilson deserve the steller positions on the Kansas lineup, while Captain Loomis, Agnew, Sidorfsky, and Hartwig, showed up best for the Aggies.

First Quarter
Aggies won the toss and chose to defend the east goal. Strothers kicked off 50 yards to Agnew who returned the ball 2.

30-yard forward pass by Bishop to Greenlees scored a touchdown for the Lawrence boys after eleven minutes of play. Detweiler kicked goal.

On the second play after the kick-off, Haymaker, the local quarterback, made a 45-yard run, but lost the ball on a fumble. Sommers for the Kansas University made 20 yards around the end. Greenlees went 15 yards through the line. The Lawrence boys were penalized about 60 yards during the quarter. Weidline for Kansas University missed two attempts for field goals, one from 30 and one from 40 yards.

Score end of quarter—K. U. 7; K. S. A. C. 0.

Second Quarter
The Lawrence boys lost the ball on a fumble and Sidorfsky recovered it. The local players punted 40 yards with no return. Martin replaced Greenlees and the visitors were held for downs and punted to the 40-yard line. They were then penalized 5 yards.

The locals gained 30 yards on a forward pass, Haymaker to Agnew. Hartwig went in at fullback. An attempted forward pass by the locals failed. Haymaker missed a field goal by 5 inches from the 20-yard line.

Sommers, for the visitors, made 20 yards on a delayed pass. The visitors lost the ball on downs and Haymaker punted. The Lawrence boys fumbled, but recovered the ball and punted over the local's goal line. The locals punted to their opponents' 25-yard line.

Martin made 30 yards through the locals' line. Strothers kicked a field goal from the 30-yard line.

The visitors kicked off and Sidorfsky made a 40-yard run. Steuwe intercepted an attempted forward pass by the locals. The quarter closed with the ball in the center of the field in the possession of the visitors. Score: K. U. 10; K. S. A. C. 0.

Third Quarter

The local players kicked off and the visitors returned the ball 10 yards. Martin made a 30-yard run around the left end. Sommers made 11 yards on a delayed pass and after making short gains he went through the locals' line for a touchdown. Weidline kicked goal. Score: K. U. 17; K. S. A. C. 0.

The visitors kicked off and Hartwig returned the ball 20 yards. The locals lost the ball on down. K. U. carried it to the 20-yard line, where Weidline kicked another field goal. Score: K. U. 20; K. S. A. C. 0.

Fourth Quarter

Hartwig made 20 yards and Haymaker punted 50 to Wilson with no return. Russell made 8 around right end. Aggies were penalized 5 yards for offside play. Wilson failed to gain and Steuwe's pass to Reber failed. Martin went through the line for 3.

Weidline's place kick was blocked. Russell recovering the ball on the Aggies 35-yard line. Russell made 15 around right end. Steuwe's pass to Tutor failed. Aggies got the ball on their own 20-yard line on downs.

Marble replaced Wright. Haymaker lost 4. Strothers' offside cost Kansas 5. Aggies failed to gain and Haymaker kicked 50 to Russell, with no return. Kansas plunged the ball to the Aggies' 1-yard line, where Steuwe was thrown back for a loss, but came back on the next play and made a touchdown. Weidline kicked goal. Score: Kansas 26; Aggies 0.

Strother kicked 40 to Agnew, who returned 20. Sidorfsky replaced Enns. Haymaker's pass to Skinner made 40 yards. Steuwe intercepted Haymaker's next pass, the ball going to Kansas on their 30-yard line. Wilson kicked 35 to Haymaker, who returned 20. Haymaker's pass to Skinner failed. Wilson intercepted Haymaker's pass. Strother made 4. Agnew captured Steuwe's pass on Kansas' 45-yard line. Haymaker's pass to Skinner went out of bounds and on the second trial went to Kansas on their 25-yard line, where the game ended.

FANCY FLOATS IN AG. PARADE

HELD AGRICULTURAL PROCESSION YESTERDAY.

D. S. GIRLS MAKE FINE SHOWING

All of the Departments Had Original Designs.—Students Worked Hard.

The big parade of the Agricultural Division was held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The different departments each vied with the other in producing original designs. The D. S. Division had four floats in the parade and will also be represented in the engineers parade.

Byron Dudley, chief of the college bugle corps, led the parade. Immediately following him came the exhibits of the animal husbandry department—the fancy live stock float. Leading the parade of live stock were five stallions and twenty colts all in full dress. Next came the stock judging team on a float carrying a small herd of sheep. Following this—and just to show how well the department of animal husbandry stands with the domestic science department—a crowd of domestic science girls dressed in white occupied one float. Fifty head of blooded cattle—Angus, Shorthorn and Herefords—prize winners at a number of shows this fall—marched proudly past as an escort to three of the best steers which rode in a float that followed. A hog float labeled "Mortgage Lifters," a herd of fifty sheep on foot, and a contrast in proper and improper feeding shown by a fat steer and a lean steer, next were in line. Two college steers broken in by students for oxen drew a cart labeled "Buffalo Bill's Special." Following this came another team of oxen and a prairie schooner owned by Gabriel Frank of Council Grove, Kan., a former student. A donkey and cart carrying an imitation cow and a weird looking "professor" represented the animal husbandry department of the 60s.

Five floats and a lot of modern farm machines represented the department of agronomy in the parade. This exhibit was led by a motor car labeled "The Ragtime Motor Car," ingeniously made by mounting an engine on a small farm truck. An engine and separator, a gang plow drawn by a tractor, and other modern farm machinery followed. Then a motor truck loaded with farm produce rolled by. On the next float a model farm with a modern farm house, barn, and other buildings, trees, drives, hedges, and a well arranged yard were shown. The house and other buildings were made of corn stalks and represented a great deal of work. The college seal, done in farm produce, followed on another float. A "new way" float came next with examples of up-to-date farm machines—a corn sheller, grinder, pump, and other smaller implements, all operated by a gas engine. Some of the wagons were pulled by horses and some by farm tractors.

Three floats and a dairy herd were the entries of the students in dairy husbandry. Of the twenty blooded animals in the herd, five represented the Jersey breed, five the Ayrshire, five the Holstein, and five the Guernsey. One float represented in tubs of butter the record of Maid Henry, a champion Holstein owned by the college, contrasted with the record of the average Kansas cow. The Maid's annual output was shown by thirteen sixty-pound butter kegs, while that of the average Kansas milk producer was represented by two sixty-pound and one twenty-pound tubs. A 400-pound churn, a cream separator and a continuous ice cream freezer all in operation were shown on one float. The third wagon carried models of modern dairy equipment—a silo, a stanchion, a cooler, milking machine and Babcock tester. In the model stall arranged, one member of the college dairy herd stood calmly eating her alfalfa, while the milking machine attached and apparently in operation was doing all the work.

The student in forestry showed the forms of forestry work done in their department with a float which contained a small nursery, representing a small catalpa nursery of the 70s, with the harvest from this woodlot shown in the model by a pile of saw logs. At the rear end was a representative group of foreign trees introduced in Kansas by the agricultural college.

The work of the department of horticulture was shown in four floats—one a model farm garden showing a harvest of pumpkins, potatoes and other garden truck; another a small green house containing cut flowers and potted plants and trimmed in autumn leaves; a third carrying two apple trees showing the result of spraying and the result of not spraying. Five types of sprayers followed this float, showing the two trees to demonstrate their methods of spraying. The fourth float carried a tempting apple exhibit.

The exhibit of veterinary students a weird lot of skeletons, bones, and surgical apparatus—was well arranged and showed in characteristic style the work required by veterinarians.

The department of milling industry was represented by a float which showed old and new ways of grinding grain. An old-fashioned grist wheel was exhibited.

The domestic science float showed a typical farm kitchen. In one end stood a kitchen cabinet; in the middle, a table with convenient utensils on it; at the other end a range, with stove utensils near it. Several girls were in the kitchen making apple pies. As the parade passed by, they tossed apples to the spectators. Students in domestic science are to have two floats in the engineers' parade tonight.

The department of domestic art had two floats in the afternoon parade. One represented a colonial sewing room, with a fireplace in one end. The floor was covered with old fashioned woven rugs. Two spinning wheels added to the realism. The other float showed the equipment of the first sewing class room at the Kansas Agricultural College—one table, one blackboard, one teacher, and two sewing machines. The teacher, dressed in the costume of that early day, presided over the students. The home decoration float represented a Japanese tea garden, with lanterns, chrysanthemums, and autumn leaves. The four girls which accompanied it wore gowns, one of which illustrated good lines in a costume, one, poor lines, one a harmonious color scheme, and one a good design.

With The Webs.

W. R. Jones, '13, was a visitor at the Web meeting Saturday night. W. R., who was chairman of the class book committee in '13, came in for the K. U. game, and visited his old society as a matter of course. He gave a very interesting short talk to the present Webs. He left Sunday to resume his duties as bookkeeper in a mill at Enterprise, Kan.

The Webs and Euros are planning an informal reception for the Alumni of the two societies on Wednesday evening, the time set aside for the reunion of student organizations.

Miss Ada Worley and Miss Ida Northrop are the Euro members of the committee, and E. G. Shaad and Frank Elliott are the Web members. The reception will be held in the society hall, and will include a short program of music and readings by the present members, and talks by the visiting Alumni.

Refreshments will be served during the evening. Past acquaintances and friendships formed in the societies will be renewed, and new ones formed.

Pleiades Entertain

The Pleiades Club entertained at dinner last week. The guests were Prof. J. C. and Mrs. Summers, Prof. J. W. Searson and daughter, Wilma, Misses Nannie Davis, Melva Harker, and Caroline Ubrick, and Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Edgerton.

R. E. Busenbeck, of Lyndon, Kan., attended the football game here last Saturday. Mr. Busenbeck was a sophomore in the printing course here last year, but is taking journalism at K. U. now.

William J. Sturgeon, '04, of El Dorado spent the week end at the Tau Omega house.

SISSON SPOKE ON EDUCATION

NOW COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION FOR STATE OF IDAHO

HE IS THE YOUNGEST GRADUATE

Finished K. S. A. C. When Sixteen Years Old.—Now One of the Big Alumni

Professor Ed O. Sisson, '86, who is a national figure in educational work made an excellent speech on the "Educational Situation." Professor Sisson claims to be the youngest person that ever graduated and is now one of the most widely known of all.

His work along educational lines has just won him the appointment as Commissioner of Education in Idaho. In his speech he said:

"The most potent force in all human affairs is attention, it is hard to get and still harder to keep. If only attention can be secured and held, all else follows; money, energy, devotion, success. That is, provided the end proposed can justify itself; here is when attention cuts both ways. If the end is bad, the less attention drawn to it, the more likely is the project to fall through. The hope of an unworthy scheme lies in 'catching men napping.' It must be 'put over' on an unsuspecting public.

It would seem that more attention is being devoted to education today than ever before. There are signs of a great trend in the national stream of consciousness upon schools, colleges, universities, vocational training, education of adults, indeed all of the manifold phases of the great task of human culture.

"When the country life commission reported, the dominant note of the report was education. All sorts of betterments have been proposed, economic, domestic, social, moral, religious—all consumptions devoutly to be wished for; but the chief and indispensable means to each and all of them is better education.

"The most important lines of rural advance converge upon the school house. The most definite and promising outcome of the whole country life movement is always the new country school, transformed to fit conditions enriched with the new results of service and social thought and expanded to be the spiritual center for the men, women and children.

"The bankers have experienced a change of heart and are passing resolutions and organizing committees on education.

"Best of all the great mass of the people, with whom the democracy must either rise or fall, are slowly but surely awakening to the truth. It is my sincerest conviction that if the people knew what occupies the bulk of the time and energy of our high schools they would rise to indignant reform. There are a million and a half boys and girls in the secondary schools, practically three-fourths of them are studying foreign languages which they will never read, write or hear. Scarcely one-tenth are studying home economics or agriculture which are subjects of vital importance to them, and the nation.

"The curriculum is going to be revised, wisely, conservatively, constructively, but revised it must be.

"The greatest need is vision, broad, clear and penetrating, above all, human. And where should vision be found better than among the alumni, does the name not signify nurture into wisdom and character? On what sort of a scale do we measure our graduates? Have we not tested them for years? Surely there is no errors in the standard of the output.

"There are two great weaknesses in the activity of the alumni organizations. They are both natural and in a sense pardonable. Yet both must be fought and over come.

The first is juvenility. The second is narrow institutionalism.

"Can an alumni of one school think fairly of another school when the interests of the two schools seem to clash? It is time for the alumni to broaden their vision, to clear their minds of cant and their hearts of jealousy and pay back the debt, which they owe, more richly and wisely.

"The real of education already shows the onset of great changes; they are yet slow but accelerating; already old landmarks are gone and their places know them no more. Into this field of reconstruction comes the educated man, the graduate, the alumnus, knowing always that the truest interests of all schools are the same."

ENGINEERS BUSTERS?

Finally Announce After a Struggle that It Was "Broken."

The boys of the engineering department are trying to break into the Broncho-busting profession, judging by the performances they were staging on the campus last Monday. They were making spasmodic and valiant efforts to tame the antics of a most peculiar piece of apparatus. A. G. Russel was trying the "buster" stunt. He pulled leather persistently, and showed very poor form.

The engineers finally made the ambiguous announcement that they had "broken" the affair, and ceased to give out information.

HODGES MADE FIRST ADDRESS

COLLEGE CELEBRATION FORMALLY OPENED YESTERDAY

HE HAD A BIG CROWD PRESENT

Spoke on "The Relationship of the School and the State."—Glad to be Here

The Auditorium was filled Wednesday morning when the opening addresses of the 50th anniversary, were given. After a short introductory program by the orchestra and Professor Valley, Chairman E. T. Hackney, President of the Board of Administration, introduced the Honorable George H. Hodges, Governor of Kansas, who delivered an address on "The Relationship between the School and the State." Governor Hodges said in part:

"I am pleased that the privilege has been accorded me of being with you today, on this, the semi-centennial anniversary of this great college. The agricultural college has to do with the greatest of our Kansas industries. Its specific function is to see that every seed placed in the ground and every hour's labor on the farm is made more productive. You further bring to your command the scientific observations given you by this college in the building of a purer and better breed of live stock of all descriptions.

"The one great unsolved educational problem is to construct a rural school that will serve as a distributing agency for the discoveries, improvements and agricultural problems worked out in these institutions.

"The last legislature, including the fees, put $180,000 more money into this great school than ever before appropriated for its use—and this additional amount to be used for maintenance purposes only. The moneys put into our educational institutions should not be chargeable to, or considered as, an expense in running the state, but rather as a sane investment. Viewed from this standpoint, Kansas has never made a better investment than in this agricultural college. It is not a question of how it is spent, but how wisely it is invested.

"Our student bodies attend our various state colleges for the express purpose of fitting themselves for the problems of life that eventually must confront them. These are the problems of their chosen selection in life. We readily see the fruition of the efforts of this great school. Your graduates are scientifically developing our agricultural resources, and the men to whom these vocations especially appeal to are the successful Kansans today.

"What a pitiful spectacle a young man or woman presents when they face the great unknown problems of life without the special qualifications or fitness for doing some one thing right or proficiently, and without being fortified for life. The pathos of their hesitancy, their lack of directness at the critical time that their strength of character and their personalities should become apparent is particularly saddening to their associates, their friends, and to the public in general. They lack, especially at this critical time when they need it, the constructive ability to build, to create. The mechanical ideas and trained hands of the artisan who sees in a block of steel, a piston, or a valve, or some vital mechanical part of a great piece of machinery, and molds and fashions that crudity into a living, vital, pulsating sort of an engine of commerce.

"Kansas is proud of her district schools; of her county and city high schools; of her vocational schools, and yet the future of our state, it seems to me, is vitally concerned in having that industrial and agricultural education that prepares a man or woman to take our dormant natural resources and make them grow great crops, new cereals, and fashions our coal, lead, zinc, and limestone into those necessities and comforts demanded by men.

"It has been suggested that while we owe a great debt to the private schools of our state, yet the future of our citizenship lies in our district school.

"And so this great school not only qualifies us, but it brings to us that love for a work that is essential to its success. While the specific function of this college is for training agriculturists and stock raisers, to fit young men for these vocations, yet we must not forget that in addition to these places we need men able and willing to help out in solving the great problems of government. The farmer has always been the great conservative factor in all governments, and particularly in our own country. So in training a man for the farm, we must also train him to serve the state and the nation as well. Great social, educational and scientific problems confront our state and nation today. The farmer is to have an important part in their solution if they are solved correctly."

SCRAP EVERY NIGHT

Boxing Club in Full Swing at Hall in Y. M. Building.

The boxing club meets every night in its room at the Y. M. C. A. and is now in full operation. About forty men have joined the club and are taking a hearty interest in the work. Wesley Bruce and Otto Hupp are the instructors. There are men of every weight in the club so the light man or the heavy man can find an opponent about his own weight. Last year when the club was organized, it had a membership of 40 men but many of them are not in the college this year. They are equipped with punching bags and a number of sets of gloves. The membership is open to anyone interested in boxing.

COLLEGE DOES GREAT WORK

MRS. CORA G. LEWIS CONGRATULATES WORK OF K. S. A. C.

SHE WISHES FOR MORE BUILDINGS

Wants Ag. Building Completed and a New "Hall of the Home" for the Girls

Mrs. Cora G. Lewis spoke on the "Flight of Years."

She first tendered to the college her congratulations of the Board of Administration on all that this college has done and may do for the state of Kansas; and upon the celebration of the Golden Jubilee.

The population, distribution of wealth and the soil production of fifty years ago were strikingly contrasted with present conditions. And Mrs. Lewis considers much of the credit or existing conditions to be due to his college.

Here is the substance of her talk: "Upon agriculture depends the production of the things which go to keep the race alive. The question of the land and of feeding the people upon it is like the woman question. You have it always with you.

"You have have done much in connecting with the thinking people of the age in trying to solve one question. That is the question of keeping people on the land. The answer to this is to keep them happy, and that, simmered down, means keeping the woman—the mother and home enter—serene and contented. This can not be done by means of external things. It is something deeper, something yet undiscovered, that will preserve intact in her heart something of joy and laughter, of refinement, happiness, and the joy of living. Environment is important but it is not all.

"This problem belongs also to the agricultural colleges, and they are to be congratulated on becoming a bulwark against the decay of men.

"I wish for this college that before the end of this school year a great hall of agriculture will be completed across the campus, and that a great domestic Science hall may arise, capable of taking care of all the home makers of Kansas, and I suggest that be called the Hall of the Home, and that not only girls but boys also be taught their party in the fine art of home making.

"My closing wish is that we may make the state so great that all can truly say, Kansas is the best dream of the world, come true."

Pi Kappas Danced

The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity gave a dance Saturday night, October 25 in Aggieville hall. The hall was tastefully decorated in garnet and gold, the fraternity colors. About forty couples were present.

The out of town guests were, Al-an Brown, I. O. Luke, E. W. Macy, George Marsh, L. E. Zimmerman, D. R. Thorn, and Dan Martin from Lawrence; Otis Burket from Kansas City, Mo.; Clifford Mickel from Soldier and E. A. Sheets from Topeka. Dean and Mrs. Jardine chaperoned.

Hike to Wildcat

The Webster-Eurodelphian hike was held Monday evening, at 4:30. A crowd of about fifty couples left the Gym, bound for Wildcat, near the first Rock Island bridge. Big campfires were built and for a few hours, the crowd enjoyed real wild life. Apples and sandwiches, with wienies and marshmallows to roast furnished the refreshments. It was against the rules for any one to leave the place without becoming acquainted with everyone else. Early in the evening the crowd left for home. Professor and Mrs. Abner were invited as chaperones.

JOSEPH DENNISON

Interesting Biography of Our First President

Joseph Dennison, D. D., A. M., the first president of the Kansas State Agricultural College, was born in Barnardston, Franklin County, Massachusetts, October 1, 1815. When he was two years old his parents removed to Colerain, in the same county, where they engaged in farming. Here young Dennison lived the usual life of the New England farmer boy of those days. In the fall of 1833 he entered Wilbraham Academy to prepare for college, and in 1837 he joined the sophomore class in Wesleyan University, at Middletown, Conn., where he graduated in 1840. In the same year he was elected professor of languages in the America Seminary, Duchess county, New York, and held that position for three years, having for his pupils such men as Alexander Winchell, the renowned geologist, and Albert S. Hunt, the philanthropist, whose gifts to hospitals and institutions of learning have aggregated $1,000,000.00 or more. From 1843 to 1855 he was engaged in the work of the ministry in Massachusetts, and in the spring of the latter year he came to Kansas, settling on a tract of government land near Manhattan, where he became one of the prime movers in the organization of Bluemont College and afterward its president.

The first president of Bluemont College was I. T. Goodnow, and the second Rev. R. L. Harford. A few years later, when the College became a State institution, he was still its president, holding this responsible position until 1873, when he resigned and soon after accepted the presidency of Baker University, at Baldwin City.—Professor Walter's History of K. GAVE EULOGY TO FAIRCHILD

PROF. W. A. WAUGH, 91, TOLD OF THE GREAT WORK DONE
BY PRES. FAIRCHILD.

F. A. Waugh, 91, who is now Professor of Horticulture at the Massachusetts Agricultural College, gave one of the most interesting talks of the afternoon, Wednesday. He told of the never-to-be forgotten days when George T. Fairchild was the president of K. S. A. C. When he came here one of the first men whom he met was the President. He pictured himself as a green country boy, blue shirt and brass watch chain as he entered here.

In the days when Waugh was a student, the president of the college had to teach classes and President Fairchild was the best of all the earlier presidents of K. S. A. C. and ranked in the entire country as the greatest agricultural college president.

Professor Waugh said: "In planning for a greater K. S. A. C. we must not forget the honorable past.
The college has grown in lands and buildings, but better teachers could not be than those of twenty years ago. We had a great college even in those days.

MEMORIES OF FIFTY YEARS.

James Bumbaugh Met an Old Time Friend Here Today.

A meeting which brought back to memory the times of fifty years ago took place here today when James Bumbaugh of Ogden met Dan Andrew of Bureka. The two went to school together back in Pennsylvania forty-seven years ago and they had not seen each other since that time until today. Word reached Mr.
Bumbaugh several days ago that Andrew was coming here to attend the college celebration and he arranged to meet him.

Nebraska Won.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 25.—The Haskell Indians, an aggregation of players quick as lightning and with a line nearly as heavy as that of Nebraska, sprung the surprise of the football season on Nebraska here today, holding the local eleven to a 7 to 6 score, only missing the tie in the score by failure at kicking goal following a touchdown.

Nebraska won by savage playing right at the outset, a touchdown and goal coming after nine minutes of play.

After that the tide of battle was nearly equal, except in the last quarter, when it was in favor of the Indians, a forward pass from the 17-yard line giving them their opportunity to score.

Missouri Beat Ames.

Ames, Ia., Oct. 25.—Playing straight football in the three first quarters in the face of the tricky attack by Missouri, Ames went down to the first defeat in the history of the two institutions on the state college field Saturday. The final score was 21 to 13. Ames scored on a drop kick by Quarterback Kinnick in the first quarter. Missouri scored three touchdowns in the last three quarters, all by Lake. Tiernan, the cyclone right half, plunged through the Tiger line and pulled himself through 30 yards of fighting Missouri territory in the third period for Ames' only touchdown.

In the last period Ames realized the hopelessness of a line smashing game and tried to get out into Missouri ground with the forward pass, but the Tigers' defense reduced nearly every attempt to failure.

E. N. Rodell, '02, came in Saturday

BUTTER HELPED FOUND K. S. A. C.

MRS. J. W. CORY OF REPUBLIC COUNTY GAVE 13 POUNDS TO OLD BLUEMONT COLLEGE.

The semi-centennial activities are bringing some very interesting little bits of K. S. A. C.'s personal history to light.

Professor Kent called the attention of Dean Willard to one of Anna Mater's oldest friends when the invitations were being sent out, Mrs.
J. W. Cory of Republic county.

Far back in the very early days of Kansas, in 1858, to be exact, Mrs.
Cory donated thirteen pounds of good, home-made butter, like the kind mother used to make, to the fund for the founding of old Blue-mont College.

Mr. and Mrs. Cory's son attended K. S. A. C. in 1887 and '88, after the name of the institution had been changed.

Mr. and Mrs. Cory now live in Republic county, Mr. Cory having been the first man to receive a government patent on land in that county.
Both they and the college regret the fact that ill health prevents their attending the celebration.

Misses Mary Farwell of Fredonia, Kan., and Verna Russell of New Albany, Kan., arrived Monday to visit college friends and attend the Semi-Centennial. Both were students here last year.

Matthew Jones, was here from Topeka last Saturday attending the game. Mr. Jones, who was a sophomore in college last year, is an instructor in the printing department of the Boys' Industrial School at Topeka.

Professor J. B. Whelan, till this year instructor in organic Chemistry at K. S. A. C. came up from K. U.
where he now teaches the Jayhawkers "Organic," to take in the Aggie-K. U. game. He remained over Sunday.

Mrs. Nellie Kedzie-Jones, one of K. S. A. C.'s prominent ex-Faculty members, arrived Monday of this week. Mrs. Kedzie-Jones is to speak tomorrow afternoon on "Woman's Birthright."

R. W. Greene, a student at K. S.
A. C. from '99 to '02, came down from his farm home near Lincoln,
Kan., to take in the football game, and is staying over for the celebration.

L. E. Hutto, '13, who is superintendent of schools at Fairview, Kan., came up for the game Saturday and spent a few days with his parents.

Mrs. Cora G. Lewis, member of the Board of Administration, is now at the college. She is to speak this morning on "The Flight of Years."

Miss Ethelyn Pray entertained at dinner Sunday, October 26. The guests were June Milner, Reva Lint, Jennie Brown, and Eva Allemen.

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, OCTOBER 31, 1913

OUR BIRTHDAY PARTY OVER

LAST DAY HAD MANY SPEAKERS FROM EVERYWHERE

A DAY FILLED WITH EVENTS

Hear Many of Our Prominent Visitors.—Addresses Were Well Attended

National Day was a great day in the Semi-Centennial celebration. The day was filled with excellent speeches, all made by men with national reputations in their line. Congressman Helvering made the first address of the day upon Rural Credits. He outlined his bill which he has presented in congress, and hopes to have passed before the year is over.

Dean Eugene Davenport of the department of agriculture at Illinois University, spoke on The Outlook for Agriculture. All of the progress made in agricultural lines has been during the last fifty years and it is progressing at a rapid rate.

Acting President of Missouri University, John Carleton Jones and President W. J. Kerr, of the Oregon Agricultural College, each brought messages of congratulation from their respective schools. Each commented favorably upon the wonderful advantages offered and taken advantage of by the young people of Kansas.

David Grandson Fairchild, '88, who is now the Chief of the Office of Seed and Plant Introduction and is acting as the personal representative of U. S. Sec'y. of Agriculture Houston, opened his speech with a few reminiscences of former public appearances at K. S. A. C., and of twenty years ago. He discussed the growth of the department of agriculture in which he is greatly interested. After his address, luncheon was served at the Gym by the girls of the domestic science division, to about 500 people.

The afternoon session was delayed because of the bounteous luncheon served by the girls. This forced the dress parade by the cadets to occur late in the afternoon.

The first speaker of the afternoon was Alfred C. Trus, Director in the Office of Experiment Stations. He told of the work of the experiment stations and of their purpose. "The Kansas Station, he said, has an important and honorable position because of the work upon alfalfa and the hog cholera serum."

President Winthrop E. Stone of Purdue gave a history of the Land Grant Colleges of the country, how they were formed, organized and of their work in the past and what it may be in the future.

When Mrs. Nellie Kedzie-Jones was introduced there ensued a long period of applause. President Waters introduced her most happily as the Grandmother of the D. S. Course.

After Mrs. Kedzie-Jones charming address the audience was invited to go to the Athletic field and see a Regimental Dress Parade which was staged by the college cadets, and incidentally, as President Waters said, to see the new uniforms which the boys were wearing for the first time.

The Birthday Party closed with a reception in Nichol's Gymnasium to which everyone was cordially invited.

Prof. W. T. Stratton of the mathematics department has just received the proof sheets for a rather extensive article on the "Organization of Material for courses in Secondary Vocational Mathematics." The article will soon appear in the School Science and Mathematics magazine.

Professor Stratton has already received much favorable comment on the value of the work from Prof. H. E. Cobb of Lewis Institute, Chicago. The article will require about sixteen pages of the magazine to publish it in full.

TEN YEARS

AT K. S. A. C.

EX-PRESIDENT NICHOLS GAVE A REVIEW OF HIS ADMINISTRATION.

Wednesday afternoon's session was the most interesting to visitors and alumni. The first speaker on the program was Ex-President Nichols. President Nichols gave a short review of the past history of the college and more especially of his own administration.

During the administration of President Nichols a great number of the buildings on the campus were built. The legislature granted $500,000 for the erection of buildings during his administration. The Vet., D. S., Library Annex, Horticultural and Greenhouses, Dairy and several additions to the shops were built. The acreage of the college holdings were also greatly increased, and the Hays experiment station annexed.

"K. S. A. C. offers a broader course in sciences than any other college of its kind in the country," said President Nichols. "I have made a study of the catalogs of the different colleges and none compare in breadth with the course here."

"I am proud that the Gymnasium has been named after me and I hope that it will be the only monument which I will require for many years to me."

When the College was a Youngster. The institution is furnished with a fine piano forte and a melodeon. The government of the institution shall be firm, but mild and parental.

A daily stage, carrying a daily mail, passes to and through Manhattan to Junction City. Quarreling, fighting, or the carrying of firearms or other dangerous weapons is strictly forbidden.

For the convenience of those who wish, a hack will carry students to and from the college, for $2 per term.

A feature of the commencement exercises of 1880 was a plowing match by the members of the senior class in agriculture.

It is a great advantage to each student to be present at the commencement of the year, and at the beginning of each subsequent term.

Fifteen of the students of the college served in the United States army during the War of the Rebellion, and three of these died in the service.

Habitual idleness, inattention to study, and attending balls in term time will be made the subject of such discipline as the faculty deem expedient.

The cars of the Union Pacific Railroad, eastern division, already run to Lawrence; in a few months they will run to Topeka, and by next season to this place.

All students are required to attend meeting on the Sabbath, either at the institution or at such place of worship as they or their parents or guardians may choose.

New motives are presented to the emigrant seeking a home in the West. He can come by railroad to the frontier, and find at once first-class institutions of learning, where he may commence or continue the education of his children.

FIND VICTIM FOR TRIAL

POPULAR HORTICULTURE PROFESSOR TO BE "THE GOAT"

IT WILL BE A BATTLE OF WITS

Literary Societies to Stage a Mock Trial Sometime During Next Month

"Mike" Ahearn has consented to be the "goat" in the mock trial which is being arranged by the literary societies. He will be tried on the charge of stealing persimmons. The trial will be held in the Auditorium sometime next month.

A jury made up of college professors, will judge of his guilt. The judge, sheriff, attorneys, witnesses, and others connected with the court are chosen from the eight literary societies represented.

Attorney Evans of Manhattan has consented to coach the student attorneys, and give them advice on legal points. Professor Taylor, who has had experience in working up mock trials, has offered to help the committee in every way he can. Professor Johnson of the public speaking department will coach the witnesses. Most of the witnesses will be made up to represent certain characters, and the committee feels sure that this part of the trial will go off well, now that Professor Johnson has taken hold of it.

Everyone who knows Mike is expecting the trial to be full of fun. His friends agree that in a battle of wit and repartee, Mike is pretty sure to give as good as he takes.

Honored President Waters.

H. J. Waters, president of the Kansas State Agricultural College, is the new president of the International Dry Farming Congress. His election took place at Tulsa, Okla., last night. The annual convention of the congress is in session there.

Dr. Waters will succeed W. R. Motherwell of Canada. O. D. Hunt, Tulsa; H. M. Balner, Amarillo; Alfred M. Atkinson, Bozeman, Mont., were elected vice presidents.

The next meeting place will be selected today. Wichita is making a strong bid for it.

PRES. WILSON SENT MESSAGE

HOPES THAT SUCCESS OF K. S. A. C. BE DOUBLED IN NEXT FIFTY YEARS.

President Wilson was unable to attend the celebration on account of an unexpected accumulation of business. He had hoped to come, and sincerely regretted his inability to do so.

Mr. Wilson sent a message to the college tendering his thanks for the invitation to be present and expressing his congratulations upon the occasion of the Golden Jubilee. The message was delivered by Guy T. Helvering, Representative from the Fifth Congressional District of Kansas.

The President says: "This is an invitation that grips at my heart cords. I would like to be with them. It is my earnest wish that the success attained by this wonderful institution in the next fifty years will be twice that attained in the past fifty."

TENNEYCK TO ILLINOIS

One-Time Head of Experiment Station Is County Advisor

Professor A. M. TenEyck, well remembered by all the faculty and many of the students here, has just resigned his position as the head of the extension department of the Agricultural College of Iowa at Ames to become agricultural adviser for Winnebago County, Illinois.

Professor TenEyck taught agriculture in K. S. A. C. for years, and was Dean of the Division of Agriculture for some time. After leaving his work in Manhattan, he was in charge of the experiment station at Fort Hays for several years, going to Ames about a year ago.

He has made a name for himself all over the United States by his writings on agricultural and rural life subjects. Much of the best of the experiment station's work was accomplished under his supervision, and his services have been of inestimable value to the farmers of Kansas. He believes strongly in the farm paper as an adjunct to the farm.

Another relative of the college was born October 9. His name is Ronald Paul Ingold. Mrs. Ingold is better known as Clara Kilewer, of the 1911 class. The Ingolds live in Newton, Kan.

John McDowell, '11, and Lysia Elinor Thestrup were married October 9. They expect to live in Chicago.

Mr. H. H. Sherrard, is receiving a visit from his father of Winfield, this week.

TOLD ABOUT FIRST COURSES

MRS. NELLIE KEDZIE-JONES TELLS OF EARLY WORK IN D. S.

PRaised PRESIDENT ANDERSON

He Once Saved K. S. A. C. From Being United With K. U.—Then Bought First Equipment.

The address given by Mrs. Nellie Kedzie-Jones on Woman's Birthright went right to the hearts of all her hearers. It was not so much what she said—although her address was very clear, logical, and interesting—as it was her own charming personality, and the little indescribable feminine touch which placed her talk unmistakably in a class by itself.

President Waters, in introducing Mrs. Kedzie-Jones, referred to her as the mother of Home Economics work in the world. This is a title and a tribute to which she—and she alone—has the right.

The idea of such training for girls was first conceived by President Anderson, in 1774. He it was who won his fight against the legislature for means to broaden and enlarge this institution. He bought two sewing machines and placed them on one corner of the chapel platform in the old college. Thus began the training of girls for home work.

"Then came the training of that man who never failed to make a better man and woman of all who came under his influence, President Fairchild. He firmly believed in fitting girls for that work which was to be theirs."

"There is more need for training for the home than anywhere else. This fulfills the ideal of education, training for service, to do for others, and give to their lives something of good from our own. This is the divine mission of a mother."

Mrs. Kedzie-Jones contrasted the present idea of education with that of our forefathers. They believed in educating the boy and fitting him for his life work, but never the girl. Now the training of the girl is considered equally important with that of her brother.

She mentioned the striking contrast between the two sewing machines in the beginning and the completely equipped building recently erected. She is proud to be a graduate of this institution and credits it with a great service to the world. Its teachers are scattered from Dakota to Louisiana and from sea to sea, and the homes of the land.

bear testimony to the real worth of such a training.

BULLETIN BOARDS.

Be Sure to Fasten the Placards on Tight.

The campus has been beautified recently by the erection of two new bulletin boards. One of the new boards is at the main walk.

The boards were made in the blacksmith shops, and are four feet square, ornamented by iron scroll work. They will be a most welcome substitute for the old cottonwood tree, at the fork of the walks, and will prevent the decoration of the stone posts at the south entrance with all sorts of signs.

NAME BUILDINGS FOR TEACHERS

FORMER PRESIDENTS AND PROFESSORS HAVE NAMES PERPETUATED AT K. S. A. C.

K. S. A. C. has adopted a most pleasing way of perpetuating the names of her great men in the naming of the college buildings. Four of the buildings are named for presidents, and one for a faculty member, who has served the college in the past.

Dennison Hall, more popularly known as "the Chem Building," is named in honor of Dr. Joseph Dennison, the first president of the Kansas State Agricultural College.

Anderson Hall, the administration building, was named for President John A. Anderson, who was president from 1873 to 1878, when he left the college to take his place in Congress. Nichols Gymnasium, the finest Gymnasium west of the Mississippi river, has taken the name from Ex-President Nichols, who served the college from 1900 to 1908.

Fairchild Hall received its name from President Fairchild, President of the college from 1879 to 1900.

The Kedzie Hall was named for Mrs. Nellie Kedzie, now Mrs. Kedzie-Jones, one of the prime movers in the founding of the domestic science course in K. S. A. C., and a patron and instructor of the college.

CHANCELLOR STRONG SPOKE.

Says Kansas Educates More Students and Cheaper Than Most States.

"Kansas educates more students to the acre than most of the states in the union," declared Dr. Frank Strong, chancellor of the University of Kansas, in his address Wednesday at the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Kansas Agricultural College. Chancellor Strong brought the greetings of the university to the Golden Jubilee, and spoke on "Some Educational Problems of Kansas."

"If Iowa had educated as many, according to population, as Kansas," said Chancellor Strong, "instead of 4,163 resident students in its university and agricultural college, it would have had 6,317; Wisconsin, instead of having 3,945 would have had 6,341; Indiana, instead of 3,889 would have had 7,339; Michigan, instead of 4,509 would have had 7,636; Missouri, instead of 2,740 would have had 8,949; and Illinois, instead of 3,504 would have had 15,322."

Prof. W. A. Anderson, '91, and wife spent part of their summer vacation in Manhattan. Professor Anderson recently has been put in charge of steam and gas engineering in the

NIGHT PARADE BY ENGINEERS

EXCELLED PARADE OF THEIR DEPARTMENT LAST SPRING.

HAD POWER FOR ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Met With a Little Hard Luck—Best Float Broke Down—Locomotive Headed Parade.

Did you ever see a locomotive abandon the rails and go parading around on asphalt streets wherever its engineer chose to drive it? Such a locomotive led the big parade of the engineers last Wednesday night. Ordinarily this engine is only a large steam tractor, but for parade purposes, the engineers had fitted it with a cow-catcher, a tender and a high power headlight. It pulled a float on which a gasoline engine drove a dynamo which generated electricity for his head-light and other lights on these first three displays. A large gasoline tractor followed, drawing another truck on which a gasoline engine and dynamo generated electricity for two very meritorious floats. The first of these floats carried what looked like a stone dam over which a waterfall flowed. The water from the fall turned a water-wheel and electric lights under the falling water gave a very unusual effect. Unfortunately a wheel on this float broke when the parade was but a short distance from the campus so he truck had to be taken out and left by the wayside. Behind this float came an electrically lighted suspension bridge built by the civil engineers. A party of surveyors with pack mules followed in line and then a procession of men carrying electric torches preceded a tractor which pulled a float with a small electric fountain of many colors. This was followed by a float on either side of which a large green, purple and yellow sign spelled out the letters E. E. K. S. A. C. ENGINEERS.

Behind this came a Japanese tea room decorated by the color and design girls, and after this a model home with all electric conveniences. A large livery truck was rigged out as the battleship, Kansas, and carried the band. Behind this another truck, covered with Japanese decorations carried a double quartet of students from the music department who sang and did stunts advertising the "Mikado."

A "Big 4" tractor was next in line. The rims of its wheels were lined inside with electric lights and the signs K. S. A. C., and M. E. appeared among the spokes of the wheels when the proper side came up. This tractor pulled a machine shop in which workmen were busy at lathe, emery wheels, forge and anvil. All the wheels of the shop being turned by a gasoline engine. Two architects' floats followed this. On one sculptors were chiseling at their statues while draftsmen drew plans and specifications. On the other was a house made to resemble stone in the first story and stucco in the second. The last float of the parade depicted wash-day as it was and as it is. On the one hand two women toiled over tubs and wringers in fatiguing labor; on the other hand a gasoline engine drove a washing machine and wringer while the lady of the house leaned back in her rocker and tatted.

Had Bad Fall
Joe Sweet was severely shaken and bruised yesterday when he fell from the second floor in the West end of the gymnasium, to the floor of the basement, striking on the stair-rails as he fell.

Mr. Sweet's injuries, while very painful, are not dangerous. The most troublesome being a bruised wrist and lip. He was removed to Janitor Lewis' room in Anderson Hall, where he spent last night. The accident occurred a little after 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Miss Jennie Flynn, '13, is at Normal City, Kan., where she is teaching domestic science.

Christine M. Corlett, '91, is in Oklahoma. Her address is Canton, Okla., R. F. D. 1.

GOOD ROOTING

The work of the rooters and the band at the game Saturday were especially worthy of mention. The cheering was the best that has ever been heard on an Aggie football field. The new system of having several cheer leaders, is working like a charm and the rooters are becoming more accomplished with each game. The big horn was a help in keeping the rooters together. A few of the fellows, have not learned to either cheer with the crowd, or to be still. It does not sound harmonious to hear a dozen fellows shouting to hold or block a kick, when the mass of the rooters are giving "Hit 'Em Hard." It spoils the rooting. All of the rooters should be still except when the cheer leader calls for more noise. The band kept going all through the game and always had a new snappy piece for every occasion. When they came marching in on the field, they made a very favorable appearance and they lived up to the appearance by playing music that was suited to a football game.

ISSUE CALL FOR BASKET BALL

FIRST PRACTICE WILL BE HELD NOVEMBER 14.

OUTLOOK GOOD FOR CLASSY TEAM

Have Not Arranged Schedule of the Games Yet—Captain Souders Has Five "K" Men.

Varsity basket ball practice starts November 4, with a good supply of last year's regulars and recruits from the freshmen team of 1913, the 1914 team should be classy. Last year's captain and star forward, Donald McCallum, has served his time and will be ineligible for this year's team. Captain Souders has five letter men with which to start the season. Young, Root, Broberg, Shull, and Jones will report next Tuesday for practice.

Adams, a crack goal shooter from the 1913 freshmen five will be in the running for a position on the '14 varsity. Vale, a guard from the 1912 varsity will put in a bid for a position on this year's team. Leonard, lanky center of the freshmen last year, will also report. Jones and Root, last year's star guards should form a strong combination in the safety positions this season. Each was good for a few goals per game and should be able to locate the basket with even greater ease this year.

Coach Lowman has not arranged the '14 schedule yet. Southwestern will probably furnish the opening game on the home floor, the probable date being January 13. The Aggie five will journey to Emporia the following week and play the two Emporia schools on consecutive nights.

W. A. Barr, '11, is dairyman for the United States Department of Agriculture and the Extension Department of the Oregon Agricultural College.

WICHITA TEAM BELOW STANDARD

They Were Defeated by the Southwestern Team Last Week—Aggies Had Big Score Last Year.

The Aggies proved masters of the Kansas in several ways last Saturday and although defeated did not bring total discouragement to the football fans. In returning kickoffs and punts the Aggie runners outclassed the Kansas speed merchants, three to one. One notable instance was developed in the third semester when the speedy Sidorisky romped through a broken field and returned a 55 yard kickoff fifty yards. The longest gains of the battle were made by the Aggie players also. Haymaker added 45 yards to the Aggies total yardage gained by staging a pretty flight westward in the second quarter, around the right flank of the Kansas host.

Also, the Aggies developed to be better manipulators of the aerial flip method of gaining than did the Kansas eleven. Although the Mosse-Frank machine edged the first touchdown over on the Aggies by clever usage of the pass, the Aggies gained twice times the number of yards over the Lawrence team. Should the contest tomorrow give the Aggies nothing more than a workout, the possibility of an open style is very probable.

The Fairmount team has not been playing up to the standard of Fairmount eleven of years past. Coach Bates has a speedy but light eleven this season. Koby, a star player when Bishop the present K. U., fullback was playing at Fairmount, is playing right end and captaining this year's Fairmount team. Cassidy, star all-around track man who did much in the State High Track and Field meet on Ahearn Field last spring, to win for Wichita high school, is playing a tackle position for the Fairmount eleven.

Zabel in School Again

George Zabel has returned from his work in Chicago and has again enrolled for work in Baker. Several weeks ago after having enrolled in school, "Zip" received word that he had been drafted from the Northern League by the Chicago Cubs and that he would be expected to report at Chicago and finish the season with that club, incidentally receiving a substantial increase in salary. In closing the season Zabel worked in two games, one against the regulars of his own club and the other against Pittsburg. In the first game he allowed but five hits and one run, winning 4-1.

Only three days later he pitched the last game of the season for Chicago, against Pittsburg. In five innings he permitted but three hits and was taken out when the score was 3 to 0 in his favor, hence getting credit for winning his game.

As a result of these victories he has signed a contract with the Cubs for next season and will probably be permitted to finish his school year here and start the season as a full fledged Cub without having first to go to training quarters in Tampa, Fla.—

K. S. A. C.'s Debating Records Receive Favorable Comment

The Kansas State Agricultural College has had an unusually successful season in debating this year, winning all of the debates for which there were judges. In the Kansas, Colorado, Oklahoma, Tri-State Agricultural Colleges, the question was "The recall of State Judicial Decisions on Constitutional Questions."
Kansas won from Oklahoma by a unanimous vote, and from Colorado by a two to one decision. In a dual debate with Fairmount College, Wichita, on the same question, but with two entirely different teams, K.
S. A. C. won both debates by two to one decisions. In the debate with Salina Wesleyan University on the recall of judges, K. S. A. C. upheld the negative and received the unanimous decision of the judges. In the last debate of the season against the Kansas State Normal on the Initiative and Referendum the State Normal upheld the affirmative and K. S.
A. C. the negative. At this debate there were no judges.—The Public Speaking Review.

MIKE AHEARN NOT GUILTY

GIVES OUT SIGNED STATEMENT TO THE PRESS

A VICTIM OF CIRCUMSTANCES

Aggie Reporter Gets True Version of the Notorious Perhammon Steal

Newspaper reporters are renowned as being real sleuths, and it remained for an Aggie reporter to fer-rit out the culprit of the crime which has been stirring the campus the past week. An Aggie reporter ran down the culprit and we print in full the statement of the unfortunate victim of circumstances.

Reporter to "Mike." "What have you to say in regard to the scandal in which you are involved?"

"Mike" to the Reporter: "I can say nothing at present. My attorney, W.
R. Curry, has cautioned me against saying anything that might be quoted against me at the trial. Mr. Curry decided this last Tuesday, when a reporter for the Kansas City Star, attempted to get an interview in regard to this deplorable affair. He warned me that anything I might say would be used against me by the prosecution."

Reporter: "Are the charges true?"

"Mike:" "No! I wish to make a complete denial of everything. The whole affair is a frame-up. I am being hounded day and night, by student detectives who make my life a misery. I can't understand why these charges should be brought against me. The web of evidence is being drawn so closely about me, that I don't dare say anything that might incriminate me, but for the honor of the department of Horticulture, I wish to make a flat denial of everything."

Reporter: "Do you expect to be convicted?"

"Mike:" "At present it is hard to tell. The frame-up has been so carefully planned and so well executed that even an innocent man might be convicted. I am relying on my attorney, however, to clear me of the scandal. Mr. Curry, a lawyer whom I have always admired for his ability, being familiar with the poverty of the average teacher, has contributed his services in my behalf, free of charge. He knows that I am the victim of malicious, vicious, and false accusations and he is determined to obtain an acquittal."

Reporter: "What can you say of your past life?"

"Mike:" "I'm willing to stake my past reputation on what Mr. B—, my office mate, says."

Reporter, (turning to office mate)

"Mr. B—, what have you to say about Mr. Ahearn's reputation?"

Mr. B—: "I did not desire to be interviewed but, as long as you ask me, I must say that I know from my close connection with Mr. Ahearn that he is a very dangerous man, capable of the worst crimes."

(Exit Aggie Reporter and Mr.
B—.)

This is a new turn in the course of the scandal. The "Aggie" is withholding the name of Mr. Ahearn's office mate, as the prosecution may need to call him as a witness.

THE KANSAS AGGIE

VOLUME XIX

MANHATTAN, KANSAS,

NOVEMBER 5, 1913.

NUMBER 15

TEXAS COMES UP NORTH

AGGIES WON LAST YEAR'S GAME

They Want to Wipe Out Defeat—Aggies Beat Them On Their Own Grounds Last Year.

The Aggies meet the strong Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College team of College Station, Texas, on Ahearn Field next Friday afternoon. There is a possibility that the School of Agriculture eleven will make its debut in an abbreviated curtain raiser with the Salina High School eleven. The Aggies journeyed to the southland last fall and defeated the Texans 13 to 10. Now the southerners are coming north "loaded for bear" and the Aggies are not playing the brand of football that will withstand a very heavy onslaught.

The Lowman team played fairly well against the Fairmounters last Saturday, but not good enough to win in the Texas battle Friday. The Texans will be tuned up to avenge the eleventh hour defeat the Aggies handed them on their home gridiron last fall. The Southerners had the game stowed away until in the last period when their quarterback attempted a forward pass from a spread-eagle formation where the man passing the oval is the only one back of the line of scrimmage. Prather broke through and intercepted the pass and ran 75 yards for the touchdown that won for the Manhattan school.

The Texans are noted for their punning abilities and also for their wonderful punters. The Aggie players say that the kicker who opposed Prather last year, although both were kicking in mud ankle deep, averaged fully 20 yards better than did Prather. The Aggies are shy a kicker this season but have noticed the loss in but one game so far this season. The Texas eleven was defeated last Saturday by Mississippi A. and M. College, the final count being 6 to 0. The sting of this defeat added to the fact that the Aggies snatched the victory last year will make the southerners fight all the more for Friday's victory.

Coach Lowman announced Tuesday night that the School of Agriculture eleven had been billed to play the Salina High school football team as a curtain raiser to the Texas Aggie-Kansas Aggie game Friday afternoon. The Aggie-Salina contest will start at 2:30 o'clock, sharp. The school of agriculture, athletic department has secured the services of Lamar Hoover, a graduate of Baker University, as coach of the prep school team. Hoover has the reputation of being the best athlete Baker has ever turned out. Hoover will coach only the School of Agriculture team and is in no way connected with the athletic department of the college.

RECOGNITION SERVICE.

Y. W. Had Large Attendance at Meeting Sunday Afternoon.

The Young Women's Christian Association held its annual recognition service last Sunday afternoon at the United Presbyterian church. The attendance was unusually large, and there were 160 new members present.

Mrs. A. E. Holt gave the girls a very interesting and helpful talk. Miss Jessie Machir sang two solos. Each new member was given a white rose in token of recognition.

At Park Place.

Among the Halloween celebrations, the one at Park Place Dormitory was one of the merriest.

All of the traditions of the evening were observed—Witches and fortune telling, ghosts and ghouls, black cats and goblins, candles and Fate, cider and doughnuts, pumpkin pie and apples were enjoyed by about twenty-five couples.

Professor H. H. King and Mrs. King, and Miss Estella Boz chaperoned.

CAUGHT PENNANT THIEVES.

Four Students Confess to Robbing Houses of Decorations.

Four students have confessed to the sheriff that they stole pennants during the celebration. . . .cykk during the celebration from houses which were decorated. They were caught when trying to take some from Dr. Bressler's residence.

The four students rounded up by the sheriff were: W. C. McGraw, who lives at 830 Fremont St.; Owen R. Walters of Roswell, N. Mex.; Corwin S. Wolgamot, of Roswell, N. Mex.; George E. Dodson, of Caney, Kan. The gang used a motor car belonging to McGraw to cover the town. The pennants were found in their rooms and they were identified by the owners.

Prohibition Association.

The Intercollegiate Prohibition Association met and organized for the year, at the . M. C. A., Monday afternoon. Mr. Wade, one of the national secretaries, was present and made a short talk. The officers elected for the year are:

President—J. J. Frey.
Vice-president—C. O. Levine.
Secretary-treasurer—A. E. Jones.

The association is for the purpose of creating college sentiment against the liquor traffic and training leaders for the prohibition work. It is second only to the Y. M. C. A., in size and influence in American Colleges. Other meetings will be announced later.

Miss Verna Russell and Mary Farwell of Fredonia, who have been visiting in Manhattan during the past week returned home Tuesday. Miss Farwell expects to enroll in college at the opening of the winter term.

BIG RECEPTION CLOSED JUBILEE

FACULTY AND STUDENTS MET MANY OF OUR DISTINGUISHED GUESTS.

The reception held in the Nichols Gymnasium Thursday night was an appropriate close to the celebration of K. S. A. C.'s fiftieth anniversary. Practically all of the faculty members were present and a large proportion of the students, but it is estimated that probably half the total number present were visitors to the college during the celebration.

The receiving line was a very distinguished one. Edwin T. Hackney and Mrs. Cora G. Lewis stood at the head of the line, and Mrs. C. A. Hoffman and President Waters at the foot. In the line were ex-Presidents and Mrs. Nichols, W. J. Kerr, Mrs. Kedzie-Jones, E. O. Sisson, Mrs. Kirschner, daughter of ex-President Fairchild, ex-Governor Hoch, Mrs. McFadden, Professor and Mrs. Walters, A. C. True, Mrs. Mary Pierce Van Zile, Hon. G. T. Helvering, Mrs. Helvering, D. G. Fairchild and Mrs. Fairchild, Mrs. H. J. Waters, N. Vandenberg, F. A. Waugh and Mrs. Waugh, and Winthrop Ellsworth Stone.

The gymnasium was decorated for the occasion in the college colors. The literary society rooms and Professor Johnson's class room in the east wing were used as cloak rooms. The college orchestra, concealed behind a bank of greenery, furnished music throughout the evening. Punch and wafers were served as refreshment. About 1500 were present.

Roy Coleman, '11, came down from Concordia Friday to visit his friends and enjoy the celebration.

Mrs. Holladay, returned to her home in Spearville, Kan., Sunday after a week's visit with her son, Charles Holladay.

A HOLIDAY ON FRIDAY

PROFESSORS ALL GOING TO THE TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

ARE ON PROGRAM AT TOPEKA

A Number of Professors Will Make Addresses—Will Run Special Train.

There will be no college classes on Friday, because all of the faculty members are supposed to be in attendance at the state teachers meeting at Topeka. Several of the members of the faculty will give addresses and some of the students who expect to teach will attend the sessions.

A special train will leave Friday morning on the Rock Island and will return Friday night after the program is over. The regular fare will be charged.

The Board of Administration will give a reception for the teachers of the institutions of higher learning, Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in the rotunda of the capitol.

Several members of the faculty here are on the program; J. V. Corleyou Professor of German, will have charge of the German Round Table; Prof. H. F. Roberts, will give a special report on the "Teaching of Biology, Plant Life and Animal Life in the High School;" and Prof. J. W. Searson will talk on "A Better Plan for Teaching Reading."

Friday, the Aggies and their friends will have a banquet at the First Baptist Church. The banquet will be served by the ladies of the church and President Waters will preside. Many of the alumni are expected to attend this re-union.

Several other professors will be in attendance Thursday, so some of the students will have a two day holiday.

Prof. J. W. Searson has charge of the publicity of the Teachers Association, and he is being assisted by N. A. Crawford of the English department, during the convention.

"Spin" Young spent the week end with friends in Abilene.

Miss Helen Crawford who has been the guest of Miss Lucile Mills returned to her home in Topeka Tuesday.

AT Y. W. THURSDAY.

Freshmen Girls Will Have Charge of the Meeting.

The Freshmen will have charge of the regular meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association next Thursday evening. The meeting is being planned under the leadership of Miss Frances Walsh. From beginning to end, the Freshmen will do everything, and all that the upper classmen will be allowed to do will be to join in the chorus. Four freshmen girls, Harriet Morris, Mary Weibel, Laura Ramsey, and Stella Gould, will speak to "What the Association has meant to the Freshmen," "What it means to us," "What we expect of the Association, and "What the Association may expect of us."

TRACK MEN

HELD MEETING

WILL BE BEST BALANCED TEAM AGGIES HAVE HAD IN YEARS.

The track men met in Coach Lowman's office Monday morning during chapel hour and discussed plans for the coming track season. The track squad gives early promise of being one of the best balanced teams the Aggies have ever had. Coach Lowman explained to the men that Mr. Merner would have complete charge of the track squad this season and that the interests of the track men would be well taken care of in the athletic department. The Aggies, it was announced, will not compete in the State Meet, which is to be held at Emporia this season, but will go instead, to the Missouri Valley meet which will be held in St. Louis next May.

The second number of the lyceum course will be next Friday night, when the Ben Greet players will present "The Merchant of Venice" in the auditorium. The Ben Greet players gave the best number on the course last year when they presented "A Comedy of Errors." This will make their second appearance here in their Shakespearean repertoire.

The Ben Greet players are considered by critics to be one of the strongest troupes of the actors playing Shakespearean plays in the country.

The Texas A. & M. football team has been invited to attend the play in a body. Many out of town reservations also have been made, and the play promises to draw a record crowd.

ON FREE LIST.

List of Material for Debates Has Been Prepared.

A list of all the free material upon the Panama Tolls question, which will be debated in the try-outs after Christmas, has been prepared by Miss Derby, the reference librarian. A copy of the list has been sent to each of the Presidents of the literary societies, to Coaches Searson and Ostrum and another copy is in the library. Any of the students who expect to debate next term can see these lists and send for the material.

DEBATING COUNCIL DECIDES TO USE LAST YEAR'S SYSTEM OF SELECTION

The preliminaries for the next debates will be held the first Friday of the Winter term. The contests in the societies must be held before this time. At this preliminary there will be chosen the 15 debaters who will represent the college in the debates next spring.

Each society will select five members to enter the contests. These 40 contestants will be divided into five groups of eight each. The two highest will be placed on the squad. The last three will be eliminated and the other three will go in to another elimination which will be held the following Monday. The second preliminary will have 15 contestants and the highest five together with the first ten from the other contest, will compose the debating squad.

Only four of the members of the squad will be used in the tri-state debate with Colorado and Oklahoma. The others, with the possible exception of three, will have a chance in the different dual debates which will be arranged with Washburn and other colleges.

The question which will be debated in these debates and try-outs will be: Resolved that the tolls of the Panama Canal should be the same for the merchant vessels of all nations.

By the term merchant vessels is meant all vessels other than warships. Each debater may choose either side of the question and will be allowed ten minutes for presenting his side of the argument. This is exactly the same system which was used in the selection of the debaters last year.

Many of the society members, who are expecting to try-out, have already started work on their debates. The library is rapidly obtaining all of the material on this question and there are many references already in the library.

AGGIES WON FROM FAIRMOUNT

WICHITA TEAM NEVER HAD A CHANCE.

NEW MEN PLAY CENTER POSITION

Fairmount Goe Away With Pass For a Touchdown—Aggies Played Listless Game.

The Aggies came out of the Fairmount game in good shape which is more than can be said of the Fairmount players. Moss did not get into the tussle, but will be seen in action against the Texans Friday. The freshmen have been drilled in the shift plays of the southerners and this week's practice promises to rival that of the week before the Kansas game.

In a game where the old style of play was pitted against the strictly pen style of football, the old style and weight, and experience won out, the Aggies trimming the Fairmount eleven, on Ahearn Field, 30 to 7. Fairmount's tally came in the second quarter when Solter, Fairmount's star end captured Hahn's pass on his own 30 yard line and raced 70 yards to the Aggies goal. Cassidy kicked goal. For Wichita the playing of Solter and Hahn at quarter proved the best.

The Aggies presented a varied lineup at the start and played listlessly at times. The Lowman crew's work defensively against the Fairmount passes was very poor in spots. The Aggies reversed the tables on he Wichita team, however, and gained many yards by clever usage of he pass. Agnew, Haymaker, Hartvig, and Marble scored the Aggies touchdowns, Agnew kicking three free goals, and Captain Loomis, one. Agnew, Enns, Sidorfsky, and Cleand showed up well in the Aggies backfield. Cleland brought the tands up in the final period when he broke loose through the Fairmount's line and reeled off 57 yards before being tackled and thrown on the visitor's five yard line. Sid carried the ball well and credited himself with many long gains. Captain Loomis played well in the line.

Burkholder and Scanlon played half-a-game-apiece in the center position. Scanlon showed up well and Burk mauled his way through the Fairmount line and threw Nossaman, punting from behind his own goal posts, for a safety in the last period. The vacancy in the center position was caused by Coxen's checking in his suit last week owing to a disagreement with the coach. Coach Lowman says that Coxen will not be seen on the football team again this fall. The summary.

First Quarter.

The Aggies chose to defend the vest goal and Fairmount kicked off 35 yards to Enns who returned the oval 15. Marble lugged the ball through the line for 4 yards and Sid fumbled, but the Aggies recovered and Haymaker gained 20 yards on a fake punt formation. Sid scampered through left tackle for 18 yards and "Cap" Loomis made 8 on a tackle swing. Sid went around the Fairmounters right wing for 5 yards and came back through the line for 3 more. Enns was held in Fairmount's 14 yard line and Haymaker's pass to Schafer into the Fairmounters goal zone failed. Fairmount playing the ball from their 20 yard line. Hahn attempted an end run on his first play but the Aggie end tackled him so hard that he fumbled the oval to Sidorfsky on his 25 yard line. Marble swung around for 10 yards and was held on a second attempt. Haymaker carried the ball around left end for a 7 yard gain and Agnew lugged the pigskin across the Wichita eleven's goal in two tries and kicked goal. Score, Aggies 7, Fairmount 0.

Hahn kicked off 45 to Sid who came back 20. Enns, Loomis, and a Fairmount offside play gave the Aggies first downs. Enns held, but Marble made 14 on a tackle swing. Sid plunged through line for a 5 yard

The Girls' Lunch Room

Should there be a girls' lunch room on the campus? We do not have in mind a restaurant or other place where food can be bought and eaten, but a pleasant, comfortable room, where girls that are compelled to eat lunches on the campus could gather at noon and have a sociable, restful time. This room should be furnished with tables and chairs, in a style that would not be easily spoiled, but at the same time would be dainty and sanitary. Some colleges have a kitchen adjoining the lunch room, where the girls may make a cup of cocoa or other hot drink. Lockers are provided where lunches can be kept under safe and sanitary conditions. If such a room could be provided it would be a great help to the girls who are going without lunch until after the seventh hour rather than eat under the present condition, also to the girls who are storing their lunches in the unwholesome atmosphere of a cloak room, where the air is stifling and mice scamper over the sacks, looking for a free lunch. The girl who eats her dinner on the campus now, sits down in this same cloak room, (crowded with girls going in every direction) unfolds her carefully prepared lunch, balances her books and lunch sack on her knees, with her toes just touching the floor, and thinks she is going to eat, but just as she reaches for a sandwich, someone knocks against her, she grabs for her books, down goes her lunch, and when it is recovered her appetite has disappeared.

If this picture does not appeal to the girl who brings her lunch, there is another choice—In the morning she may leave her lunch in a window or some unusual corner, where in the winter it will be almost frozen by noon, or in the summer be covered with the dust and flies. Then when noon comes, she must eat in a class room, which has been filled with students until the air is no longer fresh, and in the same high straight chair that she is obliged to occupy all morning.

Perhaps the worst of the matter is the effect that this fashion of eating has upon the lives and characters of the girls. There surely is no very great chance for development under the present conditions. This lunch room that we need so much should be large enough to allow the girls to break up into groups, each group feeling that they had a dinner party all their own. In a room of this kind it would be easy to pick out the new girl and get acquainted with her. This would be a great help to many of the girls in a social way, for surely it would be better to feel at home in a nicely appointed lunch room than to eat silently and swiftly in some out of the way corner.

What can be done about a lunch-room for K. S. A. C. girls?

COLLEGE GRANGE STARTS CAMPAIGN

WILL HOLD MEETING AT COLLEGE NEXT MONDAY NIGHT—OUTLINE THE WORK.

The college grange is to begin a campaign next Monday night which should be attended to by every student really interested in the betterment of the farmer's life in Kansas and the United States generally.

The college has had a grange of its own since last spring, and the organization is growing.

Miss Thomas, the teacher of Domestic Art, who came here from Missouri University, is a grange worker of experience, and is planning to help in the development of the grange in K. S. A. C. State Lecturer Fry will also lend his aid, as will the other officers of the town grange.

There is to be a meeting of the college grange next Monday night, to which all the students who are interested in the social, financial, or scientific betterment of the farmer's life are invited.

The object, history, and extent of the grange, in its state and national aspects will be presented by those who have had experience in the work.

A. B.'s Masquerade

The Alpha Beta society gave a masquerade party in the society hall Friday night to new members and friends. The hall was draped in Halloween style and the various goblins, clowns, witches, ghosts and cow-boys found much amusement playing games until the order came for masks off, then it was discovered that George and Martha Washington had disappeared but otherwise everything was lovely. Refreshments of cider, pumpkin pie and apples were served.

Party on College Hill.

Misses Thurza Pitman, Helen Stromquist, Gael Porter, and Lena Golden were hostesses at a Halloween party given Friday night at Miss Pitman's home on College Hill. The guests were Misses Eva Townsend, Isla Bruce, Ione Conner and Messrs. Roy Guin, Harry Bird, Beryl Pitman, Elwood Conner, and Lowell Mason.

Florence Deltz, '13, who is now living at her home in Kansas City, Mo., was a visitor celebration week.

The A. V. Laundry is thoroughly equipped and up to date. Everybody says so. Send us your work. tf

Alpha Beta Reception

The Alpha Beta's held a reception for the alumni and former members last Wednesday evening in the society hall. The hall was decorated for the occasion and, with Mrs. Nellie Kedzie-Jones, '76, in the chair, the present members were delightfully entertained by hearing the "old-timers" tell about the rivalry and warfare of an earlier day. G. H. Faller, '77, told about the founding of the society and its earlier struggles for recognition. Mrs. Kedzie-Jones told of the admission of girls to the society and depleted some of the hardships that were met with in the 'Old building on the Hill,' near where the present serum plant is located. Jacob Lund, '83, told of the good society work does a man who is a worker and not a talker. Other speakers were Ex-president E. R. Nichols of the college, Mrs. Bessie (Brown) Cool, '02, Mrs. Ida Sloan, '82, Miss Chloe M. Willis, '09, Mrs. Bertha (Kimball) Dickens, '90, Mrs. Mary E. (Cottrell) Payne, '91, Mrs. Lucy (Cottrell) Pottoef, '98, Mrs. Lydia G. Willard, '83, Prof. J. T. Willard, '83, and Charles W. Dole, '05. Punch and wafers were served before the lights blinked.

Miss Faith Harling entertained informally Thursday night in honor of her sister, Gertrude.

Those present were Misses Katharine and Agnes Hutto, Ferguson, Leith, Edith Maxwell, Mabel Brown and Messrs. P. D. Buchanan, A. L. Marble, J. S. McBride, A. B. Morgan, W. R. Smith, Ward Gates, H. S. Colth, and A. Brown.

Cocoa and cake were served a refreshment.

Billy Clifford at the Marshall.

Billy (Single) Clifford and his merry company of clever artists will be the offering at the Marshall theater on Wednesday, November 5th, for one performance only, in the merry musical satire, "Believe Me."

Billy is well known to the theater-loving public of this city, and is offering this season an attraction ever high above the usual high standard maintained by him, and "Believe Me" has proven the greatest success of his career, having toured the country for forty weeks the past season, and being one of the few attractions that gave universal satisfaction.

It is a mixture of farce and light comedy with musical interruptions, of which there are sixteen, and none of which intrude upon the other, and this pleasing combination with all suggestiveness removed, forms the nucleus of a very pleasant two hours of fun and enjoyment. Billy has in his support an exceptionally clever company; the scenic and electrical effects are up to the regular standard and there is no doubt that his engagement here will prove one of the most acceptable offerings of the present theatrical season.

There are eighteen tuneful catchy song hits of the kind that linger in your mind for many moons. "Believe Me."

If the party who has the pair of buckskin gloves which were misplaced at the stock judging pavilion will return them to owner or to box 373, college, they will avoid further trouble.

Even as You And I.

"Yes, John, you must take her. I didn't know she was coming when I made my plans, and anyway, it's your place to take her." "Well, I suppose I must," he answered.

Edith was trying to persuade her brother to take her friend from K. U. to the football game. And John, because it was his sister's friend must submit, although he wished he had made a date a week ago instead of waiting to see if Edith wanted him for anything.

The girl came the next day. John and Edith met her at the train and he began to think that it would be rather agreeable after all to take her to the game. She was very pretty, her clothes were above reproach, and she proved to be an entertaining talker. So he made his date and went home well satisfied.

The next afternoon he called for the girl and they started at once, for the game was to begin promptly.

"I never did understand football," was one of her first remarks. "I always think they must be awfully crazy over each other, they hug each other so. Is that part of the game? It looks foolish."

"Oh, here they come now. They look like the big horses we saw on parade at the Royal. Oh, do see them run." She was very enthusiastic over the sight. Her voice was beautifully clear, so John was not the only person who heard her remarks. Moreover, John realized this fact, which did not make him any more comfortable.

Finally the game began. "Oh, look," she cried, "they all fell down. It must be awfully slippery out there. I don't know what they do to a football field, but the boys always fall down. What do you think?" John knew what he thought, but he reserved his opinion, and gave her the best explanation he could.

"Well, now, just see that," she broke in, watching a forward pass. "That fellow is a coward, or he would have kept the ball himself. If I was afraid to do something myself I wouldn't expect anyone else to do it for me. But that other fellow is fine. He really tried to keep the ball."

Silence for few seconds. Then, "Why, did you see that man hit the other one with the ball? And that's one of our boys, too. I hope it didn't hurt him. They just pounced on him as if he had done something terrible."

Then the Aggies were penalized. "Oh, look at them, they are being sent off the field. I thought they would be for jumping onto those boys that way."

John smothered a smile and explained.

"Why, they fell down again. Won't they get their suits awfully dirty from that ground? And isn't it a shame that they all try to catch the man who has the ball. He worked so hard and I really think they ought to give him a chance to take it wherever he wants to. Oh, there he goes. Well, now isn't that fine. He beat them all there, and touched the base." John was devoutly thankful that the cheering drowned this last remark.

So it went throughout the game. Several times he explained different plays, but at their repetition she would have forgotten the explanation and be puzzled again. By the end of the game, John's nerves were in a dangerous condition.

"Never again," he vowed, as he sank down into the porch at his rooming house. "Even if they are Edith's chums, someone else may have the pleasure of explaining football to them."

"Crum Dance."

The Sigma Nu's gave their second annual "Crum Dance," last Friday evening at Elk's Hall. The hall was decorated in corn fodder and bales of hay were used for seats. All white collars were "tabooed." and only old tacky clothes were allowed. A luncheon of doughnuts and cider was served at the college Inn. Lieutenant Hill and Mrs. Hill chaperoned and about thirty-five couples were present.

Missouri Won

Columbia, Mo., Nov. 1.—The Missouri university team defeated the team from the Rolla School of Mines by a score of 44 to 14 in a game in which the Rolla players were helpless before the onrushes of the university.
In the first quarter Bland, of the Rolla team, made an 80-yard end run for a touchdown. Missouri however, came back with an 80-yard run when Moore returned a kick off passed to him by Shepard on the run. This resulted in a touchdown that tied the score.
In the second period the university team hurled itself against the visitors, scoring two touchdowns and a place kick from the 25-yard line. The final period was marked by sensational scoring. Rolla making one touchdown and Missouri three. Two of these were made by Moore and one by Shepard.

Washburn Coming Strong

Playing a smashing, powerful game, the Ichabods swamped the crippled Teachers by a score of 41 to 7. Owing to the presence of the K. U. team, who stopped over in Topeka on their return from their disastrous trip to Normal, Okla., Coach Gray instructed his proteges to confine their efforts to straight football. At that they uncorked several scintillating plays. Both teams resorted frequently to the forward pass, and with erratic results. An intercepted Washburn pass allowed "Ducky" White, the Normal star half, to get away for a 55-yard run for the Teachers' only touchdown. A short time later Trobert of the Ichabods caught a Normal pass and dodged through half the Normal team to a touchdown.

The Ichabods developed a powerful attack and did not punt once during the entire game. The Normal, on the other hand, frequently was forced to kick.
Bearg, Washburn's big left half, proved a brilliant star in the combat. Of powerful build, he shook off the Normal tacklers time after time and gained regularly from ten to fifty yards. He was the chief factor in the Blue offense. Hardy had trouble in getting loose, but reeled off several good gains, once going forty yards for a touchdown, dodging and shaking off the Emporia tacklers. Forbes, Whitcomb and Captain Rogers of the Washburn team pounded the line for consistent, although usually short gains. Rogers proved a star on defense, getting into almost every play. "Ducky" White, the Normal's right half, was almost a whole team for the visitors.

Nebraska Beat Ames

Ames, Iowa, Nov. 5.—Ames outplayed Nebraska for one quarter scoring nine points in the first, but the Cornhuskers came back with a terrific attack, interspersing first line plunges with forward passes. The final score was: Nebraska 19; Ames 9. Nebraska's first touchdown came by the same forward pass which they used to defeat Minnesota at Lincoln.

Ames started with a rush, turning loose a series of line smashes that ripped the Nebraska line to pieces. Brennan, Ames' quarter back, did all the scoring for his team. Early in the first period he caught Howard's punt on his 20-yard line and raced through the whole Nebraska line for a touchdown. A little later he drop kicked successfully forty-three yards from a difficult angle.

Beck hammered the ball across the Ames line in the first play of the second quarter. In the third period Beck smashed the ball over again after it had been brought down the field on line plays. Halligan went through center in the fourth after the ball had been brought down the field by heavy onslaughts against the Ames line.

H. S. Colth went to Greenleaf, Monday afternoon. He returned Tuesday morning.

ENTERTAIN ALUMNI

Many Former Webs Were Back and Visited the Society.

The reception of the Webs and Euros during the celebration, to the alumni members, was a complete success.

The reception opened with an informal "get acquainted" spirit, and after the ex- and present members had become acquainted, the meeting was called to order, and C. M. Breese was selected as chairman. He called for speeches from the alumni present, who had registered as they entered, and elicited a response in every case. The speeches took a reminiscent turn, as a rule, and some interesting features of the past life of the societies were brought to light.

The speeches continued until after the lights were extinguished at 11:30, varied with readings and musical numbers by the present members. The refreshments were served before all the alumni had had a chance to talk, by the light of a lantern, furnished by the janitor force.

Among the twenty-five members present were: David Fairchild, David G. Robertson, and Professor Dickens.

SHORTEN DRILL PERIODS.

Will Drill Turn About With Dress Parades Fridays.

Verily, "labor hath its reward." The cadets who drilled over time for the early part of the term are now rejoicing in the publication of an edict cutting their drill to two hours a week.

The first battalion is to drill on Monday, the second battalion will drill on Wednesday, and the entire regiment will have dress parade on Friday.

Asst. Adjt. General Lahn, of the state militia, who was in Manhattan last week inspecting Co. I of the K. N. G., and viewed the regimental dress parade given by the cadets on the last day of the celebration, expressed himself as astonished and delighted by the remarkable progress made by the corps in the short time they have had to drill.

The Lambda Lambda Theta sorority gave a "spooky" masquerade dance Wednesday night in Aggieville hall.

The hall was decorated with autumn leaves and jack-o'-lanterns. A witches' cauldron over a bright log fire formed the central decoration.

Bales of hay served as seats for the dancers, who refreshed themselves with cider and apples. The costumes of the spooks were white, adorned with black cats and witches. The programs were very unique.

About thirty-six couples were present.

The Belted Overcoat

A big feature of this season's overcoat styles is the Belted Back coat. It comes in several variations, for variety is the thing in overcoats at this writing.

The Belt may be sewed on plain-embellished with a button or two, or divided in the center—but Belted it must be—an abbreviated Belt which gathers the Coat in a folded effect at the waist.

They are browns, grays and mixtures and a wonderful collection of rough novelty mixtures.

$12.50 to $30.00

Smart is not the word for this coat, nor shapely, nor "swagger," for it is all of these and much more besides. It is the most "classy" Overcoat that ever came from the Tailor's bench.

HOOVER COACHES AG. SCHOOL TEAM

COMES HERE FROM BAKER UNIVERSITY WHERE HE STARTED IN ATHLETICS.

Lamar Hoover, a graduate of Baker University, and one of the best all-around athletes that institution has turned out, has been engaged to coach the School of Agriculture football eleven. Hoover starred in basket ball and football while enrolled at the Baldwin City institution. Since his graduation he has been officiating in athletic contests throughout the middle-west and assisting in the physical training department at Baker.

Jake Won't Come

Jake Holmes, Aggie representative on last year's All-Missouri Valley eleven, and rated by many as the best tackle that ever played on an Aggie team, had been engaged for the place earlier in the season but owing to business entanglements could not make arrangements to coach the Ag. school team.

The School of Agriculture team gives promise of developing a great many good players for the varsity elevens of the future. With the proper kind of coaching and care many good men will be able to obtain better than a high school football experience through this department. The Ag school has its own athletic department. This year's team is a light one but there is an abundance of classy material at hand and Coach Hoover should be able to develop a speedy eleven for the preps.

THE KANSAS AGGIE

VOLUME XIX

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, NOVEMBER 8, 1913.

NUMBER 16

WON EASILY FROM TEXAS

IS THE SECOND WIN FROM THE LONE STAR A. & M.

AGGIES ALL HAD THE FIGHT

Texans Outplay Aggies in Third Quarter—Captain Loomis Makes Last Touchdown.

With the field swept by miniature whirlwinds throughout the contest the Kansas Aggies defeated the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College football eleven yesterday afternoon on Ahearn Field by a final score of 12 to 0. On straight line plunges Hartwig was shoved over the Texas goal line in the second period and in the final three minutes of play Captain Loomis captured Dresser's pass into the Texas goal zone on the west end of the field and scored the Aggies' last touchdown. Incidentally Captain Loomis scored the second touchdown in the history of his playing on the Aggie eleven.

The Texans played great football but the Kansas played even better. The wind chilled the Texans and probably deterred their playing somewhat. Kicks from the west end of the field went for many yards while the Texans showed up to an advantage over the Aggies on their kicks from the end and against the wind. Forward passes went for good gains to both teams, the Southerners pulling off a couple that went for from 20 to 30 yards. The Aggies missed a good chance to score in the second period when Root juggled Haymaker's pass and Moss recovered on the Texas 35 yard line. The officials ruled the recovery illegal as the same man who touched the ball first for the Aggies failed to recover. The Texans took the ball on downs and kicked out of danger.

In the third period the Texans outplayed the Lowman eleven. After the kick off which went for 65 yards the Aggies played the oval from their ten yard line and failed to gain. Haymaker kicked to mid-field where the play remained for the remainder of the period. A drop-kick which the wind spoiled for Garritty, the Texas quarter, from the Aggies 20 yard line was the only chance the Southerners had to score. Several times Coach Moran's players threatened the Aggie goal with passes that failed by inches. Captain Beasley played great football for the Southerners and Moran plowed through the Aggie line repeatedly on a take kick play. The kicking of the two Texas pilots, Bonner and Garritty, proved first class.

The Lowman machine started the game in whirlwind fashion, kicking off to the Texas' 10 yard line, and holding the Southerners and forcing Garritty to punt out of danger. The Aggies played the ball in Texas territory throughout the remainder of the first period. The second period was a repetition of the first with the Kansas playing rings around their Southern opponents. Hartwig showed up well in this period plunging the ball down field and finally over the Texas goal line for the Aggies first score. The wind caused Agnew's kick to go wild and the Kansas Aggies led 6 to 0.

The Texans outplayed the Aggies throughout the third and the first part of the fourth periods. In the fourth semester the Aggies, with Dresser and Haucke playing the quarterback and fullback positions for the Lowman team, swept the Texans off their feet and Haucke plunged the pigskin to the Texas four yard line leaving Dresser with four yards to make on the final down. To accomplish this feat the diminutive quarter shot a spiral to Captain Loomis who was waiting across the Texas goal line for the final touchdown of the game. Agnew's kick was ruined by the spurt wind and the Texans journeyed southward last night twice defeated by Coach Lowman's Kansas Aggies.

Haucke played first class football on his initial appearance in the Aggie lineup. Hartwig also played well from the fullback position. Captain Loomis played the best brand of the national college sport that he has put up this season. Agnew and Sidorfsky worked well both making gains at critical times. Burkholder was a pillar in the line and broke up many plays.

The lineup:

Kansas.	Position.	Texas.
Root, Schafer	Right end.	Cardwell
Loomis, Capt.	Right tackle.	Braunmiller
Burkholder	Right guard.	Rice, Miller

EXHIBIT SCORES A BIG HIT

K. S. A. C. RECEIVES A VOTE OF THANKS FOR EXCELLENCE OF THEIR SHOWING.

The exhibit sent to the Farm Crops Exposition and Dry Farming Congress held in Tulsa, Okla., last month, scored a big hit with the congress.

It was the only exhibit of its kind from any agricultural college or school, besides being one of the best from any other standpoint. The College received a resolution of thanks and congratulation from the Oklahoma Delegation, for its interest in the work of the Congress, and the quality of the exhibit. They also received a diploma, testifying to the excellence of the showing made. There were no prizes offered for an educational exhibit, in which class the K. S. A. C. exhibit was, but its excellence warranted an expression of the appreciation of the Congress.

Mr. Bruce Wilson, Farm demonstrator for the Division of Agriculture, was with the exhibit during the Exposition, and has returned with it.

Part of the material used at Tulsa, will be used at the National Corn Show in Dallas, Texas, next February.

BECAME HONORARY MEMBERS.

Professor Rogers and Dickens Are Elected in Burbank Society. Two of the faculty members of K. S. A. C. recently received notification of their election as honorary members of the Luther Burbank Society of Santa Rosa, Cal. The professors receiving these notices were Dr. Burton A. Rogers, of the veterinary department, and Professor Dickens, of the horticultural department.

With the notifications came proof sheets of a book detailing the life work of Luther Burbank, and explaining his methods. The book is to be in twelve volumes, with every third page a full page photograph in colors. The volumes will be artistically bound, and printed on high grade paper.

The members of the society have been asked to inspect the proof sheets, and make any corrections and suggestions which may occur to them.

Mathematical Club.

At the regular meeting of the Mathematics staff, a name for the club was selected. It is to be called "The Mathematical Club of K. S. A. C." The club was pleased at having a number of students as visitors. This organization will meet the second and fourth Saturdays of every month at 10:30 a. m.

Papers were read by Professor Remick and Professor White.

HAD THE SCORE.

First Game for Ag School Results in 6-6 Score.

Coach Hoover's School of Agriculture football team played a curtain raiser with the Salina high school eleven which resulted in a draw at six all. In the third quarter the "Ag" school players kicked to the Salina boys and the ball, after being touched in the field of play by a Salina player, bounded out of the field and into the gulley east of Ahearn Field, where it was recovered by Fuller for the locals. The referee ruled the play a touchdown and the Hooverites missed the kick for the additional point. The Salina players used the Minnesota shift and pushed a touchdown across the "Ag's" goal but failed to kick goal. "Shorty" MacLeod played the best game for the Hooverites, Muir playing well for the Salina lads.

ORGANIZE THEIR LITERARY SOCIETIES

BOYS ELECT OFFICERS—GIRLS' PLANS INCOMPLETE.

The students on the School of Agriculture have organized their own literary societies, in accordance with the plan of Professor Kent, the Principal of the School.

There will be two schools, one for the boys, and one for the girls. The boys have progressed further in their organization than the girls, having already elected their officers and arranged for a meeting place. They have thirty members, and are taking to the work with a vim. Charles Dunlap is the president, Carl Dewey the secretary, and Clifford Jones the treasurer. They meet in N54, every Saturday evening at 7:30.

The girls, under the advisement of Miss de Rice, are also making good progress. They have not elected their officers as yet, but have a constitution already adopted, and will have their organization as complete as is that of the boys.

WITH THE ROOTERS.

Went to Two Free Shows on Thursday Night Pep Meeting.

A thousand rooters met in Aggieville last Thursday night and followed the band on a pep creating tour over town. A free show at the new Aggieville movie house was the first attraction of the evening. From there the rooters marched to town and gathered at the corner of Fourth and Poyntz for a little drill in high-class rooting. After a session of lusty yelling the procession moved on to the station where the Texas team was encamped in its Pullman. The Texans were coaxed from their snug resting quarters and escorted to town. The climax of the evening was reached when the Marshall Theatre was thrown open to the crowd and the big building was shaken with the vim of Aggie pep.

Go to Washington, D. C.

The board of administration, President Waters, and Dean Jardine will leave Saturday or Sunday for Washington, D. C. The occasion is the joint meeting of the American Agronomy Association, and the College and Experiment Stations. Dean Jardine will read a paper before the Agronomy Association. President Waters is on the program of both societies. They will be away two weeks.

Girls Basket Ball.

The junior and senior girls have taken steps toward organizing class basket ball teams, but nothing definite has been done as yet. Practice hours and game schedules will be arranged later.

GIVE ADDRESS ON INSTITUTES

PROFESSOR E. C. JOHNSON GOES TO WASHINGTON, D. C.

HAVE ORGANIZED 417 IN KANSAS

"Organization of Institute Work in Kansas" His Subject—Gives Interesting Facts.

Professor E. C. Johnson of the Extension department goes to Washington, D. C., Saturday to deliver an address Monday on the "Organization of Institute Work in Kansas." The method of organization and work of the 417 institute organizations in the state is described, and some definite results of institute work in the state are shown.

Here are some of the results which Mr. Johnson will emphasize particularly. Over 72 per cent of the institutes hold monthly meetings in addition, to the annual meetings—arranging about four meetings each—with an average attendance of forty. More than 2000 local speakers appeared on the institute program last year.

81 per cent of the institutes report that definite results have been obtained. 35 per cent of these report that institute work has stimulated interest in better agriculture and finer farm life; 42 per cent report an impetus to silo building; 30 per cent, better seed selection; 30 per cent, better soil preparation and tillage; 16.6 per cent, better management of live stock; 13.3 per cent, encouragement of co-operation among farmers; 12 per cent, better management of dairy cattle; 54 per cent, better roads; 3.7 per cent, crop rotation; 3.7 per cent, the interesting of young people in agriculture.

A large number of miscellaneous results such as better home surroundings, the stimulation of pride in farming, and the lending of dignity to the farming profession are also reported.

It means much to the state where institute officers and members feel that they have had great influence in the promotion of better agriculture and a finer farm life through their home organizations and that these results are not due merely to influences from without.

Missouri vs. Drake.

Columbia, Mo., Nov. 6.—The University of Missouri football team was given its last scrimmage before the game with the Drake eleven here Saturday. Kicking, forward passing and breaking up shift combinations were emphasized in the practical drill this afternoon.

Guard Clay was out for the first time this week and ran signals. He will start in the Drake. Zimmerman, center, is the varsity player not in good condition.

Although the varsity played an aggressive game against the scrubs today, there was much fumbling by the regulars. Five second team men were added to the varsity squad.

Edwards-Maughlin.

Miss Mary Edwards and Ralph Maughlin were married at the home of the bride's mother near Lyons, October 29. Both Mr. and Mrs. Maughlin were formerly students of Cooper college. After leaving Cooper, Mr. Maughlin attended K. S. A. C. for some time. They will make their home near Sylvia.

A young woman from the east, visiting in Manhattan, is already making inquiry as to the probable salary paid to Manhattan preachers.

President Waters Congratulates Them on Showing.

President Waters has expressed his appreciation of the efforts of Lieutenant Hill and the Cadet corps in the following letter to the commandant:

"I wish you would accept for yourself and convey to the officers and members of your Cadet Corps, my warmest thanks and heartiest congratulations for the splendid drill, and especially for their loyalty and faithfulness in drilling extra time in order to be prepared for the exhibition they made.

DEBATERS HAVE BEEN SELECTED

IOWA-SOUTH DAKOTA-K. S. A. C.
TRI-STATE WILL COME FRIDAY NIGHT.

The debating team which will represent K. S. A. C. in the tri-state debates next Friday night have been selected. The affirmative team which will debate with the Iowa Iowa State College will consist of Ivar Mattson, Joseph Sweet and J. L. Lush. The negative team, which will go to Vermillion South Dakota, will consist of W. L. Sweet, Roy Gwin, and W. A. Shmner.

The teams are hard at work and are rapidly getting into shape. The work on thought and composition has been completed and the teams are now being coached for delivery by Professor Johnson, of the public speaking department, and will be in fine shape when the big night comes.

The tickets are now on sale by different members of the literary societies. It has been planned to have music and several stunts before the debates. Each of the societies has been asked to occupy a section which will be decorated with their colors. Ames comes here with an enviable record in debate. Their coach is one of the best in the United States and they will be a hard team to defeat.

All of the debates will occur the same evening and the question will be the same: Resolved, That the U. S. should grant independence to the Philippine Islands.

Mr. George Briggs, who has charge of the appointment of teachers to the Philippine service will be here this week to talk to anyone who is interested. A notice will be placed on the bulletin board giving the time and place.

K. S. A. C. HAS COLLEGE GRANGE

THEY HOLD MEETINGS IN OLD CHAPEL MONDAY NIGHT.

WILL TELL ABOUT ITS HISTORY

College Organization Has a Membership of 53.—Everyone Invited to Attend.

The College Grange is to hold a meeting in the old chapel Monday evening at 7:30, to which every student who gets his living from agriculture, or who is in any way interested in the welfare of the farmer, socially, financially, or ethically, is cordially invited.

Few of the students realize the work that the grange has done and is doing for the farmer. The grange organization is primarily responsible for the separation of the state agricultural colleges from the state universities. They are responsible for the agitation resulting in the establishment of the R. F. D. service, and were the prime movers in creating the agricultural experiment stations throughout the United States.

The grange was organized in 1887, in Washington, D. C., by seven men, six of whom were connected with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It was the result of a carefully thought out plan, and as such, took a firm hold on the agricultural interests everywhere.

The object of the grange is the betterment of the life the farmer, in every way possible, not only by mundane means, but by his social uplift.

The college has had a grange of its own since last spring, and has done good work. Many of the members were transferred at commencement time, and though the interest of those who remained has never flagged, they need more members. Interest throughout the college is being manifested, and the present officers have decided to call an open meeting next Monday evening, for the purpose of letting the college in general know what the grange really is, and what it is doing. To this end several good speakers have been secured, and the meeting will be well worth attending. State Lecturer Fry is to speak on the History and Objects of the grange, and its extent in its local, state, and national organizations. Miss Pearl Thomas, of the domestic art department, is to be present and address the meeting on the subject of organization principally. Miss Thomas, who has recently come to K. S. A. C. from Missouri University, has had a great deal of experience in the work, and will be of valuable assistance in the work of organization.

At M. U. the college grange takes the place of the literary societies, and has charge of the various student activities. Miss Thomas is a charter member of the M. U. grange, and her brother is Master of the grange.

The college has about fifty-five members, including both faculty members and students. President Waters, Dean Jardine, Professor Call, Dean VanZile, Dean Miller, and Miss Thomas, are some of the faculty members who are on the grange roll. A. L. Clapp is the secretary of the organization.

The meeting Monday night is a preliminary to another meeting which is to take place in about two weeks, at which new members are to be initiated, and business of the grange, attended to. This will be combined with a banquet, and a general merry-making.

Several of the officers of the Manhattan grange are to speak Monday night, and as was said before, if you are interested in or benefitted by, the farm or farmer, you should come to the meeting Monday night.

Miss Lydia Lindsay, of the class of '05, at the Kansas University, who is teaching English in a high school in Japan, is visiting friends in Manhattan this week. Miss Lindsay expects to return to Japan in February for another five years' work in a high school there.

IT'S ON NOW.

The social whirl is beginning. Dances, parties, more dances, more parties and still more dances are on the calendar. To the stranger it seems we overlay the social side of college. To the underclassman society is a maze of dates, dances, and expenses. The upperclassman regards the whole business in a cynical light and attends to his society schedule when he gets around to it.

What is it meaning to you? Are you stepping into debt over your head? Are you borrowing money to get that old dress suit made over, or are you standing by and letting the other fellow—the poor student who has the money to burn—do the social stunts while you admire his nerve?

Every month the envelopes come around—envelopes from the recorder's office. Many a student has thought himself above the danger mark. Many a student has been called home to father after the first month.

Are you one of the social lions? Do you court the light fantastic exercise to the exclusion of your college work? Are you just a regular sluffer? If you are, you are in line for a streak of hard luck. Don't wait until it is too late and then when your plea for mercy is turned down go away full of bitterness. It's your fault if you don't get "bumped" out of college via the "con" route. Sympathy won't help you then, but a little judgment and perhaps a little less of the social whirl may get you by the condition day safely.—University of Washington Daily.

In spite of the fact that their football team beat K. U. the editor of the University Oklahoman, sheds gallons of tears over the fact that the rooters didn't have pep enough to stage a shirt tail parade after the game. Evidently the Oklahoma rooters are harmless.

THE DAILY KANSAN.

The Daily Kansan is entering a new period of its development. Monday, according to a news item in the Kansan, the department of journalism at K. U. will help direct the news, editorial and business departments of the Daily Kansan.

The item continues: "This arrangement was made by the Daily Kansan board and the department of journalism at a meeting last night. It will enable students to receive more valuable training in newspaper work than was possible with the paper entirely under student control."

This change will greatly help the journalism course, because the students will obtain first hand information and practice on gathering and writing the news. But will it help the student body? The student body will undoubtedly be furnished a better paper but will the paper express the mind of the student body?

Under this system, there is no doubt that the Kansan will become a leading college daily. With the writing and gathering of the news under the direction of the journalism department with its several professors, and the printing of the paper by the university print shop with student help, it will look bad for Kansas unless the paper becomes a model for other college papers.

NEW DISCOVERY IN CHEMISTRY

MEMBERS OF CHEMISTRY DEPARTMENT HAVE ARTICLE ON ACIDITY OF SILAGE.

Professor C. O. Swanson, J. W. Calvin, and Edwin Hungerford, all of the chemistry department, have had an article detailing some interesting and valuable discoveries they have made, published in the Journal of the American Chemical Society.

Their contributions, which deal with various methods of determining acidity of silage, is the product of some months work and observation, and will prove valuable to experiment stations, and all who have occasion to make scientific analysis of silage or other similar feed products.

The most of the work was done last winter, the report being sent in in February. All three of the authors of the article worked on the material from which they derived their results, and each has a share in the honor.

The practical application of the results found, is in the perfecting of a standard and accurate method of determining the acidity of the silage, by various methods. Heretofore the relation of the efficiency of the different ways was not thoroughly understood, and results showed wide discrepancies.

As far as ascertained by the writers, the method of determining the acidity in silage is by extracting with water or alcohol, and titrating with a standard alkali solution, using phenolphthalein as an indicator.

The value of the work hinges on the following factors, both for water fineness of grinding of the sample, and for alcohol extractions. The amount of carbon dioxide in the silage, the completeness of the extraction, affected by the shaking of the sample which is being extracted, and the length of extraction.

The results showed that fine grinding of samples was absolutely necessary. There was a range of from .15 per cent to .36 per cent difference had been ground, and one which had in the acidity from a sample which had not been ground.

Trials to determine the relative efficiency of water and alcohol as solvents, showed that alcohol was the more efficient and dependable solvent of the acids. An increase revealed in the acidity of from .42 per cent to .61 per cent was noted, when the alcohol was used.

Experiments were then conducted to find the relative efficiency of a 50 per cent alcohol, and a 95 per cent alcohol. It was found that the 50 per cent alcohol was fully as efficient as the stronger, and besides being more economical, gives an extract easier filtered.

The substance of the experiments reveals an unlooked for possibility of accuracy and uniformity in making these tests, and adds another feather to the cap of K. S. A. C. in having a body of men capable of doing such work for the advancement of agricultural science in Kansas.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

Y. W. C. A. Sets Aside One Week in Each November.

In November of each year one week is set aside by the world's committee of Y. W. C. A. as the week of prayer for the associations all over the world.

This week of prayer is observed by all associations in every country. A certain time is set aside each day for a view of the work in all nations and prayer for these nations.

The week of prayer this year is from November 9 to 15, and the college girls will meet Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday from one o'clock to one twenty in N 58. The subject for Tuesday is America; for Wednesday Asia, and for Friday, Europe.

All college girls are urged to attend these meetings.

PRACTICE WORK.

Engineering Class Measuring Water Flow of the Blue.

The Hydraulic Motors laboratory classes are taking measurements on the flow of water in the Blue river this week as a laboratory exercise. One section went out to the Rocky Ford bridge Thursday afternoon and spent the rest of the day at that place with two current meters and it is reported that some excellent reports were obtained. Prof. R. A. Seaton and Elmer Johnson chaperoned the class and instructed them in the use of the instruments. After the Blue had been thoroughly tested, the boys went to Rocky Ford dam to look at the turbines in use there and to get an idea of dam location and construction. Another section of the class will make the trip next Tuesday.

ORGANIZE PIG CLUBS.

W. E. Watkins Doing Successful Work in Allen County.

W. E. Watkins, demonstration agent for Allen County, has been very successful in promoting club work among the boys and girls, and co-operation among the farmers.

He is now starting a number of pig clubs in his county with a fine list of premiums for the winners.

Through his influence, the farmers in Allen county have co-operated in buying good seed, fertilizers, and lime in carload lots, and securing feed at wholesale prices.

Want Snapshots.

In the gathering of material for this year's class book many snapshots will be needed in order to make the book a success and a credit to the institution. The members of the committee are working hard to collect these pictures and thus to make the best book in the Missouri Valley. They wish the assistance of all members of the student body and the faculty in doing this. The committee need snapshots of the Parades, the speakers and visitors at the Centennial, of the football games and many others of interest to the students. All snapshots should be handed in to the committee through, T. J. Harris, Russel Williamson or Homer McNamara, right away.

"That Printer of Udell's."

One of the most interesting and amusing characters in Harold Bell Wright's famous novel, "That Printer of Udell's," that has this season been put into dramatic form by Mr. Wright and Elsbury W. Reynolds and presented under the management of Messrs. Gaskill and MacVitty, is "Old Uncle Bobbie," an irascible but kind hearted old gentleman. In making a play of "That Printer of Udell's" the story has lost none of its interest or fine character drawing for which Harold Bell Wright is famous. In dramatizing, it is the author himself collaborating with the successful playwright, Elsbury W. Reynolds, who has presented his story in playing form and therefore the many people who have read the book may rest assured that in the drama they will find all the old friends they met and loved while reading "That Printer of Udell's."

"That Printer of Udell's" will be seen at the Marshall theater on Tuesday, November 11, with a cast that has rarely been equaled in a play of this description and to which the producers, Messrs. Gaskill and MacVitty have added a scenic equipment, leaving nothing to be desired.

Call Game Off.
Emporia, Kan., Nov. 4.—Inability to make satisfactory financial arrangements has caused the cancellation of the College of Emporia State Normal football game, scheduled for November 21. Both schools submitted contracts which the other would not accept and negotiations were called off yesterday. This is the first break in friendly athletic relations between home institutions in four years. Emporia football fans are aroused over calling off what they consider their rightful game—and exhibition between the home school.

Students Strike.
The students of the South Dakota University are having difficulties of their own. Five of their numbers were suspended, recently, for indulging in hazing. The faculty was asked to reconsider the action, but the petition from the students was promptly tabled. This aroused the indignation of the student body and a "walk out" resulted. The football game with Denver University was threatened by the walk out of the Coyotes. It took the action of two of the regents to induce the football team to play the game. A long petition has been presented by the student body asking for the reinstatement of their fellow students.

TRY TO AMEND CONSTITUTION

STUDENTS' COUNCIL WISH TO CHANGE LENGTH OF OF-FICE TERM.

The Students Council met Thursday afternoon. In the absence of President Sweet, E. J. Bird, vice-president, acted as presiding officer.
The council passed a motion changing the length of the term of members from three months to one year.
They also brought up for consideration the selection of a council in the school of agriculture. This council would not be an executive body, but would send a representative to each meeting of the Students Council.
This representative would have practically the same powers formerly accorded to the member from the sub-freshman class. He could lay matters before the council, but could not vote. Nothing definite has been done as yet in regard to this matter.

Brings Suit.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 6.—In a suit in federal court filed here yesterday by Daniel B. Luten, of Indianapolis, Professor W. S. Gearhart, head of the engineering department of K. S. A.
C., is charged with usurping the title of state engineer and attempting to dictate to counties and municipalities how they should do public improvements. The suit is for damages arising, it is alleged, over a bridge contract in the city of Newton, Harvey county. It is claimed that Gearhart, drew plans for a bridge that infringed on patents held by Luten.

Lieutenant in 1903. Captain Shaffer will be remembered by many of the older students, as he was the Cam-and during that time was one of the most popular men who has ever been assigned for duty here. He has made several visits here to renew his ac-

Selz Waukenphast Model Very Latest for Women

This is one of the newest models brought out by the Selz factories. The popularity and universal satisfaction given by the Selz Waukenphast for men, suggested a similar model for women and children. They were introduced this season for the first time. The factory at Chicago is working day and night to supply the demand for them.
Let us fit you with a pair and you will then know why Selz shoes are so popular.

Hugo B. Koch Coming Back.
To the theater patrons of Manhattan it will be the very best possible news to know that Hugo B. Koch is again coming back. It is not often that a man star has the strong hold on the hearts of the people that Mr. Koch seems to have on his audiences wherever he has appeared.

Hugo B. Koch may well be called everybody's favorite actor for everyone in Manhattan likes him both as an artist and also for his warm and charming personality. That this is true is shown in the success of every season he has played in the middle west.

This season Mr. Koch has selected as a vehicle for his ability "That Printer of Udell's," dramatized from Harold Bell Wright's famous book of that name and put into playing form by Mr. Wright and Elsbury W. Reynolds. Messrs. Gaskill and MacVitty, who have given us "The Shepherd of the Hills," another of Harold Bell Wright's books, are the producers, and their name alone is a guarantee that the engagement of Hugo B. Koch in "That Printer of Udell's" will be given every possible attention in regard to excellence of cast and beauty of production.

Mr. Koch will be seen at the Marshall on Tuesday, November 11.

A big feature of this season's overcoat styles is the Belted Back coat. It comes in several variations, for variety is the thing in overcoats at this writing.

The Belt may be sewed on plain-embellished with a button or two, or divided in the center—but Belted it must be—an abbreviated Belt which gathers the Coat in a folded effect at the waist.

They are browns, grays and mixtures and a wonderful collection of rough novelty mixtures.

CROSS COUNTRY FOR TRACK MEN

CAPTAIN GATES HAS VERY PROMISING SQUAD.

HAVE THREE MILE DAILY WORKOUT

Have Classy Bunch to Base Team On—Strong in Sprints and Field Events.

Captain Gates is working the track squad out daily in cross-country work. About twenty men have reported for work, some taking their jog with the main squad at 3:30 o'clock each day, and others doing their two miles at convenient times. Coach Merner and Captain Gates are anxious that all track men report at once and take the full quota of out-door work in order that there may be no sore spots when the time for the indoor season rolls around.

The track men will be well supplied with indoor and outdoor meets this season and it is very important that the men get out and do their share toward conditioning themselves properly for these contests. Last season the track squad was not called out for indoor work until February. The effect was proven conclusively when the Kansas U. squad came to Manhattan and easily licked "Cap" Bryan's men. Coach Lowman has scheduled indoor meets with Kansas at Lawrence, and with Washburn at Topeka, for the cork path performers. As an incentive for more consistent work Coach Lowman has a tentative arrangement with the Nebraska management for an indoor meet here and a return on foot meet in Lincoln in the spring. A string of track men will also be sent to the annual meet, of the Kansas City Club which is to be held in Convention Hall March 1.

Outdoor meets will keep the track men busy in the spring term. Kansas and Missouri will be met on the Ahearn Field track next spring. Nebraska will probably kick in with an agreement to meet the Merner men on the Nichols track and on the University Field track in Lincoln in the spring. The Aggies, according to Coach Lowman's announcement will not participate in the K. A. I. A. meet next spring at Emporia, but will go instead to St. Louis to take part in the Missouri Valley meet, on the Washington University Field.

The Aggie track squad gives early promise of being the best balanced in the history of track athletics at K. S. A. C. Captain Gates and Helt in the sprints should clean up every race for the Aggies. Helt showed up well last year and aside from his sprinting ability he is one of the best broad jumpers in this part of the country. He holds the State record in the broad jump at 22 feet, one inch. Gates pulled off his best day's work against the Missouri University track team at Columbia last spring when he won three firsts in the sprints. The high jump will be a strong hold for the Aggies this season with Adams and Frizell competing for the varsity. Both will clear five-ten indoors with a little practice and should do better when the out door season commences.

Colth a new comer to the varsity squad showed up well in the weights and the quarter mile last year and should make a valuable addition to the team. Welch ran the hurdles in fine style last season, coming into form near the end of the season and running Martin, the record holder from Baker U., a very good race in the state meet at Topeka. Welch may be able to hit his stride indoors as well as he did outdoors and if so will fill a weak spot on the Aggie team. Washington and Young, pole vaulters of class will be missed from the track squad during the winter term. Washington is suffering from a bad fracture of the shoulder bone said injury resulting from a scrimmage with the varsity football eleven. Young is trying out for the varsity basketball five and according to past performances will make the team.

Several new track men are working out with the varsity men. Chief among these being Weaver, a Concordia half miler, and Brewer, an all-around track athlete from Abilene. Weaver has run several races at Kansas U., against some of the best half milers in the high school division. In 1912 Weaver raced the mighty Palmer of Lawrence and forced the Lawrence high school runner to hang up a new high school half mile record to win. Weaver won seven firsts in the Dickinson county meet last spring and should develop into a good track athlete when he settles to one or two events.

INTERNATIONAL PEACE

Both contests will close March 15, 1914.

COACHES HIGH SCHOOL.

M. D. Collins, Varsity Debater, is Teaching at Abilene High. M. D. Collins was a visitor at the college last Saturday. He was here collecting data and material on the Short Ballot. He is coaching the debating team at the Abilene high school. Collins was a debater here last year and the year before and helped defeat the Colorado team last year.

YOUNG PEOPLE HOLD JOINT RALLY

HAVE A SPECIAL PROGRAM—WILL AWARD A BANNER FOR ATTENDANCE.

The Young Peoples Societies of the various churches will meet in a Local Union Rally at the Congregational Church, Friday, November 21, 1913, at 8 p. m. The program includes talks by Prof. Andrews, Rev. Goldsmith and students; special music, and other interesting features. After the program there will be a social with refreshments. The singing will be by the combined choirs of the societies. The social will be in charge of the Congregational Society assisted by the social committees of the other societies.

One new feature which will be introduced at this rally, is the roll call of societies and awarding of a suitable banner to the society having the highest percentage of its enrollment present at the meeting. The society winning this banner keeps it until the next quarterly rally when it is awarded to the deserving society. Each society will occupy a reserved section and will strive to be out in full force and win the banner the first time.

All young people of Manhattan are cordially invited to attend the meeting.

The Mathematical Club met Monday instead of Saturday, on account of mid-term. The program consisted of two papers. Professor Andrews read a paper on the "Euclidian Constructions." Mr. Fehn read one on "The History of Logarithms."

Hattie Burnham, '13, who is teaching D. S. in the high school at Lovewell, was a college visitor on her way back from the teachers' meeting at Topeka.

FIRST DEBATE WITH AMES

STRONG IOWA TEAM TO TRY TO OUT TALK AGGIES.

FEATURE SIX SHORT REBUTTALS

The Same Night the Negative Team Will Be at University of So. Dakota at Vermillion.

If you happen to wander into the Auditorium some afternoon this week and notice a young man frantically "hollering his head off," just remember that the big debate of the year comes Friday night with the strong Ames team.

The debate here with Ames is one of the series of tri-state debates that comes Friday night. Dakota will be at Ames and an Aggie team will be at Dakota and all will debate the same question.

An unusual feature of the debates will be the six rebuttals of five minutes each. Each debater will have 12 minutes for constructive argument and then each will have a short rebuttal.

Before the debate, the Forum will stage a short stunt. The stunt will be at 7:30 and the debate will begin promptly at eight.

Professor Kammeyer will preside. The debaters here for the Aggies will be: I. C. Mattson, J. L. Lush, and Joseph Sweet; and W. T. Brink, alternate; for Iowa, R. A. Rath, H. B. Hawthorne and A. W. Joy. The judges will be E. F. Engle, Professor of German at K. U., C. H. Thompson of Kansas City, Mo., formerly private Secretary to Governor Hadley and another who is yet to be chosen.

The different literary societies will have reserved sections and there will be much rivalry as to which society has the largest representation. The cheer leader will be there to lead the rooting and wants all the rooters to be there.

The team which goes to Vermillion, S. Dak., to debate the University will be composed of W. L. Sweet, Roy E. Gwin, W. A. Sumner and James McArthur, alternate. Prof. E. P. Johnson, of the department of public speaking, will make the trip with them. The Judges at So. Dakota will be, Prof. H. W. Caldwell of Nebraska University, Prof. A. S. Harding of So. Dak., Agricultural College, and Supt. A. H. Waterhouse of Fremont, Nebr.

The team which goes to Dakota will leave Thursday morning. All of the teams will debate the same subject; Philippine Independence.

Ralph Huddleston, a freshman, has left school and returned to his home in Pomona.

IS COUNTY SURVEYOR.

Dudley Atkins Jr., Appointed by Gov. Hodges for Riley County.

Dudley Atkins Jr., '13, has been appointed as county surveyor for Riley county. Atkins graduated last year in the course in civil engineering. He was a candidate for the office on the democratic ticket but was defeated by the republican candidate. Mr. Ross resigned the position a few days ago and Atkins was appointed by Governor Hodges to fill out the term. Since his graduation he has been working in Manhattan.

STUDENTS HAD SECRET MARRIAGE

WERE MARRIED LAST MEMORIAL DAY—LEFT LAST WEEK FOR SPRINGFIELD, MO.

How would you like to walk up to a woman and tell her that you had been married to her daughter for five months and had kept it secret? Horace Pateman, a sophomore engineer, and Mary Evans were married last Memorial Day and it has been a secret ever since.

Last week, Pateman was offered a job in the Frisco shops at Springfield, Mo., and he decided to quit college and go to work. He wished to take his wife with him and so the story had to be told. Mrs. Evans says that she does not know where the marriage took place or who performed the ceremony and she denounced in strong terms such marriages.

Pateman had been a student here three years. Miss Evans was a student in D. S. When Pateman told his parents that he expected to get married his father told him that he would be cut off without a cent, if he was married before he finished his course.

Last Memorial Day, the couple told Mrs. Evans that they were going out for a trip but would be back before night and while they were gone they were married. They left Thursday for Springfield.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.

The Y. W. C. A. calendar will be ready December 6. It will contain seven pages, with ten college views, and will be finished in varying tones of brown.

Miss Cutler, from New York, will be in Manhattan from March 12 to 19 to conduct a Bible institute.

The annual county fair of the Y. W. C. A., will be held in the Nichols' Gymnasium, December 6.

Masons Dance.

The Masonic Club danced informally Saturday night. The following were present: Misses Hepler, Adams, Foresman, Polson, Willis, Almen, Estis, Price, Layton, Harris, Pfeil and Cooper. Misses Avery and Woodward of El Dorado and Mr. C. A. Bodmer of Russell were out of town guests. Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Harris.

CLASS TEAMS WORK FOR CUP

WINNERS IN FOOTBALL GAIN 60 POINTS TOWARD TROPHY.

SENIORS AND FRESHMEN LOSE

Juniors Beat Seniors Easily and Sophomores Handled Freshies.—Other Games.

The juniors defeated the seniors, and the sophs trimmed the freshies in the first game of the interclass football series. The class teams are each scheduled to play a complete round. The winners will be allowed 60 points toward the "Coaches' Cup." This cup is presented annually by Coach Lowman, to the class that makes the best all-round showing in athletics.

The juniors played better football although handicapped by many penalties and succeeded in putting the ball over the senior's crossbar, twice, for six points. Continual off-sides play by the line cost the juniors many yards through the game. The juniors had a good chance to push a touchdown over on the last year's champions in the second quarter but fumbled the oval on the one yard line and failed to recover.

The seniors played good football and gained well through the junior line. Neither side scored a forward pass although each tried a couple. H. Baird played good ball for the seniors and made many good gains. Lyons proved the star of the contest, running the junior eleven in great style. Lyons played the College of Emporia eleven through four seasons. The punting and drop-kicking of Milner, for the juniors, was first class. The lineup—

	The freshmen eleven minus several sophomore players who are numbered among the freshmen varsity players, went down to defeat before the playing of the sophomores, 12 to 0. The freshmen carried the ball over a greater number of yards than did the sophomores but were unlucky with their plays.

In the third quarter the sophs forced the freshies to kick out from behind their goal line, and after blocking the kick the ball was finally located under Moore, a sophomore player, and the referee scored the sophs six points. The other score came when Richards intercepted a forward pass and ran 35 yards to the freshman goal line. Goal was not kicked following either touchdown.

ISSUE STUDENT HEALTH REPORT

DOCTORS OF MANHATTAN CARE FOR 1,702 SICK STUDENTS LAST YEAR.

The committee on student health has just made an annual report which should be of a good deal of interest to every one in college, as showing the work which is being done by K. S. A. C. in caring for her sons and daughters who fall ill.

Professor Conrad is chairman of the committee, and drew up the report.

The total number of cases treated by the doctors of Manhattan last year was 1,701, the certificates issued here at college were 1,702.

The general account of the committee is given as:

Paid to physicians	$2,200.00
Paid to nurses	900.00
Printing and postage	26.26
Drugs and nurse's supplies	76.88
Hospital fees	32.00
Telephone service	26.25

Balance 108.61
Rec'd from student fees $3,370.00
Balance $3,370.00
The average charge of the doctors was $2.52 per case; their maximum was $43.50. The average charge for medicine was 57 cents, as near as could be determined. The cost to the college was 56-10 cents a student week.

The calls made by the college nurse numbered 322, and the office treatments 660. There were 1,453 absences for over two days on account of sickness reported to her. Besides the college nurse, all the doctors in Manhattan, thirteen in number, were consulted by ailing students last year.

Minor troubles of the throat and lungs headed the list in numbers, there being 758 such cases. Measles followed with 154 victims. There were 124 cases of digestive trouble, and 19 of appendicitis. Three cases of pneumonia were reported, and one case of typhoid. Very few cases of scarlet fever, chickenpox or mumps were found.

Have Initiation.

The honorary engineering fraternity, the Sigma Tau, initiated their new members at their meeting Monday night, November 10. Those who were initiated were: A. G. Beckman, C. W. Shaver, W. W. Haggard and J. F. Moss.

TEAM PRIMES FOR TEXAS

GO SOUTH TO CONQUER SOUTHERN CHAMPIONS.

TEXAS UNDEFEATED THIS YEAR

Oklahomans Were the Victims of Aggie's Last Game—K. U.—M. V.—N. U. Still in Race.

For another week the football outlook will remain the same. In the Valley clique Nebraska and Kansas fight for the M. V. honors next Saturday at Lawrence. This battle has attracted much attention from the middle west football following as the result of the squabble over the playing of Ross, Nebraska's negro guard. Kansas played Washburn last Saturday at Lawrence and won in the fourth round. Coach Lowman says that they did not wait until the fourth round to win either as they more than had their hands full in the first three quarters and by use of their superior weight outlasted the Topeka eleven and scored when he scoring came easiest. Coach Lowman adds that it will take fifty percent improvement on the part of the Kansas to win from the Cornhuskers.

With either Kansas or Nebraska eliminated from the Missouri Valley race next Saturday there will still remain the Missouri Tigers, barring any hard luck. Missouri plays the Washington University eleven at Columbia next Saturday and should have an easy time disposing of that team. Missouri has been playing great football this season and promises Kansas one of the hardest battles of the season on November 22, at Columbia. Considerable advertisement has been given to this game also, through the controversy over the location of the battle ground for this battle. Kansas City was considered again as it has been ever since the removal of the game from that town, but when President Hill of the University of Missouri sailed for Europe several weeks ago without leaving his sanction for the change behind him, the matter was considered definitely settled.

Beyond the shadow of a doubt the Kansas Aggies played their best football game last Friday afternoon against the Texas Aggies. Coach Lowman's pupils had everything and used all that they had to good advantage. Never was the Aggie goal seriously endangered though the Texans played great football all the way. Next Saturday night the Aggies leave for the South to play the Texas University eleven and to perhaps get the worst drubbing they will receive this season. Notice, that we write "perhaps!" The Texans have one of the strongest teams in the southland this season and are claiming the championship of that section by virtue of having defeated every team they have played this season. The average weight of the Longhorns is said to be 190 pounds in round numbers and their backfield is known to average better than 175 pounds per man.

Following this trip the Lowman contingent will have more than a week to rest up in and point for the Topeka game on Turkey day. Washburn is the meat the Aggies want worst this year as a victory over that school will give the Manhattan team the State Championship again. This is doped out from the Normal-Southwestern battle in which the Southwesterners were defeated by the Emporia school to the tune of 28 to 10. Also through the C. of E. Baker conflag in which the Baldwin City athletes were banished from the State honor circle by a 19 to 0 tally. This leaves the Aggies in the running as they have a percentage of 666 by virtue of victories over the State Normal eleven and over the Fairmount team. Washburn has played but one State game, that being with the Normal eleven.

It comes but once in a life-time. It means so much. It should be perfect, flawless, chaste.

There's much uncertainty about diamonds except to the expert. They should be chosen at a store in which you have implicit confidence. We strive earnestly to merit such confidence.

Diamonds are like gold when wisely bought. They are worth their cost anywhere on earth and are constantly increasing in value. Our gems will bring their price anywhere any time, and we guarantee them positively.

The library does not need to be open every night, but why not have it open two nights a week and then if the demand and use justifies it, open it every night.

THE IDEAL REPORTER.

Just a hidden cog somewhere in the inmost part of the college newspaper machine is the reporter. He works under command; he solves the problems assigned to him in his own resourceful way; he loves courtesy, recreation, confidence and human treatment. He feels the pulse beat of the college, has his hand on the hidden springs of movements, asks questions denied the most inquisitive and hunts ever for the novel, the new and the interesting. His tasks are leg-work, done between classes, at meal times or late at night. Each day he turns in his little grist of matter, now a note, now an article, now an interview. The results of his hour of labor the college public disposes of in two glances. Errors it blames to him. Facts desired it gleams in silence. It inquires not into the writer of the things that please; it expresses appreciation never; for it accepts all this as a matter of course. The reporter follows his unseen routine faithfully. He labors only for the joy of the work. He gleams his regard in rereading in the columns of the paper the story which the public knows not is his own.—Ex.

Texas students are offered an unparalleled opportunity by one of the advertisers in the Daily Texan to purchase dress suits for $25. They claim that the use of the dress suit is universal and that it is the correct thing to wear on all occasions. This reminds us of the annual statement in the K. S. A. C. catalog that the drill suits make a comfortable and servicable suit for every day wear.

The Missouri law students are objecting to the mid-winter examinations. They have appointed a committee to remonstrate with the faculty. What's the use of having exams at all?

AIN'T IT AWFUL!

Freshmen at Some Colleges Have a Strenuous Time With Rules.

The freshmen at the Washington University St. Louis have a time obeying the rules. They are forbidden to wear mustaches and derbys and even the pleasure of taking a lady friend to the games.

The Amateur vs. Artist ability different—results alike.

Even as You And I.

The Studious One of the team was up and burning the early morning electricity, storing away useful information by the cord, ream, bushel and ton.

The Night Hawk still slumbered peacefully, with no thought, apparently, of the classes of the day. Blissful ease enveloped him, and he was oblivious to the trials and tribulations coming his way. The S. O. glanced at him, and the light of a noble resolve, mingled with an expression of benevolence, stole across his intellectual features.

For a time N. H. slept on, and the light of virtue on the S. O.'s face grew and grew, until he turned off the juice, and rose from his books with a firm air, and approached the sleeper. Mingled with the benevolent gleam appeared a shade of apprehension. The S. O. felt instinctively that he was going to be a goat, he was going to be a scape goat. But he did not falter nor turn back.

He touched the sleeper lightly and spoke soothingly and softly, "Come on now, its time to get up." The N. H. stirred, grunted an inarticulate response, opened one eye and glare. The S. O. retreated in good fixed the S. O. with a malvolent order.

He settled down and tried to go on with his work, but was restless. Plainly the attitude of his roommate troubled him. Presently he rose again, and approached the N. H. a second time, more cautiously, but as firmly as at first, and with the same air of one going to a sacrifice.

This time the N. H. opened both eyes and inquired profanely what time it was. "Seven o'clock," answered the S. O. The N. H. grunted disgustedly, and assumed a more comfortable position.

Politely the S. O. inquired, "are you going to get up now?" The N. H. grunted an uncouth and emphatic negative. "But you ought to," suggested the S. O., timidly. For answer he was consigned to a climate far different from the average rooming house early in the mornings of the latter part of the fall term.

By this time the other boys in the house were up, and commenced dropping in. One of them made anxious inquiry, as to a certain assignment, of the N. H., and was astonished at the reply he received, which was wholly irrelevant to the question. Another visitor was struck with the possibilities of amusement to be found in the N. H.'s bare foot, which protruded from the covers. He was immediately struck also by a shoe, and the extreme fluency of the N. H.'s vocabulary.

Presently the room was cleared out, and the S. O. again made his appeal. He only succeeded in drawing down on himself maledictions of the now irritated N. H. Presently he summoned up his courage and inquired, "what time did you get home last night?" "Bout twelve," grunted the N. H. "What time did you go to bed?" continued the inquisitor. "Bout three." "Well, now if you would only go to bed early and get up early—"

He got no further. Under the scathing comments of the N. H. he took his books and departed for class, prophesying another tardy mark for his roommate.

When he had gone, the N. H. turned out with an alacrity rather surprising, considering his former apathy. As he gave a bum imitation of a volunteer fire department dressing to attend his first fire, he growled; "Late again. If those half-witted boobs would leave me alone I could get a little sleep, and not be up against this deal all the time, but I'll be 'something very unpleasant' if I'll get up just because they want me to." And vowing future vengeance, he skidded down the stairs and sprinted up the street just as the last bell sounded its warning note.

Verily, human nature is fearfully and wonderfully constituted, as the fellow said.

The attorney for the defendant in the college fruit scandal case, apparently has something up his sleeve. He refuses to discuss his probable line of defence. ORDERS "K" SWEATERS Athletes Will Sure Look Nifty in New Suits.

Coach Lowman has ordered sweaters for the 1913 baseball, and 1913 track athletes. A definite style has been adopted for each of the four sports. The letters from now on will be block letters with the exception of the baseball "K" which is to be the same as before, old English style. The football sweater is white, coat collared and two buttoned. The football "K" is a six inch block letter. Basketball and baseball sweaters are white coat and collared coat sweaters.

The baseball letter is the old English "K" while the basketball and track "K's" are four-inch block letters. The track sweater is the loudest of them all. It is a coat sweater, purple collared and bordered with purple cuffs on the sleeves. The old star system for extra years of service has been abolished and replaced by the service stripe. A three year athlete will have his letter and three stripes on the left sleeve of his sweater.

GRANGE MET.

Plan a Big Banquet and Initiation for December.

The "get-together" meeting of the college grange, held Monday night in the old chapel, was a success from every point of view.

Miss Thomas, of the D. A. department, spoke after Mr. Fry, and told of the work of the college grange in Missouri University, where she was a charter member.

Miss Thomas was followed by Mr. W. E. Westgate, a member of the Manhattan Grange, who gave several of his recollections as a life-long Granger.

The college grange is to have an initiation and banquet in the early part of December, and those who wish to join before that time, should hand their applications to some of the present members, to A. L. Clapp, Professor Call, or Miss Thomas, before the end of this week.

November 17—Seniors vs. Freshmen.

November 18—Juniors vs. Sophomores.

Missouri Still Wins.

Columbia, Mo., Nov. 8.—Quarterback McWilliams' brilliant playing in today's game won for Missouri over Drake, 10 to 0. A spectacular end run of 60 yards by the quarterback gave Missouri her only touchdown. In the fourth quarter he dropped the ball over the bar on a place kick from the 15-yard line. Wilson kicked the goal from touchdown. Drake threatened but once, getting the ball to the "Tigers" 5-yard line in the third quarter, but could not go over.

Baker Out of It.

Emporia, Kan., Nov. 9.—Baker university was eliminated from the state championship race by the College of Emporia, which piled up a total of three touchdowns on the heavy team from Baldwin. The Baker players carried the lighter Emporians down the field steadily at the beginning of the game. The collegians fought them off in the next period and secured the ball on Baker's 27-yard line. A touchdown came soon afterward and Russell kicked goal.

Two touchdowns were made by Emporia in the third quarter, the ball being advanced the length of the field for one of them.

Baker played better football in the last quarter, and when the final whistle blew had the ball on Emporia's eight-yard line.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 8.—Ames Agricultural college, of Iowa, won the annual Missouri Valley cross-country run, the victory being decisive. Missouri was second, Nebraska third and Kansas fourth. There were only four entries. Scores by the schools were as follows: Ames 22; Missouri 52; Nebraska 51; Kansas 78.

Anyder, Ames, was the first man to cross the line; Goetze, Nebraska, second; McWhorter and Brogs, both Ames, third and fourth, respectively; Terry, Missouri fifth; Horne, Ames sixth; Fawcett, Missouri seventh; Meakestad, Ames, eighth. The course was five miles and the time 27 minutes, 22 seconds.

"Madame X" Coming.

That very clever emotional actress, Miss Alice De Lane, is this season playing the part of Jacqueline, the wife, in Alexander Bisson's great love drama, "Madame X," which will appear at the Marshall theater on Thursday, November 13th, evening only. This play in the last act shows the trial scene of the mysterious "Madame X," who is being defended by her own son, without the knowledge of the fact, and is one of the most touching and realistic scenes ever produced. A complete production of this play is offered.

KANSAS AND WASHBURN.

Jayhawkers Had All They Could Handle.

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 8.—Playing only straight football, with the exception of a few minutes in the fourth quarter, when they opened up somewhat, the Kansas Jayhawkers defeated the Washburn College team on McCook Field by the score of 14 to 0. Neither team scored until the final period, when the Jayhawkers rallied, uncorked several forward passes and twice crossed the Blue goal line.

Although the Kansas team was minus the services of a number of its star players, they outplayed the Sons of Ichabod throughout the game. Only after Kansas had scored its touchdowns did the Washburn team show any real offense. With only a short time to play, the Ichabods executed several long forward passes and trick plays and carried the ball down the field to the Kansas 20-yard line. The final whistle stopped this procession, which was the only time during the game that Washburn looked at all dangerous.

During the majority of the game the play was confined to Washburn territory, but when the Jayhawkers threatened to score they would lose the ball on a fumble or be held for downs. Then Trobert would send the ball far out of danger with a long spiral.

Kansas lost a chance to score during the third period after a splendid display of offensive power. After receiving the kickoff, followed by an exchange of punts between Russell and Trobert, the Jayhawkers made five consecutive first downs on line bucks and end runs, only to lose the ball on a fumble within the 15-yard line. Russell attempted a drop kick in the second quarter and again in the last period, but on both occasions the ball went wide.

The first Jayhawker score came as a result of a long return of one of the Trobert kicks by Wilson, which brought the ball well down toward the Washburn goal. Greenlees reeled off a 15-yard, Tudor brought the ball to the 5-yard line, and on the next play Greenlees smashed through for a touchdown. Russell kicked off to Bear, but Washburn lost the ball on a fumble after having failed to gain by means of a long forward pass. Greenlees made another spectacular 15-yard run through a broken field and on successive gains by Russell, Tudor, Sommers and the ever-ready Greenlees, the Jayhawkers brought the ball to the Washburn 10-yard line. what it will cost, how it should be maintained, what success the plan has attained in other cities? Let the chairman of the Commercial club, or some other organization, send in a call to D. M. Bowen, secretary of the board, and a list of available speakers who know and can talk on the subject will be sent; also what dates said speaker can be procured. The board hopes to make expert advice and information available to every community in the state.

"The board does not intend to start a lyceum bureau, nor a chaquetauque booking bureau," said Chairman Hackney, "but we do intend to make the members of the faculty of the greatest possible value to the state. The idea already has been worked out in the extension department of the Agricultural college through the farmers' institutes. We intend to carry it a step further and give the cities and small towns the advantage of expert knowledge."

"Speaking on the board's list will not be confined to college professors, however. Whenever the board hears of a man who knows something on a certain subject who is able and willing to pass that knowledge on, he will be listed. Assemblies, clubs and cities will have a chance to ask for his services. For this purpose the board has started a 'Who's Who' of Kansas. About 150 names already are on the list—the pick of the school."

To Have Class in International Law
The department of history will offer a course in International Law during the winter term which will be of value to some of the students. The course is not an extra, being on the schedule of classes, but may be arranged for at special hours outside of the schedule.

Professor R. G. Taylor will teach the subject.

Some Stunt

The weird antics of six Washington University freshmen who were being disciplined by the sophomores created such a commotion on the streets that persons living near by turned in a riot call to the police. Several mounted officers were necessary to disperse the crowd that had gathered.

The whole trouble started when the sophs took six freshmen into custody and endeavored to stage a free vaudeville show on the streets of St. Louis. The freshmen were compelled to propose marriage to every woman who passed. Some of the women fled in terror, but one young woman started two of the proposing students by accepting both. The sophs then compelled the two freshmen to fight for the possession of the prize. Just then the police entered upon the scene and the performance was closed to the chagrin of the spectators.

The Belted Overcoat

A big feature of this season's overcoat styles is the Belted Back coat. It comes in several variations, for variety is the thing in overcoats at this writing.

The Belt may be sewed on plain-embellished with a button or two, or divided in the center-- but Belted it must be--an abbreviated Belt which gathers the Coat in a folded effect at the waist.

They are browns, grays and mixtures and a wonderful collection of rough novelty mixtures.

Smart is not the word for this coat, nor shapely, nor "swagger," for it is all of these and much more besides. It is the most "classy" Overcoat that ever came from the Tailor's bench.

Hamp Trial.
The Hamiltons had a spicy program last Saturday. The last part consisted of the trial of E. Doryland for neglect of duty, the acceptance of a bribe, and for the offering of a bribe to the prosecuting attorney. The defence made a strong case on technicalities and, in spite of attempted railroading on the part of the presiding judge, the defendant was acquitted.

After the verdict was pronounced, the defendant introduced a charge of perjury by the prosecuting attorney, John Parsons. E. Doryland was appointed prosecuting attorney for this case. P. E. McNall is the attorney for the defence. The trial has been placed on the docket for next Sat-

THE KANSAS AGGIE

VOLUME XIX

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, NOVEMBER 15, 1913.

NUMBER 18

AGGIE TEAM WINS DEBATE

BOTH TEAMS HANDLED SUBJECT
IN MASTERLY WAY.

TWO TO ONE DECISION RENDERED

Question of Philippine Island Independence Settled According to Argument of Aggies.

The annual interstate debate, in which the K. S. A. C. team met the team from Ames last night, resulted in a decision for the Aggies.

The contest was especially well attended. The pit and front sections of the auditorium were reserved for the different literary societies. The section reserved for each society was decorated in the colors of that society, and members had no difficulty in finding their places.

Before the opening of the program, the audience "warmed up" with a few of the college yells, under the supervision of Cheer-leader McBride. The program was opened by a "stunt" staged by the Forum, which took the form of an excellent farce, representing a suffragette meeting. Addresses by several of England's and America's leading workers in the cause of "Votes for Women" were given.

Emmeline Pankhurst and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson addressed the gathering, and it was finally adjourned by the assistance of a "cop" after the masculine contingent had fled.

After the Forum stunt, Professor Kammeyer, the chairman of the evening, took charge, and announced the subject: "Resolved, That the Philippines are not ready for independence." The judges were: Hon. C. H. Thompson, of Garden City, Hon. C. H. Thompson, of Kansas City, Mo., and Prof. E. F. Engel, of the University of Kansas.

A new feature in the method of conducting the debate was the rebuttal by each speaker.

Mr. C. I. Mattson, of the Franklin Literary Society, was the first speaker for K. S. A. C., on the affirmative side. Mr. Mattson divided the affirmative argument into three principal parts, each one of which was discussed by an affirmative speaker. The three points were: first, the duty of the United States to the Philippine Islands, in giving them their independence; second, the enormous expense to both the United States and the Philippines, in keeping up the present form of government, with the impossibility of getting adequate financial returns from it; and, third, the proven ability of the Filipinos to govern themselves, without assistance from the United States.

Mr. Mattson took the first point, and argued that the United States had no constitutional or other right, to withhold both statehood and independence from the Philippine Islands. Mr. Mattson held that the United States owed the Philippines the protection afforded by a neutrality treaty with seven of the world powers, by giving the Filipinos freedom.

Mr. Mattson was followed by Mr. R. A. Rath, of the negative side. Mr. Rath hinged his argument on the lack of ability of the Filipinos to adapt themselves to Anglo-Saxon methods of government, in the eight years allowed them by the Jones Bill. He stated that the policy of the United States toward the Philippines had been one of protection, and assistance, and that without its aid the Filipinos were bound to meet disaster.

Mr. Nash was followed by Mr. J. L. Lush, of the Franklins, on the affirmative. Mr. Lush dealt with the financial side of the question, and backed up his assertions of the expense to both parties, with statistics. Mr. Lush contended that neither side would ever be able to reap any benefit from the present method of administration.

The second speaker for Ames was Mr. H. B. Hawthorne, who disputed the ability of the Filipino to carry on a modern system of self-government, his desire for it, and the possibility of his attaining the degree of civilization necessary for it, in the time limit set by the Jones Bill. Mr. Hawthorne compared the history of various Latin-American countries which have met disaster through their efforts at premature self-government.

He pointed to the method of colonization and government practiced with success in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, and other non-Anglo-Saxon outcries.

Mr. Hawthorne was followed by the last speaker of the affirmative, Mr. J. B. Sweet, of the Aetna Literary Society, who ably argued the fitness of the Filipinos, individually and racially, to govern themselves. Mr. Sweet told of the homogeneity of the people, in spirit, as to geography, and in their civilization. He showed that the people as a whole were anxious for independence, and contended that they were ready for it.

Mr. A. W. Joy was the last speaker on the negative side, and after a recapitulation of the argument of his colleagues, spoke of the responsibility assumed by the United States when they acquired the Philippine Islands, and the impossibility of properly discharging that responsibility without maintaining control of the islands. He asserted that the United States could not, with honor, transfer this responsibility to the untried Filipinos.

After Mr. Joy's speech, each debater was allowed a short rebuttal, and some very plausible arguments on both sides were demolished. The Ames team made use of a recapitulating chart, printed in large letters, and displayed on the stage, in their rebuttals.

When both sides had finished, there was a short interval, filled in by the audience with cheering, before the decisions of the judges, two of which were in favor of the affirmative, and one in favor of the negative, were announced by Professor Kammeyer.

After the debate, the Debating Council entertained the debaters, the judges, and the coaches, in the hall of the Athenian Literary Society, in the gymnasium.

The Aggies also had a debating team at the University of North Dakota, last night, consisting of W. L. Sweet, Roy Gwin and W. A. Sumner. The team that place debated the same question, taking the affirmative.

MEET WASHBURN IN DUAL DEBATE

SOMETIME IN MARCH—WASHBURN SUBMITS QUESTIONS—TWO DEBATES.

A dual debate with Washburn has been arranged, to be held sometime during the last of March. The two debates will take place on the same night, one at Topeka and one at Manhattan. There are three speakers on each team.

Washburn proposed two questions: one in regard to Minimum Wages and the other, that corporations doing interstate business should be required to get a federal charter. K. S. A. C. chose the Minimum wage question. This is the wording of it: "Resolved, That through appropriate legislation a minimum wage scale should be put into operation in the United States."

A contract has been made for two years, and it is hoped that relations between the two schools will be so agreeable that the arrangements will become permanent. Next year, K. S. A. C. will submit two questions, and Washburn will choose.

One great advantage in this debate is that K. S. A. C. meets a college holding an excellent reputation in debate, and, at the same time, so close that expenses can be kept low. It is likely that arrangements will be made by the debating council allowing members of the literary societies to try out on the "Minimum Wage" question as well as on that of "Panama Canal Tolls."

The Board of Administration has appointed H. M. Jones, a graduate of Purdue University in 1909, as deputy dairy commissioner. Mr. Jones came from Valparaiso, Ind., where he has been manager of a large creamery.

"WET" CONGRESS DECEMBER 10-11

IS TO MEET IN GOODLAND NEXT MONTH.

NOTED SPEAKERS TO BE PRESENT

State Engineer H. B. Walker at Work on Program—Governor Hodges Is Going.

The second annual convention of the National Irrigation Congress is to be held in Goodland, Sherman county, Kansas, on the 10th and 11th of December. State Engineer H. B. Walker, the secretary of the congress, is now at work on the program, and has a list of good speakers who will be available for the convention.

Governor Hodges has promised to be at the congress, and will speak. President Waters will also be present and address the gathering. Some of the other prominent speakers are: Professor Hayworth, the head of the geological department of K. U.; Prof. R. N. Buffman, vice president of the congress; J. Post Hardin, an irrigation expert, of Denver; Professor Cottrell of the Rock Island railroad, and H. E. Murdock, a United States irrigation engineer.

One of the features of the meeting will be the open discussion of topics of general interest by the delegates to the congress. The county commissioners of all the counties which may be benefited by the work are invited to send delegates, as are the commercial clubs of the various towns. The farmers' institutes of western Kansas are also expected to be represented. Some four to five hundred delegates will probably be present during the convention.

The congress was organized only last year, and has made a phenomenal growth by reason of the fact that it meets the practical needs of the farmers in the "shallow water" region of western Kansas. By the "shallow water region" is meant the land underlaid by water less than 60 feet below the surface, which can be economically pumped for irrigation purposes.

Mr. Walker has been at work on the irrigation question in western Kansas for some time, and is much pleased by the progress made by the congress. He was the moving spirit in its organization, and has carried a large part of the work himself. He has just returned from a tour of the western part of the state, having lectured in Larned and Kinsley, Kan., the 7th of this month. He expects to be in Arkansas City next Tuesday, in Wichita Thursday, and in Burdette shortly afterward.

The extension division has promised a farmers' institute circuit to work west from Dodge City, next February, to deal with the irrigation of the "shallow water" region.

Engineer Walker says there are approximately one hundred and twenty-five thousand acres of this land in Shawnee county alone, and the western counties will average more than fifty thousand acres each. He says that water can be economically pumped sixty feet for irrigation, and recommends the use of centrifugal pumps, with an internal combustion engine burning the cheaper grades of oil.

The manufacturers of machinery and apparatus for pumping and distributing water for purposes of irrigation have been invited to send exhibits of their products, and many of them will do so.

Goodland is making extensive preparations for the entertainment of the visitors to the congress. There will be a reception on the evening of the first day, with concerts and parades through the convention. There will be three sessions of the first day—in the morning, afternoon and evening—and two on the second day.

POSITIONS IN PHILIPPINES.

Good Salaries in Educational Work in Islands.

George N. Briggs, Educational Representative from the Philippines, met twenty-five students Tuesday afternoon in Professor Holton's office, and told them about educational opportunities in the Philippines. About twelve students have expressed the intention of taking the civil service examination which will be held during the holidays.

Mr. James M. McArthur has already spent four years in the Philippines as supervisor of schools, a position equivalent to county superintendent with us. He expects to return as soon as his course here is completed.

The positions open offer minimum salaries of $1000 and $1200 a year.

Y. M. C. A. Work.

Miss Martha Hyde, chairman of the Y. W. C. A. Social Service committee, and Miss Haas, General Secretary of the association, drove to the Odd Fellow's Home Thursday, in the interests of social service work.

M. E.'s Organize.

About thirty students in the mechanical engineering course met Thursday at chapel hour, in the amphitheatre, and decided to organize a local branch of the American society of Mechanical Engineers. The Society will be open to all students enrolled in mechanical engineering.

Several K. S. A. C. faculty members were honored during the State Teachers' Convention held at Topeka, recently. Dean Williams was made chairman of the chemistry Division for next year, and Professor Price of the history section. Prof. N. A. Crawford was made chairman of the English Section.

FLETCHER HERE NOVEMBER 20

NOTED NEW ENGLAND MAN IN LECTURE COURSE.

SUBJECT "MARTYRDOM OF FOOLS"

Comes With Reputation as Lecturer—From a Tour of the Eastern Colleges.

Thomas Brooks Fletcher who will appear here on the Lyceum course, November 20, is one of the strongest personalities on the Lyceum platform today. He is brilliant, sympathetic, forceful, with the rare faculty of making people forget everything but what he is saying. Here is what Ralph Parlette says of him in part:

"He has the equipment of the truly great orator—dignified and handsome on the platform; his utterance is full of flash and fire, and with a voice sympathetic and powerful, he speaks with the compelling force of mastery. He is calm in the midst of his greatest climaxes. His word pictures are more vivid than any cartoonist can draw with a crayon. Part of the time his audience is leaning forward and almost holding its breath. The next instant, roaring over some brilliant witticism, he can be uproariously funny.

"The gift of dramatic power, that seems to fairly shake an audience out of its indifference, and at times is almost startling in its effect, has back of it all, a purpose, for Brooks Fletcher is a crusader and he is fighting for a cause. You feel that the moment he begins.

"From the standpoint of dramatic power, he is a cyclone. One editor says that when he speaks 'he seems to be as much in earnest as though he were leading a revolution.' The wonder is that with his long, lyceum seasons, he hasn't worn out his machinery, but he has gone on growing in physical as well as spiritual power. He did not really begin to get his education until after he had left college. He has been a student since. His messages show the result of study and preparation.

"Several years ago we thought Fletcher as a meteor, but now we know why he has become a fixed star in the profession. Can you think of another orator anywhere who has grown so fast? He seemed to jump into the forefront without serving his apprenticeship. But it only seemed that way to those of us who did not know, for of course, everybody serves an apprenticeship.

"Brooks Fletcher served his, and paid the price every man pays who wins. Yet each year his messages have grown in power, intensity, and sureness. His subjects are just as characteristic as they are vital and virile—"The Martyrdom of Fools," his first lyceum offering—"The Modern Judas," his second lecture, and "Tragedies of the Unprepared." He is not a one-lecture man. He has three lectures, and nearly half of his lecture engagements in the New England territory, this season, as well as in the west, were return engagements.

He simply leaped white-hot from the crucible of preparation to his great opportunity. He knows the heights and depths of living—its heavens and its hells. He has lived at times in anguish he could not voice. His life has run the entire gamut. He has come through it all with clean hands and a clear title. He is one of the big, front-row lyceum men, today, but we cannot calculate his orbit, for his radius lengthens each year. Each lecture he gives is a prophecy of the greater lecture he will some day give, and yet he remains unspooled by the praise he receives—the severest test for any man to withstand. Some day he will fire the country even as did his hero when he shouted: "You shall not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold."

"For all this has been written about a man who is yet in his early thirties, one of the youngest lecturers in the profession, and who is just completing his seventh year under the management of the Redpath Bureau that gave him his first opportunity at Wilmington that night he substituted for the concert company.

"Yes, I have said Thomas Brooks Fletcher is the surprise of the lyceum, but now we know some of the reasons why. He is in the lyceum to stay because he is helping to solve some of the big problems that need to be solved. He is discussing current issues, and is offering a remedy. He is helping to create a demand for the real, and the vital lecture in the lyceum profession."

DEBATERS TO NORTH DAKOTA.

K. S. A. C. Negative Team Left Here Thursday Morning.

W. L. Sweet, Roy E. Gwin, and W. A. Sumner, accompanied by Prof. E. P. Johnson, left Thursday for the University of South Dakota, at Vermillion, S. Dak., where the K. S. A. C. negative team met the debaters of the university last night.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS

PERSONAL CAMPAIGN

HEAR TALK BY HEINE HEINSMAN—PLANS DISCUSSION AFTER MEETING.

The regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night was unusually well attended. About 175 heard Heine Heinsman, Western General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., talk on "What Are You Here For?"

Mr. Heinsman is a former K. U. football star, and for some time after his graduation he was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in Kansas. This is his last year in the United States. Next year he goes to the Philippines to work along the same line.

An after meeting was held at which tentative arrangements were made for conducting a Y. M. C. A. friendship campaign soon after the holidays. This campaign will last three days. Mr. McLane and Mr. Heinsman are trying to secure the services of Sherwood Eddy, who, with J. R. Motz has conducted successful student campaign among the Chinese. If Sherwood Eddy cannot come, an effort will be made to secure Mr. Barbour, who for many years has conducted campaigns in leading universities. He was at the university of Illinois two years ago.

Efforts will be made to organize the local workers so that much personal work will be done before the campaign begins.

ed 6 to 6 tie on November 13.
To be played off later.

The first game of the second set of the interclass series played was played on the city park gridiron Thursday afternoon by the sophomores and the seniors and resulted in a tie score with six points each. The sophomores presented a rugged lineup composed of many of last season's star freshmen players and outplayed the upperclassmen in the first period. The old style game prevailed throughout but the seniors aided by darkness managed to slip Baird down the east side of the field in the final period for 35 yards on a long spiral from Hood.

The seniors scored first on an end run by Hood from the 12 yard line.

On the kickoff McBride failed to hold the ball thinking himself ineligible for the recovery and the last year's champs lost the chance for a final point. The sophomores recovered Fletcher's punt in the last period and rushed the ball down to the senior's two yard line where after three bucks at the line, Denman slipped through an opening for the six points that tied the score. Two of the second year men juggled the ball on the kickoff and lost the opportunity to kick.

Fletcher, Richardson, and Dickinson, played good ball for the sophs as did Cunningham at center. "Hippo" Demming was retired from the battle in the first round as a result of a severely sprained ankle. For the seniors, Hood and Taylor played the best ball, with Baird showing up well all the way. The lineup:

Seniors	Position	Sophomores
Rude	Right End	Richards, Ghun
Wortzell	Right Tackle	Rinzy
McBride	Right Guard	Shores
Hogsden	Center	Cunningham
Hartzler	Left Guard	Moore
U. J. Smith	Left End	Fletcher
English	Left End	Dickinson
Spring	Quarterback	Denman
Bird, Taylor	Right Halfback	Shelly
Baird	Left Halfback	Selfkin
Hood (Capt.)	Fullback	Chun, Richards
	Touchdowns	Hood, Denman.
	Referee	Joe Vale. Time of quarters 12 1/2 minutes.

The junior eleven waded through the mud on the city park gridiron yesterday afternoon and defeated the freshmen team, 7 to 0. The freshmen played well in the first period but the plunging of the third year team's backs proved too strenuous for the freshmen crew and they weakened in the final periods. Quarterback MacClaren played the best game for the freshmen with Colth close on his heels for honors.

The first period was even the play being in midfield throughout. In the second inning the freshmen tugged the oval into junior territory once and lost the ball on downs. During the remainder of the ten minutes play the juniors carried the ball on downs. During the remainder of the ten minutes play the juniors carried the ball on downs.

Much work is being done along the line of boys' and girls' contests in cooking, sewing, and the growing of farm crops.

Miss Lewis leaves Sunday for a week's circuit in Saline and adjoining counties.

The only way to be truly loyal to the school as a whole is to be loyal to your class. The inter-class football season is now on. Come out and root for your class team. Work up just as much pep over these contests as over the varsity games. A team is a team, no matter what its rank. And every team plays better when the students are behind it—and rooting. Strong class teams make strong varsity teams. And strong varsity teams have something to do with state championships. Wherefore, root.

The Stock Judging Team a Group of Busy Workers.

Perhaps few stop to think and realize the hard work and self-sacrifice that the stock judging team undergoes in their preparation for the contest in Chicago at the International Live Stock Show.

In order that they may compete on an equal basis with the other college teams of the United States and Canada, it becomes necessary that they have practice in judging the various classes of live stock and of different types.

It is this necessity that causes the team to make the many trips over the state and elsewhere to visit farms where they may have an opportunity to see and work on the various classes of animals.

The college maintains breeding animals of practically all of the classes of farm animals, but not in sufficient numbers or types to furnish a complete list of animals upon which to practice judging.

Hence visits must be made to farms where the sole business of the farm is the raising of a particular class or type of animals.

In making these trips the members of the team not only lose the time from their other college work, but they also have to bear their own expense, thereby making a double toll upon the student.

Nor is this all; besides being away from his other college studies and bearing his own expense the student gets no credit for the time and money which he spends in helping to make the stock judging team a success, and thus have our college represented on an international basis at the greatest live stock show in the world, The International Live Stock Exposition, at Chicago, Ill.

The college will be represented this year at Chicago by one of the strongest, if not the strongest team, in the history of the college, and it behooves all persons connected with the college to give the men who make up the team all the encouragement they can and help them in every way possible to bring home high honor to their alma mater.

The team leaves for Chicago, Tuesday afternoon at 3:28 on the Rock Island.

And let us all show the team that we are behind them by being at the Rock Island station to give them a rousing sendoff when they leave for their final trip next Tuesday afternoon.

ried the ball deep into freshman territory and lost it when they failed to make their distance.

In the third period the juniors regained the pigskin in mid-field and marched to the first year men's 20 yard line from where Milner went around left end for the upperclassmen's score. Milner added the point with a pretty kick. The juniors crowded the ball to the 20 yard line twice in the last period and failed to connect on a drop kick in the last minute of play.

Milner and Lyons played best for the juniors through Captain Michael and L. Smith who alternated at fullback for the juniors played well. Baker at center and Baird at guard also put up a scrappy game for the upperclassmen. The lineup:

Juniors	Position	Freshmen
McLymons	Right End	Bardness
Wilson	Right Tackle	Hine
Wyland, Smith	Right Guard	Clelland
	Center
Baird	Left Guard	Edwards
Haggard	Left Tackle	Franz
Myers	Left End	J. B. Barnes
Lyons	Quarterback	McClaren
Wagner	Right Halfback	Delaney
Milner	Left Halfback	Swenson
	Fullback
Micheals, L. Smith		Barnes

Touchdowns, Milner; goal from touchdown, Milner.

Referee, Joe Vale; Umpire, Merrill; Headlinesman, Dickinson.

Time of quarters, 10 minutes.

The Aggies leave for Austin Texas, tonight via the Rock Island arriving there on Monday, and playing the undefeated Southern champions on Tuesday afternoon. This battle promises to be the stiffest one of the season for the Aggies as they go into the game snowed under by a dope score of 60 or better to nothing against them. The Texans trimmed the University of Oklahoma eleven last Monday at Houston. Bennie Owen's Sooners trounced the Jay-hawkers the week before that and the Kansas Aggies lost to the Lawrence eleven by a bad score early in the season, so there you are.

Despite all of the dope and bear from the Lowtaolnshrd?g.shrdluuuh stories that have been emanating from the Lowman camp the past week, the Aggies are expected to hold the Southerners and play them a good game. Enns' and Hartwig are crippled and it is doubtful whether they will be able to make the trip or not. The balance of the team appear to be in good shape and Coach Lowman is cheered.

Perhaps some of the statistics of the Oklahoma-Texas battle would serve to show just what sort of a gang the Aggies are going to run into when they face the Longhorn champs next Tuesday. In the Oklahoma game the battle was largely one of the open style sort. The three touchdowns, two for Texas and one for the Oklahomaans, resulted from cleverly executed forward flips.

In the complete game 44 passes were attempted, Texas using the pass 20 times, successfully, 7 and gaining 113 yards by this means. The Oklahoma crowd used the pass 23 times, completing three and gaining 9 yards. The Texas backs plunged the ball through the Sooners line 27 yards for a total of 144 yards, and 36 end runs brought 106 yards. The Sooners plunged the oval 17 times for 36 yards showing that the Texas line was of the stone wall order in that battle.

Texas received three penalties for a total of 25 yards and Oklahoma lost 5 yards on an offside play. Barrall punting for Texas 10 times covered 89 yards while Reeds booting the oval for the Sooners the same number of times covered 491 yards averaging close to 50 yards per kick. The Texans made 11 first downs from scrimmage and were held 4 times. The Sooners made their distance 7 times and lost the ball three times. Texas fumbled three times and recovered twice while the Oklahomaans fumbled three times, the ball going to Texas on each instance.

The surprise of this battle to the Southern was the fact that the Texas backs outplayed the Oklahomaans. Reeds was the only Sooner able to gain and his spurts were limited to a three and a half yard average. The Texas backs, Daniels and Simmons played rings around their northern opponents all the way. The Texas line was stronger than the Oklahoma forward combination, outweighing the Northernners and also outchargin them.

TEXAS TRIMS OWEN'S SOONERS

TEXAS CHAMPS OF SOUTHWEST

Longhorns Score Touchdowns on Two Passes Into Goal Zone—Daniels Good Fullback.

Houston, Texas, Nov. 10.—Texas won the championship of the Southwest today by defeating Oklahoma by the score of 14 to 6 in the greatest game of football played by the Longhorns since the memorable 6 to 0 victory over the Farmers.

The victory was deserved. The powerful Sooner backfield, that machine of Southwestern stars who have played together for three years, were helpless in the hands of the Longhorns. The Texas ends smashed the terrific interference with such regularity that Reeds, Courtright, Copeland and Ambriester were time and again nailed in their tracks.

The work of Pete Edmonds and Turner was great. The game was Texas' from start to finish, the Longhorns excelling in every part of the game except in punting, and even then Barrall was not far behind Reeds. The Longhorns' backfield was far superior to that of the Sooners. Reeds looked like a novice in comparison to Daniels. The latter played the star game of his career. His repeated plunges through center for 10, 15 and 20 yards and his end runs, coupled with his forward passes, should give him a berth over Reeds as all-Southwestern fullback. His 55-yard return from kickoff will be talked of for years to come. Simmons was a wonder and time and again he was knocked out by rough play, apparently, but Paul always came back and established the reputation that proclaims him one of the coming football players of the South. Brown was the same consistent little Brownie, only more so. Barrall ran the team with ease and with remarkable generalship. His punting was highly satisfactory.

The Texas line was as firm as a brick wall.

To name its stars would be to exultate on the good qualities of each man. Dittmar proved a worthy substitute for Murray. Forward passes were much in evidence, and accounted for every score of the game.

Turner scored both the Texas touchdowns by receiving forward passes across the goal.

Fields received Reeds' forward pass and advanced the ball fifty yards for their only score.

In the last quarter the Sooners came back strong, and only in this quarter did they have any advantage over the Longhorns.

Features of the First Half.
Texas rushed nineteen times for 107 yards. Oklahoma rushed eleven times for 29 yards. Six out of 12 forward passes netted Texas 73 yards. Nineteen runs netted Texas 84 yards. Daniels outclassed Reeds. Texas backfield showed superior strength. Texas ends broke up Oklahoma's plays with orgatuccess.

The betting was slow. The odds favored the Sooners with most of the money placed at even. Weather conditions perfect except a little warm.

The lineup:

Texas	Position	Oklahoma
Turner	Left End	Lowrey
Bass-Berry	Left Tackle	Clark
Birge	Left Guard	Meecham
Dittmar	Center	Speer
Jordan	Right Guard	Bell
Carlton	Right Tackle	Hott-Hott
Edmonds	Right End	Rogers
Barrell	Quarterback	Ambrister
P. Simmons	Right Halfback	Capshaw
Brown	Left Halfback	Courtright
Daniels	Fullback	Reeds

"The Rose Maid" Opera The Event of the Season.

One of the newest and most fascinating operas that set all New York to whistling its "catchy" melodies is "The Rose Maid" announced for Monday night, November 17 at the Marshall Theatre. This charming work is something more than frivolous musical comedy because it has a delightful romance enlivened with a score of brilliant numbers that have placed it in a class with the best imported musical pieces in recent years.

In the first act there is atmosphere of gay life in London with a story of the penniless Duke of Barchester and the little rose girl who gives the opera its name. In the second act the scene shifts to Belgium's famous pleasure resort at Ostend, where the plot thickens in true story book fashion and where the Duke and his friends are ensnared in a situation that must lead to his ruin but for the tender love and devotion of the rose maid.

With 1st score of dancing girls and a quintette of comedians who revel in its laugh provoking lines "The Rose Maid" is one of the choicest offerings as well as one of the newest set on tour this season. Backed by a solid six months popular success on Broadway and produced by a select company that includes last season's favorites in their respective roles an unusual treat is offered for every lover of fun and music. The opera will be staged here with all the beautiful scenery, costumes and extravagant effects that marked its New York success, there being only this one "Rose Maid" Company on tour.

BURN THE BUGS.

K. S. A. C. Co-Operates With Farmers—S. E. Kan. Next.

The eradication of chinch bugs by burning has become quite prevalent. A large number of reports have been received by the Entomology department and the department of Institutes and Demonstrations showing that counties and communities are making effective organization campaigns for this purpose.

Lyon county is already well organized. Mr. F. P. Lane of Harvey county, and Mr. P. H. Ross, of Leavenworth, demonstration agents, report that their counties are well organized through the school officers, farmers' institutes, and other farmers' organizations. Requests from granges and farmers unions for literature from K. S. A. C., on the chinch bug question, are numerous.

It is believed that the whole of southeastern Kansas will be ready for effective work as soon as the weather permits.

At last the new tunnel carrying the heat pipes to the south group of buildings is complete and the work of laying the permanent pipe line has been started. The Engineering department expects to have it completed in two weeks.

W. S. Gearhart of the State Engineering department, was in Neodesha recently attending a bridge meeting, at which contracts were let for two large steel structures, one across the Vergil river, and one across the Fall river.

DEFENSE MAY PLEAD INSANITY

MIKE BELIEVED TO BE A TRIFLE "OFF."

NO BRIDE SAYS JUDGE HARRIS

Friends of Mike Are Worried—Lawyer Refuses to Talk—Respect Shown Judge.

The friends of Mike Ahearn, who is being held for trial on the charge of stealing persimmons, say they have no doubt that he will be cleared of the charge against him. It is noticeable however, that they are worried. No one seems to know what the defence will be at the trial. Mike's attorney refuses to tell any of his plans.

Mike spoke in chapel one day this past week. Since then it has been rumored that perhaps the plea will be that he is insane. Some persons who admit that he is a little "off" now, believe that this is the result of his recent trouble in connection with this college fruit scandal.

Judge Harris emphatically denies the rumor that he was offered a bribe in the shape of persimmons. He says that he likes persimmons, but probably he did not mean that remark to be significant. It has been noticed that Mike has been greeting Judge Harris with very marked respect, when they happen to meet. He used to call the Judge, Tom; now he is very careful to speak to him with the greatest respect. Judge Harris says that this will in no way influence his action in the trial.

Ionians At Chapel.

The Ionian literary society had charge of chapel Friday morning. Miss Anna Serl gave the Scripture reading, and the announcements were made by Miss Nell Beaubien. In place of the usual address, the girls staged a farce, entitled "Scenes in Purgatory."

Miss Margaret Walbridge occupied the throne of His Satanic Majesty, and the "impish" attendants were grouped about the stage. Miss Emma Tomlinson, as "imp-in-chief," announced the entrance of each person into purgatory.

The take-offs, of course, were on faculty members. Each was given a sentence designed to be in proportion to his desserts.

In compliment to the Ios, the Hamps erected a golden throne on the pit. Upon it was a very pretty little girl dressed in the Ionian colors.

C. M. Scott, '12, is in a hospital in Buffalo, N. Y. He has been employed by the F. M. Nicolling Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, since his graduation.

R. N. Oh you should have been at chapel this morning they had a "pergola" and it was the loveliest thing.

E. P. What was that?
R. N. Why don't you know? They showed the faculty talking to the bad man.

Floyd Peterson, '12, and W. A. Buck, '13, both graduate students this year are carrying on extensive tests on oil engines in order to determine the cost and practicability of electricity for lighting purposes on the farm.

FITFORM

The Belted Overcoat

A big feature of this season's overcoat styles is the Belted Back coat. It comes in several variations, for variety is the thing in overcoats at this writing.

The Belt may be sewed on plain-embellished with a button or two, or divided in the center—but Belted it must be—an abbreviated Belt which gathers the Coat in a folded effect at the waist.

They are browns, grays and mixtures and a wonderful collection of rough novelty mixtures.

$12.50 to $30.00

Smart is not the word for this coat, nor shape-ly, nor "swagger," for it is all of these and much more besides. It is the most "classy" Overcoat that ever came from the Tailor's bench.

VOLUME XIX

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, NOVEMBER 19, 1913.

NUMBER 19

JUNIORS ARE CLASS CHAMPS

WON FROM THE SOPHOMORES AT CITY PARK, YESTERDAY.

SMITH INTERCEPTED A PASS

Fletcher's Pass Caught and Smith Races 40 Yards for Touchdown Making Score 9 to 3.

The juniors defeated the sophs for the inter-class championship on the city park gridiron yesterday afternoon, 9 to 3. The sophomores led until the final three minutes of play when E. H. Smith intercepted Fletcher's pass on the soph's 40 yard line and raced down the field for the touchdown that won for the third year team. The juniors jumped in to the lead in the first period when they rushed the ball to the soph's 20 yard line from where Milner dropped-kicked a neat score. In the next quarter the second year men blocked Milner's punt on the juniors' 30 yard line and on a penalty and clever bucks by Riney and Fletcher put Riney around right end for the only score for the second year men. Denman missed goal.

Play was even in the third quarter and the first part of the fourth until Baird recovered a junior punt in mid-field and the juniors lost the ball to the sophs on downs. It was here that Fletcher staged his fatal try at open play. For the sophs Captain Fletcher and the two soph ends, Dickinson and Richards, played well for the second year team. Both Smith, Baker, Lyons and the junior back field played best for that team. The line-up:

Sophomores	Juniors
Richards	Myers
McLennan	Wilson
Goldsmith	Smith
Cunningham	Baker
Moore	Baird
Fletcher (Capt)	Haggard
Dickinson	McClintock
Denman	Lyons
McGallard	Wagner
Riney	Smith
Shelly	Milner

Touchdowns: Riney, E. H. Smith; Goals from field, Milner; Referee: Merrill; Umpire, Billings; Headlinesman, Coxen. Time of quarters, 15 minutes.

MACHINERY WORTH $10,000

Agronomy Department Uses It in Class Work.

The Agronomy department has about ten thousand dollars worth of farm machinery in use in the course in Farm Mechanics, which has been loaned to the college for laboratory purposes, by the manufacturers.

The department recently received a gearless hay loader, a combined side delivery rake and hay-tender, and a disc harrow, from the Emerson Brantingham Company of Rockford, Ill., through their Kansas City branch; a harrow and a New Century cultivator, from the Roderick Loan Company, of Mansfield, Ohio, and a lime sower from the A. B. Gaston Company, of Cochranton, Penn. Another new addition is a 16-inch sulky plow, from the Oliver Chilled Plow Works, of South Bend, Ind.

The Kansas Aggie is very desirous of obtaining a list of the officers of all the Country Clubs. Will the secretaries of the Country Clubs kindly mail a list of the officers to the Kansas Aggie?

EUROS CONDUCTED CHAPEL

Quartette Sang—Wilma Kammeyer Gave Two Readings.

The Eurodelphians conducted chapel exercises last Saturday morning. The stage was decorated in ferns and Euro pennants. The girls of the society filled the seats of the faculty on the stage.

Miss Blanche Burt led in devotionals. The announcements were made by the President, Gertrude Miller. The Euro quartette, Mabel Kessler, Valeda Downing, Wilma Burtis and Cora Still sang. Miss Wilma Kammeyer gave a reading from "Under Two Flags."

New Hog Barn.

The work on the new hog nutrition barn has progressed rapidly under the supervision of Mr. J. D. Louis of the Animal Husbandry department. The barn was started only a few weeks ago and now the roof is being put on. The barn is a frame structure 32x75 feet, built on concrete foundation which is high enough to make the lower four feet of the walls. Mr. Louis says the barn will be ready for occupancy by the first of the year.

SPANISH STUDENTS STUDY OUR WAYS

REPRESENTATIVES OF COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE AT MADRID HERE FOR TWO MONTHS.

The Kansas Agricultural College is known even in far off Spain. The government of Spain has sent two of their brightest young men to this country to study agriculture and they will spend about two months here.

Senor Antonio Esteban de Favia and Gregorio Cruz Valero, graduates of the College of Agriculture at Madrid, will spend two months here with the Aggies. They have been representing the Spanish government at the World's Dry Farming Congress at Tulsa the last few weeks.

Each year the government sends its best five students to some foreign country for a year, to study the conditions there.

Senor Valero is studying the dry farming work which is carried on here and Senor Favia is interested in the work of the experiment stations.

KEPT WEDDING A SECRET.

The Marriage of David Brandt and Nellie Grimes Announced.

David G. Brandt, a K. S. A. C. graduate of the class of 1912 pulled off a mild surprise on his old classmates and many friends last Wednesday when he came into town, met Miss Nellie Grimes of Harper, Kansas, his old home, proceeded to the Methodist parsonage and was quietly married at six o'clock in the evening by the pastor, Dr. Clarence O. Kimball. They kept the secret well for a couple of days and mingled with friends without any fear of rice and old shoes, and then departed for their new home at Bartlesville, Oklahoma, where Mr. Brandt is superintendent of the electric light plant and electric railway.

Government Money.

Young men! Opportunities in statesmanship await you. The money problem has never been solved in America. Every thinking college man, woman, professor, and all others no matter what their politics may be, should hear M. V. Rork on "The Money Problem" at the Y. M. C. A., 7:30 today. Also, at this time, the "Aggieville Government Money Club" will make a public announcement as to the plan of organization of the Fifth District of Kansas.

Machinery Installed.

The new milling machinery is being tested out this week. The work began this morning and if everything goes off as expected the work will be completed in a few days and the new mill will then be ready for use.

Dr. E. J. Moffit will address the young men at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening at 6:45 on the subject of "Sex Hygiene."

DAKOTA FIRST K.S.A.C. SECOND

AMES LOST BOTH OF THEIR DEBATES.

ROOTERS MET MID-NIGHT TRAIN

Display Much "Pep" for First Debate—All the Decisions Were Very Close.

Last Friday night, at Vermillion, South Dakota, an Aggie Debating team lost to the University of Dakota by a two to one decision.

Lack of finished delivery, rather than weakness of argument gave the victory to Dakota by a close margin.

Prof. Johnston of the public speaking department accompanied the team, which consisted of W. L. Sweet, Roy Gwin, W. A. Sumner.

Their return at midnight Saturday was the occasion of an enthusiastic demonstration of College "pep" by a large crowd of rooters and friends. Immediately after the literary societies adjourned, a few leading spirits gathered a crowd, which increased until a stop was made at the Y. M. C. A. for an after meeting.

Then the march continued down town, increasing in numbers and enthusiasm until a snake dance was pulled off on Poyntz. After an unsuccessful attempt to attend the dance at Woodman Hall, the march continued to the station, where Coach Ostrum gave the boys a talk.

The rooters took charge again and gave the returning team a royal welcome.

The final result of the tri-state debate was South Dakota University First, winning from K. S. A. C. and Ames; K. S. A. C. second, defeating Ames; Ames last, with two defeats. The teams were all very evenly matched as is shown by the fact that all of the decisions were by two to one vote and the judges remarking that they could hardly choose the winner.

Chinese Party.

The Chinese students will entertain the Cosmopolitan Club and some of their friends, Friday evening. The event will be quite elaborate, and will be in the formal Chinese manner. They sent to Hawaii for the costumes and the refreshments. The invitations are very unique, being inclosed in complicated envelopes, and printed Chinese fashion in gold, on thin rice paper.

JUDGING TEAM GOES TO CHICAGO

WILL VISIT MANY STOCK FARMS ON THEIR WAY—TEN MAKE TRIP.

The K. S. A. C. stock judging team left yesterday for a trip of inspection which will land them at the International Stock Show at Chicago, where they are to compete. In 1912 the K. S. A. C. team took first place, and captured third honors at Kansas City at the recent Royal.

The team has been making trips to various points of interest to stock raisers, having last Saturday visited J. C. Robinson's herd of Percheron horses at Towanda, Kansas, and spent Sunday visiting the Robert Hazlett's herd of Herefords of Eldorado, Kansas.

The team will visit the following places on their way to Chicago: W. A. McHenry, Denison, Iowa; Iowa Agricultural College, Ames, Iowa; Cyrus Tow, Norway, Iowa; Henry Lefebure, Fairfax, Iowa; Joseph Leitch, Lafayette, Ill.; J. M. Brown, Hersman, Ill.; Taylor and Jones, Williamsville, Ill.; J. F. Prather, Williamsville, Ill.; J. E. Meharry, Tolson, Ill.; University of Ill., Urbana, Ill.; Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.

The men who are to go on the team are: Fred Dunlap, J. M. Goodwin, Walter Hepler, Frank Kramer, Archie Kiser, Roy Kiser, H. B. Lowe, Fred Keys, J. C. Jamison, F. L. McIlraith.

Prof. L. A. Fitz has been in Washington, D. C. the past week, attending the Feed Control meeting and the A. O. A. C. meeting.

TRY MIKE IN AGGIE COURT

AT AUDITORIUM FRIDAY EVENING AT 7:30.

WILL TESTIFY IN OWN DEFENSE

Many Surprises Expected in Famous Persimmon Scandal—Defendant Calm.

The trial of Mike Ahearn will be held in the college Auditorium, Friday evening, November 21, at 7:30.

Judge Tom Harris, of the Aggie Court of Peers, will preside. Attorneys M. P. Goudy, and Valeda Downing, will conduct the prosecution. Mike's attorneys are W. R. Curran and Margaret Walbridge. Two dozen faculty members have been subpoenaed for jury duty.

Both the prosecution and the defense have found several important witnesses, with which to prove their points. It is believed that the evidence against Mike is entirely circumstantial, but attorney Goudy thinks he has a strong case, and he hopes to make it still stronger between now and Friday.

It is very probable that Mike will take the stand in his own defense. Attorney Curry says the prosecuting attorneys will run up against a snag when they try to cross-examine his client.

The accused man seems to be taking things calmly. This freedom from worry may be due to a knowledge that he is innocent, and a belief that the truth will come out at the trial; or it may be simply the brazen self-control of guilt. The well known intolerance of Judge Harris, for anyone who steal college persimmons, should make Mike worry, if he is guilty.

The Browning Literary society will have charge of the chapel exercises Saturday morning.

THANKSGIVING VACATION.

Students Will Have Three Days As Usual.

The terrifying report, recently circulated, by the "grapevine telegraph," to the effect that the Thanksgiving vacation was to be cut short, was erroneous.

Dean Willard said yesterday that the vacation would be as stated in the catalogue, and not one day only, as the report had it, nor extended from Wednesday noon until Tuesday as is sometimes the custom.

The officers elected for the coming years were: C. Roy Jaccard, President; W. C. Calvert, Vice-president; Ethel Marshall, Secretary; W. R. Curry, Treasurer.

LIBRARY TO BE OPEN NIGHTS?

STUDENTS WISH TO MAKE USE OF REFERENCE BOOKS.

FACULTY AND STUDENTS PETITION

Presidents Council Resolutions Signed by Many Students—Want Twice a Week.

Petition is being circulated to open the library two nights every week. The Presidents Council have the petition in charge and are making a systematic canvass of the faculty and student body.

The petition was first presented to the members of the different literary societies, nearly all of whom signed.

The petitions are now being circulated among the members of the faculty and a majority of them have expressed themselves in favor of it. Petitions have also been sent to the Deans Council, the Forum and Students' Council for their approval.

Tomorrow, the petitions will be submitted to the different classes at their class meetings and they will be asked to vote their approval. The resolutions, as passed by the Presidents Council, ask President Waters to have the library open.

The measure is meeting the hearty approval of the faculty and students. Many of the students are unable to use the library during the day to do their reference work. The libraries at the State Normal and the University are open every night during the week and they are used by the students constantly. This is the first time the student body has made an organized effort to have the library opened at night.

SILAGE BULLETIN.

Experiment Station Has Made Feeding Experiments.

The College Experiment Station has recently issued a bulletin on the value of Sorghum crops as silage, with particular reference to feeding experiments with dairy cattle.

The experiments have shown several popular beliefs to be in error, and establishes the relative merits of several different crops in this line. It has hitherto been believed that sweet sorghum, commonly called cane, was more acid than other crops and would become sour and unfit for feed. This has been disproved by the feeding experiments, and by chemical analysis.

Two of the members of the chemistry department made the analysis on samples of silage of different kinds, taken from different types of silos.

The acidity of Kafir corn, taken from the wooden stave silo, was found to be about one and five tenths per cent. The acidity of cane, taken from the same type of silo, was found to be almost the same. On the other hand, the acidity of corn silage, the sample being taken from a cement silo, supposed to in some measure neutralize the acidity of the silage, was found to be nearly one half of one per cent greater. The explanation is found in the difference in the time of putting up the silage. Cane or Kafir corn silage should not be cut as early as corn silage, as it contains too much moisture at that time, and will result in a sour silage. The bulletin states that the silage should not be cut until the seed is mature, even if it does not mature until after frost has reached it. The time of cutting is all important.

Grange Met.

At the meeting of the College Grange last Monday night, there were twelve names handed in for membership. Those who are accepted are to be initiated at the big banquet and initiation which will be held next month.

Prof. C. O. Swanson, of the Chemistry Department of the State Experiment Station, is away this week taking soil samples for analysis in the work of the Station. Professor Swanson will be away until the middle of next week.

ELECTION.

The election of the staff of the Kansas Aggie is only three weeks off and there have been no petitions handed in as yet. As far as we know there are none being circulated. This condition should be changed. The constitution was changed last year to get away from the old machine method, but what will happen if there are no candidates for the positions? To be sure, several of the staff are candidates for re-election but there are a number who will not run again. If you have an ambition to be on the staff of the college paper, get out your petition and get in ethrace.

TROUBLE AHEAD.

At present, the Student Council has a difficult problem engaging its attention, and one which affects many students, particularly the young man from the farm. How to make the college terms of equal length, without lengthening the spring term or having the Christmas vacation divide the winter term, is the choice of evils which confronts the Student Council. Can you, Mr. Farmer Boy, suggest the solution?

JUST THINK!

—From R. I. Ag. College Rules.

A GOOD START.

The unheard of has happened. A couple of hundred rooters met a train at one in the morning to welcome back the debating team which has been to South Dakota.

It showed that the students were beginning to appreciate the work done by the debaters and that they were taking an interest in the work done by literary societies. It will give the debaters more to work for if they know that the students are boosting them and are ready to support them at all times.

It is a matter of congratulation that the student body is awakening to the importance of debating as a student activity.

To realize that such is the case, one has only to contest the well filled auditorium last Friday night, when Ames debated K. S. A. C. with the handful of students who listened to the debates with Oklahoma and Fairmount last spring.

Another unmistakable sign of the increased interest in debating, is the condition of the debating council's treasury. It is not overflowing yet, but it is certain that no such deficiency as existed last spring will occur again in 1913-14.

Is it too much to hope, that in the not distant future K. S. A. C. debating teams may be known in the Missouri Valley as well and as favorably as her athletic teams?

Even as You And I.

"No, my sons shall never have to work as I have had to. They shall know a great deal more of the comforts of life. They shall be gentlemen," said Mrs. Joyce in a decided tone, looking fondly at her two sons, aged nine and eleven, who were playing in the room.

As her guest rose to go, after a hurried goodbye, she hastened away to fill the water-pail and the wood-box, and bring in the vegetables for dinner. Not that her sons enjoyed their play so much that it was a pity to interrupt it, for they were selfish and irritable, each insisting upon the best for himself of whatever was to be had. It was Saturday, a busy day for Mrs. Joyce, but neither of the boys offered the least assistance. True to her ideas of the proper rearing of her children, their mother would not ask for help.

This day was not exceptional. Each day when the boys came home from school, instead of trying to make times any easier for their mother, they demanded a thousand little services. Her reward was sometimes an indifferent "thank you," sometimes none. They asked these services not as a special favor, but as their just due. All the while as they grew older they talked assuredly of a college education, but did nothing to make this a reality.

II

"Say Jack, anything on this hour? I'd like to talk to you."

"All right George, what is it? I have a class but I can easily cut that. Old Smithy never knows whether I am there or not. What's the question for discussion?"

"I've just received a communication from our maternal ancestor. She seems to be in a bad way. Some of her well arranged plans have fallen through. I always told her a woman didn't have brains enough to run a farm. And she has the nerve to suggest, or make it clear she would like to, that the money she borrowed for our last year here, and a little labor on the part of one of us, wouldn't be misplaced. Tells a touching and dramatic story of failure of crops, dishonest farm manager, mortgage due, and so on. Really too bad. Isn't it? She's made a pretty good stall at running things for quite a while, but I can't see my way clear to leave this place. I would ruin all the prospects I have of making something of myself."

"Well, that is the way I feel about it. She'll have to get along some way. Always has. Why don't she borrow some money. It's perfectly easy. Times will be better some time, and she can pay it back. Too bad though. Going down to lunch."

WIN SECOND SCHEDULED GAME IN FINE STYLE—SCORE
WAS 18 TO 8.

The School of Agriculture eleven defeated the Dickinson County High School eleven on Ahearn Field last Saturday afternoon, 18 to 8. The Hoover lads displayed more football than they did in their first game with Salina high and won on their merits. "Shorty" MacLeod playing quarterback for the Kent school lads was the life of his team starring above the other players all the way.

The first period brought a score for the School of Ag boys when Mac-Leod returned a Chapman punt from the 45 yard line and planted it squarely behind the Dickinson goal.
The kick for the goal was wide. In the second period the Hoover quarterback shot a pass to Fuller on the Chapman's team's 20 yard line and added six points more for the Hoov-erites' total.

In the third round the Chapman lads plunged the ball to the Ag school's 20 yard line, following a very return of the kick-off, by Kil-lan. From the 20 yard line Kilian dropped the Chapman's only score.
The School of Ag eleven came back strong in the final period when Mac-Leod returned Taylor's punt to the goal line for the final score.

Fuller, Franz, Smith and MacLeod played best for the Hoover eleven and Kilian and Taylor performed well for the Dickinson team.

SENIORS PLAN

FOR MEMORIAL

WOULD LIKE SUGGESTIONS
FROM STUDENTS—C. W. HAIN-ES IS THE CHAIRMAN.

The committee appointed by the seniors to decide on a class memorial, is having troubles of its own.
There is no lack of ideas, but they are finding it extremely difficult to decide among the excellent plans already presented.

They are in doubt as to whether to emulate the '08's, and erect another drinking fountain, or to add more lights to the campus, as did the classes of '12 and '13.

Some of the suggestions which they are now considering are: more lights, a scholarship, the beginning of a permanent grandstand, and a new system of clocks and bells for the classrooms.

Chairman C. W. Haines was recently heard bemoaning the fact that they had not five thousand dollars proposed, and thereby end the suspense. Roy Phillips, F. A. Smitz, and Miss Ethel Marshall are the other members of the committee.
Any suggestions which are forthcoming, should be turned over to one of them.

K. S. A. C. MAN

REPORTS SUCCESS

IS EMPLOYED BY ASSOCIATED CHARITIES IN JACKSON-VILLE, FLORIDA.

Another of the graduates of K. S.
A. C. has reported his success in his chosen life work, from Jacksonville, Fla., this time. The latest is from Walter G. Criswell, '12, now the "Homeless Man Agent of Associated Charities," of Jacksonville, Fla.

Mr. Criswell has recently published a half-page article in The Metropolis, of Jacksonville, on his work in that city.

The article starts with a short account of the "Free Masonry" existing among the hoboes who wander the country, and make the southern states their headquarters during the winter months.

The "hobs" have a language all their own, and are capable of carrying on a conversation totally unintelligible to the layman. Mr. Criswell tells of the organization, and some of the methods by which the victims of the Wanderlust are able to get a meal, or, easier still a drink, when they are busted, and "carrying the banner," or wandering without a bed or the means of getting one in the "drag," or street.

Mr. Criswell gives a letter from one of the men he has been instrumental in saving from a life of despair, a drunkard and bum of the worst type.

The letter gives the names of the saloons and drugstores where he was able to get the "lion's roar" or the strong whisky which he craved, and the devices to which he resorted in his endeavor to obtain the means of quenching that craving. He tells of the horrors of the delirium tremens, to which a life of drink and exposure brought him, and of the means employed in his salvation.

He pays tribute to Mr. Criswell as the man who drew him from the depths of his degradation, and made him what he now is, a man honored of his fellows, influential and prosperous.

The article, as a revelation of the underworld, is unique, and well worth the time of reading.

Mr. Criswell finished a large part of the senior work of the general science course, in absentia, while taking work in the St. Louis School of Social Science, under the supervision of Dr. Riley, head of that school and one of the most prominent sociologists of the United States.

After graduating at K. S. A. C.,
Mr. Criswell at once accepted a position with the Associated Charities of Jacksonville, where his work has met with signal success and approbation from the highest authorities in the work.

Mr. Criswell's interest in sociological work was aroused in the work in economics and sociology, there, under the course taught by Professor Kammeyer. His work here was characterized by a seriousness and steadiness of purpose seldom excelled.

He was married last summer to a young lady of St. Louis, whom he met while in school at that place.

START WORK ON OUTDOOR TRACK

PLAN AN OUTDOOR TRACK FOR PRACTICE THIS FALL—DRAIN
THE STRAIGHT-A-WAY.

Coach Lowman intends to start work on the athletic field as soon as he returns from the Texas trip, providing, of course that the weather continues suitable. It is the intention of the coach to excavate and fill in for the running track and put in the cinders for a permanent track this fall. A bed nine inches deep will be excavated and filled with crushed cinders and allowed to settle until spring before the upper coating of the cinders is applied.

The straight-a-way is located in a very poor place. The stretch in front of the grand stand has never been up to the standard on account of the impossibility of having sunlight enough on it to dry it out satisfactorily. It is probable that a drain will be arranged beneath this part of the track in order that all water may be carried off immediately after it falls. Coach Lowman intends to put in a 120 yard straight-a-way and maintain the original size of the quarter-mile track when it is relaid.

An out-door board track will be built this fall for training purposes.
This track will be a four-lane 50 yard straight-a-way. Coach Lowman said before leaving on the Texas trip, that he had not definitely decided where this would be placed but that it would be built close to Nichols. A cinder pit and a board floor take-off will also be arranged for the shot put-ters, for their out-door workouts.
These arrangements are necessary to meet the demand for a track on which the runners may use short spikes as in most of the indoor meets in which the Aggies will figure this winter, board tracks are used and Coach Merner wishes to enter his B.
V. D. squad in as fine fettle as possible.

JUNIOR GIRLS

SERVE DINNER

A SERIES OF TWENTY WILL BE SERVED THIS TERM TO FAC-ULTY MEMBERS.

The Junior girls in the Department of Home Economics, served an informal dinner Tuesday in the dining room of Domestic Science hall.
This was the first in a series of twenty to be served by the girls.

It has been the custom for the girls to serve faculty members during fall and winter terms, and faculty and seniors spring term. But this fall a comparatively small number of instructors were willing to trust themselves to the merces of the D.
S. cooks, so one girl has been taken from each kitchen and placed at her table as hostess.

The first day of dinner work passed off smoothly. At least there was no evidence of the trials and tribulations incident to the preparation of a meal.

Miss Virginia Meade oversees the planning and serving of the meals.
Miss Helen Green is in charge of the supply room.

ALL ABOARD FOR WASHBURN

ANNUAL GAME PLAYED IN TOPEKA THANKSGIVING.

HAVE ANNOUNCED A SPECIAL TRAIN

Band Will Probably Make the Trip—Aggies Have Won Last Six Contests.

Washburn ho: Thanksgiving Day the Lowman Aggies tackle the Washburn Blue in Topeka and the game promises to be interesting. The Aggies return from the Southland today and commence the final lap of their scheduled season. Washburn has a good team this year and have been playing well all season. William Jewell was trounced in even a better manner than the Jayhawkers did the job. The Kansas eleven did not pile up the score against the Blue eleven that it did against the Aggies in Manhattan a few weeks before, but all that has nothing to do with the possibilities of an Aggie victory on Washburn Field, Turkey Day.

Does anyone remember the bunch of Topeka lads that trimmed the Jayhawkers last season and then came to the camp of the Aggies, who had lost their game earlier in the season to the Kansans at Lawrence, confident of tramping the Manhattan team into the dirt. Well sir, please tell us just how much of a show the Topeka eleven stood when the Aggies decided to score in that battle? That's just about the way that this season's battle is going to turn out, too. Washburn may have a good team but the Aggies will be better in the crucial test.

Coach Lowman announces that there will be a special train run over the Rock Island Turkey Day, which will leave here at 1:00 o'clock and arrive in Topeka at 2:10 o'clock and will return at 9:30 that evening from the Capital City. The Aggie band will probably make the trip.

Owing to injuries to his back "Percy" Burkholder was not permitted to make the Texas trip and there is a possibility that he will be out of the Washburn battle. Washburn has a strong line this season and the Aggies will need all of the old timers in the battle that they can muster. The backfield was crippled before the trip to the Southland also and as definite reports of the Texas contest have not been received it is not known just how well the new lineup behaved. Injuries to Enns and Hartwig robbed the Lowmanites of two tested players who had made good in earlier games. Hauck is playing great football but is new to the game.

ONE ON BILLY.

Bug Keeper Loses a Valuable Specimen in Restaurant.

One of the overworked plots of the scientific short story has been demonstrated in real life at K. S. A. C.

It comes in the line of W. P. Hays' duties to analyze, classify, christen, and otherwise entertain any members of the bug order which inquisitive farmers may send to the entomology department.

The traveling facilities furnished to these little visitors are of various and sundry kinds, thereby paralleling those furnished the American refugees from Mexico by Huerta.

Billy was recently at supper in an Aggieville restaurant when he was observed by those present to take an envelope from his pocket, and look into it curiously.

A worried look came over his usually placid face and he gave the envelope a more thorough examination, to no purpose.

Then he looked up, his popular, sunny smile resumed operations, and he remarked resignedly that, "he has went."

Upon inquiry as to who, "he" was, the company was informed that it was a new specimen, sent in for identification.

"Was he dangerous?" inquired the members of the party. Don't know, I should worry, was the response, and the incident was closed from Mr. Hays' point of view.

And so, if some new and deadly disease starts ravaging the vicinity, it will not require a Craig Kennedy to devise its source.

Spanked Him. Because he presumed to criticize the prevalent habit of biscuit-throwing at the Commons of Missouri State university, E. Vernon Nash, was taken in hand by a self-appointed council of students, and spanked so soundly that he is now in the hospital at Columbia.

Nash, who is in the school of Journalism at Missouri State University took advantage of his opportunity to write for the Missourian a hostile tirade against the lax table manners of his fellow students. His remarks were too flagrant, and the objects of his criticism vented their wrath upon him.

The Student Council at the state school have sided with Nash in the matter, and five of his tormentors have been suspended for their participation.

NOTICE OF ELECTION. The annual election of officers and staff of the Kansas Aggie will be held on Friday, December 5. At this time officers are elected for the coming year.

This petition must be placed in the hands of the Editor in Chief of the Kansas Aggie, one week before the election takes place. The last day for filing the petitions is November 28. MANHATTAN, KANSAS, NOVEMBER 22, 1913.

NUMBER 20

FOUND TEXAS HAD A TEAM

AGGIES LOST THRILLING GAME PLAYED IN RAIN.

GAME PLAYED IN A DRIVING RAIN

Simmons Did a Sensational Acrobatic Stunt and Ran Forty-Five Yards for Touchdown.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 18.—The University of Texas eleven smothered the Kansas Aggies under a 46 to 0 score on the Texas field this afternoon. Simmons and Daniels, the two spectacular Texas backs, again played brilliant ball and their work brought repeated cheers from the two thousand or more spectators.

A large part of the game was played in a driving rain and, although the field was slippery, fumbles were frequent on both sides and forward passes could not be worked, nevertheless the game was full of thrills and free from penalties. Probably the most thrilling feature of the contest was a 40 yard run by Paul Simmons through a broken field to a touchdown. When about to be tackled by Haymaker near the Kansas goal, Simmons turned a complete somersault in the air, going completely over the Aggie quarterback and landing on his feet and continuing for the sixth touchdown of the contest. Daniels, Brown, Barrell, and Bob Simmons also played well for the Texans, while Agnew, Captain Loomis, Hauke, and Sidorfsky showed up best for the Northerners.

The game began at three o'clock when Brown kicked a 35 yards to Hauke who returned the ball 15 yards. Kansas fumbled and recovered and Agnew kicked 40 yards to Barrell who returned 25, and a few seconds later Simmons shot across the Aggie goal line for the first tally of the encounter. Brown kicked goal. The next two touchdowns were made by Brown and the quarter ended with the ball in Texas' possession on the Lowman team's 14 yard line.

In the next quarter Texas fumbled and failed to make the distance and Agnew kicked the ball well out of danger. The Kansas settled down and played better ball for the remainder of the battle and the Texans were held for downs more than once. Only one touchdown was made in the second period, Daniels carrying the ball over and Brown kicking goal. At the end of the half the Texans had the ball in midfield.

During the last half of the game touchdowns were made by Daniels who ran 50 yards through a broken field; by Simmons, who made a thrilling 45 yard run; and by Leftwich who replaced Daniels near the end of the game. After the game the two teams were entertained at the Y. M. C. A. with a buffet luncheon.

SENIORS LOST TO FRESHMEN

LOST A 6 TO 0 GAME THURSDAY AFTERNOON.

SENIORS ARE CELLAR CHAMPS

Freshmen Recover the Ball On a Senior Fumble and Make Touchdown.

The freshmen pushed the seniors into the cellar in the interclass football tournament Thursday afternoon on the city park field, by a final score of 6 to 0. With darkness falling fast the freshmen recovered a senior fumble on the upper-classmen's 35 yard line and P. Barnes covered the remaining distance without opposition. Goal was missed.

The play during the first half was even the ball being played chiefly in midfield. At the start of the second half however the freshmen changed the ball to the seniors' three yard line but failed to make the distance and lost the ball. Twice the kick-out went to the freshmen inside the seniors' 20 yard line but the yearlings lacked the final punch and on the third kickout, U. J. Smith pelted the pignskin into midfield.

Captain Barnes at full for the yearlings and P. Barnes on right end played well for that team. Hood, and Bob Taylor played the best games for the seniors. The summary and lineup:

Seniors	Position	Freshmen
Beckman	Right End	P. A. Barnes
Worstell	Right Tackle	Hine
Shirard	Right Guard	Groth
Hodgson	Center	Russell
Hartzler	Left Guard	Wunch
U. J. Smith	Left Tackle	Cleland
Coffman	Left End	Reynolds
Hood	Quarter	McCalran
Baird, Bird	Right Half Back	Swenson
Gwin	Left Half Back	Linn
Taylor	Full Back	Barnes
Touchdown—P. A. Barnes.
Referee—Alexander; Umpire—E. H. Smith.
Time of quarters—10 minutes.

It will cost each junior a dollar and eleven pictures will be placed on a page. With 200 in the class book, the juniors will make a good showing and in doing so they will establish a new custom.

PLAN FOR COUNTY FAIR

ANNUAL Y. W. C. A. EVENT WILL BE DECEMBER 6.

THE COMMITTEES ARE ANNOUNCED

June Milner Is the Chairman of Fair
—All the Girls Are Working Hard.

The County Fair, to be held December 6, will be the best ever. Miss June Milner is chairman of the fair committee, and Miss Bess Walsh of the finance committee, and both are qualified to make things as good as they can be made.

The fair will be quite typical. Snake charmers, side shows, fortune tellers, refreshment booths, and everything else that a county fair should have, are sure to be in evidence.

The committees have almost all been appointed. Miss Mary Lemon is chairman of the advertising committee. Misses Bess Walsh and Ethel Goheen are on the calendar committee; Misses Jennie Brown and Pearl Tackett, candy committee; Misses Mary Wible and Patty Hyde are in charge of the "society stunts;" Misses Clara Willis and Mable Lusler are on the popcorn and peanut committee. Miss Mary Rowan is chairman of the fancy work committee, and Miss Laura Lee Sutcliffe of the ice cream committee.

The Y. W. C. A. stages a fair annually, and they work hard, both to make it pay and to provide an evening of real entertainment. Donations of gifts, money or help will be very much appreciated.

CADETS TO COMPETE.

Will Construct Outdoor Rifle Range for Local Practice.

Lieutenant Hill is planning a series of competitions this year which will increase the interest in military drill, as well as render the corps more efficient.

A committee has been appointed from the cadet officers, with the express purpose of promoting these competitions, and carrying them on in the most interesting manner.

It is planned to arrive at the results desired, through a progressive series of elimination competitions, carried on at various times during the year.

The best drilled individual cadet of each company is to be found, and the best drilled man of the winners is to be chosen in each battalion. The two men, one from each battalion, are then to be matched against each other for the honor of being the best drilled cadet in the regiment. The same system is to be followed with regard to the squads, and to the platoons. The companies will also have a competitive drill, as has been the custom in the past, and the two battalions will be matched, in the effort to establish the status of every member in the corps.

Prizes are to be given for the winner of each competition, and it is expected that the business men of Manhattan will contribute to these.

With the intention of furthering ability as marksmen in the K. S. A. C. corps, an indoor rifle range has been established, in the south room on the main floor of the gymnasium. Here the companies will receive instruction in target practice as their turns come, on drill days. The gallery will be open to cadets for practice during every afternoon.

It is the intention of the Commandant to pick a rifle team to enter in the National Intercollegiate Rifleman's Association, and to take part in their annual shoot.

The members of the corps interested in target shooting met in the old chapel after drill, Friday, for the purpose of electing officers and organizing a rifle club, which will be affiliated with the National Rifle Association of America. Captain Giffen acted as chairman pro tem, and Lieutenant Russell as acting secretary. An initiation fee of twenty-five cents was voted, with assessments as needed. On account of the surplus of ammunition in the Military Department at present, probably no purchases of ammunition will be necessary this year. The officers elected were:

President—Captain Giffen.
Secretary—O. E. Smith.
Treasurer—Captain Linn.
Captain—Lieutenant Hill.
About 300 cadets were present. It is hoped that a team of ten or twelve men can be picked to compete with teams from other colleges in the association.

Dean W. M. Jardine has been in Washington, D. C. where he presented a paper on "Soil Blowing" before the American Association of Agronomy.

GIRL DEBATERS TO HAVE FLOOR

TRY TO SCHEDULE A DEBATE WITH THE GIRLS OF STATE NORMAL.

It is possible that a debate will be scheduled with the Normals, in which the girls will be given the floor. In the past it has been hard to arouse sufficient interest in debating among the girls for them to make a good showing.

The girls will try-out in the same preliminary which is used to choose the members of the other debating teams. The question will be the Panama Canal Tolls. The three girls ranking the highest will constitute the team. As there are to be fifteen on the squad, it is quite probable that three girls will be among that number. In case more than three girls make the squad they will be used on one of the other teams. In case three girls are not among the first fifteen, the three girls ranking the highest among all the girls debating will be numbered with the fifteen. In this case it may be necessary to drop some of the boys, to make places for the girls.

HAVE NEW BOILER.

A New Roney Stoker Arrives At Same Time.

The new 275 H. P. water tube boiler recently ordered from the Erie Iron Works of Erie, Pa. arrived Monday and was pulled up to the college on Tuesday. A new Roney Stoker was brought up at the same time, the big Aultman and Taylor gasoline tractor bringing them up without a hitch.

The college has installed in the power plant three other types of stokers, a Jones, a Murphy and a Green. These together with the new Roney will materially aid the instructors to explain the use of mechanical firing methods.

Miss M. E. Sturgeon, connected with the Redpath Bureau at Kansas City, came to Manhattan Thursday from her home in Salina, to hear Greets.

The Lambda Lambda Theta Sorority entertained Monday afternoon with a thimble party, in honor of their chaperon, Mrs. Robinson. Hot chocolate and wafers were served.

Mr. R. R. Lancaster, Sigma Nu, left last Thursday for Columbia, where he will stay and witness the K. U.-M. U. football game. He will return Sunday evening.

Dr. Christian of the veterinary department is doing institute work in western Kansas.

EXONERATED BY THE JURY

MIKE AHEARN GRANTED HIS LIBERTY.

BUY JAY HAWK CORN PLASTERS

Large Audience Gave Mike An Enthusiastic Reception On His Entrance.

After a deliberation of two minutes, the jury, in the sensational persimmon scandal trial, brought in a verdict of not guilty. As the trial progressed it became evident that Mike has been the victim of a cunningly devised plot. C. Roy Jaccard was named at being at the bottom of the whole thing. He and other conspirators, who would profit if Mike was put out of the way, were scored by Attorney Curry. When Mike took the witness stand in his own defense he was met with a round of applause by the audience, which was plainly in sympathy with the defense.

Three thousand persons were packed into the court room at 7:30 last evening, when the trial began. The jury as finally selected was composed of Walters, Searson, King, Dean, Kammeier, Cortelyou, Conrad, Rodgers, Johnson, Rice, Williams, and Meade. Sheriff Fowler and several deputies made a sensational entrance with the prisoner, and the trial was on.

The prosecution called Hezekiah Greenapple, a janitor boy, to the witness stand. Greenapple identified a toothmarked persimmon as one that his girl bit into one day last summer. He testified that he had been watching that persimmon, for sentimental reasons, and that it disappeared from the tree October 15. Susan Singleheart said that Mike gave her persimmons. Professor Socrates Rawlins, the persimmon specialist, was able to tell which was the persimmon, when he was shown a cocoanut, a lemon, and a persimmon. He then testified that the persimmons shown were of the variety grown on the college campus.

Dr. Mandrake Dose, of the Jay Raw Corn Plaster, advocated the universal use of his celebrated remedy. While on his way to sell Dean Jardine some of his justly famous plasters he saw an Irishman in a tree and swapped a box of the toe remedy for five green persimmons.

The defense then took a hand in the proceedings and introduced testimony to show that Dr. Dose was in jail until Oct 20 and also caught the persimmon expert on some simple classifications of the different varieties of persimmons. Then sheriff Jailbird and his worthy wife told of the attempts at bribery by C. Roy Jaccard. Others also introduced telling testimony for the defense.

The accused culprit was then placed upon the stand and then told his story in his straight forward Irish manner. He withstood the fierce cross examination of the prosecution without flinching.

The attorneys for the prosecution and defense then closed with floods of oratory. They made their impassioned appeals to the jury with telling effect. While the prosecution made their pleas the defendant was visibly perturbed. Once he removed his coat in his excitement, and the next moment he sat with bowed head.

Mike's spirits rose during the masterly summing up of the defense. His confidence was restored as he saw the jury wipe tears from their eyes. Judge Harris then gave his instructions to the jury and they retired but returned in less than two minutes and rendered a verdict of not guilty.

Study Building Construction.

Professor Smith's class in materials of construction visited the new high school building down town Thursday. They investigated new methods of construction in re-enforced concrete which makes the building entirely fireproof and much stronger than the old style of building.

WANT A JOB?

The election of the Kansas Aggie staff will be held December 5. At this time every member of the staff has to stand for election.

There have been no petitions filed with the editor as yet. For several of the officers there are no candidates. It is known definitely that two of the present members of the staff will not be candidates for re-election. Others are undecided. The student body cannot afford to let the paper depreciate. They must take an interest in the affairs of the paper and see that there is competition for the various offices, and in this way the best persons will be selected for the offices.

If you are qualified to hold any position on the Kansas Aggie, get busy and be a candidate.

COUNTY CLUBS.

Is your county organized? Do you belong to the county club and do all that you can to boost K. S. A. C. in your part of the state?

The students from each county should be organized. We have students here from every county in the state and K. S. A. C. needs your support in the home county. You need to be acquainted with the other students from your vicinity and a county club is the solution.

Mr. Junior or Senior, perhaps some of the freshmen are wondering why your country has no organization. Some of them may want to meet those from home. You should give him the chance by taking the initiative and issuing a call for a meeting of all the students from your county. Have a meeting every two weeks, and a party once a term. It will make you better acquainted and you will be helping K. S. A. C.

THAT WASHBURN GAME.

On to Washburn! The last game of the season is with our denominational rivals down the river. Incidentally, the result of the game will decide the state championship. The Aggies have been the state champions a number of times and we should remain here. For the last six years the Aggies have beat Washburn as regularly as they have met on the football field. We must do it again.

Last year Washburn brought a large crowd of rooters to Manhattan to see the game. They had the "pep." This year a thousand Aggie rooters must attend the game at Topeka and help the team win. A special train will take the rooters down Thursday and bring them back after the game is over.

All aboard for Washburn!

THE "KANSAS SPIRIT."

The generosity with which the Kansas Aggies agreed to let our fourth-year football men participate in yesterday's game bespeaks for them our heartiest congratulations. Technically they could have held us to the Missouri Conference rules and barred both the freshmen and the fourth-year men, but they realized that the spirit of the contract was to bar first-year men only, and they were broad enough to play fair.

Those of our critics who do not approve of football should take note of this. This is only one of the many instances in which football men are given an opportunity to show their true mettle. There is nothing that brings out more forcibly the true worth of a good, clean athletic contest.

This was our first game with our Kansas friends, but we hope it will not be the last. They are true sportsmen, and we respect them.—Daily Texan.

LECTURE WAS

A SUCCESS

PROMINENT TALKER PLEASED
LARGE AUDIENCE—UNIQUE
SUBJECT WELL TREATED.

Thomas Brooks Fletcher was not a disappointment. His audience expected much of him and he fully measured up to their expectations. His dramatic power was always in evidence, but was not overdone to the slightest degree.

He is a man who has the intellectual ability and moral strength to think out the great life problems along straight lines, and the courage to say what he thinks. There were no unnecessary trimmings to his talk, he simply said things. He has no regard for popular opinion. He does not care what the majority advocates.

He does and says what he believes to be right, and it is proof of his power as an orator that his audience is usually more than interested in what he says; he can sway them to his will, often against their own convictions.

AGGIES CAN WIN CHAMPIONSHIP

BY WINNING FROM WASHBURN AGGIES WILL HAVE BEST TITLE.

According to the Winfield dope fiend, the Aggies are rank outsiders in the state championship race and haven't a chance to win. This Winfield person sees nothing but the defeat of the Kansas Aggies at the hands of the Southwestern eleven in the initial game of the 1913 season. Does he forget that the Winfield lads lost to the State Normal crimples in Emporia just at a time when the Southwestern team was going at its best clip? All of the protest stuff that the Winfield dopsters have been throwing off since the Emporia game is little more than hot air, and will probably be treated as such when brought before the state committee on such matters. Why even the dinkiest high school eleven has its reason for defeat. They are thrown out for protection and are swallowed as a matter of last resort.

Now to get down to facts, the Winfield lads have no chance at the state championship even if the Aggies do lick the Topeka eleven on Turkey Day. The Washburn team defeated the Emporians decisively on the Normal gridiron and in fact by a larger score than the Lowman eleven handed the Crispens team. Now the Winfield writer says that should the Aggies win from the Blue next Thursday the state championship will drift down to Winfield, Kansas, and settle upon the Southwestern institution as a matter of courses of events. But if the Aggies should lose to the Washburn team, then and then only would the Winfield team lose its hold on state honors. So there you are, what can the poor Aggies get out of the game with the Blue? Nothing but their guarantee and the trip to Topeka, it won't do the team one bit bit of good to defeat the Topeka school for then the championship would go to Winfield. Truly this is a funny little world after all!

The Manhattan crew does not figure with the adding machine accountant from Winfield. It is possible for the Aggies to win the state championship this year even if the Winfield lads did pull a 13 to 10 victory from their game with the Lowman recruits in the first game of the local season. The Aggies defeated the State Normal eleven on the local field by a goodly score considering the muddy condition of the field, and the Normals in turn downed the Winfield eleven and the state championship was once more within reach of the Manhattan eleven. The finishing touch came scarcely a week ago when the College of Emporia eleven flopped Gallagher's Baldwin City team in the dust and took all of the State championship aspirations out of the Bakerites. Yes, we add, the Aggies have a chance and better than fighting chance.

WASHBURN VS. ST. MARYS.

Tackles Play Great Game—Trobert's Kicking Helped.

St. Marys, Kan., Nov. 20—Playing a smashing game, Washburn defeated St. Marys by the score of 24 to 12 in one of the hardest fought and best played games ever seen on the local gridiron. Much of the time St. Marys held the Congregationalists on fairly even terms, but coach Gray's machine would gather itself and pound its way goalward whenever the contest threatened to become dangerously close. Rogers the big Washburn tackle and captain, bore the brunt of the ground gaining in the pinches and smashed his way across the local goal line three times. Trobert's toe also was a big factor in the contest, adding six points to the Ichabod's score by field goal, one a sensational kick of 43 yards with a gusty gale blowing cross-ways of the field. Captain Burns, of St. Marys, scored six points for his team by means of two field goals, both comparatively easy, while Clark registered the locals only touchdown when he grabbed the pigskin off the ground after Chamberlain, the Washburn left half, had got in the way of one of Trobert's punts on the Washburn 15-yard line, Sullivan, Shyne and Cahill proved good ground gainers at times, while Sullivan's defensive playing was of a sensational order. Besides Rogers, Bearg and Chamberlain, the Washburn halves frequently made good gains, as did "Pinky" Beales, who went in at quarter in the third period.

Washburn defensive play was immense. Usually the linemen broke up the St. Marys play and then one, two and sometimes three Washburn tackles on the secondary line of defense would charge in and grab the man with the ball. Rogers, Whitcomb and Billings were much in evidence for Washburn on defense.

Mrs. Ethel Robbins who has been a stenographer in Dean Willard's office, has resigned and gone to her home in Port Arthur, Texas.

Glen Hamilton, a student in Washburn Law School is a college visitor today. He was a student here last year.

Miss Daisy Zelniger and Miss Jennie Cox will spend their Thanksgiving vacations visiting in Wichita.

Throughout the action of the play "The Virginian" there are many touching scenes and speeches that never fail to draw a tear to the eyes of the audience. In the third act "Steve" a great friend of "The Virginian" is lynched for being a member of a cattle stealing gang the leader of which is a half breed named Trampas. Steve has given his revolver to "The Virginian" as a token of friendship, near the end of the last act when Trampas has "gone gunning" for "The Virginian" with the avowed intention of "shooting him up," the latter pulls Steve's gun from its holster, looks at it for a moment and says with a choking voice "well if I must kill him I'm glad it is to be done with Steve's gun." THE KANSAS AGGIE

VOLUME XIX

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, NOVEMBER 26, 1913.

NUMBER 21

OUR MYTHICAL BEST ELEVEN

NEBRASKA SHOULD HAVE SIX PLACES.

BURKHOLDER BEST GUARD EVER

"Percy" Just Finished His Best Season—Scrapped Hard All Year.

First of all, the reason for all this overstatement. Every sport writer on every sheet in the country holds the inherent right to choose an defend his own "mythical," and we are not going to prove exceptional to the rule. Of course it is impossible to see all or in fact very many of the teams representing the schools in the Missouri Valley athletic fraternity during a football season, therefore it is a very risky matter to attack, nevertheless the others are doing it so why not us?

Beck and Mastin, ends on this last season's Nebraska eleven are the best ends in the Valley beyond the shadow of a doubt. Beck is particularly clever at pulling down forward passes, while Mastin with his 170 pounds of meat and muscle is one of the greatest offensive players in the circle. Mastin has made possible the gigantic tackle round swings of the mighty Halligan, by his cleverness at the tackle-boxing game.

Captain Weidline of Kansas and "Give 'em" Halligan of Nebraska represent to us the best that is in the tackle stock in the Missouri Valley clique this season. Weidline is an adapt kicker from placement and a great charger on offense. Halligan scored the Nebraska touchdown against Kansas this season on a powerful tackle round play from the 13 yard line. Of course much of Halligan's gaining was due to the Halligan-Mastin combination but even at that the glory and the credit must be none the less.

In the guard position, Holmes of Ames, and Burkholder of the Kansas Aggies suit us to a "T." Holmes is the choice of the N. U. sport writer and as he has seen him in action we judge that his selection is a wise one. As for the ponderous Burkholder, you travel a long, long way, to see a better football player. Burkholder is undoubtedly the best guard that has ever filled the position on an Aggie team. With his compact build and great weight, Burkholder has played as few play both on offense and defense. The loss of this player by graduation to the Aggies will cause the 1914 coaching staff no little trouble.

"Chuck" Wilson, Missouri's center will fill the bill at that position. Wilson was chosen for this place last year and although the Missouri mentors have seen fit to shift Wilson to the fullback position in the latter part of this season, he is the logical man for the pivot position on an all-valley selection.

Nebraska's backfield was great. In fact Nebraska's regular backfield was the major portion of the team. When Purdy left the Kansas struggle the Kansans' play picked up perceptibly, and when he returned in the first of the fourth period same diminished and returned to its former state of surveillance. Purdy should have the captaincy of the "mythical" and Rutherford is his logical running mate. Over Howard of Nebraska for fullback however, we would place Simons of Drake, who although playing with a losing team and handicapped by injury throughout the whole season, is the mightiest fullback in the Valley to our notion.

Towle, of Nebraska, draws our vote for the pilot position in that he has played more constant football this season and has outfought and outgeneraled more quarterbacks than has any other football general in the Valley. Towle has played wonderful football all season, last in Minnesota, Haskell, Kansas, and lastly the Iowa ring generals, last Saturday. In the safety position, he has accepted every chance and delivered the goods, therefore our vote for Towle.

PLANS FOR ROYAL PURPLE

WILL DIVIDE BOOK INTO MANY SECTIONS.

TO KEEP DEDICATION A SECRET

Feature The College of the Present and of The Future—Have Color Prints.

The board of editors for the Royal Purple met last night. The planning of the book in more detail occupied the greater part of the meeting. They were also concerned with the dedication. This will not be made public until the book is given out. The dedication has always been the one point in the annual that has caused most discussion. The candidates are considered as to their popularity with the students and service rendered to the College.

The volume has been divided into sections this year, a committee having charge of each particular division. The increased size of this year's Semi-Centennial number, is responsible for the change. There are to be six main parts this year. It is thought that their arrangement will be as follows: The College of the Present and Future. The College of the Present will be views of the college buildings and grounds. There are to be sixteen pages of these, printed in a sepia ink on India paper. The College of the Future is being drawn up at the present by the Senior architects and is the way that the campus will look, probably, in fifty more years. There will be a small section of this work.

The second division will be "The Spirit of the Kansas Aggies." In it will be shown pictures and story, the events that happen in Aggie land. In this will be the Centennial parade, photographed especially for reproduction here; the May Day stunts, County Fair, Mock Trial, in fact, every thing that is characteristic of college events. The third book will be given to the different departments. Each division will be headed by the Dean, and where there are departments, the photo of the head of the department will be shown, snapped while working in his own particular department. The third division in the album, showing the pictures of the Seniors. In another part will appear the Juniors.

The Organizations will be represented in a book following the album. Athletics will be made prominent and the book of humor will be immense, so it is said. But just what form this will take is not known, the committee in charge of the work say they are not ready to make it known to even the executive committee at the present time.

The Color prints have never been run in a volume of Royal Purple yet. They will separate the books. The designs are to be suggested by local artists, but the print as it appears will be made by the skilled artists in the studio of a well known art and engraving firm.

At their meeting last night, the committee decided on the binding. The book as it appears this year, bids fair to set a pace for years to come. Many inquiries are coming in about soliciting sales. The management was not ready to make any announcement when asked in regard to this, replying they were "kept busy" gathering pictures and attending to other details.

SEARSON TO CHICAGO.

Will Deliver an Address Before National Council.

Professor J. W. Searson will deliver an address before the National Council of the Teachers of English at their meeting in Chicago Friday morning. His subject will be, "Live English Teaching and a Live Library."

Thursday he will spend in Omaha where the family is to have a reunion. Mrs. Searson was released from the hospital there last Sunday.

BIG CONVENTION AT KANSAS CITY

MET LAST YEAR AT LIVERPOOL
—K. S. A. C. WILL SEND 14 DELEGATES.

The Seventh International Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement, will be held in Kansas City for five days, beginning Dec. 21. This convention has already attracted world wide interest and is the subject of discussion in all colleges where there is a Y. M. C. A. Representation from the various colleges is based upon their attendance, there being 200 delegates allowed for the first 200 students and one additional delegate for each 200 thereafter.

Under this system K. S. A. C. will be allowed 13 student delegates and one member of the faculty. Those who will go from here will be selected sometime during this week.

It is necessary for the delegates to pay a registration fee of three dollars but the total expense will be only about ten dollars. There will be speakers from all over the world and it is considered a great honor to be selected as a delegate.

The convention met last year in Liverpool, England. Usually the attendance is in excess of 4000 college students.

Masons Dance.

The Masonic Club gave a dance Monday night in Aggieville hall. Twenty-two couples were present. Kipp's orchestra played. Professor and Mrs. A. L. Harris and the Matron, Mrs. Mack, chaperoned.

HORSE DOCTORS MAKE MONEY

K. S. A. C. UNABLE TO SUPPLY
THE DEMAND FOR TRAINED VETERINARIANS.

The vet students who have to bear the epithets of "horse doctors," "hog surgeons," have the laugh on their calumniators in the end. The Vet is always sure of a job as soon as he has finished his course. Dr. R. R. Dykstra, of the vet department, says that there are always more applications for practitioners than the department can fill, at excellent wages. K. S. A. C. is now a well known source of experts in this line, and calls for men are sent here from all over the country.

John Harris, '13, is with the Hog Cholera Serum Co. of Indiana, at a salary of $1,400 per year; G. E. '13, has a position with the Kansas Serum Co. at Manhattan, at the plant located across the river, on a salary of $1,400 per year; G. E. Nelson, '13, is employed at the St. Joseph Veterinary College, at St. Joseph, Mo., drawing $1,400 a year; J. L. Kirkpatrick is employed at a good salary by K. S. A. C. to inspect the supplies shipped from Kansas City to this point; H. H. Olson is studying medicine at K. U.; Clyde Drake, who will graduate this winter, has practiced previously in Manhattan; L. A. Howell employs part of his time working at the College serum plant; R. R. Davis is a private practitioner in one of the western states.

"WRITE-UP" COMMITTEE.

Sophomores Appoint Members To Take Charge of Their Section.

The Sophomore class has appointed the following to serve as class book committee for the entire year: G. C. Bailey, Chairman; H. B. Dudley, Elliott Ranney, Verda Harris, Mamie Arnold. This committee is to take full charge of the Sophomore section of the class book.

THE MINIMUM WAGE.

Debaters Can Use Either Question
In Preliminaries.

Many of those who wish to try out for the debates will be interested in learning that they may try-out on either the Panama Canal Tolls or on the Minimum Wage question.

The first preliminary outside of the societies will occur on the first Friday of the winter term. Debaters can take either side of the question. The wording of the Minimum Wage question is: "Resolved, That through appropriate legislation a Minimum Wage scale should be put in operation in the United States."

FILE PETITIONS.

P. D. Buchanan Is a Candidate for Reelection.

The constitution specifies that the names of all candidates for officers of the Kansas Aggie should be in the hands of the Editor ONE WEEK before the election. Friday will be the last day to file petitions as the election comes on Dec. 5.

Only one petition, that of P. D. Buchanan for the position of Subscription Manager, has been filed.

READY FOR WASHBURN

ANNUAL THANKSGIVING GAME PLAYED AT TOPEKA.

FIVE MEN PLAY THEIR LAST GAME

Special Train On Rock Island for Aggie Rooters—Will Win the Championship.

Tomorrow afternoon the Kansas Aggies play their final football contest of the 1913 season with the Washburn eleven on the Topeka school's gridiron. A special train over the Rock Island will leave Manhattan at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and will return leaving Topeka at 9:30. The band and the football team will use this train. According to past records the Aggies should have a goodly gathering of rooters in the Washburn stands pulling for the home team to win.

With plenty of rest and hard workouts each day since the Texas battle the Lowmanites are due to hit their stride in the game with the Blue. The Aggies have been going good since their return from the Southland and have been showing plenty of pep in workouts. The men of Loomis played their best game of the season against the Texans according to close followers of the team, and are not liable to go back enough tomorrow to spoil the chances of victory.

Captain Loomis, Wehrle, Burkholder, Moss, and Schafer will play their final game for the school in the Washburn struggle, so why should the Aggies fear 'em? These men are all tried and true and have faced the Topeka eleven twice before. They can all be counted upon to play the best games of their careers for K. S. A. C.

The final heavy workout and scrimmage of the season occurred last Saturday evening on the College field. The Freshmen-Varsity opposed the regulars for 40 minutes of labor and the first string men won by 6 touchdowns. It seems as though the regulars would be able to do more in the scoring line against these first year players, but when one journeys to the athletic field, and watches the two teams tugging each other back and forth across the field, the impression of yearlings vanishes and their stock booms.

Washburn has a better team this year than last, at least so say the wise ones. Against the Kansans they held out for three quarters and lost in five minutes, 13 to 0. The Aggies played the Moss-Frank eleven early in the season and were downed, 26 to 0. The scribes do say though that Kansas played her best game against the Lowman eleven, and went back after that game. The Aggies have improved as usual and are promising to stage the usual last-game finish.

Last year the Aggies toyed with the Washburnites throughout the first half and the Topeka eleven led by virtue of a neat goal from placement at the middle of the game. With the start of the third period the Aggies unloosed their play and tore the Blue defense to shreds. The final count was 21 to 3. And it might be added that the Aggies walloped a team that had defeated the Jayhawkers who had in turn defeated the Lowman eleven.

Prof. Swanson at Chapel.

A much appreciated short talk was made in chapel this morning by Prof. C. O. Swanson of the Kansas State Agricultural College. The address was spicy and to the point. He said that the best standard of living in this world is a life of service and that our greatest happiness will be the result of our endeavoring to make happy our fellow humanity.—Baker Orange.

WASHBURN CAN'T COME BACK.

A Topeka dispatch says:—Washburn wants to come back! After defeating the Kansas Aggies for eight successive years, the Ichabods weakened, the Farmers took on beef and football knowledge, and for the last five years the Blue has been unable to win a contest. In the old days Washburn looked upon the Manhattan game as an afternoon of practice in preparation for another squad. Times have changed—so has the Aggie football team—likewise the Washburn eleven—and the Farmers have fought their way into the Missouri valley conference.

This year Washburn is doubly anxious to win from the Aggies. In the first place the Blue is anxious to plaster a good decisive victory over the wounds of former defeats. In the second place, Washburn will be able to have a clear title to the championship of the Kansas conference by a score over the Farmers.

Practice began in earnest this afternoon. Only three days for the Ichabods to work up new plays to try out against the Agricultural college eleven. The Aggies' coach and players have witnessed two full games between Washburn and her opponents. One of these games with K. U. when Washburn opened up in an attempt to win. The Manhattan eleven had a good idea of the style of attack and the defense formation of the Blue. Coach Gray has to work out a new pattern for the Turkey day contest.

From the reports of the Nebraska-Kansas game the man who put the brass in Nebraska deserves more credit than the man who puts the can in Kansas.—Nebraskan.

FRATERNITY FOOTBALL.

P. K. A. Lost to S. A. E. On Park
Gridiron.

The Pi Kappa Alpha football team was defeated by the eleven representing the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity on the city park gridiron, Monday afternoon, 0 to 7. The clever work of "Josh" Billings netted the Sig Alphas their touchdown after two minutes of play in the first quarter. Billings rushed the oval 30 yards around right end on the first play after the kickoff and a minute later fell across the P. K. A.'s goal line on a line plunge. Billings also kicked the goal.

Many fumbles by the Bluemont avenue eleven were costly as they were with few exceptions recovered by the Pi Kap bunch. Cope and Bright, the P. K. A. ends recovered two apiece. From the later part of the second quarter on, the Pi Kaps played well and their goal was never in danger. Anderson did good work for the Pi Kaps and Fickle at center

Card of Thanks.

The President's Council takes this opportunity of tending their thanks to all those whose cooperation and good will helped to make the mock trial the great success which everyone is agreed it was. We desire to especially thank the members of the faculty who so kindly consented to serve on the jury, and who rendered such an impartial verdict. We also wish to thank those whose concen-tious scruples made it impossible for them to serve, but who are willing to help us with their presence.

Our profound thanks and deepest gratitude, however, belong to M. F. Ahearn, the member of the faculty who made the trial possible, and whose popularity is wholly responsible for the large crowd who witnessed it. The large attendance goes to prove that the man so popular in the college athletics a few years ago and who coached the only foot-ball team the Aggies ever had hat beat K. U. has lost none of his popularity, but that it rather has been growing and only awaiting an opportunity to express itself.

Special thanks are also deserved by Professor Johnston and Kammeyer whose timely suggestions and helpful hints served to rub off some of the rough edges of the participants. Some of the characters who have taken part in former plays showed the results of Professor Johnston's excellent training in character portrayal.

We also wish to thank Attorney Evans who advised in the preparation of the charge and in the general court procedure, and to Judge Story who taught our judge his responsibilities.

THERE are a few Saturdays allotted to early Winter. On any of these Saturdays you can purchase an overcoat and rest assured of receiving a very wonderful style, a very clever pattern, a very toneful color, a very satisfactory fit. But remember, good overcoats move quickly. We purchase particularly smart models only in limited quantities. Naturally they are the first to sell and naturally the most distinctive fellows buy them. Now, it's a matter of purchasing early and being perfectly pleased, or purchasing late and taking the "left overs."

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, DECEMBER 3, 1913

NUMBER 22

TIE GAME AT TOPEKA

EXCITING GAME FROM START TO FINISH.

WASHBURN SCORED SIX FIRST

Aggies Came Back Strong With Line
Punges and Several Long End Runs.

The Aggies played their final Thanksgiving Day football game in Topeka last Thursday when they tied with the Washburn eleven 6 to 6, on Washburn field. A ruling in the Missouri Valley conference bars Thanksgiving Day games but owing to a contract with Washburn this game was permitted by the Valley committee. It is not known as to whether the Blue will be met next season or not but it is certain that the game will not be played on Turkey Day unless the Valley ruling is suspended.

Beals for Washburn and Hartwig for the Aggies negotiated the score. Beals entered the game following the injury of Chamberlain in the fourth period and reeled off a 40 yard gain from midfield on his first play. A successful pass netting the Topeka eleven two yards was followed by a dash around right end by Beals and the Topeka score. Captain Rogers usurped Torbert's right to kick the additional point and failed miserably.

The Aggies spurred on by the sting of a possible defeat instituted a march out of their own territory and to the 40 yard line of the enemy. At this stage of the game Hauke was injured and replaced by Hartwig. Hartwig buckled down to the situation and plunked through the Washburn defense even better than had the powerful Hauke. Three successive plays by Hartwig put the ball on the Washburn eleven's 20 yard line where Dresser called Hartwig through for a fourth mile. Into the hole shot the flying Hartwig and a second latter out of the hole shot the elusive oval, but Dresser was following the play well and gathered in the ball and raced to the enemies' eight yard line before being downed. Three more shots a-la-Hartwig and the Aggies had six points to their credit and defeat was staved off until another day. "Red Agnew missed his try for the extra point.

The open style game was relegated to the discard in this battle. On the line smashing game the Aggies bested the Blue by a goodly margin. The Washburn eleven used a tackle back line plunge with Captain Rogers as the goat. The failure of this play may be laid to the inability of the Washburn forward to open a hole in the Aggie line. Tackle swings and short end runs by Sidorfsky and Cleland proved good ground gainers for the Aggies, while Hauke and Hartwig delivered the goods when it came to plunging through the Washburn forwards. Beals, Chamberlain, and Bearg worked well around to the Aggie wings but not as consistently as did the Aggie backs.

The first three periods of the struggle were fought on even terms. The Aggies lost continually from offside plays while the Topeka eleven through their captain donated the Aggies several goodly gains which in the third period looked like an Aggie score but fizzled in the crucial moment. Poor tackling was the chief objection to the Lowman eleven. Time after time the Washburn player would dra the Aggie yards in to their own territory following an eye-brow tackle. On the other hand the Blue tacklers hit in shoe string style and usually threw the runner in his tracks.

The Summary.

The Aggies won the toss and chose to defend the east goal. Torbert kicked off 45 yards to Agnew who returned 20. Hauke failed and Marble tore off 8 yards. Hauke made first down and Agnew failed. Washburn added five yards for offside and Hauke hit the line for 7 Agnew went around left end for first downs and Sid slipped through the line for 3. Hauke gained 3 and Dresser fumbled and recovered. Agnew tried a place kick from the 25 yard line but kick was blocked and Agnew recovered on Washburn's 45 yard line. Agnew made one around left end and the Aggies were penalized 15 for holding. Sid made 18 yards around the right end and Hauke hit the Washburn defense for 4. Washburn added 5 for offside and Dresser was thrown for a 5 yard loss. Sid and Agnew made two apiece around the ends and Agnew missed a 46 yard place kick when the ball failed to clear the bar by inches.

Washburn played the ball on her 20 yard line and the Aggies donated 15 yards on three successive offside plays. Rogers made 5 on a tackle play and Washburn lost 15 yards for holding. Chamberlain made 3 around left end and Bearg repeated for 25 yards. Bearg gained 4 around right end and McNeish hit for 3 through center. Bearg was thrown for no gain and Rogers made first down. Washburn made seven yards on three plays and passed to Dresser on the Aggies' 17 yard line. Agnew, Marble, and Hauke gained first down and Dresser and Washburn penalty for offside play produced the magic first and ten. Marble lacked inches of making first down on the next play and Agnew completed the distance with room to spare. Marble reeled off 5 yards more but the Aggies were set back 15 for holding and Sid made 22 around right end on the next play. Agnew and Burk argued and lost 10 yards and Marble came back 4 on a tackle swing. Hauke lugged the oval to the Aggies' 36 yard line as the whistle ended the period. Score Aggies 0 Washburn 0.

Second Quarter. Agnew's punt fizzled and Washburn took the ball on the Aggies' 45 yard line. The Washburnites carried the ball to the Aggies' 20 yard line but Rogers fumbled and lost 15 yards. McNeish passed to Dresser who lugged the oval to the Aggies' 20 yard line. The Lowman crew made first downs once and were forced to punt on the second distance. Agnew kicking to the Washburn team's 45 yard line to no return. Root replaced Moss and Bearg lost ground. Washburn could not gain and kicked 40 to Dresser who came back 15. Sid, Marble and a Washburn offside gave the Aggies first and ten. Hauke, Dresser, and Sid lost ground and Agnew kicked 20 yards to no return. McNeish passed to Marble on the Aggies' 35 yard line. The Aggies tried a pass and failed and were forced to kick 40 yards to McNeish who returned 5. Washburn worked the ball to the Aggies' 35 yard line and Torbert missed a 25 yard place kick a mile. The half ending with no scores for either team.

Third Quarter. Agnew kicked off 45 yards to Rogers who returned 10. Washburn failed to gain and also lost 15 yards for holding and Torbert kicked 45 yards to Dresser who returned 7. Marble and Hauke made the distance and the Aggies lost 15 yards on a penalty. Agnew was forced to punt 45 yards to McNeish who returned 10. On the first play Washburn fumbled to Burkholder on the Washburn 43 yard line and Marble made 5 but both sides were offside and the play was called back. The Aggies marched toward the Washburn goal with Hauke, and Marble doing the brunt of the work. Agnew passed from the 15 yard line to Washburn player but the Topekans were offside and the ball went back to the Aggies, and Hauke hit the line for 5 more. Hauke hit twice more putting the ball on the five yard line. Haymaker replaced Dresser and Marble was called around right end but was downed on the three yard line losing the ball to the Blue. Torbert kicked out from behind his goal line to Haymaker on Washburn's 45 yard line. Hauke was held and Agnew lost 10 when he was thrown attempting a pass. Agnew kicked 45 yards to no return and Beals replaced Chamberlain. Washburn failed to gain and Torbert kicked 45 yards to Haymaker who failed to return. Marble reeled off 10 yards but the Aggies were penalized 15 and Marble came back 5 more and the quarter ended. Score (Continued on Third Page.)

Maye Munger, '12, and Ernest O'Neal, a former student here, were married at the home of the bride on College Hill last Thursday evening. Mr. O'Neal's home is at Wiggins, Miss. They will be at home on the A. Munger farm on College Hill.

Professor J. O. Hamilton will attend the meeting of the faculty representatives of the Missouri Valley Conference at Ames, Iowa, next Friday. Each member of the conference has a faculty member.

Look out for the Katzenjammer Kids at the County Fair.

HAMP-IO. Thanksgiving Frolic Saturday for Those Remaining Here.

Twenty Ios and as many Hamp met at Park Place Dormitory Saturday evening for a taffy pull. This "lark" took the place of the regular meetings of the two societies and was the more heartily enjoyed by the majority of those present because they were unable to spend the Thanksgiving vacation at their homes.

Professor and Mrs. Cool chaperoned, and Mrs. Cool, who was an instructor in music at Washburn College before her marriage last spring, gave several excellent music selections. Later, the crowd descended to the kitchen and went earnestly to work at the intricate task of properly handling taffy. After it had been pulled—and eaten—they turned their attention to the making—and also to the eating—of popcorn balls. It was another of the jolly Hamp-IO affairs, and quite up to the usual standard.

NAME DELEGATES FOR CONVENTION

Y. M. AND Y. W. WILL SEND 14
REPRESENTATIVES TO KANSAS CITY.

The delegates from K. S. A. C. who will attend the Seventh International Conference of the Student Volunteer Movement, which will be held in Convention Hall at Kansas City, Dec. 31, have been selected. The representatives of the Y. M. will be: President C. O. Levine, General Sec'y McLean, A. E. Jones, J. J. Frey, William Marshall, Floyd Hawkins, Joseph Sweet and Professor Carl Ostrum. The Y. W. delegates will be President Margaret Jones, Sec'y Haas, Ruth Gilbert, Margaret Walbridge, Lina Tulloss, Mary Johnson, Mary Wiebe and Miss Ford.

In case any of the colleges and universities at some distance cannot make the trip there, is a chance that several others will make the trip. The alternates for the Y. M. are: Preston Hale, George Bailey and W. A. Sumner. For the Y. W.'s: Ester Nelson, Mary Tunstall, Eda Schowalter and Miss Boot.

The convention is one of the most interesting from the viewpoint of the Y. M. and Y. W. workers that is held during the year. There are addresses by the leading men of all countries and there are unusually 4,000 delegates present. Two years ago the convention was held in Rochester and Professor Andrews was the delegate from here.

K. S. A. C. will be limited to 13 student delegates and one member of the faculty.

Dr. E. J. Moffit will talk at
Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening at 6:45 on "Eugenics."

CENTAGE BASIS.

EMPORIA COLLEGE CLAIMS TITLE

But Aggies and Washburn are the Strongest Teams in the State.

Now that the 1913 football season is closed and there is a few weeks rest before the basketball season opens, the question of "who's who and why" in the Kansas conference will receive careful consideration. There are three teams, K. S. A. C. Washburn, and the C. of E., at the top of the K. I. A. A. pile and each one of them has its supporters. Southwestern started out like a house afire and galloped over the first four hurdles in its schedule in whirlwind style. The Normals proved the undoing of the Winfield lads and Thanksgiving Day the Moundbuilders further decreased their percentage in the estimation column when they failed to defeat the Pittsburgh Normals.

Baker played well until she hit some of the real teams in the Conference and then kerplunk went the Baldwin City team. Today it looks as though the contest narrows to the College of Emporia eleven. The C. of E. tied up with the Washburn eleven on a zero to zero count and defeated the Bakerites and Emporia Normals handily. This places the Granger team high in the ranks of the Kansas teams although they did not play the Aggies.

Washburn played the St. Marys, College of Emporia, Emporia Normal, and Aggie eleven and defeated the Normals and the St. Marys Irish by goodly scores but lacked the punch to defeat either of the other two K. I. A. A. teams. Now, as for the battle with the Lowman team in Topeka last Thursday, little could be said for the worth of the Topeka football team. Football was out of the question in that game. There was about 15 minutes of real football in that whole game. Penalties marred the affair and little knowledge of the strength of either team could be gained from the manner in which the two teams battled.

The Kansas Conference has a peculiar manner of selecting championship teams in major sport. Winners of the high honors are reckoned on a percentage basis. According to this method of calculation, the Aggies lost their claim on state honors when the permitted the Southwestern aggregation to humble them in the curtain raiser of the local season. In atonement for this defeat the Aggies walloped the State Normals 33 to 0 on a muddy field a few weeks later and the Normals in turn smeared defeat on the Southwestern lads at Emporia. Now according to comparative score the Aggies were put back into the running when the Normals squelched the Winfield eleven, but on the other hand according to slip-stick computation it merely boosted the Normals one game and lowered the Southwesterners to the Aggies basis.

It is hardly permissible to eliminate either the Washburn or the Manhattan eleven when the real facts of the 1913 season are reckoned with. Had the College of Emporia or Southwestern, or Baker or any of the other Kansas conference teams, faced either the Ichabods or the Lowmanites Thanksgiving Day it is almost certain that they would have gone down to ignominious defeat. Washburn and the Aggies played one of the hardest football games that has been staged in the middle west this fall. Neither of the teams showed a marked depreciation from their play of 1912. Coach Grey has built up a wonderful machine for the Blue and the absence of their 1912 stars was hardly noticeable.

Figuring state championships on a percentage basis is unsatisfactory in that every team in the conference does not play every other team. It is very possible that a school may go through a carefully arranged schedule with a poor team and defeat a picked number of the smaller schools in the conference. On the other hand a team, such as the Lowman crew, is forced to play a heavy schedule, one that may mean personal injury to the team and thereby lose or cause the loss of games with the schools in the Kansas circle. Still there is plenty of argument both ways for a conference eleven wades through its schedule successfully and finally goes down to defeat before a heavier and more experienced eleven, by the elimination method of reckoning champions, it is out of the running, while on the other hand if the play is on a percentage basis an over balanced win column will more than offset the loss of one game.

Whether this percentage method is right or not is always a cause of much debate. A team may play through a schedule and lose one game and that one by an overwhelming score. Hard luck may lose the game but that all goes in football and the winning team is generally conceded the better. Thus it is that the Kansas conference title is up in the air this season. No team has gone through the season without defeat excepting the College of Emporia eleven. By comparison of the Haskell-C. of E. and Haskell-State Normal scores, the Granger Twisters would be completely eliminated from any talk of the state honors. But, we are informed that the K. I. A. A. elects to choose champions on a percentage basis so there you are.

Dairy Association.

The Students' Dairy association met Wednesday morning in the Dairy building. R. H. Musser was elected president of the association. The regular meetings will be held on the second and fourth Mondays of each month.

Initiate Members.

The Sigma Tau, the honorary engineering fraternity, initiated a number of new members at their meeting last Monday evening. Those initiated were: W. J. Loomis, C. A. Hooker, C. W. Griffin, R. A. Shelly, and F. A. Smutz.

Louis Wormelskirshen and his wife, '11, of Amarillo, Texas, were college visitors last Saturday. They were on their way to Washington, D. C. Half of his time is spent in Washington and the other half is spent in Amarillo, at the experiment station.

C. E. Castle, '10, and his wife, of Tribune, visited Mrs. Castle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Meyers, over Sunday. Mr. Castle is the manager of a large ranch.

TODAY'S ISSUE.

Board of Administration Authorizes President Waters to Stand Expense.

Beginning with today's issue, the Kansas Aggie will be sent to all the high schools in the state, twice a week. The Board of Administration through President Waters have authorized the Aggie to do this and the expense will be borne by the college. This will be a great boost for the college and for the Kansas Aggie. The paper will now be read by every high school student in the state and they will form their opinions of the college by what they see in the paper. It means that the student body at K. S. A. C. will have to make the Aggie the best paper in the state. The Kansas Aggie now has the next largest circulation of any college paper in the state and ranks near the top among the college papers of the whole country.

OHIO ALUMNI BANQUET.

Annual Acair With All Grads From Ohio State.

In pursuance of a custom of long standing, the Ohio State University alumni members of the instructional force, held their yearly banquet at the College Inn, Sat. eve., Nov. 29.

At every large institution of learning and in every city of considerable size, throughout the world, the Ohio State grads gather each year at an appointed time to honor their alma mater and show their high regard for the institution which so successfully fostered them. This year throughout the world, Sat., Nov. 29 was known as "Ohio State Day" and wherever two or three or more alumni can gather together, a banquet is given and the praises of Ohio state resung. The graduates in Australia as well as those in London and Paris meet at this time and revitalize the pictures of college days and retell the stories that in years gone by, were the common property of all who trod the broad, green campus of Ohio State.

The Manhattan banquet of last Sat. night was a most enjoyable one. Ohio State pennants and the "Scarlet and gray" colors of the University were much in evidence. The following alumni were present:

Dr. L. W. Goss, Prof. L. E. Call, Dr. J. H. Burt, Prof. C. H. Clevenger, Mrs. L. E. Conrad, Mr. F. F. Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Neale, Prof. J. S. Hughes, Miss Mayme Davis, Miss Grace Perree, Mr. L. E. Melchers, Mr. B. W. Wells.

BREAKS COLLAR BONE.

Percy Cockerill Hurt While Playing Football.

Percy Cockerill, a Junior Ag., encountered the misfortune of a broken collarbone on Turkey day.

He was playing football on the college field, and the fracture is the result. The break was compound, a piece of the collarbone nearly two inches long having to be removed.

He was removed at once to the Manhattan hospital, where he is now recovering. He expects to be out of the hospital by the end of this week, and back in college for the finals.

Hoark Will Lecture.

Even as You And I.

The gridiron battle between Missouri and Kansas may never be fought again. Willie Smith says that he will not play anywhere else than in his own mother's chicken pen, down on Juliette avenue, and Mrs. Smith states that more than feathers will fly if she ever catches him playing such games in there again. In the face of such argument it is very likely that the managers of the two teams will call the game off for good. And it happened just this way:

During the recess period Monday afternoon, little Willie Smith, aged 10; George Smith, aged 7, his brother, and three of the neighbor lads held a meeting of their athletic representatives and decided that the battle ground for this combat of giants was to be held in Mrs. Smith's mont pavement as had been previously advertised.

The meeting further decided that Willie and George and Bill Jones, the largest of the five lads, were to represent Kansas while "Mut" Means and his little cousin, "Fattie" Bob, were to be Missouri. Also that "Fattie" Bob was to swipe his brother's old football for use in this game.

All was well and good at 4:30 o'clock when the two teams arrived at the athletic ground and proceeded to crawl over four feet of chicken wire. The game having been well advertised and an admission of five pins had been decided upon with the first spectator arriving to have the honor of being ticket-taker.

Following the customary warming up, Coach "Mike Ahearn" (Willie Smith), called the two teams to the center of the field, beg pardon, chicken patch, and instructed the two teams "to go to it," and also the coach added, that the first one that hurt him "would get his'n" and he held the "Old Man in the house" over his opponents and team-mates as a club.

The first kickoff by Captain Willie Smith went out of the pen, and the pesky thing had to be brought back and kicked over again. This time "Mut" Means grabbed the kickoff some 60 inches from where it had been spured on by the lusty limb of Captain Smith, and raced two yards before falling over Captain Smith's mother's pet Leghorn rooster, long since too old to evade such vicious attacks. This play did not break up the game, but the next did.

Naturally a fat man should play center, and naturally as fat men are imbibed with all the meanness and so forth in the world, and also as "Fattie" Bobs lived up to his nickname, he played center. This particular play of the Missouri team was one where "Fattie" stuck the ball as far back between his pedal extremities as possible and "Mut," who played the rest of the team, after touching the ball, would give "Fattie" a tremendous push through the rank and file of the Kansas team, thereby making a great gain.

This play worked well for six consecutive downs and then it failed and therein lies the story. Play had progressed rapidly and before he realized the situation, Willie Smith, erstwhile captain and coach of the terrible Jayhawkers was backed up against the side of his mother's chicken pen closest to the house.

Quarterback "Mut" Means called the famous "touch and shove play" again and Captain Smith braced himself to stop the onslaught. The signal rang out on the clear, crisp air. But a foot remained to go to gain the touchdown that would be written down in pages of history. A squak; a groan; a flying feather, and a woman's voice and falling hand and the battle was over, and the band played "Annie Laurie!"

About 7:30 Monday evening a press representative called at the Smith home to ascertain the damage that final plunge of "Fattie" Bobs had done. Captain Willie Smith crawled out from behind a section of a Sunday supplement and permitted himself to be interviewed thusly:

"Well sir," said he when finally he condescended to speak of the matter. "You see 'Fattie' he just naturally bumped into me so hard that I sat right down on mother's pet rooster and smashed him. Mother sent them other guys home an' said she didn't wanta see no more football round here so I reckon we'll have to disconnect all athletic 'lations wit dem guys."

All of which Mrs. Smith ratified emphatically.

HELD A SHORT MEETING

Board of Administration Was Here Yesterday.

The board of educational administration was in session at the college a short time yesterday. According to Mr. Hoch the board transacted nothing except a small amount of routine business. Mrs. Lewis did not attend the session.

Mr. Hoch explained that he and Mr. Hackney simply stopped off here while on their home to Topeka from Hays City. The board will not come back for the regular monthly meeting until about the last of December.

Swiped Eats.

Emporia, Kan.—John Ruf, Adrian Finley and Russell Prescott, State Normal students, were suspended indefinitely by the school authorities. Ruf was a member of a class of students that ducked Prescott in Lake Wooster last Tuesday night. Prescott was accused by classmates of having stolen the "eats" at a Halloween party given by the class and Finley was accused of being Prescott's accomplice.

The heat and power department has been buying coal all summer and hope to have enough on hand to last the winter out. The usual scare has so far been circumvented and it is hoped that coal can be secured on time for the rest of the year.

THE GAME AT TOPEKA

Aggies 0 Washburn 0.

Fourth Quarter.

Forbes replaced Meyers for Washburn and Haymaker failed on an end run. Agnew punted 35 yards to McNeish who came back 15 and Beals slipped past the secondary defense and made 40 yards. Rogers hit the line for six yards and Beals was held but the Aggies lost 5 for offside and gave Washburn first and ten. Bearg hit the right end for 3 and a pass from McNeish to Beals netted Washburn one yard. Beals eluded the safety on the next play and went over for a touchdown. Rogers missed goal. Score Aggies 0 Washburn 6.

Dresser returned to the game and Trobert kicked off 25 yards to a 10 yard return by Hank. Marble made two and Hank fumbled and recovered. Cleland replaced Sid and made 25 yards around the right wing. Agnew passed to Bearg and the ball was Washburn's on the Aggies' 45 yard line. Washburn failed to gain and the Aggies took the ball on downs. Cleland was held but Hauke hit through the line for 6. Marble held and Hauke made it first and ten. Washburn was offside on the next and Hauke gained 2 on the next. Agnew passed to Bearg and the ball went to Washburn on Washburn's 20 yard line when it failed. McNeish fumbled to Beals and the tide of battle turned. Hauke hit the line for 15 yards and tumbled but Cleland recovered. Hartwig replaced Hauke and grunted seven times for the Aggies score. Agnew missed goal and the final count stood Aggies 6 Washburn 6.

SENIOR PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT

MASKS WILL BE THE CORRECT THING—DRESS NOT NECESSARY.

The seniors will have a masquerade party in the Nichols gymnasium Friday night. All of the seniors will have to wear masks to get past the watchful doorknocker. As a precautionary measure the committee in charge have also announced that it's a good thing to have a date, but possible to come without one.

After an hour of fun the masks will be removed and students will form the program.

The committee in charge is: J. J. Frey, chairman; Margaret Blanchard, Prudens Newlander, Clara Sachau and Binner Bird.

It's A Recognized Fact that the best overcoats in the world are not made by even the highest priced custom tailors, but are the creation of the great wholesale clothiers.

With such master tailors as Michaels, Stern & Company, overcoat making has become an exact science. The result is that garments of absolutely unapproachable style and quality can be produced at about half the cost of similar coats made by the merchant tailor. Which means that for from $15.00 to $30.00 we can sell you an overcoat for which a tailor would charge you exactly twice as much.

Because of the heavy rain there was very little interest in the annual election of the staff of the Kansas Aggie yesterday. All of the old members of the staff that were running for reelection were elected. O. R. Burtis defeated H. B. Dudley for assistant business manager by 75 votes. Izil Polson and P. D. Buchanan had no opposition for their places. There were no candidates for the position of editor in chief and society editor. These places will be filled by the board of directors at their meeting Monday. This is provided for in the constitution, in case of any vacancies that occur.

The election was in charge of an election board which consisted of H. R. Musser, Fred Layton, P. D. Buchanan and W. A. Sumner. The polls were open all afternoon Friday.

The low vote is attributed to the weather and the fact that there was no competition for the different places.

The candidates for reelection issued a circular early Friday morning asking the support of the students on the basis of their past performances.

The surprise of the whole election was the large majority of votes cast for Burtis. Those who thought they knew expected a close contest. E. H. Smith the sport editor had the support of the athletes and their friends. He has been the sport writer for the Aggie for the past three years and has the natural ability to write sport.

The campaign was free of any "mud slinging" and there was no charge of machine politics as has been the charge in the past. The main question now facing the board of directors is the selection of an editor and a society editor. There were no candidates for the positions and some one will have to be drafted who is capable for the position.

L. E. Brennan, '13, was a college visitor the first of the week.

ESSAY CONTEST.

Hart, Schaffner & Marx Award $2,000 TO Students.

Prizes amounting to two thousand dollars have been awarded to winners of the Hart, Schaffner & Marx essay contests for 1913. The first prize of one thousand dollars was won by Arthur E. Suffer, a graduate student of the Columbia University, for a paper entitled "Conciliation and Arbitration in the Coal Industry in the United States."

The competition is divided into two classes, graduates and undergraduates.

In the contest among undergraduates, the first prize of three hundred dollars went to Jess W. Myers, Cornell University, for a paper entitled "Employment."

The second prize for undergraduates, amounting to two hundred dollars, was given to Fred W. Eckert of Northwestern University, who wrote an essay on "Government Regulation of Public Utility Securities."

The contests, which are held annually through the generosity of Hart, Schaffner & Marx, require a period of a year in preparation and students from many universities and colleges in the United States and Canada are among the aspirants for honors.

The committee making the wards was composed of:

Professor J. Laurence Laughlin, University of Chicago, Chairman; Professor J. B. Clark, Columbia University of Michigan; Horace White, New York City, and Professor Edwin F. Gay, Harvard University.

TURNS IT DOWN.

Professor Melchers Refuses Position At Purdue.

Prof. L. E. Melchers, plant pathologist at the experiment station, has recently been offered a position with the Purdue University. The terms were said to be very inducing, the opening calling for a man to conduct work along botanical lines. Professor Melchers, however, will not consider the position.

Mathematics Club.

The Mathematics Club has prepared a course of programs to be given at the meetings of the club during the coming year.

The program for the meeting of December 6 will be: History of a Few Proofs of the Pythagorean Theory by Professor Clevenger; and The Place of Limits in Geometry, by Miss Zeininger.

The club meets on Saturday mornings at 10:30 and students are invited to attend any of the sessions. The meeting place is Professor Remick's class room.

Bergh-Overholt.

Mr. H. E. Overholt and Miss Clara Bergh were married Wednesday evening, November 26, at the home of the bride's parents in Newton, Kansas.

Miss Bergh was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi sorority and was one of K. S. A. C.'s popular girls. For two years she has had charge of the Domestic Science and Art department of Bethany College, Lindsborg, Kansas.

Mr. Overholt was a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is now in charge of a large wholesale flour house in Danville, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Overholt will be at home in Danville after December 15.

MARRON VISITS COLLEGE.

Now Reference Librarian of Texas Legislative Library.

J. F. Marron, '10, who claims to be the only man who ever graduated in the course in library economy was a college visitor this week. While in college he was the assistant business manager of the Students Herald. Since his graduation he has been an assistant in the legislative library for the state of Missouri. He is now on his way to become librarian of the legislative reference library for the state of Texas at Austin.

The state of Texas through its library furnishes information for the members of the legislature and for the department of municipal extension.

Professor Holton will return from his work in Maryland Sunday. He will meet his classes on Tuesday.

SWEATERS HERE FOR ATHLETES

TWELVE TRACK AND ELEVEN
BASEBALL MEN HAVE THEM.

VALLEY CONFERENCE AT AMES

Lowman Will Announce Basketball
Schedule When He Returns—
Play Football With Colorado.

Many a lad strolls about the campus this week wearing a new "K" sweater. Owing to a mistake in the order for the track sweaters they are not as "loud" as had been expected but are very attractive. The following track men drew sweaters: "Mickie" Welch, Frank Root, Archie Marble, "Murphy" Gates, "Cap" Hutto, "Tex" Collins, L. Collins, Virgil Stone, G. D. M. Jones, Gaylord Hancock and E. H. Smith.

The following baseball players also received sweaters: "Cap" Forsberg, "Bill" Scanlon, "Les" Pollam, "Bill" Bailey, Knaus, "Red" Agnew, "Shorty" Beaman, "Big" Briney, "Hank" Dresser, "Lefty" Cleland, Dryden.

Letter men in 1913 football have not been announced yet, but the list will be made public shortly after Coach Lowman's visit to Ames and probably announced in the next issue of the Aggie. A captain for the 1914 team will be elected at the annual football banquet which will be held in the near future.

Coach Guy S. Lowman and Prof. J. O. Hamilton left Thursday noon for Ames, where they will attend the annual fall meeting of the Missouri Valley Conference which will be held in the Iowa city Friday and today. The necessity of a faculty member attending this meeting arose from the fact that there is a ruling in the Valley that a man who is an athletic coach and at the same time manager of athletics in the school he represents, shall not be allowed to take part in the two meetings of the Valley mentors and managers. Coach Lowman will attend the meeting of the coaches while Professor Hamilton will convene with the managers.

Representatives from the seven Valley institutions will attend the meeting and full schedules for basketball will probably be drawn up. This is the regular meeting for the purpose of drawing up schedules and it is possible that many of the 1914 football dates will be announced at this meeting. It is known that the Aggies will meet the University of Colorado football team at Golden next fall as the westerners played here in 1912 under a contract for a return game at Golden in 1913, but owing to the impossibility of the trip this past season, the game was deferred until 1914.

There is always a possibility that the Kansas Aggies will meet the Baker University football eleven next fall if the matter of eligibility of players can be straightened out. In order that the Baldwin City team tangle with the Aggies it will be necessary that they purge their ranks of all players ineligible under Valley rules. A bare possibility that the teams of these two schools will meet on the basketball courts this winter hinges also on the matter of the eligibility of the Baker players. Baker would probe a letter drawing card in football and would Fairmount and Coach Lowman favors dropping the game with the Wichita eleven and substituting the Baldwin City team.

Basketball and track schedule appear as the most important to the students at this time of the year. Indoor track meets with Washburn, Kansas, and Nebraska are pending. The track men will also be taken to the indoor meet of the Kansas City Athletic Club which will be held in Convention Hall in Kansas City, March 1. Outdoor meets will be held at Washburn, Kansas, and Nebraska, and also the Missouri Valley outdoor meet which will be held in St. Louis in May.

BIG DOINGS AT COUNTY FAIR

TONIGHT IN THE NICHOLS GYM.
AT 8:00 O'CLOCK.

POP CORN AND RED LEMONADE

The Katzenjammer Kids Will Be There —See the Gold Dust Twins and Watch the World Champions.

Say, were you ever a little boy or girl, and did you ever go to a County Fair? Wasn't it fun, though? Don't you remember how you ate peanuts and popcorn until the belt button popped off your best Sunday blouse? And how you had your picture taken at the picture gallery, and then went to the vaudeville show, then you had your fortune told, then you looked at all the exhibits, there—Oh, there's no use talking about it. You just had one long Dickens of a time.

All the grown up boys and girls will have a chance to live this delightful time over again tonight. After duly securing a "date," betake yourselves to the big gym. There the Y. W. girls will be awaiting to entertain you with a County Fair, unsurpassed in its ability to produce hilarity and a rollicking good time.

That Appetizing Menu.
Sometimes one's mouth will water when he reads a particularly appetizing menu. A brief survey of the menu offered at this County Fair will make you fidget with impatience for tonight to come.

First and always, the "eats." A fair is incomplete without popcorn, and the Y. W. girls will be right there with the popper and its side-peddler, the peanut roaster. Ice Cream and candy will be sold at the same booth.

Then the Bazaar, with its fancy work, aprons, bags, caps, etc. etc., is so good that the boys as well as the girls will stand enraptured. The fun making devices are a scream. The Katzenjammer Kids and their castle will be there. Races between world champions, Olympic games, and Baseball games by the Colonial Dames will make you lean up against the wall and howl.

Shakespeare "Up-to-Date," the country school and vaudeville are unequalled by any of Barnum and Bailey's side shows. Whatever you do, don't miss seeing Jim and his Monk. Positively, they are the best ever, and as for the "Chalk Talk," with cartoon illustrations—we pause for lack of adjectives.

The Agricultural department will put on an exhibit that has real artistic merit. Every student at this agricultural college should see this exhibit.

Solve The Christmas Problem.
Speaking of Christmas—it hasn't been mentioned before, but just overlooked that—you can buy at the fair the best present your chum ever received. That is a K. S. A. C. calendar. On it are views of the college which double the value of the gift, and make it worthy of a place in every student's room.

There is just one more thing required to make this County Fair the reincarnation of the County Fair of your childhood. That is the picture gallery. Have your picture taken while you wait. Be your face ever so pretty—or otherwise—the camera will give you a faithful likeness.

So you see, all things considered, it is really imperative that you come to the County Fair tonight.

LEONARD FRANK GONE.

Leaves Kansas to Coach Minnesota Track Team.

Minneapolis, Dec. 5.—Leonard Frank of St. Paul, a graduate of the University of Minnesota '12, Thursday accepted a contract offered him by the university to act as its track coach for the year 1914. He has been assistant football coach at Kansas university. Frank while attending the university was a track, football and baseball star and was one of the few Minnesota men to be awarded an "M" in the three different sports. He gained considerable fame as tackle, as a member of the football eleven. Since leaving the university he has been athletic director of the University of Kansas. Frank succeeds Richard Grant as track coach here and will begin his duties January 1.

LIVE STOCK EXPERT.

Taylor Succeeds Wheeler in Extension Division.

Charles H. Taylor, of Shubert, Neb., has been selected to take charge of the animal husbandry work in the extension division. He is to take the place left vacant by the resignation of George C. Wheeler, now associate editor of Kansas Farmer. Mr. Taylor was graduated from the University of Missouri in 1908. Since that time, he has been farming near Shubert, devoting much of his time to the growing of live stock. He will, in his new work, lecture at farmers' institutes over the state and collect information that will aid farmers in the handling of live stock.

AN ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR NOW

W. H. Andrews Promoted by Board of Administration.

Professor W. H. Andrews of the mathematics department has been promoted to the position of Associate Professor of Mathematics. Professor Andrews has been at K. S. A. C. since 1906. From 1910 to 1913 he was the principal of the Subfreshman Division.

WASHBURN BRAT POLITICS.

The Washburn Review, the college weekly publication, created a sensation on the campus by publishing an editorial taking one of the college fraternities to task for alleged discrimination in the last football game between the Ichabods and the Kansas Aggies. It has been hinted around for some time that the game could have been won if fraternity politics had not been brought into play. The editor of the Review takes up the report and pleads with the Blue players to lay aside frat squabbles in the future and elect a captain for the 1914 squad who will merit the honor of leading the team to another all-state championship.

The editorial reads:
"There is a persistent rumor on the campus that fraternity matters had some influence on the outcome of last Thursday's game. It is said that one of the best players on the team was not given the opportunity he should have had to carry the ball because of the desire to favor another player and give him a chance to star."

The purpose of this action was obviously to win the favor of the fraternity in which the last mentioned player is a member.

It is certainly unfortunate if a clique spirit like that entered in and interfered with the larger good of the college. The thousands of rooters on the field that day did not come to see one fraternity work to gain an advantage over another fraternity. They came to see the Washburn college team play against the Kansas Agricultural college team. They expected to see each team fighting its best to gain for its school the Kansas conference football championship.

"What they did see was certainly a fine demonstration of football. It was a great battle from start to finish and both teams deserve a great deal of credit. But the fact that Washburn might very likely have won and was hindered from making the best show possible on account of a matter so pretty as compared to the whole good of the college makes every loyal student sorry."

"It is supposed that this demonstration of fraternity politics was caused by the fact that the election of the captain of next year's team will take place within a week. During the year the team has worked all together as a unit and has done marvelously fine work; and it is much to be regretted that this unified feeling should be destroyed in the game which would decide the championship of the state."

"Only this year's 'W' men vote for next year's captain. We are not even expressing any desire for the election of any particular candidate. But we are trying to express the regret that anything smaller than the greatest good should enter into the choice, especially when it was likely to have such a marked effect on the result of this intercollegiate game."

"In the choice of the captain this week it is well that those who do the choosing have had the intimate association with the men during the season and know absolutely what kind of a captain each one would make were he elected."

"The men all know this and should remember this one thing when they cast their votes. Choose the man who will be the best leader for next year's team."

"Fine Feathers."

Ten years ago a play like "Fine Feathers," which H. H. Frazee will present for the first time here at the Marshall theatre Monday, December 8, could not have been successfully produced because at that time it was generally believed that no drama could possibly succeed without a love theme as its most important basis. Yet this play by Eugene Walter is acclaimed the most important dramatic work of the century.

In "Fine Feathers" the playwright has struck out along new channels. In his story the sex problem does not obtrude itself, not even by suggestion. There are no lovers except the husband and wife, and their love is of the human, everyday sort.

The wife does not believe in the old "love in a cottage" idea. She prefers a real home and pretty clothes. She induces her husband to put his hand in the financial grab bag and dares him to take a chance at the "system." This character shows the partial development of the modern woman along business lines, although that this development is not complete is shown by her ignorance of the principle involved in the action she urges upon her husband. It is by violating the principles that the final catastrophe comes, making the play really a big human document and a sign of the present times.

Miss Marguerite Johnson, who attended college here several years ago, is now located in Santa Rosa, California. She is a bookkeeper in the branch office of the San Francisco Examiner.

Even as You And I

She was a wise sophomore. She had mastered the first of her chemistry, physics, theme writing and other such weighty subjects, and so felt confident of her ability to sail with flying colors through anything like zoology. Besides, she had had numerous hints from friends who had taken the subject as to how to get off easy by "bluffing," by appearing intensely interested, and by sitting on the front row and laughing at opportune times.

The friends had told her that zoology was not to be studied, that it was all lecture and a perfect snap. So, entering class on the first recitation day, she looked with condescension upon the few freshmen who were in the class, studying diligently to make the best of the few remaining minutes. She mentally patted herself on the back. She knew the ropes.

Class was called. During the hour, her impression was somewhat as follows: Protozoa, Rhizopoda, the three classes of Heliozoa, one-celled organisms, etc. She went home with her brain in a whirl, threw her book onto the table, and vowed not to study THAT any more than she had to.

As the recitations followed each other, the work did not become much clearer. Sometimes she failed outright, or tried bluffing with small success, and sometimes had one idea, which she worked to the limit.

Mid term drew near. On the night before the day of the zoology quiz, the W. S. crammed and crammed. Sometime after midnight her roommate was awakened by a sharply spoken question:

"Where did that Lucosolenia go? I was just about to discover its forty-fifth osculum. It is so provoking to have it disappear just now."

She rose hurriedly, to find the W. S. with flushed cheeks and eyes altogether too bright, talking incoherently. A doctor was called. He pronounced it a mild attack of brain fever, and sent for a nurse, that the girl might be kept quiet and well cared for.

When the nurse entered the girl turned wild eyes on her, and said excitedly, "Why here comes a Plasmodium Vivax. Swat it. I don't want it here."

A few moments later she spoke again. "Where's my compound microscope? I see a one-celled vertebrate over in the corner. It has cilia, tentacles, pseudopodia--yes, and feet--besides flagella and suckers. Oh, it's a wonderful specimen." The nurse agreed, and put another cold cloth on the W. S.'s forehead.

The doctor approached. The girl turned interested eyes on him, studied him for some time, and then turned to the nurse.

"It's really quite an interesting specimen, isn't it?" she remarked sweetly. "Why," after another look at him, "it shows signs of intelligence, too."

The young doctor turned to the nurse and said in a low tone, "Poor girl, gone dippy over scientific research. But we will have her up and around again in a week."

SOME DOPE THAT'S ALL

SOME PEOPLE BELIEVE IN LUCK
—DO YOU?

THE AGGIES LUCK AT WASHBURN

Minnesota Shift Worked for Kansas
Against Aggies On Dry Field—
Failed at Other Times.

The hash-house fans are now discussing the merits of "football dope." By football dope is generally meant the process of elimination of football aggregations via the comparative scores route. Comparative scores sometimes give indications of the direction of the wind and more often fail entirely. For instance:

A football team may lose to another combination of players by a decisive score, say by 50 points. In a case like this comparatively, the losing eleven is clearly outclassed and could not have won the battle under any circumstances of reversed luck. On the other hand, a seven point defeat very often fails to measure the exact strength of the team that is on the losing end.

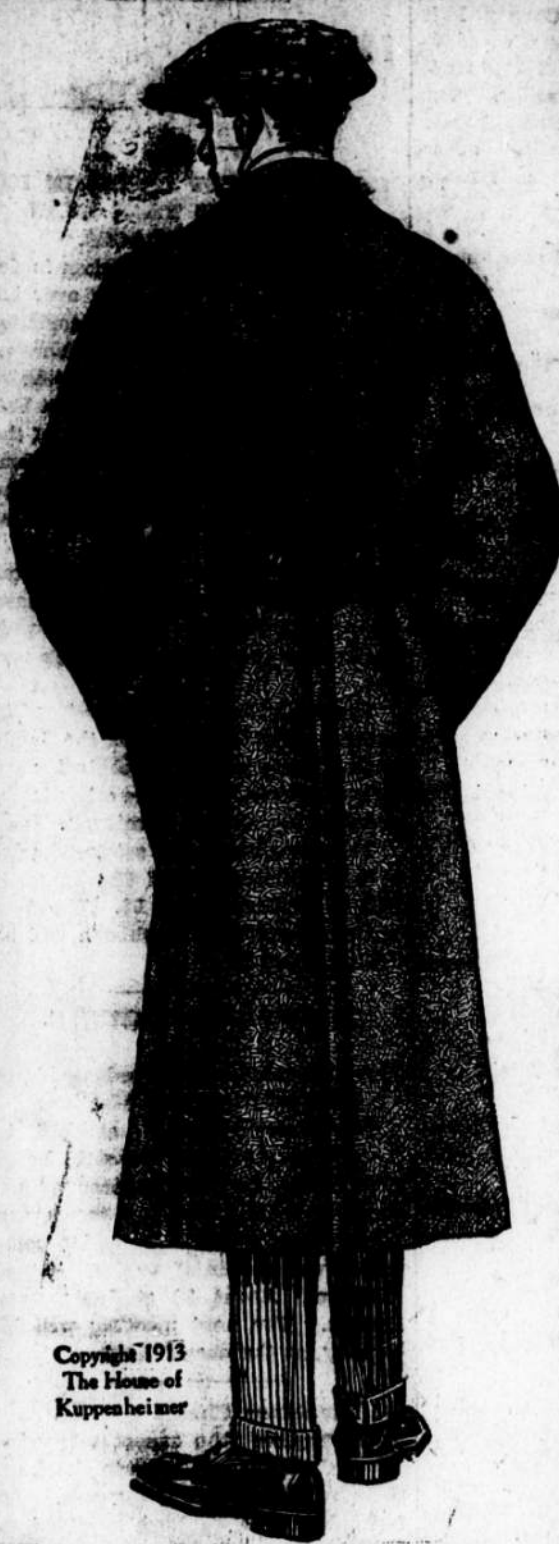

A football team may use a series of plays that are perfect are ground gainers on a dry field and that again may fail absolutely on a wet soggy gridiron. Such proved to be the case with the Kansas team this last past season. The famous Minnesota shift worked to perfection against the Aggies on a dry hard field, while at Lawrence against the Nebraska eleven and on a mushy gridiron, the shift was a hopeless failure. Kansas had one of the most powerful physical combinations that has ever blossomed forth in the mid-west and yet due to one series of plays that were not good under all climatic conditions, lost games that meant the championship of the Valley.

The element of luck must be reckoned with in all football contests. The recovery of fumbles is one of the most essential principles of football. A fast eleven that follows the ball well naturally takes advantage of many openings of this sport. Against the Blue at Topeka, last Thanksgiving day, the Aggies fairly swam in luck, in this department of the game, if such playing can be called luck. The recovery of McNeish's fumble, on the Washburn 40 yard line in the fourth quarter, by Wehrle, paved the way to the Aggies' score. Of course it was unlucky on the part of the Washburn pilot to fumble at that critical moment but as to whether it was luck that caused the big Aggie guard to recover, is another matter.

Now figuring in all of the luck and the comparative scores that one can compile, Washburn has a fine claim on state championship honors: this season. St. Marys claims that luck snatched the C. of E. game from the Quigley crew and gave the game to the Emporia Twisters. All good and well, but is not this little old element of luck one of the necessary essentials of any contest? It was probably very lucky for the Southwestern players that Agnew was benched and that the Aggies were set back half the distance to their goal. And also it might have been luck that caused Pete Hell to gather up a loose ball in that K. U. Aggie contest in 1911 and run for a touchdown. Credit has to be given the player that follows the oval well enough to recognize the knock of opportunity and profit thereby.

Bare football dope is a great falsifier. The recent Army-Navy battle was one of the most noticeable instances of this sort of thing. Very little money changed hands on the outcome of that game or the simple reason that no one was willing to assume the risk that the Army had even an outside chance to win. The Army won that battle royal and football was not the direct cause of winning. The Army Mule proved a better fighter than did the Navy Goat and this was the primary cause of the defeat of the Annapolis ads. Football was thrown to the winds, according to reports of the game, and the contest developed into an individual fight. Of course the records show that the forward pass was instrumental in the defeat of the Navy, but is the aerial flip, football?

Of course, under the rules laid down by the rules committee, the forward pass is permissible under certain restrictions and limitations. To make this style of football good, a team must be clever and lucky. Luck again enters as an essential element. At College Station in 1912 a Southern quarterback threw good

TIME SET FOR THT DEBATES

MORE INTEREST TAKEN IN DEBATING THIS YEAR THAN EVER—15 PLACES.

More interest is being taken in debating work this term than ever before. All of the literary societies have a number of their members at work in preparation for the preliminaries which will be held the first Friday of the winter term. Each of the societies is allowed to enter five members in the contests. Some of the societies have over a dozen hard at work for these five places.

The Ios, Hamps and Alpha Betas will be the first societies to have their preliminaries. They will wait until after the vacation for the try-out.

The State Normals have declined to enter a girls' team against the Aggie girls. There will be a debate for the girls, however, with some other team, possibly the Salina Wesleyan.

The dates have been set for the debate with Colorado and Oklahoma. It will be Friday, March 13. The date of the debate with Washburn will be Friday, April 3.

MISSOURIANS ORGANIZE.

Club Composed of the Students From Missouri Have First Meeting.
The Missouri students at K. S. A. C. met in AGO, the seventh hour, Wednesday, for the purpose of organizing a state club. A temporary organization was formed and a committee was appointed to draft a constitution. About 20 students were present. The next meeting will be Monday, at the chapel hour.

Registrar Checks Credits.
The seniors who expect to graduate at Christmas all have to check up their credits at the Registrars. So far only about 40 have reported to Miss Marchir. It was expected that at least 50 would graduate at that time. All of the students who expect degrees will have to report immediately if they get their credits straight.

F. A. Wirt left last Monday for Hays, where he will deliver lectures at the Hays Normal Institute this week.

A. T. Boisen gave an interesting talk before the classes in Rural Sociology on his work in Waubesa county Thursday morning.

Miss Ida Rigley, of the D. S. department, will give a series of lectures before the Woman's Auxiliary of the farmers' institute at Horton next week.

EXHIBIT PETRIFIED BUTTER.

The College Gets Queer Lump From Parsons, Kansas.
The K. S. A. C. is in receipt of a lump of petrified butter, sent here a few days ago from Parsons, Kas. The peculiar lump of butter was sent to the college for exhibition purposes.

After having been submerged for seven years, the lump of butter was found in a well near Parsons. R. W. Willis, who was cleaning the well, made the discovery.

The butter, which has been completely solidified by the action of the water, has a resemblance in its texture to marble, although the weight is considerably less. The petrified lump was found in an old kettle which was accidentally dropped into the well seven years ago.

PEP AMONG COUNTY CLUBS

PLAN FOR BIG TIME AT HOME CHRISTMAS.

BASKETBALL TEAM IS ORGANIZED

Wilson County Challenges K. U. Club For Game at Fredonia During Holidays.

Right now is the best time of the year to organize that county club that you have been intending to start all fall. When you go home at Christmas you can have a K. S. A. C. rally. Get all the alumni of the college and have a banquet or a reception. Invite in all the high school seniors and sing the praises of K. S. A. C. to them and get them to come here next year.

It's mighty handy to go home in a private car. There's no standing up when a bunch of students from one county or from several adjoining counties club in together. Last year several of the county clubs did this. One county had three private cars.

Many of the counties have organized already this fall. The Wilson County Club met last Wednesday and reorganized. There are 28 eight students from Wilson county here.

The officers are:
President, Izil Polson—Fredonia.
Vice-Pres., Karl Knaus—Benedict.
Secretary, O. B. Burtis—Fredonia.
Treasurer, Jessie Ruggles—Guilford.

Marshal, J. C. Horney—Neosha.
Assistant, J. G. Bell—Altoona.
Reporter, Mary Polson—Fredonia.
This club has formed a basket ball team with D. M. Bursch as manager and they have challenged the K. U. Wilson Club for a game to be played during the holidays in Fredonia and expect to win.

Their Osborn county club is already organized and they had a hike out to Wild Cat the first of the week. The officers of the Osborn County Club are:

President, David Cahill.
Vice-President, Floyd Roadhouse.
Secretary, Lawrence O'Brien.
Treasurer, W. C. McConnel.

There are a great many county clubs that are planning for special socials and of work among the students at home. Many athletes can be influenced to come here if the students will take the trouble. It's up to the students to take K. S. A. C. back home.

The Kansas Aggie is now going to all the high schools in the state. Why not drop into the office when you know of some news about some student at K. S. A. C. that will interest the high school students back home? Get busy and do some organized boosting of K. S. A. C.

Library Hours.

1 to 9 p. m. daily, also 10 to 12 a. m. Saturday. Reading room open 7:30 to 5:30 Sunday afternoon. No books issued on Sunday.

See the Gold Dust Twins at the County Fair tonight in the gymnasium.

WITH DANCE—FORTY COUPLES PRESENT.

The newly installed order of Acacia gave a dance in the Elks hall Monday night. This was the closing event of the festivities attending the installation, which occurred Saturday.

The hall was decorated in the Acacia colors, gold and black, alternating with purple and white, the college colors. On the west wall was a series of pennants one for each school at which there is an Acacia chapter. They were arranged in the order of the installation of the orders, beginning with Michigan at which the mother chapter is located, and ending with K. S. A. C., the "baby."

Over the door was a three foot representation of the Acacia pin, illuminated with red lights at the three corners, and white along the sides.

On the south wall were pennants representing the honorary masonic orders, and on the east were emblems of the national fraternity chapters at K. S. A. C., Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Nu, Pi Kappa Alpha, and Acacia.

The color scheme was well carried out in the heavy black suede, embossed in gold with a representation of the new pin.

About forty couples were present. The out-of-town guests were: F. G. Joss, J. W. Hill, and H. C. Hansen from K. U.; J. E. Fonda and J. A. Elwell from Lincoln, Neb.; and R. E. Brown, from Ames, Iowa. Arthur Burkholder, for the past three seasons the Aggies' best lineman, received his reward this season when he was placed on the All-Missouri Valley coaches. Burkholder was placed on the All-Conference, All-Valley, and All-Kansas, he being the only Aggie player to land on the first eleven in the Kansas Circle.

Captain Loomis was placed at a guard position on the third All-Conference team and Marble was inserted as a tackle on the same eleven. Loomis was placed at a tackle position on the second team and Hartwig at fullback on the same. On the third eleven Wehrle and Marble were placed at guard and tackle positions.

C. E. McBride, a Kansas City sport writer, publishes a list of All-Missouri Valley and All-Kansas football elevens annually at this time of the year. With the close of the football season every coach in Missouri Valley and Kansas Conference is requested to send in estimates of players receiving the highest number of votes are awarded positions on the respective teams. Associated with Mr. McBride were, James Maskers, Jack Grover, and Dr. J. A. Reilly of the Kansas City Athletic Club, all officials throughout this section of the football world.

Many Aggie supporters were disappointed in that the Aggies failed to place but one man on the All-Kansas eleven. The only position over which any question could arise would be that of the tackle selections. But one tackle in the Missouri Valley surpassed Marble in carrying the ball and that was Halligan of Nebraska. Defensively he did not play up to the predictions but should be placed higher than third among the Kansas Conference heavies. Captain Loomis together with Burkholder formed one of the best defensive players the Aggies have had for years, yet both Rogers of Washburn and Markley of the C. of E. are rated better.

The failure of the K. C. sport writers to "see" "Red" Agnew for the Kansas teams was a disappointment to the Aggie following.

The two greatest surprises of the whole layout were the failure of Purdy to make the first team and the failure of the Kansas to place more than one man on the first eleven. Purdy "crummed" himself with Jack Grover when he kicked himself out of the K. U.-M. U. game at Lawrence hence his failure to land on the first eleven. Burton of Kansas was named with Halligan of Nebraska as a tackle for the first eleven. Burton's chief strength lay in his defensive work and he was not known as an offensive player during the season.

Professor Carl Ostrum will talk at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Thursday evening at 6:45.

SHORT COURSE FOR FARMERS

COLLEGE HAS PLANNED ANOTHER SHORT COURSE.

LEARN FARMING IN TEN WEEKS

Farm Boys Who Have Little to do
This Winter May Increase
Earning Capacity

Kansas farm boys who will have little or nothing to do during the first ten weeks of next year, can increase their earning capacities fifty per cent by spending that time at the Kansas Agricultural College. That very thing has been done for other farm boys who came to the agricultural college instead of spending their time and summer earnings in town. The farm hand who "winters" in town will spend more money than it would cost him for tuition, board and books in the ten weeks' short course.

J. H. Miller, dean of the division of college extension at the agricultural college, makes these statements in a pamphlet that will be mailed soon, describing the plans made to care for several hundred farm boys who are expected at the college in January.

"Farm boys usually do not have much capital in money," says Mr. Miller. "The actual time of a Kansas farm boy from January 6 to March 18—the time of the short course—is not to be rated very high in the world's estimate of values. But ten weeks spent in the farmers' short course may be worth a fortune, reckoned by the possibilities. Can you think of a possible way of making your time pay you a bigger wage?"

"Then there is the young married man with a home and stock, but with a limited knowledge of scientific agriculture. He could well afford to hire help at home and attend the short course for ten weeks, or at least for eight weeks. It would be a better investment than bank stock.

"If you are seventeen years old, you are eligible to enter the course. It is intended primarily for young men between the ages of seventeen and thirty, although young men of seventy-seven are just as welcome to partake of its advantages. Necessarily, in a short course everything is intensely practical. Not a minute is wasted. In the first year all students are required to take crop production, live-stock production, poultry, and woodwork. Breeding and feeding of live stock, live stock sanitation, soil studies, plant studies, and blacksmithing are the most important features of the second year's work. In two college terms of ten weeks each, a farmer or his son—or the hired man—can almost perfect himself in any of these subjects.

Pledges Entertain.
The pledges of the Lambda Lambda Theta sorority gave a Christmas dance Monday night in Aggieville hall, complimentary to the members of the sorority. The hall was decorated in Christmas colors of red and green. Red bells and mistletoe and a brilliantly lighted Christmas tree all did their part toward carrying out the festive idea.

During the grand march each guest received a gift from the tree. One of the feature dances was a "Sparkler" dance, during which the lights were turned out and the hall was lighted by the glowing electric "sparklers" which the girls carried. Punch was served during the evening. The red and green color scheme was carried out in the programs, also.

The chaperones were: Mrs. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Lofnick, Mr. and Mrs. Ewalt, and Mr. and Mrs. Southern. The pledges are Merle Beaman, Faye Boswell, Mildred Branson, Marguerite Elliot, Florence Goddard, Tessa Goodwyn and Gladys Magill.

According to the Ottawa Herald, the Latin students have added the conjugation of a new word to their vocabulary. It is: tango, tangere, turki, trotum.

Last year the only thing missing was the enthusiastic support of the student body.

K. S. A. C. is traveling in fast company this year and it will be up to the students to see that the Aggies go the pace. Debates are scheduled with four states; Colorado and Oklahoma are on next spring. South Dakota and Iowa have already been debated this fall. In the state we meet Washburn and probably Salina and Fairmount.

The preliminaries to choose the next debating team will come after Christmas. "Pep-up" and study the Minimum Wage or the Panama Toll while you are at home during the vacation, try for the team and the Aggies will "clean-up" on every debate.

Even as You And I.

Jack, a junior, came bounding into the room where his room mate, Jimmy, a sophomore, was busily studying. When he noticed Jimmy's position, Jack gasped, "What, studying!", and promptly proceeded to faint. But this act not seeming to have any effect on his roommate, he recovered, and said:

"My dear boy, I can't allow this to go on. Here I come home thinking to find you innocently amusing yourself, and find you engaged in this sort of work, and no telling how long you have been at it. But for the sake of your reputation, as I said before, I can't allow it to go on."

"You're not talking to me," replied Jimmy. "I have a quiz in this stuff tomorrow." "I can't help that," said Jack. "Listen to me. There is an Ag School party tonight. Do you really think we should miss it?" Jimmy's attitude changed immediately.

"Well, I guess not," he declared. "Let the quiz take care of itself. I'm going to that party."

So they dressed and presented themselves at the door. Each took a quarter from his pocket, told his name, paid his class dues, and went triumphantly into the party.

They were soon having a glorious time with the popular girls of the crowd, which numbered about twenty five girls and one hundred boys. But over in one corner of the room, a serious convulsion was in session. A tall youth with grave dark eyes was saying:

"They don't belong here. They eat at the same boarding house where I do, and I know them. The big tall one with black hair is a junior, and I think the other one is a sophomore. Anyway, I know they don't belong among us."

"Well," said another, "they must go." He spoke with the chaperones for a moment, then approached the two boys and very politely requested them to go. Jack and Jimmy saw that everyone in the room, including the chaperones, was watching them. They knew that it was the better part of wisdom for the time leave. But they would not go too soon.

Jimmy winked at Jack, jerked his head toward two pretty girls, and then turned to the boy, who was evidently the class president. He argued earnestly with this determined young man, until he caught a wink from Jack, then turned and said they would go.

And they left with a stride of exultation for with them went the two jolliest, prettiest and most popular girls who were there.

They had slipped one over.

DAMAGE SUIT

MASSACHUSETTS BONDING COMPANY LOOSES SECOND SUIT IN U. S. SUPREME COURT.

The Massachusetts Bonding and Surety Company has just lost a suit to the state of Kansas in which K. S. A. C. will profit by between $13,000 and $17,000. The contract to build the engineering building was awarded the Blanchard Construction Company. When the building was partially completed the company went into bankruptcy. The work of finishing the building was let to the Bennett Construction Company. The college through the attorney general began a suit against the bonding company for damages. The state won the first suit and recently won the second suit in the United States Supreme Court. The court awarded the damages but since a portion of the material used in the building of the gas generator belonged to the Blanchard company, the value of these materials will be deducted from the bond.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE OUT

PROFESSOR HAMILTON AND COACH LOWMAN AT AMES.
EVERY GAME FOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Aggies Meet Missouri, Kansas, Ames,
Nebraska, and Washington Universities.

Coach Lowman and Prof. J. O. Hamilton returned from Ames Monday afternoon. They attended the meeting of the Missouri Valley heads while in Iowa City. Coach Lowman started the basketball and baseball schedules for 1914. Several track dates were also discussed. It is possible that the baseball season will be opened at home with the Missouri Tigers as opposition.

The knocking out of the rule regarding post graduate students was one of the most important features of the meeting which Professor Hamilton attended. This ruling heretofore barred graduate athletes from further competition. As the amendment now reads they are permitted to compete until the period of three years' service elapses.

The training table discussion was resumed from the meeting of the conference committee in 1912, but no definite action was taken. The eligibility of Steuwe, the Kansas football player who has been mentioned for the captaincy of the 1914 Jayhawk squad, was discussed at the meeting and resulted in the barring of the Kansas player from further competition in the Valley circle.

Coach Lowman's schedule of basketball games is probably the best arranged set of any of the Missouri Valley schools. The fact that the Northern and Southern Divisions in the basketball championships have been eliminated, makes every Missouri Valley game a championship contest and should further the general interest in the basketball season on the Aggie court.

The home season opens with Ames as the opposition, January 9 and 10. January 22 and 23, the Jayhawkers will appear as the attraction. There is a possibility that Nebraska will meet the Aggies February 13 and 14. The Missouri Tigers will play on the Nichols court February 27 and 28.

On the road the following Missouri Valley fives will be met: Kansas, January 30 and 31; Missouri, February 18 and 19; Washington University at St. Louis, February 20 and 21.

Track athletics are due to receive a goodly share of attention. The outdoor meet with Kansas is scheduled to take place on the local track May 9. There is a possibility that Missouri will be met again on the Columbia track as it would hardly be a paying proposition to bring the Missourians here for an outdoor meet along with the Jayhawkers in the same season. The Missouri athletes will probably be met on the Nichols cove path this winter as the Aggies are under contract to bring the Breweries to Manhattan this season. Baker has written in for a meet and Nebraska will probably kick in with a pair of meets.

The Aggies will attend the Kansas City Athletic Club's indoor meet which will be held in Convention Hall March 7 and will also send a team to the Missouri Valley outdoor meet which is slated to take place May 30 at St. Louis. The Missouri Valley Relay Carnival will be held at Drake, April 18, and the cross country run at Ames next November.

Nebraska Don't Get In.

Chicago, Dec. 6.—The big nine conference faculty meeting today decided it was not expedient to enlarge the conference, thus disposing of Nebraska's and Notre Dame's ambition to get into it; declared against post season intersectional basketball games and referred to the faculties of the "big nine" schools a resolution proposing to abolish professional coaches unless they are alumni of the institutions, at which they work.

MERNER COACHES BASKETBALL

LOWMAN TURNS WORK OVER TO HIS ASSISTANT.

PROMISING MATERIAL WORKS OUT

MacIraith and Leonard Try For Center Positions—Adams and Bengston are Coming Strong.

The 1914 basketball five will be moulded by Assistant Coach Merner. Coach Lowman turned this job over to Merner last Wednesday when he announced that in the future he would coach only football and baseball. At the beginning of the winter semester Coach Lowman will institute a class in football and will also instruct two classes daily in hygiene, on the Nichols floor. "I want to try to hammer a few of the rudiments of football into the players this winter and spring so that we will not have to be hindered with the speedy development of a football machine next fall," said Coach Lowman in discussing the matter.

With the splendid show of material at hand this fall, Coach Merner should develop one of the best basketball fives in the Valley circle for the Aggies. Mr. Merner has the enviable reputation of being one of the best players that ever competed for the Springfield Training school, of which he is a graduate. Before entering the Springfield school Merner was a member of the Iowa State Teachers College five playing center and forward for that team. At Springfield he played a forward and in this position he received high honors.

With six letter men around which to build the 1914 team which will fight for Missouri Valley honors in that elixir for the first time, the Aggies bid fair to rival any of the other fives in the Big Muddy Conference. Captain Souders, Root, Young, Broberg and Shull are working out daily and Jones, another "K" man, and star guard of last season's team will return to college at the beginning of the winter semester. Others who are trying out for the positions on the team are: Haymaker, Shelly, Gunning, Bengston, Nixon, Leonard, Adams and MacIraith.

Of the merits of the letter men on hand, little need be said. Captain Souders, a forward in a class by himself, played center on last season's five and acquitted himself in a creditable manner. Souders' free throwing was a feature of every contest last season, while on the floor he played rings around every opponent and shot baskets from impossible angles. Root and Jones formed a guard combination which was hard to beat, both also being clever goal shooters. Broberg and Shull showed up well in the forward position last season and are slated to repeat again this season. Young played on the 1912 varsity but was unable to try out for the 1913 team. His playing in a guard position was a feature of the 1912 team's play.

For the past four seasons the Aggies have been weakest in center position. Captain Souders played the tip-off position on last season's five although his regular place should have been at a forward position. This season two new men are out for the center job. MacIraith, a last year's class basketball player, and Leonard, the lanky freshman center, are trying out for the place. Both of these players have shown class and promise to develop into first class jumpers. Adams, a star goal shooter from last year's freshman team, is the cream of the forward candidates. He is speedy and shoots for the iron ring with deadly accuracy.

The pick of the guards tyros appears to be Bengston, a former Bethany College star. Bengston finds the basket with ease and follows the ball well. Haymaker, 1913 varsity quarterback, is also a clever guard and a likely candidate for the 1914 basketball team. Shelly and Gunning are candidates for guard positions that have been showing up well in practice.

The College Club will give the last of the Fall series regular dances Friday night, in the Aggieville Hall.

AT GENERAL SCIENCE CLUB.

President Waters Talked On Co-operation Between Departments. Last Tuesday the faculty of the General Science Division heard President Waters give an excellent talk on "Co-operation between Departments." About fifty members of the department were present. After the address by President Waters there was a further discussion by members of the division.

In Australia.

You can hear about the work of K. S. A. C. in all parts of the world. In a recent issue of a farm paper published in Sidney, Australia, there is a quotation "Concerning the Hen," from a report made by Professor W. A. Lippincott, head of the Poultry department.

FRUIT JUDGERS TO COMPETE

SELECT MEN FROM JUNIOR AND SENIOR CLASSES IN POMOLOGY.

K. S. A. C. will send fruit judging team to the Nebraska State Horticultural Congress at Lincoln, January 20-21. The Aggies' chances for winning the contest are better this year than ever before. The Aggies have never taken first place, but are working hard to get that place this year. The prize offered by the Omaha Bee, is a large silver loving cup. To become the permanent possession of a school it must be won three successive years. Besides K. S. A. C. Nebraska and Ames enter the contest. For the last two years Iowa has taken first position and will gain permanent possession of the cup if they win first again this year.

The team will consist of five men chosen from the junior and senior classes in pomology. Prof. Ahearn is coaching the men and says the Aggies have the best chance to win they have ever had. Last year the team was handicapped by not being able to work with all kinds of apples, but Mike announces that he has a corner on all the apples in the world's market.

Turkey Pull.

Tan Omega Sigma gave its annual Turkey Pull at the chapter house Saturday evening December 6. The fraternity gives this dinner usually the Friday before the Thanksgiving vacation. This year two large turkeys were being fattened, for the Turkey Pull, at White City, Kansas. Two days before the turkeys were to have been killed and shipped to Manhattan, someone stole them. The guests were Dean Jardine; Fred Hesser of Lawrence; and the town alumni of the fraternity, Ned W. Kimball, Dr. Russell Cave, Dr. Wilburn McCampbell, A. M. Patterson, Stanley A. Smith, C. L. Kipp, Will Samuel, Nat Purcell and Fred Walters.

The Bible Study class of the United Presbyterian Sunday school which is under the leadership of Rev. J. W. Good, held a social at 1108 Vatter street Tuesday evening. The form of entertainment, circus or animal show, was carried out successfully throughout the evening. About sixty guests were present, including Rev. and Mrs. Good, who chaperoned.

On Institute Circuit.

Everyone in the division of Institutes and Demonstrations is absent this week and next on institute work. The circuits will be completed Dec. 20. At this time about one half of the annual meetings of the state institutes will have been held. Those to be held after Christmas will begin Jan. 5 and will continue until March 15th.

Community Survey.

Frank Sargent and Harold Rose have just turned in a Community Survey of Wabunsee. The work was done under the direction of Professor Holton and is part of the work in the course in community surveys.

A. L. Clapp returned Wednesday evening from the State Grange meeting at Emporia. About 100 delegates from all of the Granges in the state were in attendance. He went as a representative of the college Grange.

BEN GREETS NEXT MAY DAY

ORIGINAL ENGLISH COMPANY TO GIVE TWO PERFORMANCES.

MATINEE AND EVENING MAY 22

Use the Campus East Auditorium For the Stage—Arranged By Lyceum Committee.

Through the efforts of the Society Lyceum Course committee, K. S. A. C. people are to enjoy a treat hitherto reserved for the most favored devotees of the drama. The committee has arranged, at an expense of $550, to have Ben Greet and his original English company of 28 members give an outdoor presentation of one of Shakespeares dramas on the campus next May Day, (May 22.)

Ben Greet, is universally conceded to be one of the greatest living exponents of the Shakespearian and Elizabethan drama, both as a producer and an actor. For thirty years he has been engaged in the "pastoral presentation" of the earlier English plays, and has won worldwide recognition as a master at this form of the art. He was educated in the British Royal Naval School, his father having been a captain in the Royal Navy. Soon after leaving school, Mr. Greet signed with a stock company at Southampton. His marked histrionic ability soon entitled him to entrance to the best companies and theatres of England. He has played in the theatres of London, Margate, and Lyceum, besides touring the provinces.

Mr. Greet's talent soon outgrew the routine of acting under the management of others, though he successfully "created" several roles in the companies in which he played. He soon started a company of his own, managing, training, and leading them. He has played the leads in many of the prominent plays produced recently in England.

Thirty years ago he began the pastoral production of Shakespeares and other of the older English dramas, and has rightfully been recognized as the foremost producer of such plays in the world. He believes in the outdoor setting of the rural plays, and the atmosphere of realism which it imparts.

He will lead the company of English-born artists which will appear at K. S. A. C. next spring. There will be two performances given, an afternoon matinee, and one evening performance. The Y. M.-Y. W. May Day stunts will be pulled off in the morning, leaving the afternoon and evening free for the Ben Greet Players.

REGIMENTAL PARADE.

Cadets Perform For Last Time This Term.

The cadet corps gave a Regimental Parade in front of the Auditorium Friday afternoon. A large crowd of students watched the performances from the hillside. It was the last appearance in action of the cadets term. A general order was read stating that there would be no further drill during the fall term. In order that the cadets would not be too elated, over a rest it was further announced that the first battalion would drill Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays and that the second battalion would drill on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays next term.

STRATTON IMPROVING.

Eye-sight Not Destroyed As At First Rumored.

Jay Stratton, a student here last year was injured in an explosion at the Pintech Gas Factory in Kansas City last week. Mr. Stratton, who was employed at the factory, was painfully burned about the face and body, but at last report was doing nicely. It was rumored at college that his eyesight was destroyed, but this has been found to be a mistake.

Vera Rumbel who graduates at Christmas will teach domestic science and art at the Oswego College.

Have Classes In Wrestling After Christmas—Big Bunch Work Out Every Afternoon.

With the entrance of the Aggies into the Missouri Valley Conference another letter sport appears on the list with football, basketball, track, baseball, and tennis, in the form of wrestling. Wrestling, which is perhaps the most ancient of all inter-collegiate sports was added to the Missouri Valley card two seasons ago. Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Ames, and in fact nearly all of the schools in the circle support wrestling teams and the Aggies not to be behind the procession are preparing to put forth a team of grapplers.

Charles Holliday, instructor in gymnastics, trained under Professor H. G. Camm, a middle weight wrestling instructor, at the Battle Creek, Mich., training school last summer and is now an adapt grappling instructor, and prepared to teach the athletes all of the finer points of the mat game. Workouts are being held Tuesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons of each week now and a definite schedule for the wrestling class will be announced at the beginning of the winter term. It is probable that a meet will be arranged with the University of Kansas grapplers if there is a possibility of the Aggies putting out a good team. "We will meet Kansas some time during the winter term providing a capable bunch of wrestlers turn out after Xmas," Coach Lowman announced last night.

At present, Instructor Holliday has some clever material under his tutelage that should develop well enough to merit a meet with any of the Valley schools. A goodly supply of heavyweight material is out but featherweights and lightweights are scarce. Cusic, Gilmore, Rhoda, Davis, Doryland, and Ikenbury, are all promising heavies. Gilmore and Rhoda top the field at present. Arnold represents the cream of the midweight division and is an old timer at the mat game. "Jeems" Moss, end on the varsity, is probably the best lightweight in school. Moss developed into an expert mat artist at Baker University many moons ago and still manages to hold his own with the hammerlock lads. Long, is also an aspirant for lightweight honors and is slated to give any of the 133 pounders a hard tussle. Wiltse has been tussling around on the Nichols gym mats for the past two years and is the best 120 pound man in that division.

AT JUNIOR MEETING.

Refuse to Accept Any Aid from Four Seniors.

The juniors had an exciting time at class meeting, Thursday. An amendment to the constitution was up for final passage and each side was trying to slip one over on the other bunch. During the meeting four seniors, learning of the trouble the juniors were in, thought it necessary to go in and show them how it was done at senior class meeting. The four brave seniors, bad and bold, were Doryland, Gwin, Tagge and Goldsmith. It is rumored that they were treated as the old Roman captives, and dragged out by their heels.

HONOR COCHEL.

Appointed As Chairman of Committee to Plan Beef Conference.

Professor W. A. Cochel was elected as chairman of the committee from the American Association of Animal Husbandry to confer with the Secretary of Agriculture about having a Beef conference some time next spring. This conference would probably meet in Chicago.

L. W. (Swud) Lawson, '07, is now located at McPherson, Kansas.

WENT TO WABUNSEE.

K. S. A. C. Quartet Furnished Lyceum Number.

The K. S. A. C. mixed quartet went to Wabunsee Thursday afternoon to fill an engagement on the lecture course at that place. The course is under the management of the Rev. Anton F. Bolsen of Wabunsee.

The quartet is composed of Miss Esther Hungerford, soprano; Miss Josephine Perrill, alto; Mr. E. M. Peck, tenor, and R. A. Taylor, bass. They took with them a program of popular and classic music of considerable scope and variety. They were the only attraction of the evening on the course, and gave the Wabunsee people a musical treat.

GIRLS TO GIVE DRESS PARADE

TAILORING CLASSES TO WEAR NEW DRESSES—D. S. HALL WEDNESDAY.

The work of all the sewing classes will be on exhibition in the Domestic Science hall Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 17, from 3:30 until 5:30. This includes all sewing done during the term, from the models and hand sewing of the beginners up to the articles made by the senior classes in the tailoring.

The girls in the classes in shirt waist suit making, dress making, advanced dressmaking, and tailoring will wear their costumes. This is a new plan, as the garments are usually exhibited on dress forms.

Almost everything in the line of sewing can be seen there. The beginners class make a variety of articles, from seam and button hole models to laundry bags and fancy aprons, all hand made. The classes in shirt waists make plain, washable shirt waists and skirts. Wool dresses are the work of the next advanced class, evening dresses of the next, and a tailored suit last. Only the best work from from each class will be shown, and the exhibit will be unusually good. Sewing done by the short course girls will be included.

FACULTY LADIES ENTERTAIN.

Mrs. C. M. Brink, President of the Club Was in Charge.

The ladies of the faculty gave an elaborate reception in the Domestic Science hall Monday evening to all members of the Board of Instruction. This is becoming an annual custom and serves the purpose of making everyone who is connected with the institution acquainted with everyone else and promoting the remarkable spirit of sociability which exists here.

Mrs. C. M. Brink, who is president of the College Social Club, was in charge of entire affair. Mrs. Valley was chairman of the entertainment committee.

The color scheme was red and green, and Christmas decorations were used throughout. The tables were very beautiful. Scarlet flowers formed the centerpieces and were used elsewhere on the tables, forming a startling and effective contrast to the silver and cut glass of the service. Each accentuated the beauty of the other.

Mrs. H. J. Waters and Mrs. Roy A. Hill president at one of the tables. Mrs. W. M. Jardine, Mrs. W. A. Cochel and Mrs. E. C. Johnson at another; and Mrs. C. M. Brink, Mrs. Besie Birdsall, and Mrs. Ina F. Cowles at a third. The ladies wore conventional evening dress.

The entertainment consisted of tableaux, representing the reveries of a bachelor on his wedding eve. He reviewed his sweethearts from the little girl in the primer class his first year at school, to his bride-to-be. They were all exceptionally beautiful and well worth thinking about. Much of the credit for the success of the tableaux was due to Mrs. Olive Hunter.

Miss Claire Biddison of the music department and Miss Jennie Cox of the Domestic Science department assisted in the serving and entertaining. About 275 were present. Light refreshments were served.

Illustrated Lecture.

Dean W. M. Jardine will give an illustrated lecture in the Auditorium Wednesday, December 31, at 2:40 P. M. His subject will be "Soil Handling to Prevent Blowing."

COUNTY CLUBS WAKING UP

ONE CLUB PLANS BASKETBALL GAMES WITH HIGH SCHOOLS.

REPUBLIC AND MARSHALL ELECT

Rock Island and Union Pacific Will Furnish Special Cars—Two Counties Can Go Together.

Many of the county clubs will go home Christmas in their own private car. Some of the clubs have had meetings during the past week and plan to arrange for through coaches.

While at home several of the clubs will hold reunions with the alumni of K. S. A. C. The Wilson County Club have organized a basketball team and challenged the K. U. club members. The game was to be played in Fredonia but the last report is that the K. U. team won't accept the challenge.

They will play, however, if possible, the high school teams at Altona, Chanute, Buffalo and Fredonia. The Union Pacific has offered to furnish a special car to county clubs when a guarantee of 25 tickets is possible. Many of the counties have arranged for a car. In several cases where there are too few from a county, two or more counties go in together and get a car. In order that a car may be available the request should be in by Tuesday.

The Rock Island will also furnish special cars. They will run a special train from Manhattan to McFarland to catch the trains for the south. They will have a reserve of eight or ten coaches here, and promise seats for all.

The Republic County Club is the latest one to report. Its officers for the year are:

President—H. R. Horak.
Secretary—Earl Teagarden.
Other clubs are rapidly "waking up" and are expecting to boost K. S. A. C. while at home during the vacation.
The officers of the Marshall County Club are:
President—Sophia Maelzer.
Vice-Pres.—Ralph Hawkins.
Secy.-Treas.—Edith Foltz.
Reporter—J. L. Jacobson.

Miller, dean of college extension, will give two addresses, one on the subject, "A Broader View of Public Education." W. A. Lippincott, professor of poultry husbandry, will deliver a series of five lectures during the week.

JOHNSON TO READ.

Will Recite "The Servant in the House" at Bunker Hill.

Professor Johnson of the public speaking department, will give an address before the Russell County Teachers' Association next Saturday at Bunker Hill. In the evening he will give a recital of "The Servant in the House."

Professor Johnson's services are much in demand as a reader and during the vacation he will read at Marysville and also at Leavenworth.

Propose an Amendment.

At the last meeting of the oratorical board an amendment to the constitution was submitted which provides that all contestants in the oratorical contest shall go for practice and training to some member of the public speaking department, at least three times before they can enter the final contest. In times past, several of the contestants have failed to have the proper training and the result was they made a poor showing. If all are forced to have the training, it will raise the standard of the contest.

G. E. Thompson will leave for Hays Friday where he will lecture at the institute now on at the Normal.

Nothing New Under the Sun.

Maybe you have the impression when you put on one of those collars with the long points in front that you are advancing a new style. Maybe the clerk told you they were the very latest when you purchased them. The next time you are near Prof. Brink's room just step inside and take a good look at Shakespeare's latest. You haven't a thing on Bill; he is right up to the minute when it comes to the "Arrow

MOOSE AT K. U.

Moose and Kennedy Stir Up Strife.

Claims Men were Influenced.
Lawrence, Dec. 10.—At the annual football smoker given by the student council of the University of Kansas for the members of the football team, Coach Arthur St. Leger Moose declared to the 500 men students who attended that he would not resign as coach. The Kansas university mentor said that the football team was composed of green men and did not offer the coaches good material. This is the opposite of what he told the students earlier in the season when he stated that Kansas had the best football material he had seen since 1896.

"Kennedy is not my friend," Moose declared. "He stirred up dissension among the players. Burton and James lived near Kennedy and were influenced by him."

Attacks Kennedy and Players.
The attack on the two players was resented by the students and there was much adverse talk after Moose had finished his talk. They did not like the inference that they had shown no spirit.

The statement in Chancellor Strong's talk today about men going with the team to drink and gamble has caused a commotion among the merchants of Lawrence. The men resent the charges and are considerably wrought up.

At the meeting of the board of administration this afternoon the members of the football team are reported to have unanimously declared against Moose as head coach. The members of the board probably will not act on the coaching question at their meetings this time, but the question is sure to come up again in the future.

After the main part of his speech this morning had been well received Chancellor Strong declared a holiday in honor of a "greater victory than ever was won over Missouri."

Before his declaration for a holiday Dr. Strong said:

"We must have our athletics free from outside interests. We want the friendship of everyone outside, but we don't want our athletics influenced and controlled by men who gamble on the game and who go with the team in order to drink and debauch."

It has been the custom of business men of Lawrence to accompany the K. U. team on many of its trips. Generally a special car is chartered. These business men are some of the school's most loyal supporters.

"This is an extremely important question that I am going to talk to you about," he said. "Seldom have we been so profoundly stirred as in the last few days. This question of athletics raises a fundamental moral question. If this movement had succeeded—as it is not going to succeed—it would have struck the greatest blow to Kansas spirit—the square deal.—Topeka Capital.

THE KANSAS AGGIE

VOLUME XIX

MANHATTAN, KANSAS, DECEMBER 17, 1913.

NUMBER 26

AGGIES RESIGN FROM K.I.A.A.

RESUME ATHLETIC RELATIONS WITH BAKER UNIVERSITY.

THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP A TIE

College of Emporia and Southwestern Are in First Place—Washburn Took Third Honors.

Athletic relations between the Kansas Aggies and Baker University have been resumed and it is probable that the Baker basketball five will be seen in action on the Nichols court in the early part of the season. It is also probable that the Baker track runners will meet the Merners on the Aggies' floor in an indoor meet sometime during the winter.

Coach Lowman attended the meeting of the Kansas Conference coaches at Emporia last Saturday and while there discussed the Baker difficulties with Coach Gallagher of the Baldwin City institution. Coach Gallagher conceded the 1913 basketball championship to Coach Lowman's aggregation, as the Aggies, although generally considered tied with the Bakerites for the high honors, really carried the edge on the Baldwin lads in eligibility matters. The resumption of athletic ties with the Methodists is a happy occurrence as they are always a good drawing card in the local field.

Saturday's meeting of the heads of the K. I. A. A. was one of the most interesting in the history of the association. Coach Lowman handed in the resignation of the Kansas Aggies from the Kansas circle early in the meeting and it was accepted. The withdrawal of the Aggies caused little discussion as compared with the fight staged by the Normals which terminated in their withdrawal.

The difficulty with the Crispens aggregation arose over the awarding of the state championship to the College of Emporia and Southwestern and the ranking of the Washburnites third. The State Normals defeated the Southwestern lads 28 to 10 on the Normal field this fall and the Winfield mentors protested the result on the grounds that the Normals had played men who were ineligible under the prevailing K. I. A. A. rules regarding freshmen.

At the meeting of the mentors of the K. I. A. A. last spring at Topeka, following the state meet, it was decided that the Normals be permitted to play men who were regularly enrolled in the summer session of that school. The summer sessions holds for ten weeks and gives practically the same amount of work as is done in one of the regular winter terms. This amendment was ruled through the Conference committee as a special privilege for the Normals, but was protested last Saturday by the Winfield people on the grounds that it had not been posted 30 days previous to the opening of the season.

The regular ruling of the Kansas Conference holds that schools with enrollments greater than 500 shall be prohibited from playing freshmen. This rule hits the Normals particularly, as their enrollment is for the most part composed of women. It was to overcome this difficulty that the privileged motion was put through in favor of the Normals. The withdrawal of the Normals will hinder the Aggies from further athletic relations with that school as it is required by the Missouri Valley that all members competing with schools outside the Valley circle shall compete with schools that are members of some other athletic conference.

Misses Ruth Brown and Margaret Schultz entertained informally Saturday evening. The guests were: Misses Margaret Blanchard, Bess Brown, Elsie Adams, Ora McMillin, Ethel Roseberry, Myrtle Blythe, Katherine Adams, Ruth Adams, Gladys Wilcox, Mary Nixon, Mary Mack, Myrtle Grover, Eula McDonald, Ethel Goheen, Hazel Limbeck, Elsie Hart, Bess Walsh, and Frances Walsh.

D. S. DINNER.

Junior Girls Serve a Formal Dinner To Guests.

The junior girls in the Domestic Science department served a very pretty dinner Tuesday, in connection with their regular dinner work. The meal was a formal five course dinner and the red color scheme was very closely observed in the menu.

The dining room in Domestic Science hall was decorated in holly, smilax, and Christmas bells. The center-piece of each table was a red shaded candle in a pretty glass candlestick, the base of which was surrounded by sprays of holly. The place cards were small Christmas cards bearing the season's greetings to each guest.

Just before the guests entered the electric lights were all turned out, and the candles lighted. Their soft red light added much to the beauty of the room as a whole.

PI Kappa Alpha's Dance.

The Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity gave a dance Saturday night in Aggieville hall. The hall was arranged so as to represent a hotel ballroom, and the guests were required to register before entering.

The decorations were very effective. The fraternity colors, garnet and gold, were used for the light shades and in the streamers on the ceiling and over the windows. Pot plants were arranged on the orchestra platform and on jardiniere stands about the room. Screened "cozy corners" proved a very attractive and popular feature.

Refreshments were served at the Palace, which was also decorated in the fraternity colors. There were about thirty-five couples present. Prof. and Mrs. G. B. McNair chaperoned. Kipp's orchestra played.

Miss Pearl Bets and Ira Koogle, '11, were married November 21, in Chapman, Kan. Koogle is a contractor and builder at Chapman.

GIRLS DEBATE FAIRMOUNT

QUESTION WILL BE THE MINIMUM WAGE SCALE.

TRY-OUTS COME FRIDAY JAN 9

Hamiltons and Ionians Selected Their Contestants Last Saturday—Other Tryouts Next Term.

It has been definitely decided that the girls will have a debate against the girls of Fairmount some time in the later part of March or the first of April. The Fairmount team will come to Manhattan.

K. S. A. C. will take the affirmative side of the question "Resolved that through appropriate legislation a minimum wage scale should be put in operation in the United States." There will be three girls on the team.

In the preliminaries for the debating team three girls are sure of their places. In case more than three girls make the squad they will be used on one of the other teams and in case that three fail to place, the three girls standing the highest in rank will constitute the girls team.

Each society is allowed five entries in the first intersociety contest. The Hamiltons and Ionians selected their representatives in a try-out last Saturday. The other societies are planning to select their representatives before the 7th of January. The Hamilton contestants will be C. Roy Jaccard, W. H. Wilson, P. H. Wheeler, James Linn, and E. Baird. The Ionian contestants will be Misses Thompson, Beaubien, Balmer, Johnson and Deaver.

LIBRARY OPEN.

Except Christmas and New Years Hours, 8 a. m. to 5 p. m.

All the book worms will be glad to learn that the college library will be open all through the Christmas vacation from eight in the morning until five in the afternoon. Christmas day and New Year's day will be the only days that the librarians will be able to celebrate.

Only a part of the force usually working will be there and the different members will "spell each other." Part of the force will work the first week and a part the second week.

Many of those who are trying out for the debating squad are intending to stay over and study or else plan to return shortly after Christmas and do their reading.

Prof. J. W. Searson, head coach of the debating team, gave an elaborate dinner for the members of the squad and the assistant coaches last night at the College Inn.

Mrs. Ozment was assisted by Mrs. Dykstra and Miss June Milner.

President and Mrs. Waters, Dr. R. K. Nabours, Harlan Smith, Miss Constance Syford, and Miss Margaret Blanchard were guests at a box party in Topeka Tuesday night to see Sothern and Marlowe in "The Merchant of Venice."

SHORT COURSE IN AGRICULTURE

WORK STARTS JAN. 6 AND LASTS UNTIL MARCH 18.

TOTAL EXPENSE IS ABOUT $60

Practical Work Taught by Lectures and Practical Laboratory Methods—Two Year Course

The 6th of January, 1914, will see the opening of the fourteenth short course offered to farmers and their sons by the Kansas State Agricultural College. The course will hold until March 18. This course has been a regular part of the college activities since 1889, and the Home Economics short course antedates it by two years.

The object of the course is to offer instruction to farm boys and men unable to take advantage of the longer courses offered in the regular work, either through lack of money, time, or preparation. The entrance requirement does not include a high school education, nor the credits equivalent to it.

Many of the men who take the course are older than the average college student, and are attempting to make up, by late training, the lack of other opportunities. Many of them do not remain for the entire course, limiting their stay to from four to six weeks. The course is especially designed to meet the immediate, practical, of this class of men. It will be made up from the subjects which will give the immediate returns in value for the time expended. The subjects offered cover the things which every farmer needs to know. The complete course covers two years.

In the first year are taught: Crop Production, Live Stock Feeding and Marketing, Horticulture and Forestry, Dairying, (a special course in dairying is offered), Farm Mechanics, Poultry and Woodwork. In the second year the work includes: Animal Breeding, Live Stock Sanitation, Forage Crops, Agricultural Botany, Soils, Dairying, Horticulture, Insects and Spraying, and Blacksmithing. The Creamery course includes: Creamery management, Creamery Butter Making, Cheese and Ice Cream Making, Dairy Mechanics and Refrigeration, Judging Dairy Products, and Crop Production.

The work is carried on almost wholly by laboratory and lecture methods. The first year people are not divided up into classes, but will be given the use of the old Chapel, where they will listen to the lectures in a body. Their laboratory work will, of course, necessitate their being assigned to sections, exactly as the regular students. It is a significant fact that the college thinks so much of the Short Course that the lectures will be given almost all together by the heads of the departments under which the work is done. It is the desire of those in charge to concentrate as much teaching as possible into the term which may mean so much to some one without the opportunity to take the regular four-year course.

One of the students who has taken the short course has described it as "a ten weeks institute." The course will bear a decided resemblance, in many of its features, to the Institute. A good many of the Short Course men are planning to come to town for the Institute to be held during the Christmas vacation. The two events will work into each other admirably, and it is hoped that many not now planning to attend the short course will decide to do so after attending the Institute.

The farm boy who will either loaf on the farm during the dull winter season, or hunt a "job" for a short time with poor financial recompense, and less mental gain, would certainly do well to write to President Waters for information on the Short Course. The expenses are low. The regular tuition and Slek Benefit fees will be charged, amounting to $3.50. The total expense ought not to exceed $60 to $70 for the term.

Miss Haass on Vacation.

Miss Lily K. Haass left Monday for her home in Pewaukee, Wis., for a visit during the holidays. She will return in time to attend the International Student Volunteer Convention in Kansas City, Dec. 31 to Jan. 5.

LINN COUNTY ELECTS OFFICERS

WILL PLAY HIGH SCHOOLS DURING VACATION—R. I. WILL RUN SPECIAL TRAIN.

The Linn county club, 30 strong, is the latest county to announce a county organization. At a meeting held on Monday they decided to play K. U. county club a game of basketball at Blue Mound on the afternoon of Dec. 30. The officers for the year were elected. They are: President—J. B. Adams, Mound City.

Vice-Pres.—S. E. Barnes, Blue Mound.
Secy-Treas.—Marjaory McClure, Blue Mound.

Reporter—J. B. Hinds, Pleasanton.

Ch. of Social Com.—Ruth Ennefer, Pleasanton.

The Sedgwick county club will have a special car to their homes. The Rock Island are running through cars to Hutchinson and Wichita. The special train which they will run to make connections at McFarland will leave Manhattan at 12:20 Friday. The train will connect with the trains to the south and if enough students are on board to justify it, the train will run through to Kansas City.

Both the U. P. and R. I. will run special equipment and will furnish seats to all. The R. I. will have a special representative here to take charge.

The Wilson county club will play the fast basketball team of the Buffalo high school next Friday night. They plan to schedule several games with other teams in the county.

Many of the other clubs are at work organizing but have failed to send in a list of their officers to the Aggie. As soon as possible the Aggie would like to get a list of all the counties with live students at K. S. A. C.

Entertain Y. W. Cabinet.

The dinner given Friday evening by Mrs. Knostman and Mrs. R. R. Price to the members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet was very dainty and beautiful in all of its appointments. The color scheme was pink and white. On each of the two tables was a large bouquet of pink roses. This formed the center-piece and from it long sprays of asparagus fern reached to the corners of the table.

The room was lighted only by pink shaded candles, one at each guest's place. The place cards were adorned with pink roses in water color. Mrs. Price presided at one table and Mrs. Knostman at the other. The dinner consisted of five courses, and the pink color scheme was carried out in the menu.

After dinner, hostesses and guests gathered around the fireplace in the parlor, the lights were turned out, and a confidential social talk completed an unusually delightful evening.

Wants To Audit Books.

Mr. J. T. Lardner, the bookkeeper for the Board of Administration informed the Students' Council that he is not only willing but anxious to audit the books of all college organizations. Uniform receipt books can be obtained from Mr. Lardner at the secretary's office.

BIG PROGRAM FOR INSTITUTE

BOYS ENTER GRAIN CONTEST

Silver Loving Cup Worth $100 The Prize—Feature Work With Boys' and Girls' Clubs.

Institute Week, is one of the features of the work that K. S. A. C. is doing for the people of the state. Each year during the Christmas vacation, Dec. 29 to Jan. 2, K. S. A. C. has a big program to which all the people of the state are invited.

The program which has been prepared for this years Institute is of unusual interest. The boys and girls club work will be featured. Mr. O. H. Benson who is in charge of the government work among the clubs will make two addresses. There will be many other talks by men of note. G. C. Wheeler of the Kansas Farmer will talk on Silos, President Waters will boost Good Roads. Mrs. Hattie M. Michell of Drake University will make several talks. Many of the professors at K. S. A. C. will be here to tell of the work of their departments. Each of the departments will have special lectures and demonstrations of their work.

Last year the reception was a big affair. The reception will be in the Gym on Tuesday evening and all of the K. S. A. C. people who can be there are urged to come and meet the visitors.

At the engineering building will be many makes of engines and of power tractors. The different manufacturers of engines send exhibits and demonstrators here every year.

Many of the state organizations of the different farm societies and clubs hold their annual meetings here during the Institute. Among them are the Institute Officers Conference, Good Roads Conference, Irrigation and Drainage Conference, Kansas Crop Improvement Association, Sheep Breeders Association, Kansas State Dairy Association, and the Horse Breeders' Association.

The Boys Grain contest is of great interest. This contest is open to all boys between the ages of 15 and 21 and a silver loving cup for the best 10 ears of corn grown in Kansas, is offered as a prize.

GET CREDIT FOR DRILL

Two Credits Toward Graduation Offered By Military Department.

The military department has been granted credit toward graduation for theoretical work on the small arms firing manual and the infantry drill regulations this class will meet twice a week on Monday and Saturday the sixth hour, and will count as two credits toward graduation. The regiment will drill by battalions next term, the first battalion on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, the seventh hour and the second battalion will drill on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday the seventh hour.

The war department has sent the college an order that states that this college will be classed as a distinguished institution if the proper spirit is taken in the work. This will mean that a graduate of this college can go into the army as a commissioned officer, if recommended by the President and Commandant. There are only ten distinguished institutions of this character in the United States at present.

Alpha Zeta Initiates.

The following men were initiated into Alpha Zeta, the honorary agricultural fraternity Monday evening: W. A. Aicher, S. B. Mann, A. E. McClymonds, W. N. Showrup, and R. B. Hood. After the initiation ceremony refreshments were served, followed by talks from Professors Call, Cachel, Kent, Vestal, and "Mike" Ahearn.

Mary C. Williams, '12, is head of the home economics department of the Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill.

HONOR IN CHRISTMAS EXAMS.

The season has come again when temptation is strong for some students to pass examination by means of cheating. Every intelligent person knows that the man who will cheat not only hurts his own character and reputation, but also that of the institution. In addition to this his honest classmates are not given a fair deal. Cheating in examinations seems to be a serious problem in practically all institutions, and one that has never been successfully solved. However, this evil must be constantly fought in order to reduce it to the minimum.

The Students' Council wishes to inform those of the student body who do not know, that are two methods of reporting students caught cheating in the classroom: One is by reporting directly to the instructor in charge and the other is by reporting the entire matter to the Students' Council. Pressure will be brought to bear on the guilty party in either case. The council asks the cooperation and help of every student in college in stamping out cheating in examinations, and promises that cases reported to it will receive prompt action.

ALIEN OR AMERICAN?

From observation on the campus during the regimental parade last Friday one would be led to believe that the male students of this college are either all foreigners or they are unpatriotic Americans, or they are so ignorant regarding music that they can not distinguish The Star Spangled Banner from Steamboat Bill, or they are sadly deficient in that small but vitally important factor of the human anatomy commonly called brains.

Did you ever see a citizen of a foreign nation who would not stand with uncovered head as soon as his national anthem was struck? And yet, as many as a hundred male students (and one and perhaps more professors) of the world renowned Kansas State Agricultural College stood (some sat) in line from the northwest corner of the auditorium to the east campus gate, wide-eyed, open-mouthed, with caps and hats pulled tightly down over their neatly and immaculately parted locks (supposedly) to keep the gentle zephyrus from disturbing the contour of the same), and their fists jammed down to the bottom of their pockets, while the whole regiment stood at attention and the college band played The Star Spangled Banner.

History has demonstrated that when a nation loses its nationality it loses its power. Now, what is to become of the nationality of America if the college men, who are to be the leaders and rulers of the future nation have so little regard for their nationality, so little pride in their America that they will pay no more attention to their national airs than to a fourth rate vaudeville parody?

"WANT TO BE AN OFFICER?"

The opportunity is now open for any "clean sleeve" or officer of the Cadet corps to gain a promotion for the winter term. How? There are several ways, namely,

1. Keep as neat in uniform as if you were going to a function with a lady; keep the shoes blacked, be smooth, shaven, and comply with the regulation manual to the letter.
2. Get some ginger into your system; be on time to drill, get into ranks promptly, and execute commands as well as you would on a battle field.
3. Never knock on any order; the battalions are like machines finely organized, and any rough work with a hammer, hurts them.
4. Finally, let the commandant know you are looking for promotion; he will probably look you over and see if you really deserve it.

It has long been the custom privates to growl about partiality, and "pulls." It is a fact that the sudden expansion of the military department allowed many men to rise, who were mediocre, incompetent and thoroughly inefficient. After Christmas there will be many appointments, particularly among the non-commissioned officers and pull is going to be out of the question. "Pull," in the military sense, is the ability to prove to the man above you, that you are the very man he has been looking for, and you can fill a higher position to the satisfaction of everyone.

The present commandant took charge in February, 1913. He quickly weeded out the disinterested and incompetent officers, and in June, before the graduation parade, he made a speech outlining the plans for the coming year, explaining that the requirements would be stricter thereafter, and any man desiring promotion was asked to report to his office. Several did, and those among them that were competent are wearing chevrons today.

It is interesting to note how the commissioned men at the present day obtained their promotion.

"A" was an enthusiastic worker and was always boosting the corps; unfortunately he did not make a soldierly appearance and this kept him back a long while. He has made good since and has risen above expectations.

"B" wanted to be promoted and reported last June. He received an appointment and at present is about to break into higher rank.

"C" is a cadet who generously put "D's" name ahead of his for an officership, because he believed he was the best man. Both men are filling the positions and while "C" probably has the most ability, "D" is ahead of him because of hard work alone. And so on. There is a reason "why" all the officers hold their rank and it is a good one. There has not yet been discovered a royal road to promotion. Study your manual and make an intelligent effort and the promotion will come.

FIND IT AT THE POSTOFFICE

A LARGE COLLECTION OF THINGS THAT ARE MISSING—LOSE ANYTHING LATELY?

When you lose anything, you'll find it at the postoffice, maybe. If you find anything you'll take it to the postoffice, if you are honest. The collection of the lost and found articles at the postoffice contains everything from money to baby hoods. In between these extremes are all sorts of ornaments and trinkets.

Curious enough only one of the two pocketbooks that rest safely in the office in Anderson, had any money in at the time it was found. The other only had a lone dime. Keeping them company is a dainty handkerchief with a dime tied in the corner.

If you spill or lose a glove you can match the remaining finger warmer at the window. A half bushel of gloves of all kinds, sizes and widths, furnish a varied assortment at the postoffice. Some day when it rains and you can't find your "bumbershute," just drop into the office and ask to look at umbrellas and pick out one that will suit you. Maybe you'll find your's there, though probably you won't.

As for little things like beauty pins, bar pins and cloak buttons, they are there in all the "57 varieties."

Some people are just awful careless about calling for their mail. Right now there are a number of students enrolled who have never called at the window for the mail and as a result there is many a letter from the lonely girl back home that never reached the home-sick freshman. Next time you think she has failed to write on time, just call at the window and see if she forgot to address it to your street number.

Among the things that you have lost are: 2 fountain pens, 2 bunches of keys, 1 piece of tating and shuttle, 2 stick pins, 2 bar pins, 2 beauty pins, 1 umbrella, 1 zoology lab. set, 1 necktie, 1 baby hood, 1 empty pocket book, and 20 cents, 1 handkerchief and a dime, 1 watch fob, 2 veils, 2 rolls of theme paper, a half bushel (estimated) of gloves.

A Heid Cap, would be appreciated by any young man. Take one home to brother. Big assortment to select from at Knostman's.

AGNEW ELECTED TO CAPTAINCY

ISSUE "K" TO 18 FOOTBALL MEN —LOWMAN ENTERTAINS TEAM.

Football letters were issued to 18 men at the annual football smoker staged by Coach and Mrs. Guy S. Lowman at their home on Park Road last Friday evening. "Red" Agnew was elected captain of the 1914 team. The following men received letters: Captain Loomis, Captain-elect Agnew; Burkholder, Scanlon, Schafer, Wehrle, Marble, Moss, Root, Dresser, Haymaker, Enns, Sidorfsky, Cleland, Hauke, Hartwig, Cusic and Byarley. The election of Agnew did not come as a surprise to the close followers of the Aggies. Agnew has the proper brand of fight in his makeup to lead the team through any kind of opposition and always stand up for the rights of the cause at hand no matter what the consequences may be. Although he was seldom a flashy player on the offense, Agnew always played his position consistently and did his stellar work on the defense.

AG DEPARTMENT SOCIETY.

A Local Branch of the American Society of Agronomy Organized.
The instructors and advanced students engaged in teaching agronomy or in scientific investigation in some branch of this subject at K. S. A. C., organized a local branch of the American Society of Agronomy at a recent meeting held for that purpose. Monthly meetings will be held and papers presented, dealing with some subject of agronomic interest. These papers will treat largely of results obtained in the various investigations conducted at the college.

The following officers were elected: President, Dean W. M. Jardine; secretary-treasurer, C. C. Cunningham.

The American Society of Agronomy is a national organization that has been in existence since 1907. The object of this society is to increase and disseminate knowledge concerning soils and crops and the conditions affecting them.

Persons engaged in teaching agronomy or in scientific investigation in some branch of agronomy are eligible for membership. Persons interested in the object of the society and who are not eligible for active membership may become associate members and be entitled to all the privileges of the society except that of voting. Annual meetings are held, the proceedings of which are published in book form. A quarterly magazine is now being issued. Members are entitled to all publications of the society. Since these publications are one of the best sources of results of recent investigations in agronomy, it is well worth while to become a member of the order to obtain them. The present membership of the society is over one hundred and includes nearly all of the persons engaged in agronomic investigations in the Agricultural Colleges and Experiment stations and in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Instructors or students or anyone interested in agronomy, who wish to become members of the society should see the secretary.

EGG CANDLING SCHOOL.

Will Again Be Operated by the Kansas State Agricultural College.

The egg candling school for Kansas merchants is to be established again next summer, according to the announced plans of the board of administration. These schools are held in different towns, under the supervision of the poultry department of the Kansas State Agricultural college, generally a three-day session at each town.

The scheme was tried out in the summer of 1912 by the agricultural college, and proved very successful, four sessions of three days each being held, with an attendance of 125. Last summer no schools were held, the new board pleading lack of funds. But it was announced last week that next summer the egg candling classes would be put on stronger than before. W. A. Lippincott, head of the poultry department at the agricultural college, will be in charge of the work. The state may work in conjunction with the federal "egg car" that is scheduled to spend a few weeks in Kansas next summer.

MANY TAKE MAIL COURSES

K. S. A. C. OFFERS CORRESPONDENCE WORK IN MANY SUBJECTS.

800 TRAINED IN THREE YEARS

Work Divided Into Three Types—Reading, Extension and College Credit Courses.

At this season the department of Correspondence courses of the Extension Division is making a special effort to reach those who may be interested in their work. Many of the students will be unable to finish their year out here.

Some of the students will be unable to attend school during the winter term, and others will be finishing with the regular work, but desirous of carrying on further studies in the future, and unable to continue in school. The general hardships throughout Kansas the past year have made it difficult for many would-be students to attend, as they would like to, either in the Short Course or in the regular work. These facts point out plainly the need and opportunity for the correspondence study department to get in some very effective work during the Winter, and they are making the most of it.

The correspondence courses are arranged to meet the needs of the people who cannot come to the college. They are brief, concise and practical. Arranged with a view to the requirements of many who will take them and who have never had any of the higher branches of education, they are simple, easily comprehended.

The department has divided the courses it offers into three types: the "reading courses", the "extension courses", and the "college credit courses." The first require no prerequisites, and consist of five assignments with directions for study. The student furnishes his own text. The courses are designed for the busy person who wishes a quick, working knowledge of the subject on hand. The reading courses include: Alfalfa, Corn, Dry-Land Farming, Orchard, Soils, Sorghum Crops, Silo and Silage, Stock Feeding, Stock Breeding, Dairying, Rural Hygiene, and Bacteriology. Special emphasis is being laid this winter on the courses on poultry management.

In this line the reading courses offer the following subjects: Incubating and Brooding, Poultry Disease Prevention, and Poultry Feeding and Housing. The current prices of poultry and eggs is giving ample demonstration of the value of the poultry scientifically handled yard as an adjunct to the modern, efficient farm.

The "extension" courses are rather more exhaustive and thorough, requiring more time in their study, and yielding a correspondingly more thorough knowledge of the subject taught. Like the reading courses they require no prerequisite subjects, and are adapted to the needs of any one with common school education who wishes to take them up. They include: Automobiles, Blacksmithing, Carpentry and Building, Concrete Construction, Farm Building, Farm Drainage, Farm Mechanics, Gasoline and Kerosine Traction Engines, Plane Surveying, Structural Engineering, Heating and Ventilation, Plumbing, Mechanical Drawing, Steam Traction Engines, Soils, Stock Feeding, Stock Breeding, Farm Dairying, Landscape Gardening, for the men, with Home Sanitation, Cooking, and Sewing for the women.

Special emphasis is being laid on a course of Highway Construction, supplemented by courses in Surveying and in Roads and Paving. This course was prepared under the supervision of State Highway Engineer H. B. Walker for use in the department.

The course is "designed especially for road officials, county engineers and surveyors, workers in concrete. Professor J. C. Werner, Director of the department of correspondence study says: "We are anxious to give to those who cannot come to the college the same advantages and opportunities as nearly as possible as those who enjoy that privilege." The courses are all mapped out with the idea of giving the "man back on the farm" an equal chance, if he wishes to improve it, with the man at college.

The department has proved itself a remarkable success in the three years it has been in operation, and is serving a good purpose. It has trained over 800 men and women who otherwise would have left without the practical learning which may prove invaluable in later years.

E. C. Reed, '09, is superintendent of the Natural Gas Company plant at Independence, Kan. He and Mrs. Pearl (Sanderson) Reed, a former student here, were in Manhattan last week.

E. A. Bull, '08, has the manual training work in the State Normal School at Albion, Idaho. Mrs. Mary Amy (Elder) Bull has charge of the home economics department in the same school.

A dispatch from Colby, Kansas, says: "Mr. Jardine, from Manhattan, has been here and located the Kansas Experimental station on a beautiful half section adjoining Colby. The state has bought the Ike W. Crumley and W. S. Ferguson farm, one of the nicest and best improved around here. This farm surrounds on two sides the beautiful Thomas county high school building, and it is expected that new agriculture is being taught in the high schools that that this farm will furnish ample demonstration right in plain view from the windows of this school to the pupils. It is also located on the Golden Belt route, where thousands of autosts pass every season, and in plain view from both the Union Pacific and Rock Island railroads. The location of this station could not have been bettered in this county and the people are well pleased with the result of Mr. Jardine's visit.

KANSAS STATE BEAT AMES

WON FIRST BASKET BALL GAME
19 to 7.

The Northern Farmers Couldn't Diagnose the Eastern Style of Play Coach Merner's Protoges Use —Iowa Has a Heavy Team.

The Kansas Aggies inaugurated their entrance into Missouri Valley basketball by defeating the Ames Aggies, 19 to 7, on the Nichols court last night. The initial contest of the 1914 season was marred by rough work on the part of both teams, the Iowans obtaining but three points in the final period, these coming via the free toss route. Right Forward Sweeney starred for the Easterners, especially in the free tossing department. Captain Root and Right Forward Shultz played best for the Kansas five. The same teams play a second game this

The Merner aggregation outclassed the Iowans in every department of the game. Ames played the Jayhawkers Wednesday and Thursday nights and in each of these contests played remarkably well in the closing chapters. At the end of the first half in last night's game the Kansans led, 7 to 4 and the odds said that the Iowans

Contrary to these predictions, the Iowa failed to show class in the closing period and by close guarding the Mermer troupe held the Hubbard five to three points. Right Guard Hansell scored the only goal from the field that the Ames team made.

The guarding of the Kansas five featured the contest. Captain Rooster and Jones played Ames off their feet and had Sweeney, Ames' right forward, hanging on the ropes near the end of the battle. Shull was right last night and just couldn't miss the basket. The free throwing was exceptionally good. Broberg played well for the Merner five and was replaced by Adams in the last few minutes of play. MacIllrath, playing his first game on the varsity, out-jumped the Ames tin-off men all the way, and also collected a field goal. The lineup:

SATURDAY, JANUARY 10.

Alma Mater has more customs than many persons believe. And much adverse criticism has been passed around because of the lack of real moss covered traditions. The landing of the Pilgrim Fathers at Plymouth Rock is staged twice a day at South Gate. There is a morning performance at eight o'clock, and an afternoon bill at one-thirty.

GET THE JUMP ON YOUR WORK.

In a football game, a basketball game, a track meet, a baseball game, or any other athletic contest, getting the jump on one's opponents decides the victor nearly every time. Once in a while they can come from behind, but not often. The same thing is true in college work. If hard and earnest work is done at the beginning of the quarter the battle is half won. Many students believe, and prefer not to study much at the first part of the term, but to come from behind the week before the finals. This is dangerous. If one does poor work at the beginning of the quarter, not a great deal of consideration is given. And it seems as if one isn't given a square deal.

PRESTIGE AND FAVOR IS OURS.

A great change has taken place within the last few years in the regard held for the College by the persons living in the cities and the smaller towns of the state. Time was when it was thought an experiment station, a weak preparatory department, and a still weaker college was all the state had to show here. A preparatory department, and a low freshman entrance requirement for the College gave this impression. Since the freshman entrance was raised last fall to 15 units, the College has had the same standing as all the larger colleges and universities. While the "prep" department was abolished in 1910 many persons out over the state didn't know it until recently.

Another thing that has contributed no small amount of prestige was the admission of the College to the Missouri Valley Conference. This gave the College a standing with the Middle West universities. The farmers and live stock men of the state always have felt kindly toward the College, as they have had concrete examples of better methods in scientific agriculture placed before them. It keeps even the students in the division of agriculture when home for a vacation busy answering all the questions asked by the merchants, bankers, and other professional men about the different things the College is doing in experimental work, and why they are doing it this way, and that way. Every one is interested now, where formerly it was treated lightly. Truly, scientific agriculture is coming into its own.

No attention will be paid to anonymous communications. If you are ashamed or afraid to sign your name to an article you wish to appear in the columns of this paper, don't expect it to be printed.

WHY NOT KANSAS STATE?

The title of Alma Mater is the Kansas State Agricultural College. Charles Dillon calls the College the Kansas Agricultural College. Harlan Smith is doing the same thing. These writers are doing this, no doubt, to incur the favor of the farmers of the state. The Kansas State Agricultural College is a land grant college, like Iowa State College, Purdue University, and Pennsylvania State College. The farmers in Iowa, Indiana, or Pennsylvania aren't worrying because the word agricultural isn't in the title. State College means a land grant college of agriculture and mechanic arts. It would be just as fair to call the College, the Kansas State Mechanical College, or the Kansas Mechanical College. In the South many of the land grant colleges are called the Agricultural and Mechanical College of the state to which they belong. This makes the name too long, and results in confusion by shortening the title by using the initials. It is time the College was called the Kansas State College, and Kansas State for a shorter name, instead of K. S. A. C. The initials unfortunately are confused with K. C. A. C., the Kansas City Athletic Club, and K. C. V. C., the Kansas City Veterinary College. At Iowa State the initials I. S. C. are used to some extent. They are confused with I. C. S., the International Correspondence Schools. Inventions have to be fool proof. It is the same with names. If every one will use Kansas State when speaking of the College instead of K. S. A. C., it only will be a short time until every one will know the name Kansas State means the state college of agriculture and mechanic arts.

The education of one young farmer enrolled in the short course for farmers, began this morning. He was in the athletic goods department of a clothing store. Looking in a show case he observed a box of tennis balls. As he wished to examine one of the balls the clerk handed him one. After examining the cloth covering of the ball for several minutes he asked if the ball was one of "them" basket balls. This young man came here to learn. And he is.

FIRE PREVENTION SOCIETY.

Deputy Fire Warden Miller Would Inaugurate One.

"Manhattan is the safety city in the state in the matter of fires," such was the declaration of Deputy Fire Warden Miller in his address before the Commercial Club last night. This was received with a tremendous round of applause. Mr. Miller spoke to the members of the club with a view toward organizing a fire prevention society in this city, and judging from the interest displayed, Manhattan will have a fire prevention society in the near future.

Mr. Miller gave some interesting facts concerning fire losses in the state and declared that the daily loss in Kansas from this one element alone was $15,000, and that this amount does not cover the usual losses incident to the fires, but the actual value of the property burned. Mr. Miller said in part:

"What we are trying to do is to educate the people of Kansas that the fire loss of this state is entirely too large and few know that it amounts to more in dollars and cents than their taxes in a year being in round numbers approximately $4,500,000 for 1913, or about $15,000 a day. This amount could be reduced about 80 per cent if more attention was paid to fire prevention, and that, gentlemen, is the object of the societies which I am organizing throughout the state. By merely having your chimneys inspected twice a year half of the fires in your city could be avoided. We are not only investigating all fires supposed to be of incendiary origin, but we are also prosecuting all arson cases. Your insurance premiums in this city amount to $30,000 a year and it is our purpose to reduce this amount by reducing the fire hazards. This can be done by organizing a fire prevention society whose duties it will be to get behind the proper authorities and have them make inspections of buildings and alleys with a view toward having them cleaned up and any existing fire hazard removed. I would also suggest that you see the proper authorities and make an effort to have your fire apparatus improved. The little town of Galena has recently added an auto fire truck to their equipment and I believe you could also do it. These are some of the things that could be done by the society. We are trying to do for the fire loss of Kansas what Carrie Nation did for prohibition—awaken the public conscience."

Manhattan's fire loss during 1912 was $4,038,000 and during 1913 it was $5,615,000. According to these figures the loss per capita in 1912 was a trifle over 57 cents and in 1913, it had increased to more than 83 cents.

IS A BILLION DOLLAR PEST.
Chinch Bug Family Has High Rating in State.

The chinch bug family is a billion dollar pest in Kansas. These insects, the most injurious of any that damage crops in this state, have been eating into the profits of Kansas farmers ever since the state was settled. In a bulletin just issued from the entomology department of the Kansas Agricultural College the estimated damage inflicted by this pest since Kansas was born reaches into the billions. A 25 million dollar loss in one year is not unusual.

But a large per cent of this damage can be prevented by methods of eradication perfected by entomologists at the agricultural colleges in the last few years. Farmers get two chances to fight the chinch family every year—first when they begin to migrate from one field to another in the spring, and later by burning their winter homes of grass in November and December. Both methods now have been well developed and proved that the pest can be controlled if measures against it are taken in time, the bug men say.

Dr. T. J. Headlee, formerly entomologist at the agricultural college, and J. W. McCulloch, now assistant entomologist, the writers of the bulletin, have learned in several years of testing, that ninety-five per cent of the chinch bugs winter in bunch grass and bluestem, and that by burning these grasses in fall, practically all of the bugs can be killed. Dry weather or wet weather barriers will control, effectively, the pest in the spring, but if fall burning is done properly there will be no necessity for the use of spring methods, the writers declare. The burning method is the most effective and cheapest.

The life history and habits of chinch bugs are given in full in the bulletin, and many new facts in regard to hibernation and migration are brought out. Results obtained with the chinch bug fungous disease at this station and in other states are discussed in detail. The conclusion of the writers is that the fungous disease is everywhere present and that the artificial distribution of it is of no avail. Since the bulletin was written, Mr. McCulloch has discovered a parasite on the eggs of chinch bugs which promises to be an important factor in the control of the pest. A report of his discoveries and investigations probably will constitute a later bulletin. The chinch bug bulletin will be sent free on request of the director of the experiment station.

KANSAS CALVES FOR PROOF.

College Is Feeding Animals in Test of Various Feeds.

One hundred and two Hereford heifer calves at the Kansas Agricultural college were assigned the responsibility this week of proving to the world the value of the various kinds of silage and of concentrated supplements to silage-cottonseed and linseed meal—in growing and developing breeding heifers. In six lots of seventeen each, they began eating different rations Monday morning. Next April, when results should be available, the animal husbandry department, which is conducting the test, will invite the cattlemen of the state to meet at the college to observe the final stages of the test and to get the benefit of the lessons learned, first hand. W. A. Cochel, head of the animal husbandry department, believes the test to be the most complete and exhaustive in America in the development of breeding stock in an experimental way.

One lot will eat kafir silage, wheat straw, and one pound of linseed meal to the head, daily. Lot 2 will eat corn silage, wheat straw, and linseed meal. Lot 3 will eat cane silage, wheat straw, and linseed meal. The fourth will have cane silage, wheat straw, and cottonseed meal; the fifth cane silage, wheat straw, and cold pressed cottonseed cake; the sixth, cane silage, wheat straw, and alfalfa hay. In all lots the silage and straw are fed according to appetite—as much as the animals will eat—while the concentrated feed is fed at the rate of one pound a day for each animal. To make up for the lack of grain in all corn silage this year, one pound of corn chop is being fed to each animal daily. The first three lots compare the silages while the last three are expected to show which of the three concentrated—cottonseed meal, linseed meal, or alfalfa hay—is the most valuable.

SHORT COURSE STUDENTS!

YOU are here with us again for a few months. You are taking the Short Course. In this course you are getting the essence of your Professor's teachings and that in lecture forms. Why not get up these lectures in typewritten form and thus have them in proper shape for future reference? It will pay you in the end. You may say: "I cannot run a typewriter." That may be so, but to learn to operate a typewriter is ONE of the many things that does NOT require a teacher or a course on typewriting with some correspondence schools. Again you have no time in your Short Course to fool away taking a course from a correspondence school at all. Our Pocket Charts pave this way for you. Typewriting is an art and science and as it is simply a matter of pressing lettered keys, you are enabled to learn to use a typewriter while copying your regular notes and get just as good results.

You Can't Turn a Switch and Stop a Horse Eating

With a tractor it's entirely different. It eats only when it works. When you are through, turn a switch and your expense stops. Horses or mules eat three times every day, 365 days a year, whether they're working or not. Government statistics show that farm horses average only 100 full days' work a year—265 days' feeding all for nothing. Every owner reports that tractor plowing costs them less than half what horse or mule plowing does. Also big saving on other work—disking, harrowing, drilling, harvesting, hauling, etc. Tractor firm no more a bigger crop, too. Three year tests made by the Kansas State Agricultural College have shown an increase of more than double the ordinary crop by plowing at the right depth and at the right time. You can't plow fast enough or deep enough with horses or mules—it takes a tractor to do it.

“AVERY” “ONE-MAN” “OUTFITS”
Light-Weight Tractors and “Self-Lift” Plows
Hundreds of farmers have proved that Tractor Farming with Avery Tractors and Plows is a great success. The reasons are—they are the lightest weight tractors built, considering their draw bar efficiency. Also the simplest. And with an Avery “Self-Lift” Plow one man or one boy alone can run the entire outfit. Avery Tractors are built in five sizes, from 5-10 to 40-50 h.p., and pull from 2 to 10 bottoms. Fit large, medium or small size farms. “AVERY COMPANY, 6000 Iowa St., PEORIA, ILL.” Also Manufacturers of Avery Undermounted Steam Tractor Engines, “Yellow-Fellow” Grain Thrashers and Gasoline Farm Tractors.

Avery Tractors and Plows Are Sold on Approval at Low Prices and Fully Guaranteed. Test out an Avery Tractor and Plow on your own farm. After acceptance we back you up with strong guarantees. Avery prices are also low. The new Avery book “Tractor Farming” tells why and how to farm with tractor power. The B & A Avery Tractor and Plow Book gives all the facts about Avery “Light-Weight” Tractors and “Self-Lift” Plows. Both books sent FREE. Write for them. SPORT

The first indoor meet of the 1914 season is slated for February 16, with the University of Kansas track athletes. This meet will be held at Lawrence. All of the candidates for 1914 track have reported and have been practicing faithfully this week. The Aggies will be strong on the cinder path and also in the field events this season and the forecast is for a well balanced team with every man a placer.

The return of "Big" Irwin and "Tex" Collins to college this term has brought joy to the hearts of the track followers. Irwin, when in school three years ago, gave promise of developing into a crack miler and should strengthen the track team materially. Collins, showed up well for "Cap" Bryan last season and should repeat this season. "Tex" works over the mile and half-mile distances.

In the sprints the Aggies should clean up everything. Helt, the husky Southwestern athlete, will no doubt be the sensation of the Valley this season. Last spring the big Winfield runner cleaned up the handicap "fifty" and lost the scratch event after running seven heats, to Case of Illinois, in the K. S. A. C.'s indoor meet at Kansas City. Helt also is a broad jumper of no mean ability and should win many points in this event during the outdoor season. He holds the Kansas record at 22 feet one inch. Vandenberg, a Kansas City Westport high school runner has been scorching the Nichols track this season and will no doubt prove an able second to Helt.

Teeters, Collins, and Irwin, should take care of the half and the mile events in good shape. Irwin did not have a chance to display his wares while working for Coach Whelan in 1911, but at that time gave promise of developing into a crack distance runner. Teeters loomed up as a second Hutto last season when he defeated Captain Hutto in the two-mile event in the Washington's Birthday Handicaps. Collins broke into the running game last spring under the tutelage of "Cap" Bryan and developed rapidly into the long distance "horse" of the 1913 squad. With these three men running in form, the Aggies should present a formidable front to any of the distance men of the Missouri Valley clique.

The Aggies promise to be very strong in the hurdle races. "Mickie" Welch, St. John, and Lovett are all good men. Welch picked up the stick jumping game under Bryan last season and from a novice developed into a placer in the State meet which was held in Topeka last spring. Welch is a capable man over both the high and low barriers. St. John worked out on the freshman squad last spring and showed considerable class. Lovett is a fast, cool headed runner and has had experience in the hurdle racing game before entering K. S. A. C. He is also a clever pole-vaulter and will make a valuable addition to the 1914 squad.

Quartermilers are the much needed article on this year's team. A relay team and a pair of 440 event men are yet to be unearthed. Colth, Shelly, L. Collins, "Tex" Collins, Teeters, Vandenberg and Musser, are trying out for the quarter distance but none have shown exceptional brilliancy thus far. Marble, Colth, and Smith, are practicing daily with the shot and should average close to 40 feet by the time the Kansas meet rolls around. The scarcity of pole vaulters is a serious drawback to the team this season, Lovett being practically the only man who is trying out off that event. Washington, Evans, and Edwards, all capable high vaulters will be eligible for the spring term and will greatly strengthen the team.

Notice.

A class in boxing will be started next week. Coach Lowman will instruct. Those wishing to be assigned to this class will have to gain the permission of Coach Lowman before entering. This class will meet in the old band room sixth hour only. Football practise will be started Monday. The eighth hour will be given over to this class which will meet in the old band room.

The wrestling class will also meet in the old band room the seventh hour each day. Instructor Holliday will have charge of this work. Wrestling can not be substituted for physical training, and necessitates a special assignment.

COACH LOWMAN.

Miss Mary Farwell of Fredonia, Kans., a student here last year, has returned to College.

WILL IMPROVE KANSAS SCHOOLS

The Teachers of the State Will Ask Legislation.

The Kansas State Teachers' Association is preparing to enter upon an active campaign to enlist every teacher in the state in an educational movement to obtain better school laws and more co-operation between patrons and school authorities. The first move of the new plan will be the appointment within the next month of a paid secretary, familiar with educational affairs.

The duty of the secretary will be to gather data on school improvements in other states and cities and keep each teacher in the state informed on various new educational improvements.

The secretary, with the board of directors of the state association, will prepare drafts of legislation. This board of directors will consist of eight teachers elected by the teachers, one from each congressional district, and four teachers, who will hold their office by virtue of being the last four presidents of the state teachers' organization.

"The employment of a secretary to be paid by the teachers means the instructors of Kansas boys and girls realize the necessity of keeping step with the modern progress in educational affairs," M. E. Pearson, superintendent of schools on the Kansas side, said.

"The legislatures have been in a manner derelict in their duty towards school legislation," Mr. Pearson continued. "The failure to give proper legislation has resulted in educational experts dropping the Kansas schools to twenty-fourth in the list of states."

"Personally, I do not blame the members of the legislature in the past for the failure to provide proper legislation as much as I blame the teachers of the state. We were unorganized. I would go to Topeka to argue for a bill. But I would go as an individual, just as dozens of other teachers would."

"But in the future there is going to be no shifting of responsibility. The teachers, with their centralized organization, are going to be prepared to recommend to the legislature the best improvements for the school service. Their recommendations will represent the majority opinion of the teachers of Kansas, more than fourteen thousand strong."

"The next legislature of Kansas will give better school legislation for the boys and girls of the state, or it will rebuke those fourteen thousand teachers and accept the responsibility for bad legislation. Then the voters of Kansas will do the rest.

"The fathers and mothers of our boys and girls want the best schools possible, and they are not going to stand for politics interfering."

MAY FURNISH SOFT WATER.

City Has Considered Proposition for Some Time.

Within a short time Manhattan may be using water from the Blue river if the plans of the city commissioners prove feasible. For some time the city dads have been trying to figure out a plan whereby they could furnish the patrons of the water department soft water. It is a well-known fact that the water of the Blue, if filtered and treated to a softening process, would be an improvement over the water from the wells. With this idea in view, a force from the city engineer's office drew a line from the Rocky Ford dam to the pumping station for the purpose of ascertaining the relative height of the two points. The department completed the line of level today, which begins at the low water mark below the dam and runs to the water in the old channel of the Blue at the pumping station. The difference in elevation was found to be eight feet and eight inches lower at the pumping station than at the dam.

A line was also run from Knox Bend to the old river bed near the pumping station, a distance of a mile across the old Horseshoe Bend; the difference in elevation at this point was found to be two feet and a half. The object of these lines was to ascertain the possibility of getting the Blue river water to the pumping station in case the city should desire to furnish water could be filtered at less expense, than could the well water, in soft water to its patrons. The river view of the fact that well water contains a greater amount of salts than does that from the river. The proportion of solids contained in the former being five hundred and seventy-one per million gallons, while that from the river contains only three hundred and twenty-six parts, to the same number of gallons.

The city engineer will report the result of his investigations at the next regular meeting of the commissioners, together with some recommendations as to the manner of handling the water over this distance, also as to the purity of the water when filtered.

In many of the cities where river water is used the quality of it is found to be excellent and there is less danger of a shortage during the hot dry months of summer.
